That Gervase Sully, William Nicholson, and Joseph Hawkins, are reputed Freemen, and have frequently voted.

And Mr. Smith said, That these several Persons would have voted for Mr. Pierrepont and Mr. Sacheverell, and were refused; and that several of them were asked who they were for, before they were refused:

That

Nottingham
Election.

That Joseph Baggaley, Wm. Sweeting, Edward Rason, Sam. Lawson, John Merry, Henry Innocent, John Wood, were reputed Freemen; and that Jos. Crampton, Jos. Ragg, Thomas, and James, were intitled to their Freedoms, and were refused; and that as well these last-mentioned Freemen, as these intitled to their Freedoms, would have polled for the Petitioner, and Mr. Pierrepont; but were not admitted so to do.

That the Petitioner's Counsel objected to Jos. Willis, and Jos. Kirke:

Mr. Smith, and Jon. Trueman, said, That Jos. Willis polled as a Freeman; and that he paid Toll, which no Freeman does.

Mr. John Wood was called as to Kirk: Who pretended to give some Account of the Title he had to his Estate; but, in fact, it was admitted he had sworn himself to be a Freeholder; which satisfied the Committee in that Point.

The next Thing the Petitioner's Counsel proceeded on was, indirect Practices by the Sitting Member: And, in the First place, with respect to several, that had voted for the Sitting Member: And called several Witnesses:

Sam. Parsons said, That he had engaged himself to be for Master Pierrepont, and Mr. Sacheverell: And that Samuel Richards, who solicited Votes for Mr. Gregory, desired his Vote for Mr. Gregory; and told him, He should have the Advantage of having 10*l.* of the Coventry Charity lent him: That the said Parsons insisted to have 5*l.* down: Mr. Richards gave him a Note for it; and he accordingly received it: But it was acknowledged, That the 5*l.* was to be repaid when he received the 10*l.*; and that Thomas Wright was bound with him for it.

Jonathan Morley said, That about Christmas Day, the Mayor, and Mr. Gregory, and Mr. Green, were together; and that, being at Mr. Gregory's House, he heard Burley tell Mr. Gregory; He had got Four or Five Votes for him; and laid out all his Money to hire Votes: And Mr. Gregory said, He should have more; and that Mr. Gregory ordered his Butler to give them Beer.

John Creswell said, That he had 5*s.* of James More; 10*s.* of Benjamin Green; 10*s.* of Taylor, and Half a Crown; of Fosbrook, a Pair of Shoes; to vote for Mr. Gregory; which More, Green, Taylor, and Fosbrook, he said, were Agents for Mr. Gregory:

That he had 5*s.* of one Hallom, to swear, that Ned Brown, an Agent of Mr. Sacheverell, had given him 5*s.*; but did not promise so to do, though he received the Money:

That there was a Paper written at Alderman Richards's House, importing, That he had received 10*s.* of Mr. Pierrepont, and 10*s.* of Mr. Sacheverell, which was tendered to him to be signed; but he refused to do it; and thereupon one Barrow put his Name to it, by Mr. Watkinson's the Mayor's Order; and that, after he had declared the Contents of the Paper was not true, Alderman Richards, and Sam. Richards, pressed him to sign it: And that the Mayor told him, If he would not be a Witness for them, he would press him: And that, the Night before the Election, he, and some others, that voted for Mr. Gregory, were locked up at one More's House, that they might not go to the other Party; and were treated with Roast Beef and Ale:

That he saw Sam. Ash receive Money:

That Matth. Dalwater, had 10*s.* of Green, about Three Days before the Election:

That Edward Robbins received 5*s.* of one Amos, another Agent for Mr. Gregory; and he himself 10*s.*:

That Thomas Burley received of James More, who came to hire him, a Fortnight before the Election, 11*s.*; one Half for himself; the other Half to hire Votes; and, with the 5*s.* 6*d.* hired Three Votes; namely, John Davy, Francis Summer, and Dalwater.

Mary Lee said, That, at Eleven a Clock on Monday before the Election, going by Mr. Gregory's House, Mr. Gregory gave Burley about a Crown-piece, in the publick Street; and said, It was to hire Votes.

Jacob Tibson said, Simeon Ash had promised his Vote for Mr. Sacheverell Three Months before the Election; and, finding him afterwards revolting, he asked him the Reason; and the said Tibson told him, He had 40*s.* of Green, and a Stocking-frame.

Jon. Hollis said, That Jos. Dobbs declared, He had 10*s.* to vote for Mr. Gregory.

Wm. Kitchen said, The Night before the Election, he received 1*s.* of Benj. Green, and another Shilling of Tho. Oldham, Mr. Gregory's Servant, to make Mr. Gregory's Voters drink: And Oldham told Kitchen, It would be less taken notice of from him.

Tho. Wilcox said, That he had promised Mr. Sacheverell and Mr. Pierrepont his Vote; but Sam. Richards desired his Vote for Mr. Gregory; on that Account lent him 21*s.* 6*d.* to vote for Mr. Gregory; and that he drank the Day off, and paid nothing for it.

James Baker said, That he had promised his Vote for Master Pierrepont and Mr. Sacheverell; but, a Fortnight before the Election, the Mayor offered to lend him 10*l.* of Coventry Money, if he would vote for Mr. Gregory: He said, He had not the Money; for the Mayor told him, It was gone: He acknowledged the Disposition of Coventry Money was in the Mayor and Council of Nottingham.

Richard Lawrence said, That John Goodwin told him, He had 5*s.* of Amos, on account of his Vote; and 5*s.* at another time of James More; and Eighteen-pence at another time; and besides he forgave him a Debt of 14*s.*

Tho. Wilcox said, John Goodwin told him, He had a Pair of Hose and Shoes to vote for Mr. Gregory; but he did not tell him of whom.

John Trueman said, That William Wogden said, He had Money of Mr. Gregory's Side, or he would not have been for him:

That Joshua Flower told him, He received 6*s.* 6*d.* of Green, or he would not have voted for Mr. Gregory:

That Wm. Farmer said, He had received Money of the Mayor; and therefore he durst not vote for Mr. Sacheverell.

Jacob Tibson said, That, about November last, one Jos. Boot told him, That he, and one Skinner, had 1*s.* apiece from Mr. Gregory; and that he drank what he would.

Jon. Hollis said, That Geo. Tibson desired William Alicock's Vote for Mr. Gregory; which he refusing, he was arrested; and Mr. Sacheverell not thinking fit to release him, Ben. Green afterwards told him, he had paid 3*l.* for him to vote for Mr. Gregory:

That Green desired him to get what Votes he could out of the Way, and he would give him a Guinea to carry a Letter; but he did not go:

And that Davy told him, He would be kinder to him than his Father and Mother, if he would be for Mr. Gregory:

That the Mayor said, That there would come 300*l.* from Coventry; and every one should have 10*l.*

Joshua Tibson said, That, about a Fortnight before the Election, he had 10*s.* of Mr. Gregory, to drink his Health: He said, He believed it was given with respect to his Vote; but it had no Influence on him, because he was resolved to vote for Mr. Gregory and Sir Scroop Howe.

That the next thing the Petitioner's Counsel proceeded on was, as to ill Practices in general: And for that they called several Witnesses:

Henry Mold said, That the Mayor solicited Votes for Mr. Gregory; and that several of the Votes, a Fortnight and Week before the Election, being at the Mayor's when he was there, would say, They would have 6*d.* or Ale, or Strong Waters, or Victuals; and had what they called for: Another time, some others came to the Mayor to the Tavern, and drank, and borrowed Money; and the Mayor bid them stand fast: That the Mayor said, There was drank amongst the Voters, at his House, some Weeks, Three Hogsheads: That he would not tell who paid the Expence; but those that eat and drank voted for Sir Scroop Howe and Mr. Gregory.

Tho. Jalland said, That Samuel Rickards gave him 20s. to go out of Town on the Election-day, he having before declared, That he had promised to be for Master Pierrepont and Mr. Sacheverell; but he said, he came to Town the next Day, and did vote for them.

Edward Ward said, That the Mayor offered, that he should have 10*l.* of the Coventry Money, if he would be for Sir Scroop How and Mr. Gregory; that he would have given him 20s.: and Mr. Gregory would have given him a Guinea: And

Ant. Johnson and Edward Ward said, That one Turpin, that appeared for Mr. Gregory, said, after the Election was over, A great deal of the Money, that was spent, was East-India Money.

That the Counsel for the Sitting Member were directed to answer the Charge of Bribery in the First Place: And thereupon they called,

John Richards Bookseller: Who said, That he went to Alderman Richards' House, where also came John Creswell; who was asked, If the Paper produced was his own Writing; and he said, It was not; but it was all true: And he said, He got a Friend of his at Castlegate to write it; and, at the same time, declared, That Mr. Sacheverell and Mr. Pierrepont took him into a Closet, and desired his Vote; and gave him 10s. a-piece; and, after he had given the said Account, Creswell would have had them lent him Money; but he was then told, It could not be done, because it would look like Hiring of Evidence: And the said Richards further said, That, at the same time, Mr. Barrow put down in a Writing, delivered into the Committee, several Particulars, which Creswell gave them an Account of, relating to the said Election; and that Creswell put his Mark to it.

Thomas Creswell further said, That Edward Brown, Six or Seven Days after the Election, took him to one Middleton's; and asked him, if Mr. Gregory had not given him 20s.; and proffered him 20s. to say so.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel offered to call other Witnesses, as to what Creswell said at Alderman Richards', and as to Creswell's signing the Paper; but they having been charged by Creswell with Corruption, or imposing on him in that respect, they were not admitted.

Creswell was confronted by John Richards; and denied the Matter of Fact given in Evidence by Richards.

And the Counsel then called,

Jerroise Thompson: Who said, He heard Creswell say, That Mr. Pierrepont and Mr. Sacheverell, a Fortnight before the Election, gave him 10s. a-piece; and that Brown the Barber, since the Election, had given him a Crown to attest what he should desire: And he further said, That Creswell was a Stocking-maker, and out of Work; and had run in Debt; and had cheated several People.

William Barrow said, He heard Creswell own the Paper produced; and that Creswell said, Mr. Sacheverell and Mr. Pierrepont did lock him up in a Room before the Election, and gave him 10s. a-piece; And Richards and Barrow . . . . . That the said Creswell declared, That Johnson asked him, If Mr. Gregory was fairly chose: To which the said Creswell answered, He thought he was: And that Johnson told him, he would give 10s. if he would say, Mr. Sacheverell was chose; and that he took the Money; and told Johnson he would say so if he could with a safe Conscience.

William Bellamy said, That John Holles declared, That Partridge and Tipson, desired his Vote for Mr. Sacheverell; and Mr. Pierrepont had told him, He should have a Couple of Frames brought into his House at a Rent; which accordingly he received.

James Brampton said, That John Hollis was a great Rogue; for he married his Sister, and pawned her Cloaths; and at the same time had another Wife.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel then proceeded to charge the Petitioner with several ill Practices: And called several Witnesses.

VOL. 13.

John Smith, and John Smith junior, said, That Geo. Betteson came to their House, and pulled out a Quantity of Silver, and Two Guineas, and kissed One of them; and said, he had one of them from Mr. Pierrepont, and the other from Mr. Sacheverell: Who would not be for such honest Gentlemen?

William Lockow said, That he had 36s. lent him by John Shepherd and Wm. Wollaston, on account that he should vote for Mr. Sacheverell; otherwise he would have been for Mr. Gregory.

The said Lockow said, He was a Heel-maker; and Wollaston was a Shoemaker:

And that John Lockow told him, That he had Two Crown-pieces to vote for Mr. Pierrepont and Mr. Sacheverell.

John Johnson said, That John Hollis shewed him a Crown, which, he said, he had on the Election-day, to be for Mr. Pierrepont and Mr. Sacheverell.

Francis Somers said, That Richard Birch told him, That Mr. Shipman gave him a Coat off his Back to vote for Mr. Pierrepont and Mr. Sacheverell: And that his Aunt sent for him, and told him, If he would not be for them, she would keep the Writings of a House from him of 30s. a Year.

Ellen Smith said, That Richard Birch shewed her 12s. in Mr. Dufroise's House, which, he said, Mr. Shipman gave him to vote for Mr. Sacheverell.

Tho. Selby said, That, about Four Days before the Election, he had a Coat and Stockings of Mr. Blunt, to vote for Mr. Sacheverell and Mr. Pierrepont.

Lewis Smith said, That Tipson the Joiner lent him 10s. on Condition he should vote for Mr. Pierrepont and Mr. Sacheverell:

The said Smith at first named another Tipson to be the Man.

John Foster said, That William Chambers his Father, told him, That Mr. Sacheverell had given him 2s. and hoped he would vote for him, as he had done.

That as to ill Practices in general; the Sitting Member's Counsel called,

Jos. Stoaks: Who said, That Mr. Pierrepont and Mr. Sacheverell, on Christmas Day in the Evening, desired his Vote; and that Mr. Pierrepont told him, If he had Occasion, he would lend him 5*l.* and he need not fear being asked for it:

He said, He had no Money; and he voted for Mr. Sacheverell and Sir Scroop How.

Jerroise Thompson said, That Mr. Charles Drury the Minister, some Nights before the Election, went about the Streets with a Bag of Money, and offered 40s. for a Vote; but he did not prove any given.

William Barden said, that he heard one Brett say, That he could give 20*l.* for Twenty Votes; and that he had got some Votes for Mr. Pierrepont and Mr. Sacheverell:

And Mr. Drury would give 100*l.* for 100 Votes.

That, as to Treating;

Tho. Selby, and Lewis Smith, said, That, on the Election-day, several Burgesses, that voted for Mr. Pierrepont and Mr. Sacheverell, were treated at Mr. Drury's, Partridge's, Tipson's, . . . . Selby's:

Said Mr. Drury was a Gentleman of an Estate; and the House was full of People: Smith said, He believed he had seen Thirty Burgesses together.

That as to the Qualifications of the Voters;

Mr. Richards said, That John Stevens was made free under the new Charter; and was refused by the Sheriff, because he could not make it appear he had served a Freeman:

That William Chamberlaine was refused, because he could not make it appear he had served an Apprenticeship:

That Alexander Comerick was refused, because his Master, being a Trunk-maker, afterwards turned Mountebank; and Comerick was his Tumbler:

That the Sheriffs could not find Patricius Goodall's Name in the Freeman's Book:

7 R

That,

That Jerroise Sully was disfranchised, having imposed on the Corporation, that he was a Burgess's Son born :

That they could not find Jos. Ragg's Name in the Leidger :

That John Wood is free by the new Charter ; and he never see him tender his Vote.

As to the Evidence given by Mr. Smith ;

Mr. Richards said, That Mr. Smith was only present at Two Hall-days ; and at One of them, he came in only before the last Thing was done.

Mr. Richards, and Char. Chatwick, said, The Mayor came, and gave his Vote ; but did not see him upon the Bench : And that the Sheriffs took Advice of Counsel, and took what Care they could to pursue the same : And the Sheriffs declared, That, if any Persons were refused the first Day, and would come the next Day, and make out their Right, they should be polled.

And that the Committee came to these Resolutions ;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That George Gregory Esquire is not duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Town of Nottingham.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Robert Sacheverell Esquire is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the said Town of Nottingham.

The First Resolution being read a Second time ;

Resolved, That the House doth agree with the Committee, in the said Resolution, That George Gregory Esquire is not duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Town of Nottingham.

The Second Resolution being read a Second time ;

And the Question being put, That the House do agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That Robert Sacheverell Esquire is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the said Town of Nottingham ;

The House divided.

The Noes go forth.

Tellers for the Noes, { Sir Char. Hotham, } 103.

So it was resolved in the Affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk of the Crown do attend this House To-morrow Morning, to amend the Return for the Town of Nottingham, by rasing out the Name of George Gregory Esquire, and inserting the Name of Robert Sacheverell Esquire, in the stead thereof.

Answer to Lords Message respecting the Im-
peachments.

Mr. Harcourt reported from the Committee, to whom it was referred to draw up Articles of Impeachment, That they had, according to Order, drawn up an Answer to the Message from the Lords Yesterday ; which they had directed him to report to the House ; which he read in his Place ; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table : Where the same was twice read ; and, with an Amendment, agreed unto by the House ; and is as followeth ; viz.

THE Commons in Hopes of avoiding all Interruptions and Delays in proceeding against the impeached Lords, and the many Inconveniencies, which might arise thereby, having proposed to your Lordships, at a Conference, That a Committee of both Houses might be nominated, to consider of the most proper Ways and Methods of proceeding on Impeachments, think, they might justly have expected your Lordships Compliance with their said Proposition, instead of your Lordships Answer to their Message, of the 4th Instant ; which they Yesterday received : In which Answer of your Lordships, though many Matters of great Exception are contained, a suitable Reply whereunto would inevitably destroy all good Correspondence between the Two Houses ; yet the Commons, from an earnest Desire to preserve the same, as well as to give the most convincing Proof of their Moderation, and to shew their Readiness to bring the impeached Lords to speedy Justice, at present insist only on their Proposition for a Committee of both Houses, to settle and adjust the necessary Preliminaries to the Tryals ; particularly, whether the impeached Lords shall appear, on their Tryals, at your Lordships Bar, as Criminals ; whether, being under Accusations of the same Crimes, they are to sit as Judges, on each other's Tryals, for those Crimes ; or can vote in their own Cases ; as we find, by your Lordships Journals since their being impeached, they have been admitted to do : Which Matters, and some others, being necessary to be adjusted, the Commons cannot but insist on a Committee of both Houses to be appointed for that Purpose ; their departing from which would be giving up the Rights of the Commons of England, known by unquestionable Precedents, and the Usage of Parliament ; and making all Impeachments, the greatest Bulwark of the Laws and Liberties of England, impracticable for the future.

Ordered, That Mr. Harcourt do carry the said Answer to the Lords.

The House, according to Order, proceeded to take into Consideration the Message from the Lords Yesterday ; whereby they acquainted this House, That they have appointed the Tryal of John Lord Somers on Friday next, on the Impeachment against him. Lords Message appointing Day for Lord Somers'
Tryal.

And the same was read.

Ordered, That the said Message be referred to the Committee appointed to draw up Articles of Impeachment, to prepare an Answer to the said Message.

A Message from the Lords, by Sir Richard Holford and Mr. Gery :

Mr. Speaker,

The Lords have agreed to the Bill, intituled, An Act for the erecting Hospitals and Workhouses, within the Borough of King's Lynn in the County of Norfolk, for the better employing and maintaining the Poor there, without any Amendments : Also, Lynn Workhouse.

To a Bill, intituled, An Act for raising the Militia for One Year, although the Month's Pay, formerly advanced, be not repaid, without any Amendments : And also, Raising Militia.

To a Bill, intituled, An Act for naturalizing Archibald Arthur ; and enabling him to settle and dispose of his Estate ; without any Amendments : And, Arthur's Nat.

That they have agreed to the Amendment, made by this House, to the Bill, intituled, An Act for vesting the Estate of Humphrey Hyde Esquire, deceased, in Trustees, for raising Portions for his younger Children : And also, Hyde's Estate.

To the Amendments, made by this House to the Bill, intituled, An Act for naturalizing Jacob Auguste Pynyot, and others : Also, Pynyot's, &c. Nat.

That the Lords do desire a present Conference with this House, in the Painted Chamber, upon the Subject-matter of the last Conference.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Resolved, That the House doth agree to a present Conference with the Lords, as their Lordships do desire.

And the Messengers were called in again ; and Mr. Speaker acquainted them therewith.

Ordered, That the Committee that managed the last Conference, do manage this Conference.

And the Managers went to the Conference.

And, being returned ;

Mr. Harcourt reported, That he had, according to Order, carried the said Answer to the Lords.

Mr. Harcourt also reported the Conference : And that it was managed by the Duke of Devonshire ; who acquainted them, That the Lords have desired this Conference, upon Occasion of the last Conference, in order to preserve a good Correspondence with the House of Commons ; which they shall always endeavour.

As to the late Messages between the Two Houses, their Lordships are well assured, that on their Part, nothing has passed, but what was agreeable to the Methods of Parliament, and proper to preserve that good Understanding between both Houses, which is necessary for the carrying on of the publick Business.

As

As to the Proposal of the Commons, That a Committee of both Houses should be appointed, to consider of the Ways and Methods of Proceedings on Impeachments; their Lordships cannot agree to it:

1. Because they do not find, that ever such a Committee was appointed on Occasion of Impeachments for Misdemeanors: And their Lordships think themselves obliged to be extremely cautious in admitting any thing new in Matters relating to Judicature.

2dly, That although a Committee of this Nature was agreed to upon the Impeachments of the Earl of Danby, and the Five Popish Lords, for High Treason; yet it was upon Occasion of several considerable Questions and Difficulties, which did then arise: And their Lordships do not find, that the Success in that Instance was such, as should encourage the pursuing the same Methods again, though in the like Case; the Lords observing, that, after much Time spent at that Committee, the Disputes were so far from being there adjusted, that they occasioned the abrupt Conclusion of a Session of Parliament.

3dly, Their Lordships are of Opinion, That the Methods of Proceedings on Impeachments for Misdemeanors are so well settled by the Usage of Parliaments, that they do not foresee any Difficulties likely to happen; at least, none have been yet stated to them: And all the Preliminaries, in the Case of Stephen Goudett, and others, which was the last Instance of Impeachments for Misdemeanors, were easily settled and agreed to, without any such Committee.

4thly, The Lords cannot but observe, That this Proposal of the Commons comes so very late, that their Lordships can expect no other Fruit of such a Committee, but the Preventing of the Tryals during this Session.

The Lords assure the Commons, That, in case any Difficulties shall arise in the Progress of these Tryals, which their Lordships do not foresee, they will be ready to comply with the Commons in removing them, as far as Justice, and the Usage of Parliament, will admit.

Ordered, That the said Report be taken into Consideration To-morrow Morning.

Commissioners of Accounts.

Mr. Harcourt, according to Order, reported from the Committee of the whole House, to whom the Bill for appointing and enabling Commissioners to take, examine, and state, the publick Accounts of the Kingdom, was committed, the Amendments, made by the Committee, to the said Bill; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were once read throughout; and then a Second time, one by one; and, with some Amendments to some of them, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

And the same was twice read:

And the Question being put, That the said Clause be made Part of the Bill;

The House divided.

And the same was twice read; and, upon the Question put thereupon, agreed unto by the House to be made Part of the Bill.

And the same was read the First time; and, by Leave of the House, withdrawn.

Another Clause was offered to be added to the Bill, That the Commissioners appointed for stating the Accounts of the Officers of the Army, shall make out a Certificate for Three thousand Nine hundred Sixty-two Pounds Seven Shillings and Fourpence, or so much thereof as shall appear to the said Commissioners to be due to Major General Steward, who commanded several Regiments of his Majesty's Forces in an Expedition, which was made into Spain, in One thousand Six hundred Ninety-four, and One thousand Six hundred Ninety-five, for Money disbursed for the publick Service in that Expedition, and in procuring Money to be advanced for the Pay of his own Regiment; whereupon Debentures shall and may be issued and satisfied out of the Monies arising by the forfeited and other Estates in Ireland, in the same manner with other Debentures chargeable thereupon:

Conduct of Whitacre, Admiralty
Solicitor.

Mr. Marks, according to Order, reported from the Committee, to whom it was referred to inspect the Behaviour of Mr. Edward Whitacre, Solicitor to the Admiralty, since he has been in that Employment, and to report the same to the House, That they had inspected the same accordingly; and had directed him to report the Matter to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

Upon Examination of the Charge against Mr. Edward Whitacre, for the Bailing and Escape of Mr. Henry Bolton, the Matter of Fact appears as followeth; viz.

By the Warrant of Commitment from Mr. Secretary Hedges it appears, That Bolton was accused, upon Oath, for confederating with Captain William Kidd for Piracy on the high Seas; which Warrant is marked (A); and is as followeth; viz.

(A) Whereas Henry Bolton is accused upon Oath, for confederating with Captain William Kidd, who is now a Prisoner in Newgate, for Piracy by him committed upon the High Seas: These are, in His Majesty's Name, to command and require you to receive into your Custody, from the Marshal of the Admiralty, the said Henry Bolton, and him safely to keep, until he shall be delivered by due course of Law: And hereof fail not, as you will answer the contrary at your Peril.

Given under my Hand and Seal, this 30th Day of December 1700.

C. Hedges.

To the Keeper of his Majesty's Gaol of the Marshalsea, or his Deputy.

Mr. Robert Hyde, Clerk to the Lord Chief Justice Holt, said, That Mr. Whitacre told my Lord, He had inquired after the Bail, and approved of the Persons offered, to be good Bail; and that Mr. Whitacre was present when the Bail was taken.

Mr. Spencer, Clerk of the Marshalsea, said, That he brought Mr. Bolton to my Lord Chief Justice Holt, in order to be bailed; and that Mr. Whitacre told my Lord Chief Justice, That he had inquired into the Bail, and did believe Three of them to be good Bail; and, the Fourth not being there, the Solicitor for Mr. Bolton proposed another Person; who, he said, was a better Man; and Mr. Whitacre said, He did not know him; but did not oppose his being Bail; and thereupon his Bail was taken.

Mr. Whitacre was called in, and acknowledged, That he approved of Three of the Bail; but did not know the other; and did not oppose him.

Upon Examination of the Matter of Fact, it appeared to this Committee, That the Bail, offered by Mr. Whitacre to my Lord Chief Justice Holt for the said Mr. Bolton, was insufficient.

The Committee proceeded to examine into the Matter of the Presentment by the Grand Jury, High Sheriff, and Justices of the Peace, for the County of Southampton, against Mr. Whitacre, dated the 26th of July 1700: Which said Presentment, with several Reasons for making the same, was laid before the Committee; and is marked (B); and is as followeth; viz.

By the Grand Jury, and Justices of the Peace, at the Assizes held at Winton, for the County of Southampton, July 26th 1700.

At the present and late Assizes held here for the said County, there have been several Prosecutions against Offenders, for notorious Thefts and Embezzlements of his Majesty's Naval Stores; and finding the Prosecutions, generally laid, have proved very irregular, to his Majesty's great Disservice, and to the Dissatisfaction of the whole County:

We under-written, attending the said Assizes, to discharge our Duty, are of Opinion, That the Prosecution, and Management of the Tryals, upon the barbarous Murder of one Harris, and the Thefts that attended that Matter the last Assizes, and the Indictments now brought before us for several Abuses further discovered, relating to the notorious Practices of Purloining and Robbing of his Majesty's Stores at Portsmouth, and Timber in the New Forest, in a Succession of Years last past, are, by the Solicitor, Mr. Whitacre, either managed corruptly or ignorantly; whereby Opportunity hath been given for the Guilty to evade Justice, and bar the further Discovery of those pernicious Practices; the Consequences of which, we humbly desire, may be considered; and that the Reflections laid on our County, for want of Vigilance to detect such Crimes, may be removed, and fixed in the right Place.

Several Reasons which induced the Grand Jury, High Sheriff, and Justices of the Peace, for the County of Southampton, at the Assizes held at Winton, to make their Presentment against Mr. Whitaker, the 26th July 1700.

Article 1st. At Lent Assizes 1700, several Persons were indicted for embezzling his Majesty's Stores at Portsmouth, and for murdering one Harris, who had discovered the same; but, by the irregular Management of the Prosecutions, several of them escaped Punishment; particularly David Aldridge, that had, by such Methods, got a very considerable Estate; and, as it appeared at the Tryals, was Principal in all those wicked Practices; but, by a sudden Artifice, he was tried first for the Murder, contrary to the positive Advice and Desire of Commissioner Greenhill, and Mr. Whitacre's Promise; where the Evidence, which after appeared upon other Indictments, was wanting, and he found guilty ex post facto; and a poor indigent Fellow, that was employed by him, being convicted as Principal, Aldridge was acquitted, with a slight Burning, though he had Three several Verdicts afterwards for Felony; the Indictments for which was observed to be against him only as accessory to the Embezzlement, when, at the Tryals, the Evidence was full to have proved him Principal in several Burglaries; there being one Christopher May convicted upon the same Evidence, and was reprieved, and illegally bailed, before pardoned.

Article 2. One Daniel Lawrence was indicted for the same Crimes; but escaped, by Mr. Whitacre's Neglect, in not preparing the Evidence: And, in another Case, Three or Four Men were arraigned upon an Indictment drawn by Mr. Whitacre; who made so great a Mistake in Time, that what the Witnesses had to say, could not affect the Prisoners upon that Indictment; and were thereby acquitted.

Article 3. That one Moses House informed against White and Whitman, for cutting out the Marks of the King's Timber, in the New Forest, and setting their own Marks in the same, and carrying of it away for their own Use; but, instead of being made Prosecutor, was, the same Assizes, indicted for Facts of the like Nature; whereby to give White and Whitman, being rich Persons, Opportunity to escape, by taking of House's Evidence; but House was tried at the Summer Assizes following, and was acquitted; the Prosecution appearing malicious.

Article 4. Summer Assizes 1700, one Ste. Carpenter was indicted for Felony and Burglary, in robbing his Majesty's Stores: The Evidence before the Grand Jury did not come up to find the Bill, as drawn, but would amount to a Misdemeanor: The Jury applied to Mr. Whitacre, and told him, That Bill would be found Ignoramus; but that the Fellow ought not to escape without Punishment; he refused to give any other Assistance then, but would refer it to the next Assizes; upon which the Jury sent to Commissioner Greenhill, who referred them to the Informations in Mr. Whitacre's Custody; upon Examination whereof, a new Indictment was brought, and other Witnesses sworn; upon which the Bill was found, the Person tried, convicted, and hanged; who, by Mr. Whitacre's Method, might have escaped.

Article 5th. Another Indictment was brought against one Whitman, for cutting the Mark out, and stealing of his Majesty's Timber in the New Forest: The Evidence sent up, were Two Peckhams; but could say nothing to the Indictment against Whitman; but against one White; and House, which was to have been the Witness, was left out; upon which Mr. Whitacre was sent to, and a Bill desired against White, as well as Whitman; but he refused to do it; saying, He did not care whether the Bill was found or not; upon which Sir Robert Smith was sent for, who bound the Persons over; and told the Jury, That Mr. Whitacre had Informations by him, that would fully affect both White and Whitman; and thereupon a new Indictment was brought, without Whitacre's Knowledge, and the Witnesses sworn; upon which the Grand Jury found the Bill; but was quashed in Court by Mr. Whitacre, and the Matter referred to the next Assizes after; where, by the Care of the Justices, a new Bill was preferred, and found; but, by this means, the Offenders gained a Year's time, to traverse; and it was observable, that those Persons were great Companions with Mr. Whitacre all the Assizes.

Article 6th. Several other Matters, relating to other

VOL. 13.

Assizes, where Prosecutions seemed to be baffled, are omitted; which might justly aggravate a Censure on Mr. Whitacre's Management, especially as to his Delaying of Tryal from one Assize to another, and then being removed to be tried in London; and the frequent Discouragement shewn to the King's Witnesses, with the vast Expence, it was observed, the King must be put to in these Prosecutions: And to see Tryals of such Importance, that respected Punishment for a most barbarous Murder, and the future Safety and Preservation of his Majesty's Stores and Timber, all managed in a Method for the principal Criminals to escape from Justice, gave a universal Dissatisfaction of the whole County, and a just Suspicion, that the same must proceed from Bribery and Corruption, or from Ignorance and Neglect, in Mr. Whitacre; he being the Officer intrusted with those Prosecutions; the Grand Jury thought themselves bound in Duty to put a Stop to such Proceedings, by making the said Presentment, in Conjunction with the High Sheriff, and Justices of the Peace, for the said County.

Robert Smith,

Mr. Whitacre was heard to that Part of the Presentment, which relates to the irregular Prosecuting, and Escape, of David Aldridge: And said, That he had full Examinations given him, before he went to the Assizes at Winton; and that he advised with Mr. Solicitor General, and the King's Counsel, upon all the Indictments; but desired he may refer, for Answer at large, to his Answer, given in to the Commissioners of the Admiralty, to that Prosecution, dated the 25th of February 1701: Which Answer was laid before the Committee, and marked C; and is as followeth; viz.

Paragraph of Mr. Whitacre's Answer, relating to Aldridge.

A N S W E R.

That I must agree with these Gentlemen, that, in my Judgment, that Method, that was taken, did contribute to Aldridge's Escape; for he being indicted as accessory, before and after the Facts, of Felony, in stealing the King's Stores, it would have been a mighty Weight and Load on him, both as to the Court and the Jury, if, after Conviction for those Offences, he had been tried for his being accessory before and after to the Murder. There were several other Reasons, too long to be mentioned here, to proceed that Way: And I must say, if I had consented to the Method that was taken, and is now complained of; nay, had I not opposed it to the utmost, the Proceeding in the Method complained of; and had I not pressed, and insisted, to observe the Method those Gentlemen rightly observe should have been taken; I should be guilty, not of Ignorance only, but give the Gentlemen, who complain, just Cause to say, of Corruption: But I do affirm, That I pressed it; and so did Two of the Counsel, who were Counsel for the King upon that Occasion only; and they did advise and desire it: But this Method was opposed by the King's Serjeant, and by him only, there being then no other of the King's sworn Counsel: They were, and I was, and must be, directed in such Prosecution; and I was governed by the King's Serjeant, and did not dare to do otherwise; and so against my Will, against the other Advice of the Two Counsel, who were not the King's sworn Counsel, only Counsel for that Occasion, Aldridge was tried, upon the Indictment for the Murder first: For the Truth of this, I appeal to the other Two Counsel; and, because One of them may be thought too favourable towards me, I appeal to Mr. Pratt, the other Counsel, since made a Serjeant, for the Truth of what I assert: I have no Reason to believe, but the King's Serjeant will own this his Advice; and that it was upon his Advice and Direction the Tryal against Aldridge proceeded in the Method it did; but since the Method hath proved so false a Step, it will not be reasonable to put it upon any other Determination than the Affirmation of those Two Counsel, who were positively positively for trying Aldridge on the Indictments for Felony first: And all I shall further say in this Matter, That, if I did, in the least, mention, propose, or agree to, the trying Aldridge first on the Indictment for Murder, any otherwise than by being obliged, by the King's Serjeant's Advice and Direction, so to proceed, I am ready to own what Imputation shall be laid upon me, be it never so black and severe.

And further says, That the Method of Tryal was wholly directed by Mr. Serjeant Darnell.

Mr. Serjeant Darnell said, That Mr. Whitacre came to him, on a sudden, a little before the Tryal came on; and that the only Question he asked him, was, Whether the Indictments against Williams, for the Embezzlement of the Stores, or against Williams, for the Murder, should be tried first? And that Mr. Whitacre never asked the said Mr. Serjeant Darnell, whether the Indictment against Aldridge, for Murder, should be tried first; or any Question about the Tryal of Aldridge:

And the Question about Williams, as above, was asked the said Mr. Serjeant, just as they were going on to the Tryal, and not before:

That the King's Counsel were never asked to consult together about any of the Tryals; nor was Mr. Serjeant Darnell acquainted by Mr. Whitacre, that any of the other Counsel differed from him in Opinion; nor was there any Indictment preferred against Aldridge, a Principal, for any Offence; but, upon the Evidence, it did appear, that Aldridge was Principal, and ought to have been so indicted in all the Indictments:

That, by his Breviate, there appeared several trivial Matters of Charge, relating to Williams, for Embezzlements, and little or no Evidence: And having observed, that Mr. Whitacre often prosecuted Persons for very frivolous and insignificant Matters, not fit to be prosecuted; to the Dissatisfaction of the Country, and to the King's great Charge and Expence; which, he thought, tended to the Damage of other Prosecutions;

That, upon these Considerations, and Mr. Whitacre's Question to try Williams for the Embezzlements before the Murder, he was jealous there was some Trick intended to bring off the Murderers; and therefore, as the Matters stood, and upon such Information as he was possessed of, he did advise Mr. Whitacre to try the Murder first against Williams, before the Embezzlements against Williams, the Murder being of the greatest Consequence; and for that Aldridge was only indicted as accessory in all the Indictments: But when the Tryals came on, there did sufficient Matter appear to the Court, to have indicted and convicted Aldridge and others, which escaped, as Principals in Stealing of the King's Stores; and, if he had been rightly and fully instructed, must have advised the same; and do lay the Blame on Mr. Whitacre's Management.

Mr. Serjeant Darnell desired Mr. Whitacre might be asked for all the Indictments, Informations, and Briefs, about these Prosecutions.

Mr. Whitacre answered; That he had them not with him.

Mr. Whitacre was asked, If he did ever advise with Mr. Serjeant Darnell about these Prosecutions, before the Indictments were found at the Assizes; Answered, That he never did advise with him before the Indictments were found.

He was asked, If he did consult with the King's sworn Counsel, in all the King's Causes:

Answered, He did not.

A Sum of 1*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* charged in his Account for Counsellors Fees, was dipped on by Chance: And Mr. Whitacre, being asked to whom it was given;

Answered, He believed, to Mr. Smith, Associate to the Clerk of Assize of the Home Circuit.

He was asked, If he was a Counsellor;

Answered, No.

Mr. Serjeant Darnell declared, That Mr. Whitacre never advised with him since his being the King's Serjeant, to prepare any Prosecutions in the Western Circuit.

Mr. Edward Whitacre junior, being Counsel for the King in these Prosecutions, attended the Committee, by Request of his Father:

And, upon a Question from his Father, said;

That, being commanded by his Father to go to the Assizes at Winton, when the Briefs, relating to these Prosecutions, were delivered to him, seeing Matter charged against Aldridge, as accessory before and after the Facts committed, his Opinion was, to proceed on the Indictments, as accessory before and after the Fact, for stealing the Stores; but advised him not to be concluded by his Opinion, but to consult with the King's Serjeant; and that afterwards he did offer the same Opinion himself to Mr. Serjeant in Court; but that Mr. Serjeant opposed it.

Mr. Hunt said, That, at the Assizes held at Winchester in March 1700, there was a great Want of Jurymen; and, being there present, was returned to be of the Jury on the Tryal of one David Aldridge, indicted for Murder of one John Harris; and upon several other Indictments, for embezzling his Majesty's Stores: That the said Jury, being agreed to find the said Aldridge guilty, as accessory to the Murder after the Fact committed, and of the Embezzlements; and, being so agreed, were permitted to go to an Inn, to refresh themselves; and, in passing from the Hall to the Inn, he observed a Person, to him then unknown, whose Name, he since understands, was Gauntlett, call aside one John Bishopp, who was One of the said Jury; and, shortly after, the said Bishopp came to this Examinant, and told him, That they might have Forty Guineas to bring off the said Aldridge; which this Examinant refused to accept.

This Examinant further saith, That whilst they were refreshing themselves in the said Inn, he observed several of the Jurymen, one by one, to go out of the Room; who, returning, would not stand to their Verdict they formerly agreed; which occasioned a further Debate; but, at last, they were prevailed with to stand to their former Verdict:

That, about Christmas last, one Evans came to him at Petersfield, and sent for him to the White Hart Inn, and asked him, if he were of the Jury that tried Aldridge; which this Examinant acknowledged: That Evans asked, what Guineas were offered: This Examinant said, he was offered Forty to bring off Aldridge; and Evans asked, by whom: He said, he could not tell; but Evans persuaded him to go to Winchester; and that he found the Person, who offered the Money, was Gauntlett.

Mr. Evans said, That he was employed by Mr. Whitacre, to inquire whether Mr. Hunt was not One of Aldridge's Jury upon the Tryal at Winchester, for embezzling his Majesty's Stores, and the murdering of one Harris, for discovering the same; and to ask him, if he was not offered some Guineas to bring in Aldridge Not guilty: And Mr. Evans further said, That Mr. Whitacre told him, That he had Orders from Mr. Burchett, Secretary of the Admiralty, to employ him upon this Inquiry; and accordingly he made the same; and, meeting with Mr. Hunt at Petersfield, he told him, he was One of Aldridge's Jury; and was asked by one Bishopp, One of the Jury, Whether they should accept of Forty Guineas, to bring off Aldridge Not guilty.

Mr. Burchett positively denied, That ever he gave Mr. Whitacre any Orders to inquire after Mr. Hunt directly or indirectly.

Mr. Whitacre said, That he desired Mr. Evans to inquire after Hunt; but did not tell him, he had Orders from Mr. Burchett so to do.

Mr. Evans insisted on the Truth of what he had said, as to Mr. Whitacre telling him he had Orders from Mr. Burchett.

Mr. Whitacre was heard as to that Part of the first Complaint, which relates to the illegal Bailing of Christopher May, whilst under Sentence of Death, before he was pardoned; and offered several Papers: Which relating particularly to the Pardoning of him; and that not being the material Point complained of by the Grand Jury; the Committee ordered him to keep to the Point, and and answer to the illegal Bail: Upon which Mr. Whitacre positively denied the Fact complained of; and, for his better Justification, desired to refer to his Answer laid before the Committee from the Commissioners of the Admiralty: Which Answer is as followeth; viz.

All that I did therein, having received Orders, dated in June 1700, for his being pardoned, and bailed, I sent them down to Commissioner Greenhill; with this Expression, That, according to the Warrants, they might be bailed.

Mr. Serjeant Darnell, being asked about May's being bailed, said, That he, seeing May at Liberty in Court, complained to the Judge of it; and that the Judge was very angry, in that such a thing should be, to have a Man bailed, whilst under the Sentence of Death, before he was pardoned:

That it appears to the Committee, by the said Answer, to which Mr. Whitacre referred, That he did advise and direct the Bailing of May, as is charged against him by the said Complaints.

Mr. Whitacre desired to be heard to that Part of the Grand Jury's Presentment, which relates to Stephen Carpenter; and said,

That the same and only Evidence, viz. Two Witnesses, which convicted the Person upon the Tryal, were sent up to the First Bill of Indictment, which the Grand Jury found Ignoramus: And therefore, if the Jury did not think fit to find a Bill upon the Evidence of Two Persons, which afterwards convicted the Prisoner on Tryal, he hoped, there could no Blame lie upon him; and offered several Proofs, That the Prisoner was convicted as aforesaid; * to which Mr. Whitacre answered, That the Matter of Complaint came from the Grand Jury, for his Behaviour before them, before the Prisoner was put upon the Tryal; and that the Grand Jury's Complaint did not, in the least, refer to the Tryal in Court: Therefore it was expected, he should answer to the Point on which the Complaint was grounded.

Mr. Whitacre desired, he might refer to his Answer before the Committee, given in to the Commissioners of the Admiralty, in Answer to that Presentment; and likewise, to the several other Heads of the said Complaint, referred himself also to the said Answer.

The said Answer being read, and the Matter of Fact being stated by some of the Members of this Honourable House; the said Answer not being satisfactory to the Committee, this Committee refers the Representation of Fact to be given in by such Members in their Place.

It appears by Mr. Whitacre's Account of Charges, for the Prosecutions complained of by the Grand Jury, amounts to about 361*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* whereof about 206*l.* 4*s.* 2*d.* is reckoned for his own Attendances, and Travelling Charges and Expences; and about 21*l.* 16*s.* for Messengers; besides all Payment for Law Business.

Thomas Wilshaw Esquire, One of the Principal Officers and Commissioners of his Majesty's Navy, informed the Committee,

That, about August 1691, he being the Commissioner of his Majesty's Navy at Portsmouth, Mr. William Cooper, Store-keeper of the Dock-yard, made Complaint to him, That he missed several Quantities of Pitch and Tar out of the King's Stores: Upon which strict Inquiry was made into the Matter; and, by the Care that was taken, Discovery was made of a great Gang of Thieves, consisting of Watchmen and Workmen, that belonged to the King's Yard, which frequently robbed the Stores: And, upon Examination, some of the Persons confessed the Fact; particularly Thomas Podd and John Hows; and that they were employed to steal the same by Henry Berry, who bought the said stolen Goods of them: These Informations were sent to the Navy Board; and Mr. Whitacre was appointed to prosecute: But, instead of prosecuting the real Offenders and Criminals, several of them were made Witnesses, and all the rest escaped without being brought to Tryal; and the Prosecution turned against the said Mr. Wilshaw, and several of the Officers of the aforesaid Yard, by whose Care these Thefts were discovered, as guilty of the very same Crimes which the Thieves had confessed, and were accused of; That, by a general Information, mixed with the real Embezzlers, they were tried at the King's Bench Bar, after about Two Years Dependence; and, by a Special Jury of Hampshire Gentlemen, were acquitted: And the Court, blaming very much the Prosecution, ordered a Noli Prosequi to stop further Proceedings against the said Mr. Wilshaw, and other of the Officers, who were prosecuted on Two Informations; which Noli Prosequi all the Criminals took the Advantage of, and were never afterwards prosecuted for the said Offences: That it cost the said Mr. Wilshaw 300*l.* for his own Part, to justify his Reputation under this Prosecution; and that his Majesty's Service was greatly endamaged by it, being in the Heat of the late War, when the whole Fleet was chiefly fitted at Portsmouth.

Mr. Richard Hale declared to the same Effect about the said Discoveries, Confessions, Prosecutions, and Acquittals; and that some of the Offenders were made Witnesses, and the rest never tried.

Mr. Whitacre being called in; Mr. Wilshaw and Mr.

Hales' Informations were read, being both present.

Mr. Whitacre answered, That he never had Orders from the Admiralty or Navy Board, to prosecute Podd and Berry; but he did acknowledge there was such a Prosecution against Commissioner Wilshaw, and other Officers; but that he acted therein by the Order of the Lords of the Admiralty, and Mr. Attorney General: That he had not been above Fourteen Days in his Employment, when these Informations came first to him; and, not being fit for the Business at that time, he was wholly under the Direction of Mr. Attorney General.

That, for his better Justification, he desired the Committee would be pleased to order the Secretary of the Admiralty to lay before the Committee all the Informations, Papers, and Minutes, of the Admiralty Board, relating to the said Prosecution; and what Directions was given therein: Which was accordingly ordered.

It appears, that the Prosecutions complained . . . by Commissioner Wilshaw, was managed and solicited by Mr. Edward Whitacre:

That, from the Papers and Minutes delivered to this Committee by Mr. Secretary Burchett, upon the Request of Mr. Whitacre, it doth not appear what Grounds Mr. Whitacre had to prosecute the said Commissioner; or that he had any Orders, for so doing, from the Lords of the Admiralty:

That it doth not appear, that any of the real Criminals were ever tried for the Crimes they were accused of:

That it doth appear, from Mr. Whitacre's Accounts, that the King was at about 1,000*l.* Charge for these Particulars, besides several Sums intermixed with other Matters, which could not be well abstracted; and that the Charge of Officers to officiate in the room of the Officers suspended upon the account of this Prosecution, amounted to 193*l.*; so that the whole Charge is computed at about 1,193*l.* according to the Abstract following, and an Account laid before the Commissioners of the Navy, marked (D): Which is as followeth; viz.

Besides the Damage the King's Service sustained in this Prosecution, being carried on in the Heat of the late War.

Mr. Jewell attended; and informed the Committee, That, about the Twelfth of January One thousand Six hundred Ninety-five, Captain Smith, Commander of his Majesty's Ship Dunwich, riding off Shoreham, received Informations, That Stores were embezzled from the said Ship: That he went ashore, to make Search after the same; and called to his Assistance the Officers of the Customs at that Port: That they found some of the said Goods upon one Chatfeild, who confessed the same: That the Master and Boatswain were accused of the Embezzlement; and were secured, by the Captain, on board the said Ship; and Notice of the whole Matter given to the Admiralty: That the Prosecution was referred to Mr. Whitacre, who ordered the Custom Officers to prepare Evidence against the Assizes; which they did: But Proceedings were stopped by Mr. Whitacre; and the Master and Boatswain sent for to London; their Informations received against the Captain; he turned out; afterwards prosecuted; and they made Witnesses against him for the very same Stores which they themselves had embezzled:

That, whilst this Matter was depending, he did, with much Difficulty, and with Consent of the Admiralty, proceed to prosecute the said Officers at his own Charge; and, although some of his principal Evidence was kept from him, by an unreasonable Method, at the Procurement of Mr. Whitacre, he proceeded to Tryal; where appearing full Proof, Chatfeild, and the Master and Boatswain, confessed the Fact; but Mr. Whitacre's Son, their Counsel, pleaded the benefit of the Act of the 16th Car. II<sup>d</sup>, which confines the Prosecution to be within Twelve Months after the Fact committed; and that the Reason they were not prosecuted within the Time, was, through Mr. Whitacre's Delay; and that, by this Means, Chatfeild, and the other Criminals, escaped; and the Captain, and his Witnesses, utterly ruined by the violent and tedious Prosecution.

Mr. Whitacre was called in; and Mr. Jewell's Complaint read, he being present.

Answered, That Captain Smith was indicted long before he accused the other Persons, at least Twelve Months, for embezzling the King's Stores: That he never indicted the Master or Boatswain: That he did write a Letter to the Officers of the Customs at Shoreham; and thought to have prosecuted Chatfeild, and another; but, finding Smith was the Man chiefly concerned, and that, by prosecuting them, he should take off the Evidence against Smith, he dropped their Prosecution: That Smith had been sooner prosecuted, but that One of the principal Witnesses went out of the Way: And refers himself to several Papers and Letters delivered in to the Committee by himself and Mr. Burchett:

That it appears by the said Papers and Letters, marked (E), and (F), That Captain Smith gave the first Information to the Officers of Shoreham of the said Embezzlement; and that Mr. Whitacre had received Advice of the said Embezzlement from the Officers of the Customs at Shoreham: And that the Master of the Dunwich was accused, contrary to Mr. Whitacre's Assertion:

That it doth not appear by any of the Papers delivered in by Mr. Whitacre, That there was any Complaint against Smith for Embezzlement, till about the latter end of April, or the beginning of May, One thousand Six hundred Ninety-six, when, by the aforesaid Papers, it appears, That Captain Smith complained in February One thousand Six hundred Ninety-five:

That it likewise appears to the Committee, and by Mr. Whitacre's Accounts, and other Papers, That the said Prosecution was about Two Years depending.

Mr. Hosier, Storekeeper, Mr. Tipett, Clerk of the Survey, of his Majesty's Yards at Deptford, declared, That, about December One thousand Six hundred Ninety-four, they searched the House of John Oliver, a Smith at Deptford, and found in his Shop a Bag of Nails of Three Quarters and Seven Pounds Weight; which they examined, Nail by Nail, to see if the King's Mark was in any; and finding Eleven suspicious, they sent them to the Commissioners of the Navy, believing the King's Mark had been beat out; and desired Direction what they should do further: But offered their Opinion, That it would prove difficult to prosecute the Man:

That afterwards, in July One thousand Six hundred Ninety-five, the said Oliver was bound over to Maidstone Assizes; and they supena'd, by Mr. Whitacre, for Witnesses: One of Mr. Whitacre's Sons appeared in the Prosecution; but the Indictment being laid for One hundred Weight, and the true Weight being Three Quarters and Seven Pounds, and but Eleven Nails that they suspected, that they had some Words with young Mr. Whitacre about it; upon which he cut the Indictment in Pieces, saying, It was frivolous, and would displease the Judge; but that they believe the King was put to a great deal of Charge about it, they having 3 l. 10 s. each allowed them for their Journey, besides what Mr. Whitacre accounted.

Mr. Whitacre was called in; and referred to his Son Charles: Who answered to the same Purpose as before; and that he stopped the Prosecution, believing it was in the Power of the Commissioners of the Navy to punish that Crime.

That it appears by Mr. Whitacre's Accounts, That he put the King to a considerable Charge about this Prosecution; but it, being intermixed with other Matters, cannot well be abstracted; only it may be noted, that he charges 17 l. 8 s. 8 d. for his Journey to the said Assizes, besides Law Charges, &c.:

That it appears by an Abstract delivered in to this Committee, from the Commissioners of the Navy, marked (G), That Mr. Whitacre hath received of the King's Money, on account of Law Charges, since his being in that Employment, the Sum of 23,345 l. 6 s. 1 d.: And that it likewise appears, by an Abstract of his Account laid before the Committee, and not yet passed the Navy Office, That Mr. Whitacre charges the King with the further Sum of about 2,199 l. 3 s. 7 d.; the Whole amounting to about 25,544 l. 9 s. 8 d.

(E) Copy of a Letter from the Surveyors of the new Ships building at Shoreham, dated 8th February, 1695.

CAPTAIN Smith, Commander of his Majesty's Ship the Dunwich, on Wednesday last sent to us, and acquainted us, That some of the Ship's Stores were embezzled, belonging to the Boatswain: We accordingly went on board, and causing all the Boatswain's Stores to be brought up upon Deck; endeavoured to take a strict Survey; but the Weather, proving turbulent, and so rainy, hindered us from taking a full Survey; we intended to do it the next Day, but were then obliged to go to a Justice of Peace: Upon Discovery we heard, that some Cordage was found by a Farmer of Hone near Brighthelmstone, in a Barn; whose Affidavit Captain Smith has taken before the Justice, as near as possible, . . . . . the Nature and Quantity of the said Cordage; which, we hear, some of the Custom-house Officers has taken into Custody, and are in Search for more, and the Persons concerned in the Fact: The Wind coming up fair Yesterday, we would not proceed upon a Survey again, but got her to Sea; though we did observe, upon Survey, most of the Hawfers, and the Stream Cable, the Fag-end cut; and, measuring Two Hawfers, found them short of their proper Lengths at least Twenty Fathoms.

Solicitor.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Ambrose Wade, of the same Date.

I being Collector of the Customs here, and having received an Information touching an Embezzlement of the Stores on board his Majesty's Ship the Dunwich, Captain Smith Commander, Yesterday took with me Mr. Long, our Comptroller here, and one of the Boat's Men, and made a diligent Search for the same: Whereupon I found Five Pieces of new Hawser, and three small Coils of new Inch-and-half Rope, with the King's Mark, containing Four hundred Weight, which I have secured: It was lodged in a Barn, in the Possession of one Thomas Holland: Who says, He knows not how it was brought there; but that he, coming one Morning to the said Barn, in an Outhouse belonging thereto, saw this Cordage, with some other, lodged there: And, some short time after, one Thomas Chatfeild, of Brighthelmstone, came to the said Holland's, and asked him, What was become of the Ropes which were in the said Barn, for they were his: I have had them both before a Justice of the Peace, where they have entered into Recognizance to appear at the next Assizes, and answer to all such Matters as shall be objected against them on the King's behalf. I am still in Pursuit of the remaining Part of the said Goods; and am in hopes to find some more out: As soon as I do, shall give you an Account thereof. I desire you would be pleased to let me know what Method you will have taken in the Prosecution hereof, and how the Charges shall be reimbursed.

(F) Sir,

BY Information from **Ambrose Waller*, the Collector of the Custom House at Shoreham, I am informed, there is seised, in a Barn near that Place, a great deal of Cordage and Rope belonging to the King, that was landed there by the Boat belonging to the Ship Dunwich: And he sends me Word, Two of the Persons that came to look after the Goods, in order to fetch them away, are bound over to the Assizes; but who those Seamen were, that brought the Goods ashore, is not known; but the Master of the Ship is accused to have sent it ashore.

I would therefore pray, if their Honours think fit, that the Master of the Ship may either be examined about it, or that he may be sent for: The Goods were landed about Three Weeks since.

Your most humble Servant,

Edw. Whitaker.

Message from the King, respecting sending
Holland.

Mr. Secretary Hedges acquainted the House, That, when his Majesty was pleased to communicate to this House the Letter of the States General, the extraordinary Occasion they had for immediate Succours so fully appeared, that the House thought fit to order, That Ten thousand Men should be forthwith sent to their Assistance: That the Methods agreed upon, and resolved, by this House, for doing the same, were, by taking Twelve Battalions from Ireland, and, by Recruits here, to make them up Ten thousand Men: That his Majesty has thought it more proper, and fit for his Service, to take a Battalion of his Guards, consisting of Eight hundred and Thirty-three Men, which are to be supplied by the like Number out of those Troops that came from Ireland: That, although there may be no great Reason, considering the true Intention of the Act of Parliament for disbanding the Army, to trouble the House in this Particular; yet, since it hath been freely talked abroad, as if something were intended that was derogatory to that Act, and the Resolutions of this House, his Majesty hath been graciously pleased to command him to lay this Matter before them, to the end that, if there be any Scruple or Doubt relating thereto, such other Measures may be taken, as shall be thought meet.

In which this House acquiesced; and expressed their Satisfaction in his Majesty's Tenderness, not to violate the Act of Parliament, by keeping up more Forces than Seven thousand Men, which the Law allows.

Supply Bill:
appropri-
ating Excise,

Ordered, That Leave be given, upon the Report of the Bill for appropriating Three thousand Seven hundred Pounds a Weeks out of certain Branches of Excise, for publick Use; and for making a Provision for the Service of his Majesty's Household and Family, and other his necessary Occasions; to offer a Clause to enable the Governor and Company of the Bank of England to make Dividends of the Monies they shall receive upon ingrafted Tallies, as they shall think fit, from time to time, until the Monies they shall lend upon the said Act be repaid them.

The House, according to Order, took into Consideration the Report of the Conference with the Lords Yesterday.

VOL. 13.

Conference with Lords.

Ordered, That a free Conference be desired with the Lords, upon the Subject-matter of the last Conference.

Mr. Harcourt reported, from the Committee appointed to draw up Articles of Impeachment, That they had, according to Order, drawn up an Answer to the Message from the Lords, on Monday last, for appointing the Tryal of the Lords Somers upon Friday next; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was twice read; and, upon the Question put thereupon, agreed unto by the House; and is as followeth; viz.

Lord Somers'
ment.

The Commons, on Monday last, received a Message from your Lordships, That your Lordships had appointed the Tryal of John Lord Somers upon Friday next, on their Impeachment against him; in which they observe, your Lordships have not nominated any Place for the Tryal, though your Lordships thought fit to make that Matter, on the last Impeachments for Misdemeanors, the Subject of a long Debate.

And they cannot but take Notice, That your Lordships have taken as long a Time to give your Answer to the Commons Desire of a Committee of both Houses, delivered at the Conference on Friday last, as you are pleased to allow the Commons to have of the Day appointed by your Lordships for the said Tryal.

Your Lordships appointed so short a Day, especially whilst the Proposition made to your Lordships, for a Committee of both Houses, was undetermined, the Commons take to be such a Hardship to them, and such an Indulgence to the Person accused, as is not to be paralleled in any Parliamentary Proceeding.

The Commons must likewise acquaint your Lordships, That their Experience of the Interruption of a former Tryal, on an Impeachment for Misdemeanors, for want of settling the Preliminaries between the Two Houses, obliges them to insist on a Committee of both Houses, for preventing the like Interruption.

And they conceive it would be very preposterous for them to enter upon the Tryal of any of those Lords, till your Lordships discover some Inclination to make the Proceeding thereupon practicable: And therefore they think they have Reason to insist upon another Day to be appointed for the Tryal of the Lord Somers: And the Commons doubt not but to satisfy your Lordships, at a free Conference, of the Necessity of having a Committee of both Houses, before they can proceed upon the said Tryal.

Ordered, That Mr. Harcourt do carry the said Answer to the Lords.

Ordered, That Colonel Granville do go to the Lords, and desire the free Concurrence.

Mr. Conyers, according to Order, reported, from the Committee of the whole House, to whom the Bill for appropriating Three thousand Seven hundred Pounds a Week, out of certain Branches of Excise, for publick Use; and for making a Provision for the Service of his Majesty's Household and Family, and other his necessary Occasions; was committed; the Amendments, made by the Committee, to the said Bill; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place: And also reported, That, as to the Petition of Sir John Wolstenholm, and others, the Consideration whereof was referred to the Committee, upon reading the said Petition, the Committee were of Opinion, the Case of the Petitioners is proper to be considered by the House, the Committee conceiving they had no Power to relieve them.

Supply Bill;
appropri-
ating Excise,
&c.

Which Report being delivered in at the Clerk's Table, the same was there read:

And the Amendments, made by the Committee, to the Bill, being once read throughout; and then a Second time, one by one; were, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

And,

And, as to the Report upon the said Petition, a Clause being offered to the House, relating thereto ;

Ordered, That the Clause be brought up.

The Clause was brought up accordingly ; and twice read, with Blanks therein.

And a Debate arising in the House thereupon ;

Ordered, That the further Consideration of the said Report be adjourned till To-morrow Morning.

Answer to Lords Message delivered.

Mr. Harcourt reported, That he had, according to Order, delivered the Answer to the Lords Message.

Irish Forfeitures.

Ordered, That the Report from the Committee, to whom it was referred to separate the Petitions relating to the Irish Forfeitures, be made To-morrow Morning.

Duties on Salt.

Resolved, That this House will, To-morrow Morning, resolve itself into a Committee of the whole House, upon the Bill for preventing Frauds and Abuses in the Duties upon Salt ; and for collecting the same with less Charge to the Publick.

And then the House adjourned till To-morrow Morning, Nine a Clock.

Jovis, 12° die Junii ;

PRAYERS.

King's Bench
Prisons.

A PETITION of George Moore and Thomas Seviar was presented to the House, and read ; setting forth, That William Lenthall Esquire, now, is indebted to the Petitioners, by Judgments, Bond, and other Securities, in the Sum of Six thousand Five hundred Pounds ; and, having no Estate left to satisfy the same, but the Equity of Redemption of the Manors of Hasely and Latchford, and of the Office of Marshal of the King's Bench, which were mortgaged to Sir John Cutler, and are now vested in the Earl of Radnor, or some in Trust for him, That he the said Lenthall hath granted to the Petitioners, or their Use, the said Equity of Redemption, for Satisfaction of their said Debts ; reserving the Overplus thereof for his own Maintenance : That there is a Bill before the House, for regulating the Prisons of the Fleet and King's Bench ; in which there is a Proviso, or Saving, of the said Earl of Radnor's Debt due on the said Mortgage, and all Securities given of the said Office of Marshal relating to the same : And praying, That in respect there is, in the said Bill, a Saving of the said Earl of Radnor's Debt, that they may have the like Saving of their said Debts, and all Securities they have for the same, inserted in the Bill, if it should pass into an Act.

Ordered, That the said Petition do lie upon the Table, until the Amendments, made by the Lords, to the said Bill, be taken into Consideration.

Duchy of Cornwall Leases.

Mr. Hoblyn reported from the Committee, to whom the Bill for enabling his Majesty to make Grants, Leases, and Copies, of Offices, Lands, and Hereditaments, Parcel of his Duchy of Cornwall, or annexed to the same ; and for Confirmation of Leases and Grants already made ; was committed ; and who were to examine what Grants had been made contrary to the last Act ; That they had made several Amendments to the Bill ; which they had directed him to report to the House ; which he read in his Place : And also, That the Committee had examined what Grants had been made ; and had directed him to make a special Report thereof to the House ; which he read in his Place ; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table : Where the said Report was read ; and is as followeth ; viz.

That the Committee have examined several Persons ; and particularly Mr. Taylor, Deputy Auditor of the said Duchy ; who informed the Committee,

That, in or about August One thousand Six hundred Ninety-nine, Mr. Joseph Hornby produced to him a Parchment Deed, dated the Twenty-fourth of March One thousand Six hundred Ninety-eight, purporting a Conveyance from the Trustees appointed by the Acts of Parliament of the 22d and 23d Car. 2di, for Sale of Fee-farm Rents ; wherein divers annual and Fee-farm Rents are mentioned to be granted to the Earl of Dorsett ; but, in Truth, those Rents do arise from the Collections of the respective Graves and Tackmen of the several Townships within the Manor of Kirton, in the County of Lincolne, Part of the Duchy of Cornwall, amounting to One hundred Eighty-six Pounds Fourteen Shillings and Eight-pence Three Farthings per Annum Rent, or thereabouts :

That the said Rents appearing to Mr. Taylor to stand in Charge, before the Auditor of the said Duchy, as Parcel of a Manor ; and the Totals, inserted in the said Conveyance, being made up of many Quit-rents and Copyhold Rents issuing and payable out of Lands ; the Tenants whereof, as well Free as Copyhold, being bound, by Custom, to perform Suit of Court ; to pay Fines on Alienations ; to record the Conveyances of their Freehold Estates in the Court of the said Manor, which is of ancient Demesne ; and the Copyhold Tenants to pay Fines on Deaths or Surrenders ; the said Mr. Taylor did refuse to in:ol the said Deed, or to put the said Sums of Money out of Charge of the Receiver of the Premises ; presuming, that Rents of that Kind were expressly excepted by the said Acts of the 22d and 23d of King Charles the Second : And that Mr. Hornby has, by virtue of the said Deed, and an Authority from the said Earl, produced to the Committee, received the greatest Part of the said Rents of the Tenants to Michaelmas One thousand Seven hundred, for the Use of the Earl of Dorsett :

That it appeared, by several Copies of Court Roll, and ancient Records, produced by Mr. Taylor, that the said Rents, so conveyed as aforesaid, are Freehold and Copyhold Rents, Parcel of the said Manor of Kirton, and were always put in Charge as such :

That, at the Request of the Agents of the Earl of Dorsett, he was heard by Counsel at the said Committee ; who insisted, That Part of the said Rents were vendible by the said Trustees ; and that their said Conveyance was legal for all the Rents, except the Copyhold Rents, of the said Manor.

Afterwards the Amendments, made by the Committee, to the Bill, were once read throughout ; and then a Second time, one by one ; and, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

Ordered, That the Bill, with the Amendments, be ingrossed.

Resolved, That it be recommended to the Lords Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury to take care, that no Grant pass contrary to the Act of the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Years of King Charles the Second for Sale of Fee-farm Rents : And also, that the King's Tenants of Kirton in Linsey, in the County of Lincoln, be protected against any illegal Disturbance, by colour of any pretended Grant.

The House, according to Order, resolved itself into a Committee of the whole House, upon the Bill for granting several Duties upon low Wines, or Spirits of the First Extraction ; and continuing several additional Duties upon Coffee, Tea, Chocolate, Spices, and Pictures ; and certain Impositions upon Hawkers, Pedlars, and petty Chapmen ; and the Duty of Fifteen Pounds per Centum upon Muslins ; and for improving the Duties upon japanned and lacquered Goods ; and for continuing the Coinage Duty for the several Terms and Purposes therein mentioned.

Mr. Speaker left the Chair.

Mr. Conyers took the Chair of the Committee.

Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair.

A Message from the Lords, by Dr. Newton and Mr. Gery:

Mr. Speaker,

We are commanded by the Lords to acquaint this House, That, in Answer to the Message from the House of Commons, of the Tenth Instant, the Lords say; That although they take it to be unparliamentary in many Particulars, yet, to shew their real Desire of avoiding Disputes, and removing all Pretence of delaying the Tryals of the impeached Lords, they will only take Notice of that Part of their Message, wherein the Commons propose some things as Difficulties, in respect of the Tryals; which Matters relating wholly to their Judicature, and to their Rights and Privileges as Peers, they think fit to acquaint the Commons with the following Resolutions of the House of Lords:

1st, That no Lord of Parliament, impeached of high Crimes and Misdemeanors, and coming to his Tryal, shall, upon his Tryal, be without the Bar.

2dly, That no Lord of Parliament, impeached of high Crimes and Misdemeanors, can be precluded from voting on any Occasion, except in his own Tryal.

Their Lordships further take notice of a Mistake, in point of Fact, alleged in the Message of the Commons; it no way appearing, upon their Journals, that the Lords impeached have voted in their own Case.

The Lords, being well assured, that all the Steps that have been taken by them, in relation to their Impeachments, are warranted by the Practice of their Ancestors, and the Usage of Parliament, have Reason to expect the Tryals should proceed without Delay. Also,

We are commanded by the Lords to acquaint this House, That,

In Answer to the Message of the House of Commons Yesterday, the Lords say; That they cannot give a greater Evidence of their sincere and hearty Desires of avoiding all Differences with the House of Commons, and of proceeding on the Tryals of the Impeachments, than by not taking notice of the several just Exceptions to which that Message is liable, both as to the Matter and Expressions.

The Lords having nothing further from their Thoughts, than the going about to do any thing which might have the least Appearance of Hardship, with relation to the Commons:

But the Answer of the Lord Sommers to the Articles exhibited against him, having been sent down by the Commons on the Four-and-twentieth of May last; and they having, by their Message of the One-and-Thirtieth of May, signified to their Lordships their Intention of beginning with the Tryal of his Impeachment, in the First Place;

The Lords, considering how far the Session is advanced, thought it reasonable to appoint the Thirteenth Instant for the said Tryal; their Lordships finding several Precedents of appointing Tryals in Impeachments within a shorter time.

The Lords also think it incumbent upon them to endeavour to dispatch the Tryals of all the impeached Lords before the Rising of the Parliament: This is what Justice requires, and cannot be looked upon as a Matter of Indulgence: Nevertheless, that the Commons may see how desirous their Lordships are to comply with them in any thing which may be consistent with Justice, have appointed the Tryal of Impeachment against John Lord Sommers on Tuesday the Seventeenth of this Instant June, at Ten of the Clock in the Forenoon, in the House of Lords, which will be then sitting in Westminster-hall. Also,

We are commanded by the Lords to acquaint this House, That the Lords do agree to a free Conference with the Commons, as desired; and do appoint To-morrow at One a Clock, in the Painted Chamber.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Ordered, That the said Two First Messages be referred to the Committee, who were appointed to draw up the Articles of Impeachment.

Ordered, That the Bill for the better Discovery of all Lands, and other Revenues, given to Popish superstitious Uses; and for applying the same to Greenwich Hospital; be read the Second time upon Monday Morning next.

Estates given to superstitious Uses.

Ordered, That the Amendments, made by the Lords, to the Bill, intituled, An Act for regulating the Prisons of the King's Bench and Fleet, be taken into Consideration upon Saturday Morning next.

King's Bench and Fleet Prisons.

Ordered, That the Members do, by Twelve a Clock To-morrow Morning, prepare their List of the Names of Seven Persons to be Commissioners, to be inserted into the Bill for appointing and enabling Commissioners to take, examine, and state, the publick Accounts of the Kingdom.

Ordered, That the Report from the Committee, to whom it was referred to separate the Petitions relating to the Irish Forfeitures, be made To-morrow Morning at Eleven a Clock.

Resolved, That this House will, upon Saturday Morning next, resolve itself into a Committee of the whole House, upon the Bill for preventing Frauds and Abuses in the Duties upon Salt; and for collecting the same with less Charge to the Publick.

Duties on Salt.

Ordered, That the further Consideration of the Report from the Committee of the whole House, to whom the Bill for appropriating Three thousand Seven hundred Pounds a Week, out of certain Branches of Excise, for publick Uses; and for making a Provision for the Service of his Majesty's Household and Family, and other his necessary Occasions; was committed; be further adjourned till To-morrow Morning.

Irish Forfeitures.

Sir Humphry Mackworth, according to Order, reported from the Committee, to whom it was referred to separate the Petitions relating to the Irish Forfeitures, That they had separated the same accordingly; viz. What were within the Report from all the Trustees; what, they conceive, were fit to be excepted from being transmitted to Ireland; the Matter of Fact whereof was certified, by the Trustees here, to be true; and what were to be referred to the Trustees in Ireland; and the Case of Philip Savage Esquire, upon his Petition specially, as the Committee had directed; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as follows;

Petitions within the Trustees:

Of the Lady Upper Ossory, of the Lord Lymerick, of Captain James Roch, of Mr. De la Rue, of John Bourk, commonly called Lord Bophin, of Michael Bourk, & al.

Petitions excepted from being transmitted to Ireland:

Of Edw. Singleton, of Mr. Arthur, of Mr. Wm. Fownes, of Peter Fagan, of Arthur French, of Mr. Molony, of Captain Tho. Bellew, of the Lady Falkland, of Mr. Keightley, of Walter Delamer, of the Lady Tyrconnell, of Mr. Edw. Nugent, of the Lady Limerick, of Sir Robert King and Wm. Caulfeild Esquire, of Hannah Mac Donnell, of Mr. Arthur and John St. Leger, of Maurice Annesley, of Caesar Bradshaw, of the Lord Mountjoy, of Nic. Darby, of * Fitz-Patrick, of Ridgely Nugent, of the Lady Abercorne, of Mr. Edm. Keating, of Mrs. Wandesford, of Mr. Ellis, of Colonel Hen. Luttrell, of Sir Rob. Bedingfeld, of Mrs. Luttrell, of Sir John Trant, of Mrs. Jane Lavallin, of Sir Stephen Fox, of Mary Vernon, of Captain Woosly, & al. Lessees of the private Estate . . . of Mrs. Charlotte Talbott, of Mr. Buttler, of Mr. Edgworth, of Mr. Spring, of Nicolas Bagnall, of Mrs. Harris, of the Earl of Carlingford, of Sir Will. Courtney, of the Lord Kingston, of Captain Stewart, of John Coleman, of Mrs. Hardpany, of the Lady Stapleton, of Sir John Dillon, of Sir Richard Rooth, of Mr. Nottingham, of Mr. Hussey, of Laurence Nichell, of the Lord Cahir, of Mr. Ellary, of Daniel Arthur, of the Bishop of Killaloe, of Sir Wm. Ashurst, of the Bishop of Kildare, of the Daughters and younger Sons of Dudley Bagnall, of Doctor Finglas, of the Lord Purbeck, of John Leigh, of Robert Leigh, of Mr. Trench, of Thomas Conner, of Susanna Smith, of Mr. Chamberlaine, of Mrs. Skelton, of Mr. Carill, of Valentine Brown, & al. all Minors, Sons and Daughters of the Lord Kenmarc.

Petitions transmitted for Ireland:

Of Edmund Stafford, and Samuel Dopping, of Eustace and Roth, of Mullady, of Christopher O Bryan Clerk, of Colonel Rob. Woollesley, of Tho. Leigh, & al. Executors of the Lord Chief Justice Heley, of Wm. Spencer, of Sir Wm. Russell, of Joseph Mitchell, of Mr. Carcassonet, of Tho. Plunkett, of Lord Bishop of Dublin, of Mr. Edw. Corker, of John Knapp, of Sir Tho. Domoille, of Mr. Brough, of Ignatius Gold, of Dame Eleanor Wandesford, of Mr. Dopping, of Mr. Westenra.

That Mr. Savage, being Clerk of the Crown, was commanded to prosecute, by Indictment and Outlawry, all such as were in Rebellion; and that he prosecuted about Four thousand Persons to Outlawry accordingly, which took up considerable Time; by virtue whereof their Estates were seized into his Majesty's Hands: And that, for his Charges, and his and his Servants Pains, her late Majesty, upon his Petition concerning the same, was pleased to refer the Matter to the Commissioners of the Treasury here in England, to certify what had been allowed in the like Cases; and what extraordinary Charges Mr. Savage had been at in that Service: Who certified, That they found, upon the Rebellion in 1641, the then Clerk of the Crown was, by Order of the Government, allowed, by Money and Grants of the forfeited Estates, 40 s. for each Person indicted, outlawed and convicted, for Treason: And that Mr. Savage had indicted and convicted so many Persons; and that he and his Clerk were at considerable Charge and Expence, and were wholly employed therein a Year and more; and that his Salary was but 7 l. 10 s. per Annum, and his Office no Profit to him during that time: And that thereupon his Majesty was pleased, the 26th of July 1692, to direct, That he should have the like Allowance of 40 s. for every Person prosecuted and attainted, as was formerly allowed to others; and to direct, That, out of the Rents and Arrears of the forfeited Estates, by reason of those Attainders, Mr. Savage should be paid 40 s. for every Person he had prosecuted and convicted, or attainted; and that the Governor of Ireland should issue his Warrants or Orders accordingly, as by a Copy of his Majesty's Warrant to the Lord Sidney, and others the Lords Justices, appears:

That, thereupon, the Lords Justices granted a Custodiam of some Lands to one Mr. Tisdale, in Trust for Mr. Savage, for Three Years, in Consideration of his extraordinary Charge and Labour; which deserved a Recompence above the ordinary Advantage of his Office:

That Mr. Savage could not get Possession of these Lands till the First Year was expired; so that he enjoyed them but Two Years: And that he received but 630 l. thereout, including Quit Rents:

That he laid before the last Commissioners of Forfeitures, and the present Trustees, an Account of all attainted Persons; and his Servant gave due Attendance with the Records, pursuant to their Order:

That he has had no other Satisfaction for the said 40 s. a Man, or his said Extraordinary Charge or Labour, or for the said Accounts delivered to, or Attendance upon, the said late Commissioners, or present Trustees.

Ordered, That Leave be given, upon the Report from the Committee of the whole House, to whom the Bill for granting several Duties upon low Wines, or Spirits of the First Extraction; and continuing several additional Duties upon Coffee, Tea, Chocolate, Spices, and Pictures; and certain Impositions upon Hawkers, Pedlars, and petty Chapmen; and the Duty of Fifteen Pounds per Centum upon Muslins; and for improving the Duties upon japanned and lacquered Goods; and for continuing the Coinage Duty, for the several Terms and Purposes therein mentioned; was committed; to offer a Clause for preventing the Sale of any of the Estates by the Irish Trustees, to which any of the Petitions presented to this House do relate, until the End of the next Session of Parliament.

Ordered, That the further Consideration of the said Report be adjourned.

Mr. St. John reported from the Committee, to whom it was referred to draw up the Articles of Impeachment; and to whom the Messages from the Lords Yesterday were referred; That they had drawn up an Answer to the said Messages; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was twice read; and, upon the Question put thereupon, agreed unto by the House; and is as followeth; viz.

The Conference with Lords.

The House of Commons find greater Reason to insist upon their Proposal of a Committee of both Houses, from the Two Messages received Yesterday from your Lordships; for their Ambiguity and Uncertainty do shew the Method of former Parliaments to be the most proper Way for Dispatch of Business.

The Commons have been obliged to employ that Time in considering and answering your Lordships Messages, which otherwise would have been spent in preparing for the Lord Sommers's Tryal: so that the Delay must be charged where the Occasion ariseth: And the Commons, having desired a Committee of both Houses to adjust the Preliminaries of the Tryals, cannot but think it strange your Lordships should come to Resolutions upon Two of those Points, while the Proposal of the House of Commons is under Debate at Conferences between the Two Houses; the Commons having other Difficulties to propose, which concern them as Prosecutors, and all future Impeachments.

And though the Commons leave the Subject of your Lordships Resolutions, with other things, to be debated at a Committee of both Houses; yet they cannot but observe, That your Lordships Second Resolution is no direct Answer to the Commons Proposal; which was, Whether Peers, impeached of the same Crimes shall vote for each other upon their Tryal for the same Crimes? And the Commons cannot believe, that any such Rule can be laid down, in plain Words, where there is a due Regard to Justice.

And as to what your Lordships observe, That there is a Mistake in point of Fact, alleged by the Commons; this House may take off the Caution used by your Lordships in wording that Part of your Message; for, they know, your Lordships are too well acquainted with the Truth of the Fact, to affirm, That the impeached Lords did not vote in their own Cases: And though the Appearing or Not Appearing upon your Lordships Journal, does not make it more or less agreeable to the Rules of Justice; yet the Commons cannot but add this further Observation, from your Lordships Journal, That the impeached Lords Presence is not only recorded, when those Votes passed, but they also find some of them appointed of Committees for preparing and drawing up the Messages and Answers to the House of Commons; which they do not think has been the best Expedient for preserving a good Correspondence between the Two Houses, or adjusting what will be necessary upon these Tryals: And therefore the Commons cannot think it agreeable to the Rules of Parliament, for them to appear at a Tryal, till all necessary Preliminaries are first settled with your Lordships.

Ordered, That the said Answer be sent to the Lords.

Ordered, That Mr. St. John do carry the said Answer to the Lords.

Ordered, That the Committee, who managed the last Conference, do manage the free Conference.

And the Managers went to the Conference.

And, being returned;

Mr. Harcourt reported what had happened at the Conference, in a Speech of the Lord Haversham; upon which the Managers thought fit to withdraw from the Conference, to the end they might acquaint the House therewith.

Ordered, That the Managers do withdraw into the Speaker's Chamber, and collect the Matter of the Conference; and what was said by the Lord Haversham; and report the same to the House.

And the Managers withdrew.

And the House adjourned till the Return of the Managers.

The Managers being returned;

Mr. Harcourt reported the Matter of the free Conference; and the Words which the Lord Haversham had spoke thereat; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

VOL. 13.

That the Managers, appointed by this House, met the Lords at a free Conference; the Subject-matter whereof was opened by Mr. Harcourt, and, immediately afterwards, further argued by Sir Bartholomew Shower.

It was insisted on by each of them, That the Reasons, offered by their Lordships at the last Conference, were not sufficient for their Lordships disagreeing to a Committee of both Houses, desired by the Commons at the First Conference:

That, notwithstanding those Reasons, the Commons still thought a Committee of both Houses absolutely necessary for adjusting and preventing such Differences as had happened, or might arise, previous to, or upon, the Tryals: And therefore insisted, That such a Committee should be appointed, before the Commons could proceed on any Tryal.

It was urged, as One Reason for such a Committee, That many Difficulties might happen whereby the Tryals might be obstructed, if the Preliminaries should not be first adjusted: As One Instance, that Point, of several Lords, being under Impeachments of the same Crimes, voting on each others Tryals, was mentioned.

The Lord Steward first replied; and nothing was offered by his Grace, but what was material and pertinent to the Matter in Question, and agreeable to the Method of Parliament in free Conferences:

That John Lord Haversham spoke immediately after; and in his Lordship's Discourse, used these, or the like Expressions:

"One Thing there is, though I cannot speak to it because I am bound up by the Orders of the House; yet it must have some Answer; that is, As to the Lords voting in their own Cause; it requires an Answer; though I cannot go into the Debate of it: The Commons themselves have made this Precedent; for, in these Impeachments, they have allowed Men, guilty of the same Crimes, to vote in their own House: And, therefore, we have not made any Distinction in our House, that some should vote, and some not. The Lords have so high an Opinion of the Justice of the House of Commons, that, they hope, Justice shall not be made use of as a Mask for any Design: And, therefore, give me leave to say, though I am not to argue it, It is a plain Demonstration, That the Commons think these Lords innocent: And, I think, the Proposition is undeniable; for there are several Lords in the same Crimes. In the same Facts, there is no Distinction; and the Commons leave some of these Men at the Head of Affairs, near the King's Person, to do any Mischief, if their Persons were inclined to it; and impeach others, when they are both alike guilty, and concerned in the same Facts. This is a Thing I was in hopes I should never have heard asserted, when the Beginning of it was from the House of Commons."

These Expressions were instantly objected to by Sir Christopher Musgrove; and the Managers took them to be so great an Aspersion on the Honour of this House, that they thought themselves obliged, in Duty, immediately to withdraw from the free Conference.

As the Managers were withdrawing, his Grace my Lord Steward spoke to the Effect following:

That, he hoped, we would not think that Lord had any Authority from the House of Lords to use any such Expressions towards the Commons.

Resolved, That John Lord Haversham hath, at the free Conference this Day, uttered most scandalous Reproaches, and false Expressions, highly reflecting upon the Honour and Justice of the House of Commons, and tending to the making a Breach in the good Correspondence between the Lords and Commons, and to the Interrupting the publick Justice of the Nation, by delaying the Proceedings on the Impeachments.

Resolved, That John Lord Haversham be charged, before the Lords, for the Words spoken by the said Lord this Day, at the free Conference: And that the Lords be desired desired to proceed, in Justice, against the said Lord Haversham; and to inflict such Punishment upon the said Lord, as so high an Offence against the House of Commons does deserve.

Words resolved to be scandalous.

Lord Haversham to be charged for them before the Lords.

Ordered, That Sir Christopher Musgrave do carry the said Charge, and Resolution, to the Lords.

A Message from the Lords, by Dr. Newton and Mr. Gery:

And then the Messengers withdrew.

And the Messengers were called in again; and Mr. Speaker acquainted them therewith.

Peterbo-
tion.

Sir Rowland Gwynn, according to Order, reported from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to them, touching the Election for the City of Peterborough; and the Resolution of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

Upon the Petition of Francis St. John Esquire, complaining of an undue Election and Return of Sidney Wortley, alias Mountague, Esquire, to serve for the City of Peterborough.

That the Right of Election was agreed to be in the Inhabitants paying Scot and Lot.

Upon the Poll, there was,

For the Sitting Member - - - 166.

For the Petitioner - - - 160.

That the Petitioner's Counsel objected to several Persons polled for the Sitting Member.

Mr. James Taylor was examined as to Tho. Tinkerson, Robert Hake, and Robert Tuste, who voted for the Sitting Member: And, as to Tinkerson and Tuste, he said, They lived with their Mothers: But it was acknowledged, that they paid to the Rate at the time of the Election; and that one Duse was Tenant to Hake for Part of the Tenement where Hake lived, and paid the Rate for the same:

That there were several other Persons objected to, as not paying Scot and Lot; but it appeared they lived in the Minster; and, they having voted on both Sides, the Examination of their Right of Voting was waved.

Mr. Standish said, That Thomas Abbott received Sacrament Money, and a Pension from the Church of 6 s. a Year:

That John Pack had received Sacrament Money: But these Two Persons lived in the Minster.

That the Petitioner's Counsel also endeavoured to take off several Votes from the Sitting Member's Poll, on account of indirect Practices;

That the first Person objected to, on that account, was John Bagley: And, as to him, they called,

Mr. Roger Pemberton, Mr. Little, Mr. Edward Tinkerson: Mr. Pemberton said, That Bagley told him, If he would not lend him 10 l. he could have it in another Place: Mr. Little said, That Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Langton, who acted on the behalf of the Sitting Member, did agree with Bagley to lend him 10 l. in Consideration that he should vote for Mr. Wortley: And Mr. Edward Tinkerson said, That the said Bagley did tell him, That, upon the said Account, Mr. Charles Parker had lent him Ten Pounds.

Edmund Jessop, James Wood, testified, That Joshua Oates said, That his Master Beningfeld came to him, and asked him who he was for: And that, he declaring himself to be for Mr. St. John, his Master told him, He would have him give a single Vote for Mr. Wortley; and threatened him, That otherwise he would sue an Article against him for 20 l. and throw him out of his Work: And that Beningfeld, in Consideration that he would vote for the Sitting Member, had promised him to pay his Debts: And Jessop said, That Oates further declared, That Beningfeld did also give him a Chaldron of Coals, and One Shilling; and that the said Beningfeld paid a Reckoning of 3 s. 6 d. the which he was at the Drinking of.

John Ersley said, That Mr. Beningfeld importuned him to go and drink, and then desired his Vote for Mr. Wortley: And, the said Ersley telling him he was engaged, Mr. Beningfeld told him, If he would vote for Mr. Wortley, he should have 100 l. spent, and lent him, in his House, in Three Months time: He acknowledged Mr. Beningfeld did not speak to him for any Vote:

And that Henry Kirle said, That Mr. Parker desired his Vote for Mr. Wortley: And, he telling Mr. Parker, That he had promised Mr. St. John, and had rather give 20 s. than be a Turn-coat, Mr. Parker told him, If he would, he should make 10 or 12 l. worth of Baskets; and, if he did not, he would take his House from him.

Skevington Sherman said, That Mr. Parker desired his Vote for Mr. Wortley: And, the said Sherman telling him, He could not; Mr. Parker proffered the said Sherman to lend him a Horse to go out of Town; and told him, If he spent 20 s. or more, he should have it.

Tho. Carrier, Edw. Goodyear, said, Mr. Parker desired their Votes for Mr. Wortley.

James Wood, Richard Wilton, gave an Account, That Nicolas Lee told him, the said Wood, That he was sent for to Francis Dillingham's, where was Mr. Whinyard, who desired his Vote for Mr. Wortley: And, the said Lee telling him, He could not; Mr. Whinyard told him, That then he should do no Work for him: That he desired a Day's time to consider of it: And he went again, and said, He had 14 s. of Dillingham, and might have had 10 l.: Nicolas Lee is a Cobler.

John Turner, Simon Butler, said, That Francis Dillingham came to John Turner's House, and desired his Vote for Mr. Wortley; and told him, He would help him to as much Money as would pay his Landlord; which, he said, for Rent and Malt, was about 40 l.

Ishmael Banks said, That, on the Election Day in the Morning, one Watts had said, He would vote for Mr. St. John: And that Banks met him Two Days after the Election; and Watts told Banks, That he was caught in the Lord William's Woods, and was threatened for it: And Mr. Parker promised him to be his Friend in that Matter; and prevailed upon him to vote for Mr. Wortley.

Richard Dickinson said, That * Garland, after the Election, said, he intended to have voted for Mr. St. John; but he was forced to do what he did.

Thomas Paine said, That a Fortnight before the Election, he went with Robert Oliver to Ashton's, and had Wine and Ale without paying for it: And that Ashton's House was taken up by Mr. Wortley: And he was at Ashton's once before; That all he see there, but himself, voted for Mr. Wortley.

Matth. Paris said, He was, on the Election Day in the Morning, from Six to Eleven or Twelve a Clock, where were several others of Mr. Wortley's Voters, who drank; and he staid till he see them all gone, but see no Drink paid for: And the said Paris said, He see several others drinking at the Goat.

John Ash said, That, the Night before the Election, he was at the Goat, kept by John Winchley, where Six or Seven Persons were treated.

Simon Butler said, He was at the Talbot on the Election Day; and there was Beer and Claret, and he see no Man offer to pay.

That the Counsel for the Sitting Member, as to the Ten Pounds, called,

Mr. Charles Whinyard: Who said, In October last, Mr. Parker had promised Baggaley to lend him 10 l.; and Baggaley came to him, to fill up a Bond for it; and, he apprehending it might be an Objection, if Mr. Parker had asked Baggaley his Vote, he appointed Baggaley to come to him another time: And, in the mean time, he asked Mr. Parker if he had desired his Vote: And that Mr. Parker declared, He had not: And Baggaley, when he came again, said the same thing: So he filled up the Bond about Three Months before the Election: And that Mr. Parker was a Gentleman of 6 or 700 Pounds a Year, and a great moneyed Man.

That

That he took Tuste for a Housekeeper, he having a Licence, and paying Rent:

That Tinkerson has a Shop:

That Duse, at the Election, acknowledged he laid down the Money for the Rate for his Landlord Hake, and was thereupon allowed; and Mr. St. John, when he went away, after the Poll was declared, made no Objection:

That, as to Francis Dillingham, the Sitting Member's Counsel insisted, That what he did was without any Direction from the Sitting Member.

As to Expences;

Mr. Whinyard said, That, on the Nineteenth of December last, he received a Letter from Mr. Wortley, dated the Seventeenth, in which Mr. Wortley wrote, If Mr. St. John spent Money, he would have them spend Money to the Nineteenth, but no longer: And that Mr. St. John's Friends spent 20*s.* a House; That, on the Election-day Mr. Wortley hearing there were some Persons at the Talbot, and other Publick-houses, he went and forbid them at the Talbot and Goat; and some of them were angry, saying, They hoped they might spend their own Money.

Mr. Langton said, He received several Letters from Mr. Wortley, before the Teste of the Writ; wherein Mr. Wortley desired no Money should be spent: And particularly, he went to Ashton's at the Talbot; who told him, He did not desire Mr. Wortley should pay a Farthing of what he spent there.

Peter Ashton, who keeps the Talbot Inn, said, That there was no Money spent on the Election-day, or the Day before, or at any time after the Writ was out, spent on Mr. Wortley's Account; but what was spent, was paid by the Voters.

John Whinchley, who kept the Goat, said, That there was no Money on the Election-day, or at any time after the Writ was out, spent on Mr. Wortley's Account; but the Persons paid for themselves.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel said, That they did not think fit to trouble the Committee with more Witnesses, apprehending their Case to be very clear.

And the Committee came to this Resolution;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Sidney Wortley, alias Mountague, Esquire, is duly elected a Citizen to serve in this present Parliament for the City of Peterborough.

The said Resolution being read a Second time;

Resolved, That the House doth agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That Sidney Wortley, alias Mountague, Esquire, is duly elected a Citizen to serve in this present Parliament for the City of Peterborough.

PRAYERS.

Lord
Sommers'
Trial.

ORDERED, That no Member of this House do presume to go into the Place appointed by the Lords for the Trial of the Lord Sommers, without the Leave of this House.

Ordered, That the Serjeant at Arms attending this House do go, with the Mace, and summon all the Members of this House, that are in or about Westminster-hall, immediately to attend the Service of the House.

And he went accordingly.

And, being returned;

Mr. Harcourt reported from the Committee appointed to draw up Articles of Impeachment; and to whom the Messages from the Lords Yesterday were referred; and to draw up Reasons why they cannot proceed to the Trial of the Lord Sommers this Day; That they had drawn up Reasons; which they had directed him to report to the House accordingly; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were twice read; and agreed unto by the House; and are as follow; viz.

The Commons, in this whole Proceeding against the impeached Lords, have acted with all imaginable Zeal to bring them to a speedy Trial; and they doubt not but it will appear, by comparing their Proceedings with all others upon the like Occasion, that the House of Commons have nothing to blame themselves for, but that they have not expressed the Resentment their Ancestors have justly shewed upon much less Attempts, which have been made upon their Power of Impeachments.

The Commons, on the Thirty-first of May, acquainted your Lordships, That they thought it proper, from the Nature of the Evidence, to proceed, in the First Place, upon the Trial of the Lord Sommers, upon the First Intimation from your Lordships, some Days afterwards, that you would proceed to the Trial of any of the impeached Lords, whom the Commons should be first ready to begin with; notwithstanding your Lordships before thought fit to appoint which Impeachment should be first tried, and affix a Day for such Tryal, without consulting the Commons, who are the Prosecutors.

The Commons, determining to expedite the Tryals to the utmost of their Power, in Hopes of attaining that End, and for the more speedy and easy adjusting and preventing Differences, which had happened, or might arise, previous, or upon, these Tryals, proposed to your Lordships, at a Conference, the most parliamentary and effectual Method for that Purpose, and that which in no manner intrenched upon your Lordships Judicature; That a Committee of both Houses should be nominated, to consider of the most proper Ways and Methods of Proceedings upon Impeachments, according to the Usage of Parliament.

In the next Message to the Commons, upon Monday the Ninth of June, your Lordships thought fit, without taking the least Notice of this Proposition, to appoint the Friday then following for the Tryal of the said Lord

VOL. 13.

Sommers: Whereunto, as well as many other Messages and Proceedings of your Lordships, upon this Occasion, the House of Commons might have justly taken very great Exceptions; yet, as an Evidence of their Moderation, and to shew their Readiness to bring the impeached Lords to speedy Justice, the Commons insisted only on their Proposition for a Committee of both Houses, to settle and adjust the necessary Preliminaries to the Tryal; particularly, whether the impeached Lords should appear, on their Tryal, at your Lordships Bar, as Criminals; whether, being under Accusations of the same Crimes, they should sit as Judges on each other's Tryal for those Crimes; or should vote in their Cases, as, it is notorious, they have been permitted by your Lordships to do in many Instances which might be given: To which Particulars your Lordships have not yet given a direct Answer; though put in mind thereof by the Commons.

Your Lordships, at a Conference, having offered some Reasons why you could not agree to a Committee of both Houses, to adjust the necessary Preliminaries, the Commons thereupon desired a free Conference; and your Lordships agreed thereunto: At which, it is well known to many of your Lordships, who were then present, what most scandalous Reproaches, and false Expressions, highly reflecting upon the Honour and Justice of the House of Commons, were uttered by John Lord Haversham; whereby the Commons were under a Necessity of withdrawing from the said free Conference: For which Offence, the Commons have, with all due Regard to your Lordships, prayed your Lordships Justice against the Lord Haversham; but have, as yet, received no manner of Satisfaction.

The Commons restrain themselves from enumerating your Lordships very many irregular and unparliamentary Proceedings upon this Occasion; but think, it is what they owe to publick Justice, and all the Commons of England, whom they represent, to declare some few of those Reasons, why they peremptorily refuse to proceed to the Tryal of the Lord Sommers on the Seventeenth of June.

1st, Because your Lordships have not yet agreed, that a Committee of both Houses should be appointed, for settling the necessary Preliminaries; a Method never, until this time, denied by the House of Lords, whensoever the Commons have thought it necessary to desire the same.

2dly, Should the Commons, which they never will do, be contented to give up those Rights, which have been transmitted to them from their Ancestors, and are of absolute Necessity to their Proceedings on Impeachments; yet, whilst they have any Regard to publick Justice, they never can appear as Prosecutors before your Lordships, till your Lordships have first given them Satisfaction, that Lords impeached of the same Crimes, shall not sit as Judges on each other's Tryals for those Crimes.

3dly, Because the Commons have, as yet, received no Reparation for the great Indignity offered to them, at the free Conference, by the Lord Haversham. The Commons are far from any Inclination, and cannot be supposed to be under any Necessity, of delaying the Tryal of the Lord Sommers: There is not any Article exhibited by them, in Maintenance of their Impeachment against the Lord Sommers, for the Proof whereof they have not full and undeniable Evidence; which they will be ready to produce, as soon as your Lordships shall have done Justice upon the Lord Haversham, and the necessary Preliminaries, in order to the said Trial, shall be settled by a Committee of both Houses.

The Commons think it unnecessary to observe to your Lordships, that most of the Articles, whereof the Lord Sommers stands impeached, will appear to your Lordships to be undoubtedly true, from Matters of Record, as well as by the Confession of the said Lord Sommers in his Answer to the said Articles: To which the Commons doubt not but your Lordships will have a due Regard, when his Tryal shall regularly proceed.

Resolved, That the said Reasons be sent, by a Message, to the Lords.

Ordered,

Ordered, That the Earl of Dysert do carry the said Message.

And a Motion being made, and the Question being put, That the Report be now read;

                                  { Mr. Mompesson: }

So it was resolved in the Affirmative.

Then the said Amendments were read the First time throughout; and then a Second time, one by one; and, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

Mr. Secretary Hedges acquainted the House, That his Majesty is like to have Occasion to draw some more Troops out of Ireland for the Plantations; and it is thought to be best for the Service, as Occasion shall require, and Men be drawn off from thence, that they should be recruited here in England, rather than in Scotland or Ireland: That, he thought, there was no Occasion to trouble the House with it; but his Majesty had commanded him to communicate this Matter to the House; his Majesty being inclined to communicate all Matters of this Nature to them.

tion from his Majesty.

Ordered, That no Member of this House do presume to appear at the Place erected for the pretended Tryal of the Impeachment of the Lord Sommers, under the Penalty of incurring the utmost Displeasure of this House.

MR. Speaker acquainted the House, That several Letters have been sent to the Post-house, with Hands counterfeited for the Franking of Letters, with Libels inclosed in them, Counterfeiting Members Franks.

A Message from the Lords, by Sir John Franklyn and Sir Lacon William Child:

Mr. Speaker,

The Lords have agreed to the Bill, intituled, An Act to enable Richard Bigg to charge Part of his Estate, in the County of Hertford, with the Payment of his Debts, with some Amendments: To which they desire the Concurrence of this House. Also, Biggs' Estate.

We are commanded by the Lords to acquaint this House, That the Lords have appointed Monday the Three-and-twentieth Day of this Instant June, at Ten of the Clock in the Forenoon, for the Tryal of Edward Earl of Orford, in Westminster-hall. Also, Time appointed for Lord Orford's Tryal.

We are commanded by the Lords to deliver to this House a Copy of the Lord Haversham's Answer to the Charge exhibited against him. Also, Lord Haversham's Answer.

We are commanded by the Lords to acquaint this House, That the Lords, in Answer to the Message of the Commons of the Seventeenth Instant, say; The only true Way of determining which of the Two Houses has acted with the greatest Sincerity, in order to bring the impeached Lords to their Tryals, is, to look back upon the respective Proceedings. Message from Lords respecting the Impeachments.

The Lords do not well understand what the Commons mean by that Resentment, which they speak of in their Message: Their Lordships own the House of Commons have a Right of impeaching; and the Lords have the undoubted Power of doing Justice upon those Impeachments, by bringing them to Tryal, and condemning or acquitting the Parties, in a reasonable Time: This Power is derived to them from their Ancestors; which they will not suffer to be wrested from them by any Pretences whatsoever.

Their Lordships cannot but wonder, that the Commons should not have proposed a Committee of both Houses much sooner, if they thought it so necessary for the bringing on the Tryals, no Mention being made of such a Committee from the First of April to the Sixth of June; although, during that Interval, their Delays were frequently complained of by the House of Lords.

The Manner in which the Commons demand this Committee, the Lords look upon as a direct Invading of their Judicature; and therefore, as there never was a Committee of both Houses yielded to by the Lords, in case of any Impeachment for high Crimes and Misdemeanors, so their Lordships do insist, that they will make no new Precedent upon this Occasion: Many Impeachments for Misdemeanors have, in all Times, been determined without such a Committee; and if now the Commons think fit, by an unprecedented Demand, to form an Excuse for not prosecuting their Impeachments, it is demonstrable where the Obstruction lies.

As to the Preliminaries, which the Commons mention in particular, as proper to be settled at such a Committee; they have received the Resolutions of the House of Lords therein by their Message of the Twelfth Instant; from which, being Matters relating intirely to their Judicature, their Lordships cannot depart.

As to the last Pretence the Commons would make to shelter the delaying the Tryals, from some Expressions, which fell from the Lord Haversham at the free Conference, at which Offence was taken, their Lordships will only observe, 1st, That they have omitted nothing which might give the Commons all reasonable Satisfaction, of the Purpose to do them Justice in that Matter, so far as is consistent with doing Justice to that Lord; and also to preserve all good Correspondence with them, as appears by the several Steps they have taken.

1st,

2dly, That this Business has no Relation to the Tryals of the impeached Lords; and therefore their Lordships cannot imagine, why the Commons should make Satisfaction and Reparation against the Lord Haversham, a necessary Condition for the going on with the Tryals; and, at the same time, find no Difficulty in proceeding on other Business.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Answer to
sage.

Resolved, In Answer to the Message of the Lords, appointing Munday next for the Tryal of the Earl of Orford, That the Lords have been acquainted, That the Commons would proceed, in the First Place, against the Lord Sommers: And they are ready to go to that Lord's Tryal as soon as ever the Commons have received Satisfaction for the Affront offered to the House of Commons, by the Lord Haversham, at the free Conference; and that the necessary Preliminaries are adjusted by a Committee of both Houses.

Ordered, That the Lord Mordant do carry the said Answer to the Lords.

New Sarum Writ.

Ordered, That Mr. Speaker do issue his Warrant to the Clerk of the Crown, to make out a new Writ, for the Electing a Citizen to serve in this present Parliament for the City of New Sarum, in the room of Sir Thomas Mompesson Knight, deceased.

Answer carried to Lords.

The Lord Mordant reported to the House, That he had, according to Order, carried their Answer to the Lords.

Proceedings of Lords on
ments.

Mr. Bruges reported, from the Committee appointed to inspect the Lords Journals, with relation to the Proceedings against the impeached Lords; and report the same to the House; That they had inspected the same accordingly; and had directed him to report what they find therein; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

The House being moved to go into Westminster-hall, in order to the Tryal of the Lord Sommers;

After Debate;

The Question was put, Whether the House shall go this Day into Westminster-hall, in order to proceed upon the Tryal of the Lord Sommers, according to the Order of the Day:

It was resolved in the Affirmative.

Dissentient

The Reasons, by an Order of the next Day, are here expunged.

A Message was sent to the House of Commons, by Mr. Baron Tracy and Mr. Baron Berry, to acquaint them, That the Lords intend presently to proceed to the Tryal of John Lord Sommers, in Westminster-hall.

Then the Question was proposed, Whether the Earl of Orford and Lord Hallifax may withdraw at the Tryal of the Lord Sommers.

Then this previous Question was put; Whether this Question shall be now put:

It was resolved in the Affirmative.

Then the main Question was put, Whether the Earl of Orford and Lord Hallifax shall have leave to withdraw at the Tryal of the Lord Sommers.

It was resolved in the Affirmative.

Then the Lord Keeper desired, That some further Directions be given to him, in order to the Tryal in the Hall; and proposed, That this Proclamation be made in the Hall; viz.

WHEREAS a Charge of high Crimes and Misdemeanors has been exhibited by the House of Commons, in the Name of themselves, and all the Commons of England, against John Lord Sommers; all Persons concerned are to take Notice, That he now stands upon his Tryal; and they may now come forth, in order to make good the said Charge.

After Debate;

The Question was put, Whether this Proclamation should be made:

It was resolved in the Affirmative.

Ordered, That the said Proclamation be made in the Hall, before the reading the Articles of Impeachment, and the Lord Sommers' Answer; and also after they are read.

Ordered, That the Court in Westminster-hall be cleared for the Lords.

The Earl of Anglesey being sick, his Absence was excused.

Then the House adjourned into Westminster-hall; and the Lords were called by the Herald; and went as ordered:

And, being seated in the Hall;

The House was resumed.

Then Proclamation was made for Silence, as follows: Our Sovereign Lord the King, &c.

Then the Lord Keeper asked Leave for the Judges to be covered:

Which was agreed to.

Then the Proclamation, as above ordered, was made.

After which the Articles against John Lord Sommers were read; and also his Lordship's Answer to them.

After which the same Proclamation was again made.

Then the Lord Keeper declared the House was ready to hear the Evidence against John Lord Sommers: And therefore desired the Lords to give Attention.

The Lord Sommers moved to have his Counsel heard.

Whereupon,

The House adjourned to the House Above.

The House was resumed.

The House being moved to acquit the Lord Sommers;

And, after long Debate, and hearing the Judges to several Questions asked them by the Lords;

This Question was proposed;

That John Lord Sommers be acquitted of the Articles of Impeachment, against him exhibited by the House of Commons; and all Things therein contained: And that the said Impeachment be dismissed.

Then the Question was put; Whether the Question, now stated, shall be put in the Court below:

It was resolved in the Affirmative.

Dissentient

Here the Reasons are again expunged.

Denbigh, Tho. Roffen, Lindsey, Feversham, Carnarvon, Lexington, Hunsdon, Thannet, Rochester, Jonat. Exon, H. London, Peterborough, Plymouth, Somerset, Howard, Abingdon, Jersey, Derby, La Warr, Jeffreys, Guildford, Scarsdale, Dartmouth, Oxford, Marlborough, Warrington, Normanby, Jermyn, Weymouth, Nottingham, Godolphin.

Then it was agreed, and ordered, That, in Westminster-hall, the Lord Keeper shall read the Question; and then call the junior Baron present first; and ask every Lord, Whether Content, or Not content: And that every Lord stand up, when called to, and give his Vote, Content, or Not content: And that the Lord Keeper, having taken their Votes, declare the Majority: And, if the Majority be for acquitting the Lord Sommers, the Lord Keeper is to declare it so; and after, particularly, to the Lord Sommers.

Ordered, That Candles be prepared for the House.

Then the House adjourned again to Westminster-hall:

And, being there, the House was resumed; and Proclamation made for Silence.

The Lord Keeper put the Question, as follows;

That John Lord Sommers be acquitted of the Articles of Impeachment, against him exhibited by the House of Commons, and all Things therein contained: And that the said Impeachment be dismissed.

Then the Lord Keeper asked every Lord, Whether Content, or Not content.

The Lord Keeper declared the Majority was for Acquitting: And then declared, That John Lord Sommers was acquitted of the Articles of Impeachment, against him exhibited by the House of Commons, and all Things therein contained: And the said Impeachment was dismissed: And then declared to the Lord Sommers, That he was acquitted.

Then the House adjourned to the House above:

And being come thither, the House was resumed; and the following Orders made:

It is considered, ordered, and adjudged, by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled, That John Lord Sommers shall be, and he is hereby, acquitted of the Articles of Impeachment, against him exhibited by the House of Commons, and all Things therein contained: And that the said Impeachment shall be, and is hereby, dismissed.

It is ordered by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled, That the Proceedings in the House, upon the Impeachments, be printed: And that the Lords Committees, appointed to consider of the Manner of Proceedings in Impeachments, do meet To-morrow at Ten of the Clock, and inspect the Journals, and draw up the Matter relating thereunto, in order to be printed; and report to the House.

Ordered, That the Serjeant do go, with the Mace, into Westminster-hall, and Courts there, and Court of Requests, and Places adjacent, and summon the Members there to attend the Service of the House immediately.

And he went accordingly.

And, being returned;

Resolved, That the Lords have refused Justice to the Commons, upon the Impeachment against the Lord Sommers; by denying them a Committee of both Houses, which was desired of the Commons, as the proper and only Method of settling the necessary Preliminaries, in order to the proceeding to the Tryal of the said Lord Sommers, with Effect; and, afterwards, by proceeding to a pretended Tryal of the said Lord; which could tend only to protect him from Justice, by colour of an illegal Acquittal: Against which Proceedings of the Lords the Commons do solemnly protest, as being repugnant to the Rules of Justice; and therefore null and void.

Resolved, That the House of Lords, by the pretended Tryal of John Lord Sommers, have endeavoured to overturn the Right of Impeachments, lodged in the House of Commons by the ancient Constitution of this Kingdom, for the Safety and Protection of the Commons, against the Power of great Men; and have made an Invasion upon the Liberties of the Subject, by laying a Foundation of Impunity for the greatest Offenders.

Motion touching the ill Consequences attending the Delay of the Supplies.

A Motion being made, and the Question being put, That all the ill Consequences which may, at this time, attend the Delay of the Supplies, given by the Commons for the preserving the publick Peace, and maintaining the Balance of Europe, by supporting our Allies against the Power of France, are to be imputed to those, who, to procure an Indemnity for their own enormous Crimes, have used their utmost Endeavours to make a Breach between the Two Houses;

The House divided.

The Yeas go forth.

Tellers for the } Colonel Granville, }
Yeas, } Mr. St. John: } 145.

Tellers for the } Lord Marquis of Hartington, }

So it was resolved in the Affirmative.

VOL. 13.

Ordered, That the said Committee do consider of the Proceedings between the Two Houses, relating to the impeached Lords; and state, to this House, the Matter of Fact, in order to the Justification of this House, in their Proceedings.

In Answer to the Message of the House of Commons of this Day;

The Lords do acquaint the Commons, That they might have known, by the Records of the House of Lords, That the Lords have proceeded to the Tryal of the Lord Sommers on Tuesday last, being the Day appointed; and the Commons not appearing to maintain their Articles against the said Lord, the Lords have, by Judgment of their House, acquitted him of the Articles of Impeachment, against him exhibited by the House of Commons, and all Things therein contained; and have dismissed the said Impeachment: And, Lords Answer that Lord Sommers was acquitted for Default of Prosecution.

The Lords have appointed Monday next for the Tryal of the Earl of Orford; on which Day they will proceed on the said Tryal. Time appointed for Earl Orford's Trial.

The Commons still pressing for a Committee of both Houses, which the Lords never can consent to, for the Reasons already given, their Lordships can infer nothing from their persisting in that Demand, than that they never designed to bring any of their Impeachments to a Tryal.

As to the Lord Haversham, his Answer is now before the House of Commons: And the Lords resolve to do Justice in that Matter.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Ordered, That no Member of this House do presume to appear, on Monday next, at the pretended Tryal of the Earl of Orford, upon pain of incurring the utmost Displeasure of this House. Members forbid to appear thereat.

And then the House adjourned till Tuesday Morning, Nine a Clock.

5 Pr. 39. L. after "Trusts," add "except the Trust for the said Frances his Wife, during her Life."

42 L. before "Saving," add the Clause marked A.

6 P. 7 L. after "Bigg," add "and Frances his Wife."

8. After "his," add "and her."

Bigg's Estate.

In the Title, after "Hertford," add "and Bedford." Clause A: "That, in case Richard Bigg shall neglect to pay the Interest of Fifteen hundred Pounds, to be borrowed, and the Mortgagee shall neglect to receive the Interest-money out of the Profits of the mortgaged Premises, for the Space of Six Months; that, then the Trustees shall satisfy such Interest out of the Profits of the Estate, together with their Charges: And that, in case the said Richard Bigg shall have a Son, the Trustees shall take out of the Premises, after the Interest paid, the yearly Sum of Twelve Pounds, towards the Maintenance of such Son, till he shall attain his Age of Fourteen Years, if Matthew Lister, and his Wife, or either of them, shall so long live; and, afterwards, to receive, out of the Premises, the annual Sum of Thirty Pounds, for the Maintenance of the said Son, until the Decease of the said Matthew Lister, and his Wife, or until the Decease of the said Richard Bigg and his Wife."

Ordered, That Sir John Kay do carry the Bill to the Lords, and acquaint them, That this House hath agreed to the said Amendments.

Petition of Clerk Assistant for Re-muneration.

A Petition of the Clerk Assistant, and under Clerks, of the House, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That they, having been bred up in the Practice of the Law, have, with all Faithfulness, performed their Duties in the Service of the House, ever since his Majesty's happy Accession to the Crown: That the Petitioner, the Clerk Assistant, hath been obliged to lay by most of his other Business; and the said Four Clerks have totally, for many Years, quitted their Employments, to apply themselves to their Attendance upon the House: That they have no other Consideration for publick Business than what his Majesty shall be pleased to bestow upon them; and the Profits, arising by private Business, is so small, that this present Session hath not afforded the said Four Under Clerks Thirty Pounds apiece: That the House was pleased the last Session, to recommend them to his Majesty, for competent Salaries, answerable to their Trusts and Services, to be settled upon them: That his Majesty, upon receiving such Recommendation, was graciously pleased to resolve to do something for the Petitioners, the Under Clerks; but they, not having, as yet, received the Effect of such his Majesty's Royal Intention, pray the further Consideration of the House of the Premises.

Resolved, That an humble Address be presented to his Majesty, That he will be graciously pleased to take into Consideration the Services of the said Clerks, and other Servants of the House; and make them an Allowance for the same.

Ordered, That such of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, as are of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, do present the said Address to his Majesty.

A Paper to be produced by Clerk when required.

Ordered, That the Letter and Receipt, relating to Mr. Edward Allen, which lies in the Custody of the Clerk of this House, be by him produced, as Occasion shall require.

The Rider marked (B): "And whereas there hath been great Sums of Money paid to Mr. Edward Whitacre, Solicitor for the Affairs of the Admiralty and Navy, during his being in the same Employment: whereby his Majesty hath suffered great Abuses and Deceits, in the exorbitant Expence of his Majesty's Treasure: Be it enacted, by the Authority aforesaid, That the said Seven Commissioners, or any Four of them, shall have full Power, and are hereby required, particularly to examine into the Accounts, by which the said Mr. Whitaker procured and received the said Sums of Money; and, at the Opening of the next Session of Parliament, to lay before the House of Commons their Report; representing such Matters as shall appear to the said Commissioners, upon Examination of the Accounts of the said Mr. Whitaker, in relation to the Nature of the Services, Vouchers, and Method of passing the same: with their Opinion, how much thereof they think extravagant and unreasonable."

And then the House adjourned for Half an Hour.

The House being met;

A Message from the Lords, by Sir Robert Legard and Sir Richard Holford:

Mr. Speaker,

Supply Bill; appropriating Excise, &c.

The Lords have agreed to a Bill, intituled, An Act for appropriating Three thousand Seven hundred Pounds weekly, out of certain Branches of Excise, for publick Uses; and for making a Provision for the Service of his Majesty's Household and Family, and other his necessary Occasions; without any Amendments: And also, Supply Bill; Land Tax.

To a Bill, intituled, An Act for granting an Aid to his Majesty for defraying the Expences of his Navy, Guards, and Garisons, for one Year; and other necessary Occasions; without any Amendments.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Proceedings relating to the Impeachments, to be printed.

Ordered, That all the Proceedings, with relation to the Impeachments, and what happened between the House of Lords and House of Commons, be examined by the Journals, and printed.

Commissioners of Publick Accounts—Reasons for disagreeing to Lords Amendments.

Sir Thomas Meers reported from the Committee appointed to draw up Reasons to be offered to the Lords at a Conference for disagreeing to the Amendments, made by the Lords to the Bill, intituled, An Act for appointing Commissioners to take, state, and examine, the several and respective Accounts therein mentioned, That they had drawn up the Reasons accordingly; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were twice read, and agreed unto by the House; and are as follow; viz.

The Commons do disagree to the First Amendment, made by the Lords:

Because it is notorious, That many Millions of Money have been given to his Majesty, by the Commons, for the Service of the Publick, which remain yet unaccounted for, to the great Dissatisfaction of the good People of England, who chearfully contributed to those Supplies; and their Lordships First Amendment prevents any Account being taken of those Monies by the Commissioners appointed by the Commons for that Purpose.

The Commons do disagree to the said Amendment, made by the Lords:

Because John Parkhurst and John Paschall Esquires have, for several Years, been Commissioners of the Prizes taken during the late War, and are accountable for great Sums of Money arising thereby, which ought to be applied to the Use of the Publick: That the said John Parkhurst and John Paschall were frequently pressed to account for the same by the late Commissioners, appointed by Act of Parliament; but by many Artifices and Evasions, delayed and avoided giving any such Account as was required by the said Commissioners: That the Clause, to which their Lordships have disagreed, by their Second Amendment, requires them to account before the First of September next; but by their Lordships Amendment, the said John Parkhurst and John Paschall are exempted from giving any such Account; which is highly unreasonable.

The Commons do disagree to the Third Amendment, made by the Lords:

The Commons cannot agree to the Clause sent down by the Lords, marked with a X; because their Lordships have therein directed the Commissioners to allow and certify a pretended Debt to Colonel Baldwin Leighton; whereas the Disposition, as well as granting Money by Act of Parliament, hath ever been in the House of Commons: And this Amendment, relating to the Disposal of Money, does intrench upon that Right.

The Commons do disagree to the Fourth Amendment, made by the Lords:

Because it is notorious, that Edward Whitacre, mentioned in the Rider left out by their Lordships, hath, by colour of his Employment, as Solicitor to the Admiralty, received the Sum of Five-and-twenty thousand Pounds, and upwards, of publick Monies, without producing any just or reasonable Vouchers for the Expence thereof; and therefore ought to be accountable for the same:

And that, by reason of their Lordships disagreeing to the several Parts of this Bill, the Supplies provided by the Commons for paying the Arrears due to the Army, must, of Necessity, be ineffectual till another Session of Parliament.

Ordered, That the said Reasons be inserted in the Votes of this Day.

Reasons to be inserted in Votes.

Mr. Speaker reported, That his Majesty was pleased, upon Wednesday last, to make a most gracious Speech to both Houses: Which consisting of many Particulars, and being of great Weight, he had desired, and obtained, a Copy thereof, to prevent any Mistake in reporting the same: And he read the same to the House; which is as follows; viz.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I PROMISE Myself you are met together full of that just Sense of the common Danger of Europe, and that Respectment of the late Proceedings of the French King, which has been so fully and universally expressed in the loyal and seasonable Addresses of My People.

The owning and setting up the pretended Prince of Wales for King of England is not only the highest Indignity offered to Me, and the Nation, but does so nearly concern every Man, who has a Regard for the Protestant Religion, or the present and future Quiet and Happiness of his Country, that I need not press you to lay it seriously to Heart, and to consider, what further effectual Means may be used for securing the Succession of the Crown

Crown in the Protestant Line, and extinguishing the Hopes of all Pretenders, and their open or secret Abettors.

By the French King's placing his Grandson on the Throne of Spain, he is in a Condition to oppress the rest of Europe, unless speedy and effectual Measures be taken: Under this Pretence, he is become the real Master of the whole Spanish Monarchy; he has made it to be entirely depending on France, and disposes of it as of his own Dominions: and by that means, he has surrounded his Neighbours in such a manner, that though the Name of Peace may be said to continue, yet they are put to the Expence and Inconveniencies of a War.

This must affect England in the nearest and most sensible Manner in respect to our Trade, which will soon become precarious in all the valuable Branches of it; in respect to our Peace and Safety at home, which we cannot hope should long continue; and in respect to that Part which England ought to take in the Preservation of the Liberty of Europe.

In order to obviate the general Calamity with which the rest of Christendom is threatened by this exorbitant Power of France, I have concluded several Alliances, according to the Encouragement given Me by both Houses of Parliament; which, I will direct, shall be laid before you; and which, I doubt not, you will enable me to make good.

There are some other Treaties still depending, that shall be likewise communicated to you as soon as they are perfected.

It is fit I should tell you, the Eyes of all Europe are upon this Parliament; all Matters are at a stand till your Resolutions are known; and therefore no Time ought to be lost.

You have yet an Opportunity, by God's Blessing, to secure to you, and your Posterity, the quiet Enjoyment of your Religion and Liberties, if you are not wanting to yourselves, but will exert the antient Vigour of the English Nation: But I tell you plainly, My Opinion is, If you do not lay hold on this Occasion, you have no Reason to hope for another.

In order to do your Part, it will be necessary to have a great Strength at Sea, and to provide for the Security of our Ships in Harbour, and also, that there be such a Force at Land, as is expected in proportion to the Forces of our Allies.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I do recommend these Matters to you with that Concern and Earnestness which their Importance requires: At the same time I cannot but press you to take care of the publick Credit; which cannot be preserved but by keeping sacred that Maxim, That they shall never be Losers, who trust to a Parliamentary Security.

It is always with Regret, when I do ask Aids of My People; but you will observe, That I desire nothing which relates to any personal Expence of mine: I am only pressing you to do all you can for your own Safety and Honour, at so critical and dangerous a Time; and am willing, that what is given should be wholly appropriated to the Purposes for which it is intended.

And, since I am speaking on this Head, I think it proper to put you in mind, That, during the late War, I ordered the Accounts to be laid yearly before the Parliament; and also gave my Assent to several Bills for taking the publick Accounts, that My Subjects may have Satisfaction, how the Money given for the War was applied: And I am willing that Matter may be put in any further Way of Examination, that it may appear, whether there were any Misapplications and Mismanagements; or whether the Debt, that remains upon us, has really arisen from the Shortness of the Supplies, or the Deficiency of the Funds.

I have already told you, how necessary Dispatch will be, for carrying on that great publick Business, whereon our Safety, and all that is valuable to us, depends: I hope, what Time can be spared will be employed about those other very desirable Things which I have so often recommended from the Throne; I mean, the forming some good Bills for employing the Poor, for encouraging Trade, and the further Suppressing of Vice.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I hope you are come together determined to avoid all manner of Disputes and Differences; and resolved to act with a general and hearty Concurrence for promoting the common Cause, which alone can make this a happy Session.

I should think it as great a Blessing as could befall England, if I could observe you as much inclined to lay aside those unhappy fatal Animositities which divide and weaken you, as I am disposed to make all My Subjects safe and easy as to any even the highest Offences committed against Me.

Let Me conjure you to disappoint the only Hopes of our Enemies, by your Unanimity: I have shewn, and always will shew, how desirous I am to be the common Father of all My People: Do you, in like manner, lay aside Parties and Divisions: Let there be no other Distinction heard of among us, for the future, but of those who are for the Protestant Religion, and the present Establishment; and of those who mean a Popish Prince, and a French Government.

I will only add this: If you do in good earnest desire to see England hold the Balance of Europe, and to be indeed at the Head of the Protestant Interest, it will appear by your right improving the present Opportunity.

Resolved, Nemine contradicente, That the humble Thanks of this House be returned to his Majesty, for his most gracious Speech from the Throne; and to assure his Majesty, That this House will support and defend his Majesty's lawful and rightful Title to the Crown of these Realms, against the pretended Prince of Wales, and all his open and secret Abettors and Adherents, and all other his Majesty's Enemies whatsoever: And will enable his Majesty to shew his just Resentment of the Affront and Indignity offered by the French King, in taking upon him to declare the pretended Prince of Wales King of England, Scotland, and Ireland: And, further, will maintain and support the Succession to the Imperial Crown of this Realm, and the Dominions and Territories thereunto belonging, in the Protestant Line, according to the several Acts of Parliament, made for the Settlement thereof, since his Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne.

Address on the King's Speech.

PRAYERS.

A PETITION of divers Inhabitants of the Borough of Hertford, in behalf of themselves, and several other Inhabitants of the said Borough, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the said Borough hath, Time out of Mind, sent Burgesses to Parliament, by Right of Prescription, long before any Charter was granted; and that, by all their Charters, the Mayor and Aldermen are only impowered to make as many, as they shall think fitting, of the Inhabitants of the said Borough or Parishes thereof, Burgesses or Freemen, and not above Three, in Being at a time, of the Inhabitants of the Parishes: Yet the Mayor and Aldermen, a little before the Parliament, holden 1° Jac. 2di, did arbitrarily make great Numbers of Persons, who were neither Inhabitants of the said Borough, or Parishes, Freemen, or free Burgesses; who being admitted to poll at that Election, and for the Parliament held 1° Willielmi & Mariæ, several of the now Petitioners petitioned the then House of Commons; complaining of the said Practices: Upon which, the then Mayor and Aldermen promising to forbear the like Practices for the future, if the Petitioners would . . . prosecute the said Petition, they desisted: But the late Mayor, and Majority of Aldermen, have made more such Freemen; and the now Mayor, at the last Election of Members for this present Parliament, did admit as many of such pretended Burgesses to poll, as offered themselves; by means whereof, though a greater Number of rightful Electors voted for William Munson Esquire, yet the Mayor hath unduly returned Richard Gulston Esquire: And praying Relief in the Premises.

Hales* and Mr. Gery; and divers Mistakes were made in taking the Poll, which was occasioned by the Violence and unlawful Practices of Sir Chr. Hales and Mr. Gery's Party: Notwithstanding which, Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Neale were duly chosen, and ought to have been returned; but the Sheriffs of the said City have made a double Return of Mr. Neal and Sir Chr. Hales, with Mr. Hopkins: And praying, That a short Day may be appointed for hearing the Matters aforesaid;

Hales* and Thomas Gery Esquire, and their Party; who used many violent and illegal Practices; yet Mr. Abraham Owen and Mr. John Collins, the Sheriffs of the said City, have made a double Return of the Petitioner and Sir Chr. Hales, with Mr. Hopkins, in Wrong to the Petitioner: And praying, That the House will appoint a speedy Day for hearing the Petitioner's Case.

The Translation of the Treaty between the King, the King of Denmark, and the States General; and the Translation of the secret Articles of the Treaty with Denmark; were read; and are as follow; viz. Treaty between Denmark and Holland.

The Translation of the Treaty between the King, the King of Denmark, and the States General, 15 June 1701.

BE it known unto All whom it may concern, That, since the Affairs of Europe are changed by the Death of the Catholick King, his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and their High Mightinesses the States General of the United Provinces of the Low Countries, on one Side, and his Majesty the King of Denmark, on the other, have maturely considered, That it would be of great Advantage for the Security of their Kingdoms and Provinces, That their ancient Friendship and Confidence should be established anew, so that there may be a perfect Union of Interest and Conveniency, and a confident Communication between them, in relation to all the Affairs that may happen in Europe; and that they may faithfully and mutually assist one another; and that, to that Purpose, a defensive Alliance should be agreed upon: And his Majesty the King of Denmark being informed,

That Treaty between

and Holland.

That his Majesty, the King of Great Britain, and the States General, had sent Orders to their Ministers, at his Court, to enter into Conference with the Ministers his Majesty shall please to name, to frame such a defensive Alliance, has, in like manner, given Order to his Ministers; that is to say, to the Sieur Conrad Count of Raventloo, Lord of Frisenwalt, Loystrup, Calloe, and Clausholm, Knight, Privy Counsellor, and High Chancellor to the King of Denmark; the Sieur Siegfried, of Plessen, Lord of Parin and Hoickendorff, Knight, Privy Counsellor to his Majesty the King of Denmark; the Sieur Knudt Thott, Lord of Knudstrup and Gaunoe, Knight, Privy Counsellor, and one of the Commissioners of the Treasury to his Majesty the King of Denmark; the Sieur Christian de Lente, Lord of Sarshausen, Knight, Privy Counsellor, and First Secretary at War, to his Majesty the King of Denmark; and the Sieur Christian de Shested, First Secretary, and Counsellor of State, to his Majesty the King of Denmark; to enter into a Negotiation thereupon with Hugh Grey Esquire, Resident of his Majesty the King of Great Britain at the King of Denmark's Court; and the Sieur Robert Goes, Lord Bouckherstburg, their High and Mightinesses Resident at the King of Denmark's Court; who, after divers Conferences, and after the Communication and Exchange of their full Powers, have agreed upon the Articles following:

1st.

The defensive Alliance made between his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the Lords the States General of the United Provinces, on one Side, and his Majesty the King of Denmark, on the other Side; the Third of November One thousand Six hundred Ninety, and the Third of December One thousand Six hundred Ninety-six, shall remain in their full Force, and are confirmed and renewed in all their Points and Clauses, unless what shall be changed by this present Treaty.

His Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, promise to pay, without any Abatement, Default, or Delay, the Sums stipulated by the abovesaid Alliance of the Year One thousand Six hundred Ninety-six, in good Money of Holland, at Amsterdam; one Half thereof as soon as the Troops mentioned in the Tenth Article of this Treaty shall begin to march towards the Frontiers of the States General; and the other Half Six Months after; an exact Liquidation of which Sums shall be inserted at the End of this Treaty.

And whereas it is of great Importance for the Merchants, that the Sea should be free and safe, his Majesty the King of Denmark promises to his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and to the States General, That, for the Security of Commerce, in case a War happens, he will shut all the Ports and Harbours of his Dominions against Privateers, and Men of War, unless such Men of War come as Convoys to a Fleet of Merchant Ships; in which Case they shall have free Entrance into his Majesty's Ports and Havens, but not when they shall convoy particular and separate Vessels: And a Merchant Fleet shall not be reputed such, unless when it is composed of Forty Ships, or more; and it shall be sufficient, if it was of that Number when it passed the Height of the Port of Jutland: Nor is it necessary, that it should be so numerous when the Men of War shall come unto his Majesty's Ports; because the Merchant Ships, being arrived at the Height, steer towards the Sound, or disperse themselves into several Ports of Norway: For the rest, Relation is to be had to the Fourth secret Article of the Treaty of the Year One thousand Six hundred Ninety-six.

His Majesty the King of Denmark shall not longer oppose the Ninth Electorate; but he promises to conform himself to the Contents of the Third Article of the Treaty of 1696, and Seventh secret Article of the same Treaty.

5.

His Majesty the King of Denmark shall not engage himself, nor enter into any Treaty, whereby the Peace of the North may be disturbed; or whereby a Third Party may be formed, either in the North, or in Germany; nor shall foment such Disturbances, upon the Pretence of being thereto engaged by former Treaties; but, on the contrary, his Majesty shall endeavour to prevent the Making of any such Treaties, pursuant to the Fourth Article of the aforesaid Alliance.

His Majesty the King of Denmark does expressly stipulate Liberty of Commerce for his Subjects, in case a War happens, or Troubles arise; but, not being willing to suffer Strangers to commit Frauds, by making use of Danish Passports, it is agreed, That, immediately after the Signing of this Treaty, the Convention which was made in the Year One thousand Six hundred Ninety-one, between his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, on one Part; and his Majesty the King of Denmark, on the other: on the Subject of trading to France; shall be examined, to the end that the said Convention may be altered as far as shall be necessary for the better Preventing of Frauds; And, till such an Alteration shall be agreed, by common Consent, the said Convention shall be re-established in its first Force, and shall serve for a Law and Rule of the said Commerce.

His Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, promise to pay to his Majesty the King of Denmark a Subsidy of Three hundred thousand Crowns a Year, all the time the War, or the Troubles, shall continue; to be reckoned from the Signing of this present Treaty; and the Payment shall be made in good Bank Money at Hamburgh, One Quarter of the Sum stipulated, every Three Months: And in case a War does not happen, but that the present Dissentions should be composed by an Agreement, and yet that the Forces of his Majesty the King of Denmark should be actually on their March towards the Frontiers of the States General, his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, shall pay, in that Case, Three Months of the Subsidy agreed on, besides the Levy-money of the said Troops: And, if an Accommodation should be made after this Treaty is ratified, but before the actual March of the said Troops towards the States Frontiers, his Majesty the King of Denmark will be satisfied with a Year's Subsidy, and a Fourth-part of the sum agreed on for the Levies.

His Majesty the King of Great Britain does likewise promise, in particular, to pay to his Majesty the King of Denmark what is yet due to him by virtue of the Convention of One thousand Six hundred Eighty-nine, as well for the Transporting of Seven thousand Men into Ireland, as in relation to what remains still due and payable to the said Troops of their Pay, in case it shall appear, by an Account which shall be stated, that all has not been paid them: And the Discount of the one and of the other shall be made within a Year after the Ratification of this Treaty; and Payment shall thereupon be made, without any Delay, in the City of Hambourg.

And, to take away every Stumbling-block, his Majesty the King of Denmark is willing to wave all the Pretensions he might have upon the States General, on condition that the States oblige themselves to pay, for his Majesty, the Sums that the Province of Holland, and the Town of Amsterdam, claim from him; and to return to his Majesty the Obligations which his late Majesty King Frederick the Third, of glorious Memory, gave to the said Province, and the said City.

His Majesty the King of Denmark promises to order Three thousand Horse, a Thousand Dragoons, and Eight thousand Foot, of the Kingdom of Denmark, and Country of Holstein, to march to the Assistance of his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, immediately after this Treaty is signed; which Troops shall be mounted and armed as they ought to be, and provided with proper Officers and Generals: The said Troops

Troops shall take an Oath of Fidelity to his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, in the same manner as the Seven thousand Men of the Danish Troops did formerly to his Majesty of Great Britain, when they entered into his Service: The granting of vacant Offices, and the Administration of Justice, shall be upon the same Foot as was practised in relation to the said Seven thousand Men: His Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, shall pay, for the Levy of the said Troops, Eighty Crowns for every Horseman, Sixty Crowns for each Dragoon, and Thirty Crowns for each Foot Soldier; one Half of the said Money shall be paid as soon as the said Troops are actually marching towards the Frontiers of the States General, and the other Half when they are actually arrived at the said Frontiers: The Pay and Entertainment of the said Troops shall be upon the same Foot as the other Forces of the States General; that is to say, That of the Danish Guards, in case his Majesty shall think fit to send a Part of his Guards, as that of the States Generals Guards; and, of the other ordinary Danish Regiments, as that of the other ordinary Regiments of the States: The Payments shall be put into the Hands of the Danish Commissaries, to be by them distributed, without any Abatement or Diminution; and shall commence from the Day the said Troops shall begin their March towards the Frontiers of the States General: And if it shall be thought convenient to transport by Sea, towards the States Generals Countries, all the Troops that are to come from Denmark, or the Country of Holstein, or any Part of them, such Transport shall be made at the Charges of his Majesty of Great Britain, and the States General; and it shall be lawful, in case of Necessity, to make use of the Ships of his Majesty the King of Denmark, or those of his Subjects, to render the said Transport more easy and speedy: His Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, may retain the said Forces in their Service as long as they think fit; and, when they have a mind to send them home, they shall give notice thereof to his Majesty the King of Denmark Three Months beforehand: In the mean time, if any Rupture or War shall happen, the said Troops shall, notwithstanding that, continue in the Service of his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, as long as the War shall continue, unless his Majesty the King of Denmark shall be attacked in his Kingdoms and Territories, for having supplied them with the said Forces; in which Case his Majesty the King of Denmark reserves to himself the Right and Power of recalling them, as soon as he finds it necessary.

In case that, by Misfortune, One or more Regiments or Companies of the said Forces shall happen to be ruined, his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, promise to pay, without any Delay, to the Colonels or Captains of the Regiments . . . Companies, so ruined, the Levy-money necessary to restore them to the same Condition they were in before: And, at the End of the Campaign, the same Recruit Money shall be paid to the Danish Officers, as is paid to the other Officers of the States General; that so the said Forces may always be preserved in a good Condition to be sent back some time or other, as complete as they were received.

12.

In like manner the King of Great Britain, and the States General, promise, That, if his Majesty the King of Denmark shall be attacked or troubled in the Possession of his Kingdoms, Provinces, Lands, Prerogatives, Tolls, Navigation, Commerce, or other Rights, they will speedily send back to him the said Forces, giving them One Month's Pay, to bear the Charges of their Return home-wards; which Payment of a Month's Pay shall be made in like manner when, after the Peace, the said Forces shall be sent home: And, besides that, they shall send to his Majesty the King of Denmark the Succours, by Sea and Land, agreed on in the secret Articles of the Treaty of the Year 1690; which Succours they shall maintain during the War, at their own proper Charges; his Majesty the

VOL. 13.

King of Denmark not being obliged to supply the said Forces with any thing but Bread and Forage.

Treaty between Denmark and Holland.

And, to make this Alliance and Union so much the more perfect; and not to leave any Scruple in the Parties, concerning the Certainty of the Succours they are to expect from one another, in the manner before agreed on; it is expressly covenanted, That, to make a Judgment hereafter, whether this Alliance is to take place, or not, it shall be sufficient, that any of the Parties be actually assaulted by Force of Arms, without his having first used open Force against the Assailant: But this Article shall be applicable only to the Occasions that shall happen hereafter; for the present, Twelve Thousand Men shall march towards the Frontiers of the States General as soon as this Treaty shall be signed, as is mentioned in the Tenth Article.

This Alliance shall continue the Space of Ten Years, to be reckoned from the Day of the Signing of this Treaty; and the Alliances of One thousand Six hundred Ninety, and One thousand Six hundred Ninety-six, being renewed by this Treaty, shall remain in Force for the same Term of Years.

15.

The Emperor shall be invited to enter into this Alliance: And if the King of Prussia, the House of Lunenburg, and that of Hesse-Cassel, shall desire to be comprised in it, the principal Contractors are at Liberty to consent to it, after they have agreed among themselves of the Conditions upon which the said Potentates may be received into it.

16.

The Ratifications of this present Treaty shall be exchanged, at Copenhagen, in Six Weeks time, on the Side of his Majesty the King of Great Britain; and in Four Weeks, on the Part of the States General; to be reckoned from the Day of the Signing this Treaty.

In Testimony whereof, we have signed this Treaty, and set thereto the Seals of our Arms. Done at Copenhagen, the 15th of June, in the Year 1701.

H. Grey. (L. S.)

IN case the Succours which his Majesty the King of Denmark has promised, in the Tenth Article of the Treaty concluded this Day, to send to his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, should not be sufficient to put them out of Pain and Care, the said Potentates shall give notice thereof to his Majesty the King of Denmark, who promises to keep in Readiness Four thousand Men, to be sent to their Assistance within Three Months after Demand is made, upon the same Conditions which are agreed on in the said Tenth Article of the Treaty concluded this Day; which is referred to, as to what concerns the Levy, the Pay, Recruits, and Entertainment of the said Troops; and, as to the Manner in which they are to be sent home, that shall be observed that is agreed on in . . . Twelfth Article of this Treaty for the other Troops.

His Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, may act with these Four thousand Men, as also with the Twelve thousand Men mentioned in the Tenth Article of this Treaty, in such Place, and against such Enemies, as they shall think fit; and they shall be regularly paid.

If it should happen, that his Majesty the King of Denmark should be attacked by any Potentate on Occasion of this defensive Alliance, or otherwise, and that the ordinary Succours stipulated in the secret Articles of the Treaty of One thousand Six hundred Ninety should not be sufficient to procure him a good and advantageous Peace, his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, promise to assist him with all their Forces,

by

by Land, and by Sea; as his Majesty the King of Denmark will, in the like Case, assist his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, with all his Forces, by Sea and by Land.

His Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, do likewise promise to do, by their good Offices, all that is possible, to the end that his Majesty the King of Denmark may lose nothing of the Pretensions he has of Money from the Crown of Spain; to the Intent that, by the Treaty of Peace, the Catholick King should be obliged to discharge the said Pretensions within a Time limited: And, in case a War or Rupture does not happen, they shall endeavour to have the Payment conditioned in any Treaty that they shall make with France or Spain.

Moreover, his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, promise to employ their good Offices with Care and Diligence, to the end that the Emperor may pay to his Majesty the King of Denmark a Million of Crowns, which are owing to him by the Emperor, and the Empire; or else, that his Majesty may have Satisfaction for that Debt in some sufficient Manner, either by a Grant of a Toll upon the Elbe, or otherwise: And, when he shall have received the said Satisfaction, he promises to assist the Emperor, in case of Need, with Three thousand Foot Soldiers, on the Condition agreed on in the Sixth Article of the Treaty made between the principal Contractors in the Year One thousand Six hundred Ninety-six.

Furthermore, his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, promise to use their good Offices, with all possible Efficacy, to the end that the Duke of Holstein Gottorp may conform himself to the Treaty of Travendal, and observe the true and natural Sense of it; and that his Highness may maintain good Friendship and Confidence with his Majesty the King of Denmark; to take away all sort of Jealousy, while his Majesty sends so considerable a Number of his Troops out of his own Dominions.

The principal Contractors shall employ their good Offices, that the Peace in the Empire may entirely be preserved.

7.

His Majesty the King of Denmark having declared to his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, That he is in Treaty with the Emperor for some Troops that his Imperial Majesty has demanded of his Danish Majesty; and that his Danish Majesty has not Troops enough to give the Emperor the Number he requires, unless his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, will, by Way of Provision, leave to the Emperor Two thousand Men of the Twelve thousand mentioned in the Tenth Article of this Treaty; his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General, have declared, That they are content, that the Emperor should have the Two thousand Men of the Twelve thousand mentioned in the Tenth Article aforesaid: And his Majesty the King of Denmark promises to make good to his Britannick Majesty, and the States General, the said Two thousand Men in Six Months Time after the Signing of this Treaty.

Although it is said in the Third Article of this Treaty, That a Fleet of Merchant-men shall not be taken for such, unless it shall consist of Forty Merchant Ships, or upwards; the King of Denmark does declare, That, as the English cannot, in that manner, trade freely, and in Safety, in his Dominions, and in the Baltick Sea, his Majesty will permit their Ships of War, at all times, to enter into his Ports, when they come to convoy, inwards or outwards, such a Number of Merchant Ships as they shall think fit.

His Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the States General promise, That they will, before the Ratification of this Treaty, agree with his Majesty the King of Denmark about such Assurances, for the Security of the Payments, as his Majesty may be satisfied with.

In case Things should come to a War, his Majesty the King of Denmark shall not be obliged to enter into it; but shall be reputed to have made good this Alliance, in sending the Succours of Sixteen thousand Men mentioned in the Tenth Article, and First Secret Article; and, for the rest, putting in Execution the Contents of this Treaty.

Done at Copenhagen this 15th June 1701.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Treaty be referred to the said Committee of the whole House.

The Translation of the Treaty between the Emperor, his Majesty, and the States General, was read; and is as followeth; viz. Treaty with the Emperor.

WHEREAS Charles the Second, King of Spain, of most glorious Memory, being not long since dead without Issue, his Sacred Imperial Majesty has claimed the Succession in the Kingdoms and Provinces of the deceased King, as lawfully belonging to his August Family; but the most Christian King, aiming at the same Succession for his Grandson the Duke of Anjou, and pretending a Right did accrue to him by a certain Will of the deceased King, has usurped the Possession of the intire Inheritance, or Spanish Monarchy, for the aforesaid Duke of Anjou; and invaded, by his Arms, the Provinces of the Spanish Low Countries, and the Duchy of Milan; has a Fleet ready fitted in the Port of Cadiz; has sent several Ships of War to the Spanish West Indies; and by this, and many other Ways, the Kingdoms of France and Spain are so closely united and cemented, that they may seem henceforward not to be otherwise considered than as one and the same Kingdom; so that it sufficiently appears, unless timely Care be taken, that his Imperial Majesty will be destitute of all Hopes of ever receiving Satisfaction in his Pretension; the Sacred Roman Empire will lose its Rights in the Fiefs belonging to it in Italy, and the Spanish Netherlands; the free Intercourse of Navigation and Commerce, which the English and Dutch have into the Mediterranean, the Indies, and other Places, will be utterly destroyed; and the United Provinces will be deprived of the Security which they enjoyed by the Provinces of the Spanish Netherlands lying between them and the French, which is commonly called a Barrier; lastly, that the French and Spaniards, being thus united, will, in a short time, become so formidable to all, that they may easily assume to themselves the Dominion over all Europe; and therefore, by this Way of Proceeding of the most Christian King, his Imperial Majesty was brought under a Necessity of sending an Army into Italy, for the Preservation as well of his own private Interests, as the Fiefs of the Empire; the King of Great Britain has thought it requisite to send his Forces to the Assistance of the States General, whose Affairs are in the same Condition as if they were actually invaded; and the said States, whose Frontiers lie, in a manner, exposed on all Sides, by the Breaking, and Taking away, of the Fence, commonly called a Barrier, which screened them from the Neighbourhood of the French, are forced to do all those things for the Safety and Defence of their Commonwealth, which they should and could do, if they were in a War: And whereas so dubious a Posture of their Affairs is more dangerous than a War itself; and that France and Spain take Advantage of this State of their Affairs, to make a stronger and firmer Union between themselves for oppressing the Liberty of Europe, and taking away the Freedom of Commerce: These Reasons inducing his Sacred Imperial Majesty, his Sacred Royal Majesty of Great Britain, and the High and Mighty the Lords the States General of the United Provinces, to obviate so great Evils as might arise from thence; and desiring, as much as lies in their Power, to apply Remedies thereto; have thought a strict Conjunction and Alliance between themselves necessary for repelling repelling the Greatness of the common Danger : And, to this End, have given Orders and Instructions ; that is to say, His Sacred Imperial Majesty to the most Noble, most Illustrious, and most Excellent Lords, the Lord Peter Count of Goessen, Count of the Sacred Roman Empire, Lord of Carlsberg, of the Bedchamber to his Sacred Imperial Majesty, Counsellor of the Imperial Court, and Envoy Extraordinary to the High and Mighty Lords the States General of the United Provinces ; and the Lord John Wenceslau Count of Wratisslau, of Mitrowitz, Count of the Sacred Roman Empire, Lord of Ginetz and Mallexhitz, of the Bedchamber to his Sacred Royal Majesty of the Romans and Hungary, Counsellor and Assessor of the Privy Chancery of the Court of Bohemia, and his Sacred Imperial Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary to the most Serene King of Great Britain ; his Ambassadors Extraordinary, and Plenipotentiaries ; his Sacred Royal Majesty of Great Britain, the most Noble, most Illustrious, and most Excellent Lord, the Lord John Earl of Marlborough, Baron Churchill of Sandridge, of his Sacred Royal Majesty's Privy Council, General of the Foot, and Commander in Chief of his said Sacred Royal Majesty's Forces in the Low Countries, his Ambassador Extraordinary, Commissary, Procurator, and Plenipotentiary ; and the Lords the States General, the Lords Dideric Eck de Pantaleon, Lord of Gent and Ertekum ; Frederick Baron of Rhede, Lord of Lier, of the District of St. Antony and Ter-Lee, Commander of Bury and of Nobles, and of the Order of Knighthood of Holland and Westfriesland ; Antony Heinsius, Counsellor and Pensionary of the Lords the States of Holland and Westfriesland, Keeper of the Great Seal, and President of the Fiefs ; William of Nassau, Lord of Odijk Cortgene, &c. First Noble and representing the Order of the Nobility, in the Assembly of the Lords the States of Zealand, and of their Deputies ; Everhard de Weede, Lord of Weede, Dykvelt, Ratcles, &c. Lord of the Soil of the City of Oude-water, Dean of the Chapter of St. Mary's at Utrecht, Prime Counsellor and President of the Assembly of the Province of Utrecht, Prefect and Judge of the Banks of the River Leck ; William Van Haren, Steward of the County of Bilten in Friesland, Chancellor of the University of Franequer, Deputy of the Nobility in the Assembly of the Lords the States of Friesland ; Burchard Goost a Welvelde in Buckhorst and Molekate, Lord in Zallick and Vegate, Lord Lieutenant of the County of Isselmude ; and Wicker Wickers, Senator of the City of Groningen, Deputies respectively of the Lords of the States of Geldres, Holland and Westfriesland, Zeeland, Utrecht, Friesland, Overyssell, and Groningen and the Omlands, to the Assembly of the Lords of the States General of the United Provinces, who by virtue of the Powers to them given, have agreed to the following Articles of Alliance :

There shall be and continue between his Sacred Imperial Majesty, his Sacred Royal Majesty of Great Britain, and the Lords the States General of the United Provinces, a constant, perpetual, and inviolable Friendship and Correspondence ; and either Party shall be obliged to promote the Advantages of the other, and prevent all Inconveniencies and Damages that might happen to them, as far as lies in their Power.

His Sacred Imperial Majesty, his Sacred Royal Majesty of Great Britain, and the States General, desiring nothing more earnestly than the Peace and general Quiet of all Europe, have judged, that nothing can be more effectual for the Establishment thereof, than the procuring an equitable and reasonable Satisfaction to his Imperial Majesty, for his Pretension to the Spanish Succession ; and that the King of Great Britain, and the States General, may obtain a particular and sufficient Security for their Kingdoms, Provinces, and Dominions, and for the Navigation and Commerce of their Subjects.

The Confederates therefore shall, in the First Place, use their utmost Endeavours to obtain, by amicable Means, and a solid and firm Agreement, an equitable and reasonable Satisfaction for his Imperial Majesty, on account of the aforesaid Succession ; and the Security before-mentioned to his Royal Majesty of Great Britain, and the Lords the States General of the United Provinces ; and the Confederates shall, to that Purpose, employ Two Months time, with all Earnestness, and without Interruption, to be reckoned from the Day that the Instruments of Ratification shall be exchanged.

VOL. 13.

But if, contrary to their Expectations and Wislies, Matters cannot be transacted in the Manner aforesaid, within the Time limited, the Confederates do engage and promise to one another, That they will assist one another with all their Forces, according to a Specification to be agreed upon in a peculiar Convention to that Purpose ; that so they may attain the Satisfaction and Security before-mentioned.

The Confederates, in order to the procuring the Satisfaction and Security aforesaid, shall, amongst other Things, use their utmost Endeavours to recover the Provinces of the Spanish Low Countries, that they may be a Fence and Rampart, commonly called a Barrier, separating and distancing France from the United Provinces, for the Security of the States General, as they have served in all Times, until of late that the most Christian King has seized them by his Forces ; as likewise the Duchy of Milan, with its Dependencies, as a Fief of the Empire, and contributing to the Security of his Imperial Majesty's hereditary Countries ; besides the Kingdoms of Naples and Sicily, and the Lands and Islands upon the Coasts of Tuscany, in the Mediterranean, that belong to the Spanish Dominions, and may serve to the same Purpose, and will also be of Advantage to the Navigation and Commerce of the Subjects of the King of Great Britain, and of the United Provinces.

It shall be lawful for his Royal Majesty of Great Britain, and the Lords the States General, by common Advice, and for the Benefit and Enlargement of the Navigation and Commerce of their Subjects, to seize, by their Forces, what Lands and Cities they can, belonging to the Spanish Dominions, in the Indies ; and whatsoever they shall so take, shall be their own.

7.

In case the Confederates, Necessity requiring it, shall be forced to enter into a War, for obtaining the Satisfaction aforesaid for his Imperial Majesty, and the Security of his Majesty of Great Britain, and the States General, they shall faithfully communicate their Designs to one another, as well in relation to the Actions of the War, as all other Things where the common Cause is concerned.

It shall not be permitted to either Party, when the War is once begun, to treat of Peace with the Enemy, unless jointly, and with the common Advices of the other Parties ; and no Peace shall be made, unless an equitable and reasonable Satisfaction for his Imperial Majesty, and the particular Security of the Kingdoms, Provinces, Dominions, Navigation, and Commerce for his Majesty of Great Britain, and the States General, be first obtained ; and unless Care be taken, by fitting Security, that the Kingdoms of France and Spain shall never come, and be united under the same Government, nor that one and the same Person shall be King of both Kingdoms ; and, particularly, that the French shall never get into the Possession of the Spanish Indies ; neither shall they be permitted to sail thither, on the Account of Traffick, directly or indirectly, on any Pretence whatsoever ; and lastly, unless full Liberty be granted to the Subjects of the King of Great Britain, and the States General, to exercise and enjoy all the same Privileges, Rights, Immunities, and Franchises of Commerce, by Sea and Land, in Spain, the Mediterranean, and in all Lands and Places which the King of Spain, last deceased, did possess, at the time of his Death, as well in Europe as elsewhere, which they used and enjoyed, or which the Subjects of both or either of them, by any Right acquired by Treaties, Agreements, Customs,

8 F

Customs, or any other Way whatsoever, might have used and enjoyed before the Death of the late King of Spain.

At the same time that the said Agreement or Peace shall be made, the Confederates shall agree amongst themselves, about all the Things that they shall think necessary, for maintaining the Navigation and Commerce of the Subjects of his Majesty of Great Britain, and the States General, in the Lands and Dominions they may acquire, and that were possessed by the last deceased King of Spain; and also in what manner the States General may be secured by the aforesaid Fence or Barrier.

10.

And, because Controversies may arise, on account of Religion, in the Places which the Confederates, as it is hoped, may acquire by their Arms, they shall agree amongst themselves, concerning the Exercise of it, at the same Time, as is mentioned in the foregoing Article.

11.

The Confederates shall be obliged to assist and succour one another with all their Forces, against an Aggressor, if the most Christian King, or any one else, shall think fit to invade any one of the Confederates on the account of this Alliance.

12.

But if any Agreement can now be made, concerning the Satisfaction and Security so often mentioned; or if, after a War entered into by Necessity, Peace shall be again restored; there shall, after such an Agreement, or Peace concluded, be, and always continue, between the contracting Parties, a defensive Alliance for the Maintenance of the said Agreement or Peace.

13.

All Kings, Princes, and States, that please, and who have a Concern for the general Peace, shall be admitted into the Society of this Alliance: But, because it is the peculiar Interest of the Sacred Roman Empire, that the publick Quiet should be preserved; and the Recovery of the Fiefs of the Empire being, among other Things, the Subject now in hand; the said Empire shall, in a special manner, be invited into the Society of this Alliance: It shall, moreover, be lawful for the Confederates jointly, or any of them separately, to desire whomsoever they shall think fit, to be an Accessary to this Alliance.

14.

This Treaty shall be ratified, by all the Confederates, within the Space of Six Weeks; or sooner, if it may be done.

In Witness whereof, we, the above-named Plenipotentiaries, have firmed this present Treaty with our Hands and Seals, at the Hague, the 7th Day of September 1701.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Treaty be referred to the said Committee of the whole House.

The Translation of a Convention between the King, the King of Sweden, and the States General, <sup>26 September</sup> <sub>6 October</sub> 1701, was read; and is as followeth; viz.

Convention with Sweden.

HIS Sacred Royal Majesty of Sweden being at this time actually engaged in a War; and the Affairs of his Royal Sacred Majesty of Great Britain, and the Lords the States General of the United Provinces, being in such Circumstances that they hourly expect a War, and are forced to be at the same Charges, and bear the same Burdens, as if they were engaged in a War; have thought it advisable to agree to the following Articles:

1st,

The Treaties which have been formerly concluded between their Royal Majesties aforesaid, and the States General, shall be faithfully executed, and are hereby confirmed.

To this Purpose his Royal Majesty of Great Britain, and the States General, shall, without Delay, pay to his Royal Majesty of Sweden Two hundred thousand Imperial Dollars; to be accounted as Part of the Succours he may demand of them by virtue of the Treaties between them.

The States General will be responsible for the Sum of Three hundred thousand Crowns, which the King of Sweden shall borrow upon good and sufficient Security, according to an Obligation which shall be further settled.

4.

The above-mentioned Kings, and the States General, shall forthwith name and appoint Commissaries, who shall agree in what manner the Confederates may assist one another, in case the War, which the King of Sweden is engaged in, should continue; and in case the King of Great Britain, and the States General, should be involved in a War; and in what manner they may most strongly unite themselves, as the present Circumstances of Time and Affairs shall require.

5.

In the mean time the Confederates shall not treat and conclude any Thing with any one whatsoever, that may be contrary to the Treaties made between them formerly, or that may be prejudicial to any of the Allies.

6.

This Convention shall be ratified by every one of the Confederates; and the Ratifications shall be exchanged here at the Hague within the Space of Six Weeks; or sooner, if it may be.

In Witness whereof the underwritten Ambassadors, and Plenipotentiaries and Deputies, have signed this Convention. Done at the Hague the <sup>26 September</sup> <sub>7 October</sub> 1701.

The Translation of the Treaty between the King and the States General, 11th November 1701, was read; and is as followeth; viz. Treaty with Holland.

THE King of Great Britain, and the Lords the States General of the United Provinces of the Low Countries, having made a mature and serious Reflection upon the great Alteration happened in Europe by the deplorable Death of the late King of Spain, of glorious Memory, have considered, That thereby the most Christian King, having made himself Master of the whole Succession of Spain, in favour of his Grandson the Duke of Anjou, was, by that Means, grown so formidable, that, according to the unanimous Consent of all the World, Europe is in imminent Danger of losing its Liberty, and of suffering the Yoke of an universal Monarchy: And as the said Potentates desire nothing more than to prevent those great Mischiefs, by a Peace that may be secure, general, and of Continuance; and that they believe this cannot be done but by strict Alliances, and a more than ordinary Concurrence of other Princes and Potentates; they have, to that Purpose, thought fit to make a firm and solid Alliance with his Imperial Majesty, and to invite other Princes and States to come into it: But being persuaded that all imaginable Endeavours will not fail to be used to render the said Alliance ineffectual, either before or after a Peace is made; and that, amongst many Methods, none would be more certain than to separate the said King of Great Britain from the said States General; or to put either of them out of a Condition to act, either by the Loss of their Commerce, or the Unsafeness of their Condition; to which the Combination of the Kingdoms of France and Spain, and the seizing upon the Spanish Low Countries, would infallibly contribute; they found themselves obliged to unite together as firmly as humanly as possible, and to agree upon the necessary Means of putting themselves in a Posture of having always an Eye to the the common Liberty of Europe, to the Preservation of their Commerce, and of their own particular Safety; and to take from their Neighbours all Hope of being able ever to separate them, or make them useless to the Publick: To which End the said King of Great Britain has given his full Powers to John Earl of Marlborough, Baron Churchill of Sandridge, of his Majesty's Privy Council, General of his Foot, Commander in Chief of his Forces in the Low Countries, and his Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary; and the said Lords the States General, to the Sieurs Christian Charles Baron de Lintelo, Lord of Ehse; Frederick Baron de Reede, Lord of Lier, St. Antony, and Terlee, of the Order of the Nobility of the Province of Holland and Westfriesland, Keeper of the Great Seal, and Superintendent of the Fiets of the said Province; William de Nassau, Lord of Odijck, Cortgene, &c. First Nobleman, and representing the Nobility, in the States and Council of Zeeland: Everhard de Weede, Lord of Weede, Dykevelt, Rateles, &c. Lord of the Manor of the City of Oudewater, Dean and Rector of the Imperial Chapter of St. Mary's at Utrecht, Dykgraaf of the River Rhine in the Province of Utrecht, and President of the States in the same Province; William Van Heren, Grietman of Bilt, Deputy from the Nobility in the States of Friesland, and Curator of the University of Franequer; Burchard Juste de Welvelde a Burchhorst and Molekate, Lord of Zallick and Vekate, Drossart of Isselmuden, and Wicker Wickers, Senator of the City of Groningen; respectively deputed to the Assembly of the said Lords the States General, by the Provinces of Guelderland, Holland and Westfriesland, Zeeland, Utrecht, Friesland, Overryssell, and Groningen and Omlande; Deputies and Plenipotentiaries of the said Lords the States General: Who have agreed in manner following;

In the First Place, the defensive and perpetual Alliance made between King Charles the Second, of glorious Memory, and the said States General, the Third of March One thousand Six hundred Seventy <sup>seven</sup>/<sub>eight</sub> shall be renewed and confirmed by this Alliance, in all its Forms, as if it were here inserted: and shall hereafter be inviolably executed on both Sides.

And whereas the said High Confederates have mutually promised, in the Third Article of the said Alliance, to warrant, each of them separately, all the Treaties that they had made, to that Time, with other Kings, Princes, and States, and which they might after that make; they shall warrant particularly the Treaties that the said Confederates have made with the most Christian King, at Ryswick, the Twentieth September One thousand Six hundred Ninety-seven, and which they shall make hereafter by Concert one with another.

3.

And to avoid all sorts of Disputes, where the Alliance takes place, Regard shall always be had more to the essential or material, than the formal Part, for the Preservation and Defence of any of the Parties.

And, consequently, it shall be reputed a Case within this Treaty, not only if any of the Allies shall be attacked; but also if any Neighbour of the Parties does make Preparations to attack or threaten any one of the Allies, either by extraordinary Levy of Troops, Fitting out of Ships of War, or otherwise in any manner whatsoever; provided any one of the said Allies be obliged, out of a just Fear, to put himself into Arms.

5.

And, since particular Care has been taken, in the said Alliance made with the Emperor, for recovering the said Spanish Low Countries out of the Hands of the most Christian King; and that, besides that the principal Interest of the Allies consists in the Preservation of the Liberty of Europe, as is above-mentioned, the Treaty made by the said Confederates with his Imperial Majesty, the Seventh of September last, shall be truly and faithfully executed: And both of them shall be Guarands of the same; and they shall use their Endeavours to confirm it, and to render it stronger, from Time to Time.

VOL. 13.

And whereas the Security of the said High Allies consists particularly in this, That the said Spanish Low Countries, and the nearest to their Estates, should not remain in the Hands of the most Christian King; or that he should be, directly or indirectly, Master of them, as at present he is; they likewise engage themselves, in a special Manner, to assist one another, with all their Forces, for the said Recovery: And, after they are recovered, it shall be always considered as a Case that falls within this Treaty, whenever the most Christian King shall endeavour, directly or indirectly, to lay his Hands upon them, or shall make Preparations to seize upon them, or shall send thither his Forces: And the same Thing shall be done, in case the said most Christian King should attempt to get into his Hands any Lands belonging to the said King of Great Britain, or the said States General; or that he should make Preparations to invade them, or to send thither his Forces.

7.

In case the said High Allies fall jointly into a War, either upon Occasion of the defensive Alliance, or by virtue of that which is above-mentioned in the Fifth Article, or for other Reasons and Motives; there shall be between them an Alliance offensive and defensive against those with whom they are in War; and they shall thereto employ all their Forces, as well by Sea as by Land; and shall act jointly or separately, according to the Agreement that they shall make among themselves.

8.

And, that all Things may be directed to the End proposed, the same High Confederates shall make a Specification of the Forces by Sea, and by Land, by a separate Agreement.

9.

When the War is begun, they are to act by Concert, according to the Seventh and Eighth Articles of the said Treaty of the Third of March in the Year One thousand Six hundred Seventy <sup>seven</sup>/<sub>eight</sub>; and no Negotiation shall be set on foot, nor any Peace, Truce, or Suspension of Arms to be made, but pursuant to the Ninth and Tenth Articles of the said Treaty.

10.

In making the Peace, particular Care shall be had of the Commerce and Traffick of the Two Nations; as likewise of their Safety, as well in relation to the Spanish Netherlands, as the neighbouring Countries.

11.

As to Sea Affairs, they shall govern themselves, in Case of a War, provisionally; and, until some other Disposition is agreed on, according to the Treaty made at Whitehall the Twenty-ninth of April One thousand Six hundred Eighty-nine, which shall be looked upon, to that Purpose, as renewed and inserted in this Alliance, as far as it shall be applicable to the present Constitution of Affairs, and particularly in relation to Prizes, the Proportion of Ships of War, the Council of War, and what depends thereupon.

12.

As to what concerns Ships retaken, the Treaty that was made between the said High Allies the Twenty-second October One thousand Six hundred Eighty-nine, shall be in force as if it were newly made.

13.

This Alliance shall be perpetual, as that of the Year One thousand Six hundred Seventy <sup>seven</sup>/<sub>eight</sub> above-mentioned is; and shall be looked upon as a Part of it, so far as it may be applied to future Occasions.

14.

The Ratifications of this Alliance shall be exchanged, on both Sides, in Three Weeks Time, to be reckoned from the Day of the Signing thereof.

In

In Witness whereof the said Ambassador of his said Majesty, and the Deputies of the said States General, have signed these Presents, and caused the Seals of their Arms to be set thereto. At the Hague, the 11th of November in the Year 1701.

In relation to the Quotas that are to be furnished by his Majesty, the Emperor, and the States General, for making good their Alliances; it was agreed,

PRAYERS.

Rygate

A PETITION of Edward Thurland Esquire, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioner was duly chosen, and ought to have been returned, a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament, with Sir John Parsons, for the Borough of Rygate, in the County of Surry; but, by Threats, Promises, and many undue Means, many Persons were prevailed upon to vote for Stephen Harrey Esquire, and many were permitted to poll for him, that had no Right; and the Bailiff of the said Borough hath returned Mr. Harrey, in Prejudice of the Petitioner: And praying Relief in the Premises.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Elections: And that they do examine the Matter thereof; and report the same, with their Opinion therein, to the House.

A Petition of the Gentlemen, and other the most substantial Inhabitants, of the Towns and Parishes of Milverton, Wellington, and Places adjacent, within the County of Somerset, as well in the behalf of themselves, and many Hundreds more of the like Capacity, and of the Serge-weavers and Worsted-weavers in those Parts, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Weaving of Serges, and Worsted Stuffs, is the principal Trade in those Parts, and employs most of their meaner sort of People, who formerly got a Livelihood thereby; but the great Discredit brought upon the said Trade, by young and poor People taking up the same, has rendered it a Grievance, they not having served their Apprenticeships thereto; and, by their Unskilfulness, their Masters are forced to put them out to Work; and then they, and their numerous Families, become chargeable to their several Parishes: And praying, That the House will take their said Grievances into Consideration, and relieve them therein.

WoolleH
tures.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee appointed to inspect the Laws relating to the Woollen Manufacture; and to consider of the best Methods for regulating and improving the same.

A Petition of the Mayor, Jurats, Freemen, and chief Inhabitants, of the ancient Town and Port of Rye, in the County of Sussex, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That Rye Harbour is the only Harbour for Ships that the English have upon the Coast of Kent and Sussex, from the Downs to Portsmouth; and it lies very convenient for Ships that sail from East to West, and over-against Diep, and other considerable Ports of France; and, for a small Charge, may be made so as to hinder French Ships and Privateers from infesting that Coast: That the Tide used to flow from the said Harbour, up the River Rother, Twenty-four Miles; whereby, and by the Reflux thereof, the Harbour was kept open, and the Town of Rye had a considerable Trade with its neighbouring Towns, by the said Navigation of the River Rother; but of late Years, several Persons have inned several Acres of Land which belonged to the said Harbour, and have built Flood-gates, and made Cross-walls, which hinder the Tide from flowing and re-flowing up the River Rother; whereby the Slubb is stopped in the Harbour, so that now there is not above Three Fathom at low Water, where there used to be Seven Fathom; and thereby the said Harbour grows worse every Year, so that in few Years a Ship of Burden will not be able to come in there, unless the said Flood-gates and Cross-walls be taken away: And praying, That some Course may be taken for restoring the said Harbour to its ancient Goodness, for the Benefit of the Nation, so that it may not be totally lost.

 And that the Sum of 37,788*l.* 1*s.* for Payment of 7 Quarters Interest, at a Farthing per Diem for each 10*l.* Ticket, due at Lady-day 1699; was supplied out of the Funds for the Year 1701.

The Sum borrowed on this Tax, which was payable in the Year 1698, at 7 per Cent. for the First 250,000*l.* and 8*l.* per Cent. for the Remainder, was - - - - -

Memorandum: 18,381*l.* 12*s.* 0*d.* for One Year's Interest of these Loans, was supplied out of the Funds of the Year 1701.

The Duties on Coffee and Tea were granted until the First May 1701, and those on Hawkers and Pedlars until the 24th June 1701, to pay the Interest for the Irish Transport Debt; the Principal only of which Debt being payable by the forfeited Estates in Ireland, there is no Provision for Payment of the growing Interest.

 It is provided, That the Principal and Interest of the said Exchequer Bills, and of the Tallies and Orders on the First iiis. Aid; and of the said Duties on Paper and Parchment; and of the Tickets called the Malt Tickets; and of the Tallies and Orders of the said 3d quarterly Poll; shall be taken as Sterling Money in the purchasing the said Estates: But it does not yet appear how far the said Debts and Deficiencies will be lessened thereby.

These were granted for 3 Years, which determined the 22 of April 1700, and were appropriated to pay off 564,700*l.* which had been lent on the Coal Duties Anno 1695, and the Interest thereof; of which principal Sum there has been repaid but 60,262*l.*: So there remains a Deficiency, besides Interest, due and to grow due, of - - - - - 504,438 0 0

Memorandum: It is Enacted, Page 430, That, if the Duties on Leather should fall short, the Deficiency should be made good out of the next Aid to be granted after the End of the said 3 Years.

Fowey
Election.

A PETITION of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, free Burgesses, and Inhabitant, paying Scot and Lot, in the Borough of Fowey, in the County of Cornwall, on behalf of themselves, and many others of the said Borough, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That there is a Mayor and a Portreeve of the said Borough, to whom the Precept for electing Members to serve in Parliament is directed, and who are the Judges of the Election: That the Precept came to the Hands of Jonathan Tingcomb, the then Portreeve; who gave Notice, That the last Election should be on Tuesday the Second of December last: And the Petitioners met; but the said Portreeve did not: And John Granvill Esquire, John Hicks Esquire, and also John Williams Esquire, Nephew to the Portreeve, stood Candidates: But Nathanael Tingcomb, the Portreeve's Brother, who had wrongfully got the Precept, took upon him the Execution thereof; endeavouring to hinder the Mayor from acting in his Office, and arbitrarily, contrary to the Determination of the last House of Commons, touching Elections, rejected divers legal Votes for Mr. Granvill and Mr. Hicks, and allowed many unqualified Persons to vote for Mr. Williams; and committed many other illegal Practices for him: Notwithstanding which Mr. Granvill and Mr. Hicks were duly elected, and the Petitioners executed an Indenture for returning them: But the said Nathanael refused to deliver the Precept to the Mayor, to annex it thereto; by reason whereof the High Sheriff would not accept the said Indenture from the Petitioners; and the said Jonathan Tingcomb hath falsely returned the said Mr. Williams, instead of Colonel Granvill, with Mr. Hicks; to the great Injury of the Petitioners: And praying Relief in the Premises.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Elections: And that they do examine the Matter thereof; and report the same, with their Opinion therein, to the House.

Arrears.

A Petition of Major General William Stuart was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That, in Consideration of Seven thousand Five hundred Pounds, due to the Petitioner for Arrears of Pay, and contingent Charges in Spain and Ireland, his Majesty did grant the Petitioner forfeited Lands in Ireland, of Eight hundred Pounds per Annum; who thereupon released his Majesty from the said Debt; but, by the late Act of Resumption, the same Lands are taken from the Petitioner; in whose Favour a Clause was inserted in the said Act, That when any Person had taken any Grant in lieu of any Sum of Money due from his Majesty, and had released the same, such Person should be intitled to such Debt, as if no Release had been given: In pursuance whereof, his Majesty, by Warrant, distinguishes the contingent Charges from the Arrears of Pay, and ordered the same to be paid; which amounts to Three thousand Nine hundred Sixty-two Pounds Seven Shillings and Four-pence: That the Petitioner produced the said Warrant to the late Commissioners of Accounts; but they said, They had no Power to allow any Warrants, or give Certificates for Money that did not appear to be due by the Establishment: That the last House of Commons did admit a Clause, in the Petitioner's Favour, into the then Bill for stating the Accounts of the Army, &c.: And praying, That the Commissioners of Accounts may have the necessary Powers to allow him a Certificate, that he may have Satisfaction for the Money due to him, as aforesaid.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of the whole House, to whom the Bill for reviving and continuing an Act, intituled, An Act for the appointing Commissioners to take, examine, and determine, the Debts due to the Army and Navy, and for Transport Service; and also an Account of the Prizes taken during the late War; is committed.

Ordered, That it be an Instruction to the said Committee, that they do consider of the Contracts for Transport Service; in the Year 1693.

A Petition of several Housholders and Inhabitants of and within the Borough of St. Albans, in the County of Hertford, in behalf of themselves, and other Freemen inhabiting within the said Borough, paying Scot and Lot, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That at the Election of Members to serve in this present Parliament, by the Permission of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Town Clerk, several Foreigners, who had no Right, were permitted to poll contrary to the Custom of the said Borough, whereby, and by other undue Means, a Majority of Votes was procured for John Gape junior, Esquire; but Joshua Lomar Esquire had a Majority of rightful Voters; yet Mr. Gape is returned, in Wrong to the Petitioners: And praying Relief in the Premises.

VOL. 13.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Elections: And that they do examine the Matter thereof; and report the same, with their Opinion therein, to the House.

A Petition of Daniel Whidby Esquire, Mayor of the Borough of Orford, in the County of Suffolk, and several of the Commonalty and Freemen of the said Borough, was presented to the House and read; setting forth, That a Precept issuing from the Sheriff, for electing Burgesses to serve in this present Parliament for the said Borough, one John Hook (pretending to be Mayor, though, upon a solemn Tryal at Bar, at Westminster-hall, he was found not to be legal Mayor) got the Precept and refused it to the Petitioner Whidby, who is the legal Mayor; and proceeded to an Election on the Second of December last; and hath returned Sir Edmund Bacon and Sir Edmund Turner Burgesses for the said Borough: That the Petitioner Whidby also, upon the same Day (having, before That, given due Notice of the Election) proceeded to the same; and the Petitioner and many others who had a Right to vote, by a great Majority, duly chose Charles Killigrew and Charles May Esquires; and made an Indenture and Return of them, under the Common Seal of the said Borough; and tendered the same to the Sheriff of the County, who refused to accept of it, and accepted of Hook's Return: by which partial and undue Proceeding the Rights and Privileges of the said Borough are violated: And praying the Relief of the House in the Premises.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Elections: And that they do examine the Matter thereof; and report the same, with their Opinion therein, to the House.

A Petition of several of the Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough of Malmesbury, in the County of Wilt, on behalf of themselves, and divers other the Burgesses and Inhabitants of the said Borough, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That, upon the Dissolution of the last Parliament, William Ady, an Attorney, and other his Accomplices, did corruptly treat and contract with several Persons, in order to their being elected Members for the said Borough, in the ensuing Parliament; and that Sir Cha. Hedges, and Edward Paunceford Esquire, did, by those, and other unlawful Practices, procure themselves to be elected Members for the said Borough: And praying, That the House will take the Matter into Examination.

stated Account, 21,855 l. which accrued in One thousand Six hundred Ninety, and One thousand Six hundred Ninety-one: That in One thousand Six hundred Ninety-five, the Parliament made Provision for paying 5 l. per centum Interest for the Irish Transport Debt, of which the Petitioners was Part, and they hoped to have had the Benefit thereof; but it is alleged, that the said Act only has respect to the English Transports; and the Petitioners cannot have Debentures for their said Debts, because the Act does not warrant the same, although Interest was to be paid for 330,769 l. which exceeds the whole Debt for the said Service, including the Petitioners, as the late Commissioners for Transports have certified: And praying, That, in the Bill for taking the Accounts of the Army, Navy, and Transport Service, now depending in this House, a Clause may be admitted, to enable the Commissioners to state and determine the Petitioners Accounts, in order to their effectual Relief.

The Receiver General, of the Customs his Account of the Payments into the Exchequer on the several Branches of the Customs, between Christmas 1700, and Christmas 1701:

The Comptroller General of the Customs his Account of the gross Produce in the Port of London, between Christmas 1700, and Christmas 1701:

An Account of all Goods imported from India, not rated in the Book of Rates:

An Account of Goods imported from other Places, besides India, not rated in the Book of Rates:

An Account of Goods exported from this Kingdom, not rated in the Book of Rates.

And then they withdrew.

And the Titles of the said Accounts were read.

And the said Return, and Two First Accounts, are as follow; viz.

The Return.

To the Honourable the Commons of England, in Parliament assembled:

IN Obedience to an Order of this Honourable House, of the 16th Instant, requiring the Commissioners of the Customs to lay before this House an Account of the Names of all Goods imported and exported, mentioned in the Book of Rates to pay Custom ad Valorem; we have caused to be extracted, out of the Collectors Books, the Names of such Goods, which, for not being mentioned in the Book of Rates, have been admitted to pay Duty, according to the Value sworn by the particular Importers on their respective Entries; which is what, we humbly presume, may answer the Intention of the House in that Order: Which Extracts are digested, by Alphabets, in Three Accounts hereunto annexed, for easier Observation; viz.

1. An Account of Goods imported from India, not rated in the Book of Rates:

2. An Account of Goods imported from other Places, besides India, not rated in the Book of Rates:

3. An Account of Goods exported from this Kingdom, not rated in the Book of Rates.

And, in further Obedience to another Order of this Honourable House, of the same Date, requiring an Account of the gross and net Produce of the Customs, distinguishing the several Branches of them, for the Year ending the 25th of December last; we have caused the Receiver General of the Customs to draw out, in an Account hereunto annexed, the total Payments into the Exchequer, as well from the Receipts of the Out Ports, as in London, on the several Branches under our Management, between Christmas 1700, and Christmas 1701: But we crave Leave to observe, That the Account of the total gross Produce cannot be yet completed to Christmas, the Books from the Out Ports, for the last Quarter, being not yet sent up; but we will take care to get them in as soon as possible: In the mean while, we have annexed an Account of the gross Produce of the Port of London, in the said Year, as it is laid before us by the Comptroller General of the Customs: On which last Account, we must, nevertheless, observe, that the East-India Company's having a Privilege to take out Bills at Sight on their Entries, and the Collector being not chargeable with a determinate Sum till those Entries are perfected, there may be several Ships standing out, the Duties whereof, with regard to the Importation, ought to be reckoned within the gross Produce of that Year; but cannot yet be brought to a regular Account till the Sights are perfected; which happens to be the Case every Year.

All which is humbly submitted.

Sam. Clark, T. Newport,
A. Maynwaring, Will. Culliford.

Malden
Election.

Sir Rowland Gwyn, according to Order, reported from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to the said Committee, touching the Election for the Borough of Malden, in the County of Essex; and the Resolution of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place, and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

Upon the Petition of Irby Mountague Esquire, complaining of an undue Election and Return of John Comyns Esquire to serve for the said Borough of Malden:

That, upon the Poll taken by the Bailiffs, the Numbers were;

For the Sitting Member Mr. Comyns - 141

For the Petitioner - - - - 129

That the Right of Election was agreed in the Freemen not receiving Alms or Charity.

And the Petitioner's Counsel insisted, That several Persons, who were Freemen, and had a Right to vote in this Election, and did actually vote for the Petitioner, were not put down in the Poll; and also, that the Bailiffs had acted in a partial Manner in favour of the Sitting Member:

That the Persons refused by the Bailiffs to be put down on the Poll, were 30.

And as to these 30 Persons it appeared, by the Evidence of

William Coe, and Ralph Backnall, That they were all Freemen, and were called over, as such, by the Town Clerk; and voted for the Petitioner: But Three of them did vote for the Petitioner and Mr. Fitch; and Two of them voted for the Petitioner and Mr. Comyns: The

VOL. 13.

Objection, as Mr. Coe said, to 24 of them, was, That they had received Corn of the Gift of Mr. Charles Mountague, now Lord Hallifax; to Four, for receiving Alms; and to Two others; viz. Mr. Wiseman, as a Person in Debt, and to Peter Tilbrook, because, it was pretended, he had borrowed 5*l.*: But he offered to swear he had not done it; and said, He was promised 20*l.* to vote for Mr. Comyns.

And Mr. William Coe, being examined, on behalf of the Petitioner, as to the Matter of Distribution of Corn, gave this Account; That, in the Year 1699, several Neighbours did write to Mr. Mountague, now Lord Hallifax, That, Corn being dear, by reason of the Exportation thereof, there were like to be Tumults in the Town by the poor People; and, in November, he waited upon his Lordship, and told him to the same Effect: Whereupon his Lordship expressed his Willingness to do what was proper for him to do; and gave Orders to dispose of Wheat to the poorer Sort on the Christmas-day then following; which he did; and repeated the following April: That he did deliver the Corn without any Distinction, only with respect to the Poverty of the Persons: That he did not consult the Overseers of the Poor, or the Magistrates of the Town, about the Distribution of it; he having been Overseer himself, and knowing the People of the Town; That the whole Quantity was Two Load; which was delivered out by One or Two Bushels to a Man: That he could not say particularly to whom he delivered the Wheat; but, he believes, the whole 24 refused, upon that Account, had not received it: But, he said, He had given none after April 1700: That, after the 30 had polled for Mr. Mountague, the Town Clerk asked the Bailiffs, If he should put them down on the Poll; and the Bailiffs were against their being put down; and that, though these were not polled for the Petitioner, some, that had received the Corn and polled for the Sitting Member, were set down now; and 17 that received this Corn, did come to vote at the Election 1700; but there was no Poll, there being no dispute.

That the Petitioner's Counsel also examined as to other Practices: And they called,

Robert Chadd: Who said, That he, and Mr. Gibson, and Mr. Cockrell, being together, Gibson desired his Vote for the Sitting Member; and the said Chadd answering, He was minded to vote for the Petitioner, Bailiff Cockrell bid him make much of his Licence; for he should have no more: However he acknowledged he voted for the Petitioner; and nobody had since demanded his Licence; but the Time for renewing Licences is not yet come.

* Richmond testified, That he had heard Bailiff Taverner say, after the Election, That if the Sitting Member had but Six Votes, he would return him: And if they came to a new Election, the Petitioner should not be chosen; for they had made 35 free, and would make it strong enough to carry whom they pleased.

Lemuel Bradley said, Some were talking with Bailiff Taverner, That the Petitioner would be a Parliament Man; and Mr. Taverner said, He should not: He knew a Trick worth Two of that.

That the Counsel for the Sitting Member insisted, That the Persons who had received Corn, were disabled from voting, either as it might be considered to be an Alms, or a corrupt Practice to procure their Votes: And to that Matter they called,

Thomas Stace: Who said, That about Two Years ago, Wheat was distributed by Mr. Coe and his Man: That he saw 40 come away with it in about Four Hours time; which Wheat was carried away by the Freemen and their Wives: That the Election before the last, some Wheat had been delivered out; viz. to John Marsh, Four Bushels; and to William Norman, Two Bushels; and that Marsh voted for the Petitioner at this Election: That he did not hear Mr. Coe say for what Purposes he delivered the Wheat; nor does he know that Wheat was denied to any: But the said Stace asked several, viz. James Hubert, William Perkins, and Rob. Osborne, that had received the Wheat, Wheat, to be for the Sitting Member; but they refused, saying, They were under Obligations to the Petitioner, having eat his Bread, and drank his Wine; and were bound, in Conscience, to be for him: And Osborn said, That Mr. Mountague had sent his Wife a Bottle of Sack: That, as to Robert Dun, Jonas Childs, and Nehemiah Hitch, who were refused for the Petitioner, they received Relief of the Parish.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel also insisted, That there were several ill Practices by the Petitioner: And

Thomas Stace said, That Mr. Coe was an Agent for the Petitioner, and on the Day of the Election got several of the Freemen into his House; Two of which, viz. Robert Wood, and Peter Dilbrook, who voted for the Petitioner, told the said Stace, they were treated at Coe's House:

That Nine Publick-houses of Freemen, who would vote for the Petitioner, were taken up, to treat, the Wednesday after the Dissolution of the last Parliament; and that the House of a Widow of a Freeman was taken up also on that Account, upon her Brother's engaging to vote for the Petitioner, who otherwise would not have voted for the Petitioner, and did vote for him singly:

That Stace was at Daye's House, when Richmond and Coe came in, and bespoke a Supper that Night at his House, for the Parliament was dissolved: And, when Day scrupled Promise of his Vote for the Petitioner, Coe told him, That they could not treat at his House that Night; for they would treat with none, but such as voted for the Petitioner: That William Straight said to Stace, That he had promised to vote for the Sitting Member; but Coe came and told him, He should not be paid for the Treat at his House unless he voted singly for the Petitioner; which thereupon he did: That Noakes confessed to him, He could not vote for the Sitting Member; because he had a Treat at his House; and Coe had in-joined him a single Vote for the Petitioner: That there was a Treating also the same Wednesday at Sizer's, Cook's, Daye's, Chadd's, and Bartlett's Houses, who all voted for the Petitioner:

That several of the Voters carried away Drink by Pailfulls, sufficient to serve them a Week, or Fortnight: That he believed, Two or Three of those, who had received Wheat, did vote for Mr. Fitch, and Mr. Comyns, last Election.

John Cooke said, There was Treating at his House, on the Petitioner's Account, by Order of Mr. Coe, the same Night the Petitioner came down; and he was directed to draw Drink till about 11 a Clock at Night; for they did not know but the Writ might bear Teste after 12: And his Bill came to between 10 and 11 l.; but he was never asked for his Vote; but voted only for the Petitioner: He is not paid his Money, but expects it from Mr. Mountague.

John Day said, That the same Day, Mr. Coe bespoke a Treat at his House; and it continued till about 11 a Clock: He said, He was to treat all the Freemen in general, and only they; and the Reckoning came to about 7 or 8 l.

William Wells said, That the Day before the last Election, William Coe gave him 19 s.; whereof Nine was for Two Bushels of Wheat, he having had no Share in the Wheat Two Years ago; and 10 s. was for his Vote at the last Election: And that Coe bid him not let anybody know of the 10 s. for it would make the Election void: He voted for the Petitioner.

Thomas Bramston said, He was in the Hall during all the time of the Election; and there was not above one Person, that polled for Mr. Fitch, and Mr. Comyns, objected to.

That the Petitioner's Counsel called, to the Reputation of William Wells,

Thomas Stevens: Who said, That, the Day before the Election, the said Wells having been seen by him to have talked with Gibson and Stace in Town, when the said Wells came from them, Stevens asked, What they said? And Wells told him, That they would have had the said

Wells confess himself to be bribed; and at the same time, he declared, He had no Money.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel produced a Copy of the Order of Council for the issuing out the Writs for this present Parliament, which is dated the 11th of November 1701.

And that upon Consideration of the Evidence, and the Act of Parliament made against Treating, the Committee came to this Resolution; viz.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That John Comyns Esquire is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Malden, in the County of Essex.

The Question being put, That the House do agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That John Comyns Esquire is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Malden, in the County of Essex;

The House divided.

The Noes go forth.

Tellers for the Yeas, { Colonel Granville, { Sir Cha. Barrington: } 226.

Tellers for the Noes, { The Lord Spencer, { Sir Walter Yonge: } 208.

So it was resolved in the Affirmative.

Resolved, That it appears to this House, That William Coe, Agent to Irby Mountague Esquire, hath been guilty of Bribery, and corrupt Practices, in endeavouring to procure a Burgess to be elected for this present Parliament for the said Borough of Malden.

Ordered, That the said William Coe be, for his said Crime, taken into the Custody of the Serjeant at Arms attending this House.

Sir Rowland Gwyn also, according to Order, reported, from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to the Committee, touching the Election for the Borough of Hertford, in the County of Hertford; and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read, and are as follow; viz.

Upon the Petition of William Monson Esquire, complaining of an undue Election, and Return, of Richard Gulston Esquire to serve for the said Borough of Hertford:

That, upon the Poll, there was,

For Mr. Cæsar	-	-	-	452.
For Mr. Gulston	-	-	-	303.
For Mr. Monson	-	-	-	220.

That the Right of Election was the point controverted; the Petitioner's Counsel insisting, That the Right of Election was in the Inhabitants of the Borough, not receiving Alms; the Sitting Member's Counsel insisting, That the Right was as well in the Burgesses or Freemen, as in the Inhabitants.

Another Matter controverted between the said Parties was, Supposing the Freemen to have a Right, how the Persons ought to be qualified, who are made free? The Petitioner's Counsel insisted, That Hertford was a Borough by Prescription; and that the First Charter granted to the said Borough was primo Mariæ:

Which Charter being produced, and read, at the Instance of the Petitioner's Counsel, it appeared, and is expressed in the said Charter, to be ad humilem Petitionem Inhabitantium Burgi & Villæ de Hertford: And Queen Mary does thereby grant to the said Inhabitants in these Words: Quod idem Burgus et Villa de Hertford de cætero sit et erit incorporatum de uno Ballivo et Burgensibus, ac Burgum illum Corpus corporatum et politicum in re, facto, et nomine, de se, imperpetuum facimus, ordinamus, et in plenam erigimus, et creamus, per presentes; et quod Inhabitantes ejusdem Burgi, per Nomen, Ballivi et Burgens. Burgi de Hertford, sunt et erunt Corpus corporatum in re, facto, et nomine, et una Communitas perpetua, habeantque successionem perpetuam: And

Hertford
Election.

And then that Charter further grants to the Bailiff and Burgesses Power of choosing into the Office of Burgess, omnes et singulos quoscunque Viros tenentes et inhabitantes infra dictum Burgum, qui Gubernationi illius forent necessarios.

They also produced a Charter of King James the First; reciting, That the Borough of Hertford is an ancient Borough, and enjoys, by several Names, divers ancient Liberties and Franchises; tam per diversas Literas Patentes diversorum Progenitorum et Antecessorum nostrum nuper Regum et Reginarum Angliæ, quam ratione diversarum Præscriptionum et Consuetudinum, in eodem Burgo usitatas et habitas: By which the Mayor and Capital Burgesses have Power to make as many of the Inhabitants of the said Borough, or the Parishes of the Borough, Burgesses, as they shall judge necessary, or for the Profit of the Borough; Dummodo Burgenses inhabitantes extra Burgum prædictum non excedant, aliquo uno tempore, Numerum trium Personarum.

They also produced Two Copies of Returns 26 Edw. I.; by which it appears, That Hertford then sent Burgesses to Parliament; and it is said, That they were elected per Communitatem Burgensium de Hertford:

13 Car. II. which names 16 Burgesses; and says, That they, cum omnibus cæteris Inhabitantibus Burgi prædicti, juxta Formam Statuti in hujusmodi Casu editi et provisi, una Voce elegerunt Two Burgesses.

The said Return was under the Common Seal.

One, Anno 1640 - - - of John King:
Another, 1650 - - - of Adlorde Bowde:
Another, 1674 - - - of Edw. Bentley:
Another, 1678 - - - of Ralph Seabrooke:

And they all Four run in this Form; That the Mayor and Capital Burgess, virtute Libertatum et Privilegiorum, quæ Dominus Jacobus, nuper Rex Angliæ, per Literas suas Patentes to them granted, to receive the said Persons into the Corporation.

That they also produced Four Admittances of another Form; viz.

One of - - 1695 - - of John Barfoot:
Another, eodem Anno - - of Tho. Archer:
Another, eodem Anno - - of John Grubb:
Another - - 1697 - - of William Barfoot:

And they Four run in this Form; That the Mayor and Aldermen of the Borough, virtute Libertatum et Privilegiorum per diversos Reges et Reginas Angliæ, &c, to them granted, do receive the said Persons into the Corporation.

That they also produced Two Admittances of another Form; viz.

One, Anno - - 1700 - - of Joseph Turray:
Another, eodem Anno - - of Rich. Phillips:

And they Two run in this Form; That the Mayor and Aldermen, unanimi Assensu, do receive the said Persons into the Corporation.

That the Petitioner's Counsel, to prove the Usage of the Borough, also called several Witnesses:

Henry Sweeting, aged 81 Years: Who said, He had voted for Parliament Men 50 Years ago: And the First time honorary Freemen were admitted was, when Sir Thomas Feild and Sir John Gore were chose: That he remembered Sir Tho. Fanshaw and Sir William Lemon's Election before that; and then never heard any voted, that was an honorary Freeman; but, since that time, they have all along been admitted.

John Hill, aged above 70 Years, said, He had known Hertford 50 Years; and he did not remember any Persons were made free, but the Inhabitants, till within about 40 Years.

John Hanscomb said, He served his Time in Hertford, and came to live there about 30 Years ago: He said also, He purchased his Freedom; and voted at last Election.

For the Sitting Member it was insisted, That Hertford was as well a Corporation by Prescription, as a Borough by Prescription; and that the Right of Election was in the Freemen of the Borough in general; and that such Right could not be restrained by any Charter: Hertford Election.

VOL. 13.

And they produced several Instances, out of an old Town Book, to prove, that Persons living out of the Borough, as well as Inhabitants, had been made free there of; viz.

One, of 19 January 1596; by which it appeared, That John Farnake, of Hatfield, having requested, that he might serve Hertford with Beer, and to have Access thereto; it was granted to him, paying 10 s. a Year:

Another Instance, of 14th of March 1598; which is an Order of the Corporation, That the Brewer Thorogood, of Hatfield, and some others, should be distrained for occupying their Mysteries and Trades, before they had agreed for Freedoms:

Another Instance, 7th May 1600; by which it appears, That John Cordell, of Cheshunt, common Loader, desired to be admitted a Freeman of Hertford; and was admitted and sworn, for to sell Salt and Fish in the time of Lent, for a certain Sum agreed on, and paying 12 d. for every Quarter:

Another Instance, of 13 August 1606; by which it appeared, That Tho. Borcham, of Broxborne, Shoemaker, was admitted a Freeman, paying 26 s. 8 d.:

Another Instance, of 25 November 1612; by which it appears, That Henry Cockrill, of Cheshunt, did purchase his Freedom.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel also produced several Returns to Parliament; viz.

Three of Car. I.; by which it appears, that the Mayor, Steward, Assistants, Burgesses, and Town Clerk, did elect:

The Return is under the Common Seal:

And Two other Returns of 13<sup>o</sup> Car. 2di; by which it appears, That several Gentlemen joined in these Elections.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel also called several Witnesses to the Usage:

Sir Henry Chancey: Who said, He had been Recorder of Hertford, and came to live there at Michaelmas 1669, and continued there till November 1681; and had attended at every Election, but the Two last: And Sir Henry said, That all Freemen, as well those by Redemption, as others, always voted at Elections of Parliament Men: And that Sir William Cowper, when he first stood, carried it by those Freemen: And that he found a great many Gentlemen made free before he knew the Town; and believes there were 40 made free in King James's Time.

Rich. Bridgman said, He had known Hertford ever since 1665, and never knew any honorary Freemen refused or scrupled, though they lived out of Town: That the Petitioner himself has voted for Sir Wm. Cowper, though he lived at Brockborne: And that the Freemen by Redemption take the same Oath with others: That honorary Freemen do not concern themselves in any other Business of the Town, than Elections.

And that, upon this Evidence, the Committee came to these Resolutions:

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the Right of electing Members to serve in Parliament for the Borough of Hertford is not in such Persons only as are Inhabitants, Housholders of the said Borough, not receiving Alms; and in such Freeman, who, at the time of their Freedom granted to them, were Inhabitants of the said Borough, or of the Parishes thereof.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the Right of electing Members to serve in Parliament for the Borough of Hertford is in all the Freemen, and also in all the Inhabitants, being Housholders, and not receiving Alms.

These Resolutions being passed, the Counsel were called in, and acquainted with them: And the Counsel for the Petitioner was asked, If he had any thing further to say for his Client? Who answered, That, the Right of Election being thus determined, he had nothing further to offer for his Client.

And thereupon the Committee came to this Resolution;

8 S

Resolved,

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of the Committee, That Richard Gulston Esquire is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Hertford.

The said Resolutions, being severally read a Second time, were, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

The Copy of the Letter.

Gentlemen, Dublin, 23 December 1701.

IT is the Opinion of our Friends in England, who have an Opportunity to make the best Judgment of Things, That, if the King be rightly applied to, it may be in his Majesty's Power to procure us a Relaxation of the Grievances which the Act of Resumption hath brought upon us: They therefore have taken care to meet frequently, to consult of proper Methods; and have imparted their Thoughts to us: We have followed their Advice, and have made it our Business to have the Sense of the Nobility and Gentry here concerning the same Affair.

The Result of all the Consultations both there and here, and our unanimous Opinion, is, That the best and only Way is, for all the Counties in this Kingdom to represent our Grievance, and implore his Majesty's Favour and Assistance.

The Parchment inclosed is the Tenor of all the Addresses that we have sent to other Places: That which we intreat from you, and our good Friends of your County, as we have from worthy Gentlemen, and true Lovers of their Country, in all other Counties of Ireland, is, That you will, with all your Interest, recommend this Address at the next Quarter Sessions: The easiest and most concise Method will be, to have it read publicly, and signed by the Justices of Peace, Grand Jury, Clergy, Gentlemen, and Freeholders, of your County: When it is sent up hither, which pray do with all imaginable Expedition, due Care shall be taken to have it sent, and presented to his Majesty, by acceptable Hands. The Service you will do to your Country, and the Obligations you will lay on the Protestants of this Kingdom, will be so great, that it will be needless to say, by way of Incitement to you, that your Care in this Affair will greatly oblige

Your affectionate Friends and Servants,

The said Address:

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Nobility, Justices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Clergy, Gentlemen, and Freeholders, of the County of West-Meath, at their General Quarter Sessions held at the Day of 1701.

YOUR Majesty's faithful and loyal Subjects the Protestants of this Your Kingdom of Ireland, lying under such Pressures, by means of the late Act of Resumption, and of the Execution thereof, that they apprehend the . . . Protestants of this Kingdom, who have all of them, to the utmost of their Power, been most forward and zealous for Your Majesty's Interest, and instrumental in reducing this Kingdom to its Dependence upon the Crown of England, must be the unavoidable Consequence of the Execution of that Act, do humbly fly to Your Majesty's Protection; and pray, That Your Majesty, the Restorer of their Religion, Rights, and Liberties, would once again be pleased to take their distressed Condition into Your Princely Consideration, and, by such Methods as to Your Majesty shall seem expedient, and their present Circumstances, and the Justice of their Cause, do require, apply suitable Remedies to the severe Burden under which they lie.

The deplorable Condition of very many Families, who always adhered firmly to the Interest of Your Majesty, and the Crown of England, and the general Discouragement that Act has given to the Protestant Interest of this Kingdom, constrain us, with all Humility, to lay before Your Majesty, That the Act being intirely framed and passed in England, the real Truth of our late Circumstances could not be known: Hence we have Reason to complain,

1st, The Persons, who chiefly receive any Benefit or Favour by this Act, are the Papists of this Kingdom; and, among them, principally those, who, to the last, opposed Your Majesty's Arms and Interest: And, besides many other particular Favours to Irish Papists, all those, who, by Your Majesty's Grace, obtained the Reversal of their Outlawries, have the Benefit of those Reversals confirmed to them; and are, by this Act, restored as well to their Estates, as to their Blood, when most of the Grants made to the Protestants are re-assumed:

2. That the Improvers, and poor Husbandmen, who, by several Proclamations issued by Your Majesty's Order, were encouraged and required to betake themselves to their Tillage, to repair the Desolation wrought by the War, and prevent a Famine, are, by it, deprived of all the Benefit of their Labours, and the Charges of their Improvements:

3. That those, who purchased under Patentees, are generally Protestants, who, in their Dealings for these Estates, acted agreeably to the then known and established Laws

Laws of these Kingdoms; though now, by a Law made ex post facto, they find themselves in the Condition of forfeiting Persons:

4. That the ill Consequence of this Act, and the Execution of it, do not only affect the Purchasers of Forfeitures, but your Majesty's other Subjects here, who are wholly unconcerned in those Titles, and disquiet the whole Kingdom; for, some of the Trustees having declared in Court their Opinion, That, what Land soever they shall think fit to sell, it shall never after be controverted, whether that Land was the Estate of a forfeiting Person, and, in consequence of that, vested in them by the Act; but that their Sales, whatsoever they are, are confirmed by the Act, and past Controul: Your Majesty's Subjects of this Kingdom are sensible, that, if this Opinion prevail, the whole Property of Ireland depends upon the arbitrary Wills of the Majority of the Trustees:

5. That the Power given to the Trustees is so arbitrary and unlimited, that all Persons, under colour of Discoveries, or upon other Pretences, are liable to be summoned to appear before them, and to attend their Pleasure:

6. That the Act is a great Discouragement to Protestant Proprietors to lay out Money in Improvements, upon account of the Uncertainty of Titles to Estates here; it being construed not only to subject Titles, established by Judgments and Decrees of the highest Courts of Law and Equity here, to the Re-examination of the Trustees; but, in express Terms, defeats a Title confirmed by an Act of a Parliament legally convened, and held under Your Majesty, within this Kingdom:

7th, That the whole Scheme of the Act, and the Manner of the Execution of it, depresses... discontinues the Protestant Interest of this Kingdom, and encourages the Popish; of the Danger of which, we, who have felt the Effects of it, must always be apprehensive; but more particularly now, when the Papists, throughout the whole Nation, by the Insolence of their Behaviour, shew, that the Acknowledging of the pretended Prince of Wales by the French King, or some other Dependence, has raised their Expectations to a great Height.

We are persuaded, that the Parliament of England were in no sort apprised either of the Hardships, or dangerous Consequences, of the Act; and are sensible that the whole Act is grounded upon gross Misinformations given them concerning the Value of the Forfeitures; which were represented, by the Persons intrusted with that Inquiry, to be at least Four times the Value of what they will be found to amount to. We will not affirm, that this was done wilfully, or to serve private Ends; but we must say, and can make it plain beyond Denial, that all Proofs offered to them in their Inquiries, though never so plain and evident, were by them disregarded and rejected, when they tended to lessen the Value of the Forfeitures, and deprive them of an Handle for making their exorbitant Report.

And we must add, that the Expences to which this Kingdom hath already been put, in Attendance upon the Trustees, with Counsel, Witnesses, in Fees to their Officers, &c.; the Salaries of the Trustees themselves, and of near Relations to some of them; and other Officers put into Employments, with great Allowances, under them; with other Charges which the Act has occasioned to this Kingdom; if cast up, will exceed the utmost that the Act, even as now executed, can produce: Such a Sum might, without Grievance or Complaint, have been laid equally upon the Forfeitures in Ireland; and thereby the Publick might have received some Benefit, and this Kingdom not have groaned under a Burden, which nothing but the last Necessity forces her to complain of in this manner: Something of this kind may yet be done, though not near to what might have been, before the Country was so impoverished by the Means of the Act.

May it please your Majesty to suffer us, upon this Occasion, to assure Your Majesty, That Your Protestant Subjects of this Kingdom are so sensible of the inexpressible Favours they have received from Your Majesty, and of Your tender Care of them, that nothing can ever shake their Faith and Duty to Your Majesty; and that, whatever the Malice of their Enemies may, for private Ends, or ill Designs, suggest to the contrary, no Inducements whatsoever can prevail with them to endeavour to make, or to wish, themselves independent of, or not subject to the Crown of England; and that none of Your Majesty's Subjects of any of Your Dominions will, upon all Occasions, shew a more forward and ready Zeal to maintain and defend, against all Opposers whatsoever, Your Majesty's Sacred Person, and Government, the Protestant Religion, the Laws, Liberties, and the Right, of the Crown of England, than Your Majesty's Protestant Subjects of Ireland.

Ordered, That the Earl of Abercorné, and James Topham Esquire, do attend this House upon Thursday Sevensnight.

And then the House adjourned till To-morrow Morning, Nine a Clock.

Ordered, That Leave be given to bring in a Bill, according to the Prayer of the said Petition: And that Mr. Kinaston and Sir John Bolles do prepare, and bring in, the said Bill.

Sir John Bolles reported from the Committee, to whom the Bill for reviving the Act for exempting Apothecaries from serving the Office of Constable, Scavenger, and other Parish and Ward Offices; and from serving upon Juries; was committed; That they had made an Amendment to the Bill; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was twice read.

And the Question being put, That the House do agree with the Committee in the said Amendment;

It passed in the Negative.

Ordered, That the Bill be re-committed to the same Committee: And that they do meet this Afternoon at Five a Clock, in the Speaker's Chambers.

of Westminster, on behalf of themselves, and others, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners do find the Serving Parish Offices very burdensome, and come too often to their Turns, by reason Apothecaries have, by virtue of an Act of Parliament now expiring, been exempted from the same, though they are as well, or better, able to pay the usual Fines to the Poor, which others pay, who desire to be exempted: And praying, That the Act for exempting Apothecaries from Parish Offices may not be revived; or that a Clause may be inserted in the Bill depending in the House for that Purpose, That the Apothecaries in Westminster may pay the usual Fines for Parish Offices, when they shall be appointed to serve the same.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee, to whom the said Bill is re-committed.

Woollen Manufactures. A Petition of the Governors of the Dutch Bay-hall, and also of the Bay-makers, Say-makers, and Perpetuana-makers, in Colchester, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That many Thousands of People in and about Colchester are employed in the Woollen Manufactures; for the Managing whereof great Quantities of Wool are weekly bought at London, Buckinghamshire, and other inland Counties, and brought to Colchester, and is weekly carried to Spinners, many whereof live Thirty Miles off: That certain Persons, deputed by Commissioners appointed by Act of Parliament to prevent the Exportation of Wool, have seized great Quantities of the Petitioners Wool, as passing backwards and forwards, in the way of their Trades, under Pretence of being carried at Hours contrary to the said Act, notwithstanding the Petitioners never did, or endeavoured to, export Wool: And those Seizures tend to the Discouragement and stopping the said Trades; for that the Petitioners cannot make their weekly Returns, especially in short Days, and bad Roads, without exceeding the Hours limited by the said Act: And praying, That some Expedient may be found out for permitting the Petitioners to bring their Wool from London, and other Places, and carrying it to Spinners; and for bringing home Yarn; without restraining them to the said Hours; yet continuing the Laws in Force to prevent Exportation of Wool or Yarn.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee appointed to inspect the Laws relating to the Woollen Manufacture; and to consider of the best Methods for regulating and preventing the same.

Ordered, That Mr. Secretary Vernon do deliver the said Examinations, and Papers, to Mr. Attorney General, in order to prosecute the said * Romain: And that he do prosecute him accordingly.

bentures.

A Petition of the Clothiers of his Majesty's Army for the Years One thousand Six hundred Ninety-eight, and One thousand Six hundred Ninety-nine, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners clothed the Army on the Off-reckonings of those Years, not doubting but the same would be effectually paid; but they have been out of their Money ever since, without any Interest; and those Debentures, given out pursuant to a late Act of Parliament, are above 40*l.* per Centum Discount: And the greatest Part of the Petitioners, whose Accounts are not yet stated, are in a worse Condition, by reason of the Uncertainty of the Time and Manner of Payment; which is so great a Grievance, that it hath reduced the Petitioners to great Necessities: And praying, That they may have Interest on their Debentures; or be otherwise relieved, in such manner as shall be thought fit.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of the whole House, who are to consider further of the Supply granted to his Majesty.

And the Title thereof was read:

And the said Answer and State are as follow; viz.

The said Answer:

IN Obedience to an Order of this Honourable House, dated the Nineteenth of the last Month, requiring us to lay before them an Account of our Proceedings, for the Improvement of Trade, since our Account given in the Twelfth of March last; and in further Obedience to an Order of the Thirty-first of the last Month, requiring us to lay before this Honourable House the State of the Plantations with relation to Trade, and their Security, together with the Names of the present Governors of the Plantations; we humbly take Leave to represent,

That, in pursuance of his Majesty's Commission for promoting the Trade of this Kingdom, and for inspecting and improving his Majesty's Plantations and Factories in America, and elsewhere, we have continued to apply ourselves to the Care of those Plantations, in relation to their Government and Commerce: And there being, within the Allegiance of the Crown of England, Twenty several Colonies, besides Hudson's Bay and Newfoundland, in which last Place there is no Governor; each of which have their distinct Governments, Councils, and General Assemblies, by whom Laws, and Rules of Government, are passed and enacted; some of which Colonies are governed by his Majesty's immediate Commission, and others by Proprietors and Charters; with these Governments, and particularly those under his Majesty's especial Direction, we have managed a constant Correspondence; in the Course whereof, the said Governors have sent us Journals of their Councils, Assemblies, and other publick Proceedings, with Accounts of all Matters whatsoever relating to their respective Governments; all which have been considered by us, and the necessary Orders returned thereupon: More particularly, the Acts of the several Assemblies, transmitted to us, have been examined; and our Reports have thereupon been made to his Majesty, in his Privy Council, for his Royal Assent, or Disallowance: In all which we have, according to our Duty, had especial Regard to the Interest and Improvement of the Trade of England, as well as to the Good of the Plantations.

We have prepared the necessary Orders, Commission, and Instructions, for Brigadier Selwyn, whom his Majesty has been pleased to appoint Governor of Jamaica: We have prepared the like Dispatches, Commission, and Instructions, for the Lord Cornbury, whom his Majesty has been pleased to constitute Governor of New York: And, his Majesty having thought fit to separate the said Government of New York from that of the Massachusetts Bay in New England, and to appoint Colonel Dudley to be Governor of the Place last-mentioned, we have likewise prepared his Commission for that Government.

His Majesty having, by one of his principal Secretaries of State, directed us to prepare a Commission, and Instructions, for Mitford Crow Esquire to be Governor of Barbadoes, we have accordingly prepared his Commission: In all which Commissions, and other Dispatches, we have made such Provisions and Alterations, as we conceive proper, as well for the Defence, as for the Trade, of those several Places.

Convoys.] We have proposed to his Majesty the appointing several Convoys necessary to attend and protect the Trade of the Plantations; and have endeavoured to prevent the Abuses complained of in the Impresting of Seamen by Captains, or other Officers, of his Majesty's Ships of War in those Parts, the Irregularities of this Practice having been found of bad Consequence, as well to the Trade, as the Settlement, of those Plantations.

In Obedience to his Majesty's Commands, referred to us, relating to Merchant Ships in the West Indies; which, being commissioned by the Governors of his Majesty's Plantations, had worn such Colours, as ought only to be borne by his Majesty's Ships of War; we did humbly offer our Opinion, That his Majesty's Governors having Vice Admiralty Jurisdiction, it was, as well for the Security of the Ships so employed by them, as for the Dignity of his Majesty's Commission, that such Ships, though they should not wear his Majesty's Colours, should be distinguished from ordinary Merchant Ships, and trading Vessels; and accordingly such a Mark of Distinction was agreed on by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, and the necessary Advice and Directions given thereupon by us to the several Governors of his Majesty's Plantations.

Suppression of Pirates.] For the more effectual Suppression of Pirates, and the better Execution of the Act of Parliament in that behalf, we, having dispatched his Majesty's Commission, for the Tryal of such Offenders, to the several Governors of his Majesty's Colonies in America, have received their Answers; wherein they assure us of their Care and Diligence in putting the said Act in Execution: And his Majesty having been further pleased, upon our Report, to direct, That Duplicates of the said Commissions should be sent to each of the said Plantations by George Larkin Esquire, nominated a Commissioner for the Trying of Pirates, that he, being a Person well versed in the Civil Law, and Proceedings of the Court of Admiralty, might instruct the other Commissioners in the most proper Methods, and accordingly settle the Forms for the Holding of those Courts; we prepared Instructions for the said Larkin; whereby he was ordered to repair to Newfoundland; from thence to the Massachusetts Bay, New York, Maryland, Virginia, Leeward Islands, Barbadoes, and Jamaica; in each of which Plantations, he is directed to deliver the said Duplicates of the Commissions to the respective Governors, and proper Officers, of those Places; who were to give Notice thereof to the Propriety and Charter Governments comprehended within each of their respective Districts.

We have been informed from Mr. Larkin, at St. John's in Newfoundland, That he had settled the Forms of Tryals for Pirates, and left such Directions, relating to those Tryals, in the Hand of the proper Officer there, that there could be no Error in the Proceedings against such Pirates as may be taken in those Parts: He has done the same at Boston in the Massachusetts Colony, One of the Charter Governments, where illegal Trade and Piracy have found so general Encouragement, that he doubts, whether the Act will be duly complied with in its Execution: We shall continue to do what in us lies in this behalf, by giving the most particular Instructions hereupon to the Governor, whom his Majesty shall send thither.

Act for Ministers in Maryland.] Upon the Petition of several Dissenters in Maryland, complaining of an Act passed in the Assembly of that Province, intituled, An Act for the Service of Almighty God, and Establishment of Religion, in that Province, according to the Church of England; which Act being inconsistent with the Title, and, according to what the Petitioners represented, interfering with the Acts of Settlement there, and with the Act of Toleration; and that it would prove a Hardship upon them, and a Discouragement to the Plantation Trade, that this Act should be confirmed by his Majesty; we did, after hearing the Parties, represent that Matter to his Majesty; and, by his Majesty's Directions, formed a new Draught of an Act to be offered to the Assembly of Maryland, for the Establishment of religious Worship in that Province, according to the Church of England; and for the Maintenance of Ministers: Which Draught was sent to Maryland, having been first approved by his Grace the Lord Archbishop, and the Lord Bishop of London.

Justice in the Plantations.] We have likewise taken the best Care we could, that his Majesty's Subjects in the Plantations should be freed from Oppression, as to their Civil Rights; and that equal Justice should be administered to them: And herein we beg Leave to represent, That, since the Report of that Subject laid by us before the Honourable House of Commons, the 23d of April last, we having received an Answer from the Lord Grey, then Governor in Chief of Barbadoes, as likewise from the Council of that Island, in relation to Complaints made of Irregularities in the Proceedings of the Courts of Justice there; which Answer we likewise communicated to Mr. Hodges, one of the chief Complainants, and received a Reply thereunto; we reported our Opinion to his Majesty upon the whole Matter, the 12th of December last: And, upon a new Petition from Mr. Isaac Hawkins, another Complainant, we made a further Report, the 29th of January last: Which Reports shew the good Effects of the Directions given from time to time, in that behalf.

Upon Complaints made to us of several Hardships done to some of his Majesty's Subjects in the Island of St. Christopher's, and irregular Practices committed by Captain James Norton, Lieutenant Governor of that Island, we gave Directions therein to Colonel Codrington, Governor in Chief of his Majesty's Leeward Caribbee Islands; who, having inquired into the Truth of those Complaints, suspended the said Norton from his Government, till his Majesty's Pleasure therein should be further known; and, upon a Representation made by us on that Subject, his Majesty hath been pleased to remove the said Norton from that Trust.

Upon the Petition of Mr. Samuel Allen, Proprietor of New Hampshire; complaining, That, in a Tryal in the Superior Court of Judicature in that Province, upon an Action in Ejectment, in order to the determining his Right to the Propriety and Quit-rents claimed by him, the Judges and Juries being Tenants, and consequently Parties, a Verdict had passed against him; upon which, an Appeal being desired, his Majesty was pleased, upon our Representation, to allow of such Appeal.

Mr. John and Nicolas Hallam have complained, by Petition to his Majesty, That the Governor and Company of Connecticut had refused to admit them to appeal to his Majesty in Council here, from a Sentence passed in a Court of Assistants in that Colony; we advised thereupon with his Majesty's Attorney and Solicitor General, in point of Law; and, upon our Report, the Petitioners obtained an Order in Council to their Satisfaction.

In these, and other Causes relating to the Plantations, we have used our best Endeavours, that the Persons concerned might have Dispatch in their Affairs: And, upon all Applications made to us from Merchants, and others concerned in Trade, we have constantly represented their Cases to his Majesty, or given them such other Assistance, as the Nature of their Business has required.

Project of a Treaty with Morocco.] Having been required to consider, and report our Opinion, upon the Project of a Treaty between his Majesty and the Emperor of Morocco; and more particularly, whether a Peace with that Government would be for the Benefit and Advantage of the Trade of this Kingdom; we did thereupon consult the Merchants concerned in that Trade, and having represented our Opinion, That, in the present Circumstances of Affairs, such a Treaty might be advantageous, we also offered such Alterations, or Observations, upon that Project, as we conceived proper, more especially with relation to Passes; observing thereupon, that the obliging English Ships to produce Passes to those Rovers, would be a Means to furnish them with new Pretences and Cavils, wherewith to colour their Violences; we therefore humbly proposed, proposed, That the Article, relating thereunto, might, at present, be omitted; but, if they should, in any future Occasion, insist upon it, that it might be used as an Argument to obtain better Terms from them upon any other Point in Dispute.

Trade at Leghorn.] We having, upon the Application of the Merchants of this City trading to Leghorn, represented to his Majesty, That they lay under Hardships, and had Taxes imposed on their Merchandizes in the Dominions of the Great Duke of Tuscany, contrary to the ancient Immunities and Privileges enjoyed by the English in those Parts; and having thereupon proposed what might most contribute to their Ease and Security; we have been informed by Sir Lambert Blackwell, his Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary in that Court, That, upon our Report, such Directions were given, that the Grievances complained of were removed, and the following Advantages procured; viz.

A Liberty, that all English Ships, from his Majesty's Dominions, with net Patents, should be admitted to immediate Pratique in the Ports of Tuscany; which had not been allowed for above Forty Years:

A Liberty, that all Woollen Goods, from his Majesty's Dominions, might be carried immediately from on Ship-board to the Merchants Warehouses, without making a Quarantine of Fifteen Days, as had been practised for above Forty Years, to the great Damage of their Goods, and Prejudice of the Merchants:

The Great Duke has taken off a Duty of 2*l.* per Cent. which, for Forty Years past, has been paid on all English Woollen Goods from his Majesty's Dominions; as likewise a Duty of a Half per Cent. which was laid on the personal Estates of all the English Merchants at Leghorn:

Whereas it has been a long Custom, to make all Goods, entered in, or out of Leghorn, to pay Porterage, whether landed or not; the Great Duke has now ordered, That no such Duty should be required, but upon Goods actually landed.

Improvement
of Trade.

Trade in general.] As our Commission requires us to take an Account of the State and Condition of the Trade of England in general, and of the several particular Trades to all foreign Parts; and to enquire into, and examine, what Trades are, or may be, hurtful, and how they might be rectified, or discouraged; we have accordingly made a constant Inspection into the general State of Trade; and, on the 13th of January 1698, did lay before the Honourable House of Commons our Opinion, That, by our Inquiries, we did find, we had imported, from some Countries, Goods to a much greater Value than we had exported; and particularly, that we were overbalanced in our Trade with Sweden and the Baltick, about 200,000*l.* per Annum; in our Trade to Denmark and Norway, about 150,000*l.* per Annum; and that, by the Entries in the Custom-house Books, it appeared, that we had, for several Years, exported to the East Indies above 400,000*l.* per Annum in Bullion, besides what was carried out privately, or shipped from Spain: And that for some Years before the late War began, we had been overbalanced in the French Trade about one Million per Annum; with our Observations thereupon, that such Trades had occasioned the Exportation and Decrease of our Silver Coin.

Exports and Imports.] By the Inquiries we have since made, we are confirmed in the same Opinions; but more particularly by the Abstracts of the Exports and Imports; by which it appears, that, from Christmas 1697, to Michaelmas 1698.

To the said Abstract must be added the Freight, or Carriage, of most of the Goods that come from Sweden, Denmark, Norway, and the Baltick; because it is paid to the Natives of those Countries, or to Foreigners; which, upon some Commodities, amounts to near as much as the First Cost of the Goods, and will make those Over-balances to be more than we represented: And, by the said Abstracts, and other Informations, we find, That, since that Representation, the Exportation of Bullion for India has much increased upon us; which has occasioned a greater Consumption of Silver: And the increasing Expence in the Consumption of some foreign Commodities at home, hath hindered the Exportation of it, as Wines; which amounted to 21,568 Tons between Christmas 1698, and Christmas 1699, which coming most from Spain and Portugal, the Importation of Bullion from those Parts is much lessened thereby.

VOL. 13.

We did then further represent, That the great Variations and Changes, which have happened in Trade since the Year 1660, did require, that a new Book of Rates should be framed, which, we humbly conceive, should be done, and offered to the Consideration of this Honourable House, as the most effectual Way to remove many Difficulties, which our particular Trades lie under, occasioned by the Alterations, which have happened in the Price of most Commodities since the Year 1660, our Neighbour Nations having taken great Advantages on several Branches of our Trade, by many Commodities being charged too high, and others too low: And we have also suffered much by the Importation of many manufactured Goods, and Handicraft Wares, which hinder the Consumption of our own: Also the fair Traders are discouraged by the Corruptions, which have grown up with Time, in the Management of the Re-exports, Debentures and Drawbacks:

All

Improvement
of Trade.

All which cannot have a more proper and general Remedy than by making a new Book of Rates, and by such Proposals as may be made by the Custom-house Officers; consulting with Merchants upon such a View of the whole Trade of the Nation, as will be necessary to compose such a Book.

Upon the whole, finding, that those Trades, which have an Overbalance, cannot be remedied, but by the Help of the Legislative Power, we have thought it our Duty to make these Remarks upon them; for, by our Observations upon the vast Quantities of Silver annually exported; by the great Price that is given for Silver uncoined, more than it is valued in Coin; by the small Quantities of foreign Silver, which have been brought to the Mint to be coined for 12 Years last past; by the general Use that is made of Gold Coin in all Parts of the Kingdom, for the Payment of Debts, &c.; besides the present Apprehension of an Interruption in the Plate Trade from the Spanish Indies; it is too obvious, that our Silver Coin has been much diminished by these Trades, and in Danger to receive daily further Prejudice.

We take Leave to add, that we have constantly had under our Care that Article of our Commission, which relates to the Poor, and the properest Methods of making them useful, and not burdensome, to the Publick; and having, in a former Parliament, made divers Proposals, how, we conceived, that Work might be best effected, and prepared an Abstract of all the Laws on that Subject now in Force, together with the Draught of a Bill, whereby those Laws might be reduced to One, and laid the same before a Committee of the House of Commons; we do not find, that any further Progress can be made therein, till this Honourable House shall have taken it into their Consideration.

Plantations Trade.] The present State of the Plantations, in Relation to Trade, will best appear to this Honourable House, by the Accounts we have from Governors, and the Naval Officers, in those Parts, and from the Abstracts of Imports and Exports here.

We find, That there was exported, from the Island of Jamaica, from Christmas 1697, to Michaelmas 1698, the Goods following; viz.

Newfoundland.] Upon the sending a Convoy, this Year, to Newfoundland, under the Command of Captain Graydon, we gave him several Heads of Inquiry relating to the Trade and Fishery of those Parts; with particular Regard to the late Act of Parliament for the better Regulation thereof: We likewise gave such Heads of Instructions to Mr. Larkin, before-mentioned, as we conceived proper, with relation to that Trade, and have, from them, received Accounts; the chief Particulars whereof are as follows:

That, in general, the Inhabitants have not a due Regard to the several Regulations for the more advantageous Management of the Fishery; it being found, that, Northward of St. John, as far as Carbonier, and to the Southward, as far as Ferryland, the Trees are ruined, and the Woods destroyed, as much as before the late Act.

That the Admirals, and Masters of Ships, do not exactly observe the Rules prescribed by Act of Parliament:

That, as to the Admirals keeping Journals and Accounts, there are few of them capable of doing it, as the Law directs:

That the Admirals, before the 20th of August, will hear some Complaints; but after that time, none are made to them; they being generally the greatest Offenders themselves:

That the Vessels from New-England supply the People of Newfoundland with Provisions, viz. Bread, Beef, Pork, Flour, Peas, Butter, Boards, and great Quantities of Virginia Tobacco:

That the European Commodities, carried to Newfoundland by the Masters of English Ships, are as follows:

From France, Brandy, Wine, Salt, Linen, Canvas, Paper, Hats, and Silk:

From Spain, Wine, Brandy, and Iron: And,

From Portugal, Wine, Brandy, Salt, Oil, and Linen:

All which Goods are sold, or trucked, with the Traders from New-England, for Tobacco, Sugar, and other of the enumerated Commodities, which they carry to foreign Parts; so that, at the latter end of the Year, the Masters are wholly taken up in the Management of that illegal Trade, which might, in some measure, be prevented, had the Officer or Officers, commanding his Majesty's Ships, Power, like that of a Custom-house Officer, to seize such Goods:

That the New-England Traders seldom depart the Country, till the Men of War are first sailed; and then they carry with them Numbers of Handicraftsmen, Seamen, and Fishermen, whom they entice thither, in Expectation of great Wages:

That the Masters of Ships are very negligent in bringing their Men Home; whereby they save the Charge of their Passage; and those Men, so left, are enticed, and carried, to New-England:

That the Reason, why the New-England Men do fish upon the Coast of Newfoundland, besides their illegal Trade, is, that they may get those Men from thence; they having otherwise a more advantageous Fishery on their own Coast.

Against which Irregularities, we humbly offer, That a further Provision be made by some Bill, that shall pass this Honourable House, relating to Trade.

We take Leave to add a short Account of the State of the French Trade, and Fishery, in those Parts.

Their Trade in Furs, upon Newfoundland, is very inconsiderable; and their Fishery is managed all by Fishing Ships, without making use of Sack Ships, or By-Boats, as the English do.

Their Plantations there do not increase; nor are they of any other Use than for preserving the Boats, Craft, and Goods, left by the Merchant Ships for the succeeding Voyage.

They fish upon the Banks in Placentia Bay, and upon the North-east Coast of Newfoundland.

Placentia is the only Place of Strength they have in the Country; which is daily fortified, and well furnished with Ammunition; and had new Supplies this Year; there being Three Companies of Foot, with Thirty Men in each Company.

They have the Fish a Month sooner in Placentia Bay, make their Fish with greater Dispatch, and leave the Country much sooner, than our People; and, consequently, may supply any Market they please before us.

To the Bank they send yearly a considerable Number of Ships, to fish there; who arrive about the Tenth of June, and depart the latter End of August.

State of Defence of the Plantations.] As to the Security of his Majesty's Plantations, we did, on the 10th and 25th of January 1700-1 humbly lay before his Majesty the State of the several Forts, and Fortifications in his Majesty's Colonies and Plantations in America, and of other Particulars necessary for the Defence of the same; and thereupon, for his Majesty's further Information, did, by his Majesty's Command, write to the several Governors, directing them to dispatch to us, with all Diligence, perfect Accounts of the State of Defence of the Plantations under their Government, and of the Stores and Materials of War there wanting, that we might report to his Majesty what might be required from the several Plantations, and what may be fit for his Majesty to do for their Defence: And, having thereupon received Answers from several Governors, and further considered the Condition of those Parts, with relation to the present Conjuncture, we have lately represented the same to his Majesty; and do humbly lay before this Honourable House,

That Newfoundland is of great Importance to this Kingdom, by reason of its Trade and Fishery: That the Place of chief Strength in it is St. John's Harbour; which is now fortifying by his Majesty's Order; the Garrison there, there, by the Establishment, consisting of Eighty private Soldiers, besides Officers :

That we have been informed, from Captain Richards, the Engineer, That great Quantities of Materials were wanting from hence, for finishing the Forts ; and that he had engaged several Masters of Ships to bring each of them such Proportions in Ballast, at their next Return thither, as conveniently they might ; of which we have given Notice to the Office of his Majesty's Ordnance ; and are transacting with the Merchants and Owners of Ships, what in us lies, for the Furtherance of this Service :

That, on the Continent, his Majesty has a Dominion of a very large Extent, which, at present, requires a more especial Care :

That, as to the most Northern Parts, Colonel Romer, the Engineer, sent thither by his Majesty, having surveyed all the Coast from St. George's River to Boston, and sent us Draughts of the several Bays and Harbours, with the Condition of several Places on that Coast, which are thought necessary to be fortified ; we thereupon offer the following Account ; viz.

That, about Five Leagues to the Westward of St. George's, lies Pemaquid, a spacious River of great Consequence, as covering Three other Rivers ; at the Entrance of which River, within Two Leagues of the main Sea, formerly stood a Fort, which, in the late War, at the Approach of Two French Men of War, with an Hundred Soldiers, and Five hundred Indians, was surrendered by a Garrison appointed by the People of New-England, and demolished by the said French and Indians.

That, for the Security of this Fort and Harbour, and of all that Country, and to encourage the People to settle there as formerly, Colonel Romer advises, that a good Fort be built in the same Place, or thereabouts ; and, for its better Defence, in case of an Attack from the Sea, that a Battery be raised at the next Point of Land, and a Redoubt, or round Tower, on St. John's Island :

That Piscataway is a River of great Importance to Trade, and the Security of that Country ; being the Boundary between the Province of Main and New Hampshire ; and, on Great Island, so called, at the Mouth of this River, is a Fort of Thirty Guns, on New Hampshire Side, but incapable of defending the River ; the Place where the said Fort stands being very proper for building a new Fort, such as the growing Trade of that Place and Country requires, Colonel Romer has sent a Design thereof ; and adds, That a strong Tower on the Point of Fryer's Island, a Battery on Wood Island, and another Battery on Clark's Island, would be very necessary :

That the Massachusetts Bay has in it many Islands ; the chiefest whereof is Castle Island, not far from Boston ; upon which is a Fort, for securing the Passages and Channels of the Bay :

That, by a Memorial and Two Addresses, presented to his Majesty from the Council and Assembly of that Province, they represent their Unwillingness to comply with what has been required from them for their own Defence, and towards the Building of Forts in the neighbouring Province of New Hampshire, as well as with the Quota of Three hundred and Fifty Men, directed to be furnished by them, in case of Necessity, for the Security of the Frontiers of New York ; alleging, for Excuse, the Charge they have been at in building a small Fortification at Casco Bay, Fifty Miles to the Eastward ; and their being now actually at Work in raising Fortifications on Castle Island, in the Harbour of Boston ; which they esteem to be the Place of the greatest Consequence ; and representing withal, That the Fort at Pimaquid, which they were required to build, would be useless to them, as well as too chargeable ; which Place, nevertheless, being within their Territories, is generally esteemed of great Security to those Eastern Parts, bordering upon the French.

They further humbly signify their Desire, That his Majesty would be graciously pleased to assist them with Cannon, small Arms, and other Stores of War, for the Fortifications there ; as also, That some Ships of War, of greater Force than those at present in that Station, Improvement may be sent, for the better Guarding and Securing of of Trade the Coast, in case of War.

Vol. 13.

To which Colonel Romer adds, That the People there are unfit for any military Service, and stand in great need of a good Commander, with other subordinate Officers, and One hundred and Fifty Men, for the Defence of the new Fortification : That they want Fifty Cannon, of Twenty-four Pound to Eighteen Pound Ball, Two Mortars, Granadoes, and Bullets, in a reasonable Proportion, Four Thousand Hand Granadoes with their Fuzes, Six hundred Fire Arms, Four hundred Heads for Half-pikes, Two Master Gunners, and One Bombardier ; the said Colonel Romer informing us, that Four French Ships were lately arrived in Accadie, with a new Governor, and Six hundred Men ; which gave great Apprehensions to his Majesty's Subjects in the Massachusetts Bay.

Whereupon we have humbly represented, That his Majesty would be pleased to send thither some Cannon, and such a Quantity of small Arms demanded, as his Majesty should think fit ; as also to constitute, and immediately send thither, a Governor, and Lieutenant Governor, fit and proper to assert his Majesty's Authority in those Parts ; and also well qualified to compose the Factions that have divided the Inhabitants thereof ; and that such Governor, or Lieutenant Governor, should strictly admonish and require the Inhabitants to exert themselves, as well in fortifying those Parts, as in providing what may be necessary, in all respects, for their further Defence.

That Connecticut, being likewise a Frontier Province to the French, and the Inhabitants having been negligent of their own Security, we humbly offered, That his Majesty would be pleased to direct them to make due Preparations against an Attack ; and to be ready to assist their Neighbours of New York, and New England :

That, in the Province of New York, which is esteemed as the Centre of his Majesty's Plantations on the Continent, there is a Fort for the Security of that City and Harbour, which is in a tolerable good Condition : From thence, One hundred and Forty Miles up Hudson's River, is the Town and Fort of Albany ; and, about Twenty Miles further, on another River, lies Schenectady ; both which are of great Consequence towards the Security of those Parts ; and do therefore require an Assistance of Money to be sent thither, for the necessary Repairs, and adding what further Works may be wanting.

In the Onondage Country, a Fort was proposed, by the late Earl of Bellomont, towards the securing the Five Nations of Indians in their Allegiance to his Majesty ; for which Provision is already made, by his Majesty's Gift of Five hundred Pounds, and a Contribution of Fifteen hundred Pounds by the Assembly of New York ; though, upon the more pressing Necessity of repairing the Forts at Albany and Schenectady, we have given our Advice, that some Part of the said Fifteen hundred Pounds should be made use of towards that Service :

And whereas this Province has been at great Charge, for its own Defence, during the late War ; and is unable to sustain the Continuance of such a Charge, without some Help, his Majesty has been pleased further to assist them, upon several Occasions, with Stores of War ; and lately, upon sending of the Lord Cornbury thither, with a considerable Quantity of Ammunition : But, as for the Contributions which we did propose to his Majesty, as fit to be made by other Plantations on that Continent, and, in order to which, his Majesty has been pleased to send Letters to the respective Governors and Proprietors, the said Plantations have generally declined it, without giving any substantial Reason for the same : And, in Consideration thereof, we have again humbly offered, That his Majesty's Orders be renewed to those Plantations, in the most pressing Terms, That they do comply with his Directions therein, as a Matter of common Benefit and Security.

The Provinces of East and West New Jersey are without any Forts, or Places of Defence ; and being Properties, where where no regular Government hath ever been established, the great Disorders amongst them have now inclined the Proprietors to make Application to his Majesty, to accept of a Surrender of their pretended Right to Government, and to put them under a Governor appointed by his Majesty's immediate Commission; which Matter is now transacting, and a Form of Surrender returned from his Majesty's Attorney General, which the said Proprietors are to execute.

The Province of Pensilvania is likewise without Fortifications, and in no State of Defence; nor has any Progress been made therein by the Proprietor, notwithstanding our Instance to him on that Subject, by Order of the Lords Justices.

His Majesty's Provinces of Maryland and Virginia, being large Territories, and lying open by great Rivers, cannot so well be secured by Fortifications; but in both those Provinces, there is a well-regulated Militia, and Places of Rendezvous appointed for any Occasion: But we understand, that, at present, they are in want of a Supply of Small Arms and Ammunition.

The Provinces of North and South Carolina are under Proprietors, who do not take due Care to put that Country into a State of Defence, notwithstanding their being so exposed by the Neighbourhood of the Spaniards: We therefore have judged it necessary to the publick Service, that the said Proprietors be quickened, by an immediate Order from his Majesty, to perform their Duty herein, until some other Provision be made.

The Bahama Islands lying before the Gulph of Florida, and in the Way of all Ships that come from the Havanna, and the Bay of Mexico, it is of great Consequence to his Majesty's Service, that they be preserved from an Enemy. They belong to Proprietors, who ought to take care of them; but we have not been able to dispose those Proprietors to such Compliance, as was proper for his Majesty's Service therein. The Governor has lately desired some Force to keep the Fort there, built for Thirty-two Guns; which being of immediate Concern to the Proprietors, it is necessary that they be obliged to take some speedy Care therein.

In the Bermuda Islands there are Five little Castles; Three of which, lying at the Entrance of the easiest Passages to those Islands, are most considerable; where many of the Platforms being decayed, the Guns unserviceable, and Stores and Ammunition wanting, a Supply of such Stores have, upon our Representation to his Majesty, been lately sent. Captain Bennet, his Majesty's Commander in Chief in those Islands, has prevailed with the Assembly to pass an Act for repairing their Forts and Platforms; and has caused Trenches to be cast up in all Places where an Enemy may most probably attempt to land; so that, we hope, thereby, and the Company of Foot, which his Majesty has likewise sent thither, that Government is now in a good State of Defence.

As to Jamaica, we laid before his Majesty, in our Report of the 25th of January 1700-1, the Importance of that Island, with Draughts and Plans of the necessary Fortifications, and several Considerations and Proposals relating to the Defence of each Part thereof; and his Majesty has since been pleased to commissionate Brigadier Selwyn to be Chief Governor there: Upon which Occasion, his Majesty sent thither Two Regiments of Foot, with Stores and Ammunition, for the Defence of the said Island; and, upon the Arrival of Colonel Selwyn there, we expect to hear from him what Reinforcement of Men, and other Materials and Requisites of War, will be further wanting for the Security of that Island, and putting it into a Posture of offending an Enemy from thence; this Island lying, as it were, in the Centre of the Spanish West Indies, and of the French Settlements.

Sir William Beeston, his Majesty's late Governor of that Place, gives us an Account, That he had yet no News of his Majesty's Squadron, under the Command of Vice Admiral Bembow; but that he was credibly informed, That, about the Twentieth of September, Twenty-six Sail were seen to Windward of Martinico, and the People of Jamaica supposed them to be French; which had engaged him to the putting the Island into as good a Posture of Defence as he could: That he has finished several small Works near Port-Royal, and caused the Bays, where most probably an Enemy may land, to be intrenched; he has further, by the Resolution of a Council of War, fortified the Town of St. Jago with a good Trench, regular Works, and Bastions; having Five hundred Negroes daily on those Works, at the Expence of the Island.

As to the Leeward Islands, at St. Christopher's, there is a Fort, called Cleverly-Point Fort, where Twenty Guns are mounted; Brimstone-Hill Fort, where there are Twelve Guns, and a small Platform, where is Six Guns: There being also Thirty Pieces of Cannon brought out of the French Part of this Island during the late War, Colonel Codrington has given Directions for the mounting and placing them, with all Speed; which being done, he conceives, that there is not Occasion, at present, for more Artillery there; nor does he specify any further Want of Materials relating to the Defence of that Island; but represents the Danger of it to be greater than any other, by reason of the French being possessed of One Half, and the Fate of it likely to be decided upon the breaking out of a War, as hath formerly happened.

At Antegoa are several little Forts and Platforms. The Governor proposes the sending of Twenty long Sakers, which may serve as well against the Indians as any other Enemy; as likewise, the building a small Fort at Parham, for which he desires Twelve Guns. He would also make a new Platform in another Place, where Privateers, in time of War, and unlawful Traders, in time of Peace, are very busy. He further adds, the great Want of Small Arms in this Island.

At Nevis, Colonel Codrington represents the Want of new Carriages for the Guns; and desires, further, Four long Sakers, Six Guns Twelve Pounders, and Six Eighteen Pounders, with a sufficient Quantity of Shot for them, and Five hundred Saker Shot for the Guns already in the Fort and Platforms, together with Twenty Barrels of Cannon Powder; his Majesty having been lately pleased to order Six hundred Firelocks to be sent to this Island, for as many Matchlocks returned from thence.

As to Mountserrat, the Governor represents the Island as able to defend itself; but fears a Danger from within, by an Insurrection, as happened upon breaking out of the last War; most of the Inhabitants of that Place being Papists.

His Majesty has, in these Islands, a Regiment of Foot, lately sent from Ireland; which wants to be strengthened, being of the lowest Complement.

The Island of Barbadoes, to the Windward, is naturally fortified by Rocks; and, for Defence of the Leeward Side, which is most exposed to an Enemy, there is now a Trench of Seven Feet broad, and Five Feet deep, all along the Coast; and, behind that, a Breast-work of loose Sand, about Six Feet high, and Three Feet broad at the Top: There are also, on that Side, several Redoubts; and at Bridge-Town, Two Forts, one at the Entrance of the Road, and the other within; which are the Defence of that Town and Road.

We have received from the Lord Grey, since his Arrival, a Memorial of what may be necessary for the Defence of this Island: That, upon a strict Survey of the State of the Fortifications, made by himself, and Commissioners appointed for that Purpose, he found, in Twenty-nine Forts and Batteries, Three hundred and Eight Guns of several Sorts; viz. Two Demi Cannon, Seventy-five Culverins, One hundred and Eight Demi Culverins, One hundred and One Sakers, and Twenty-two Minions; several of which were unserviceable: That most of the Forts and Batteries were out of Repair; his Lordship offering his Opinion, upon Consultation with the most experienced Inhabitants of the Island, That there be sent thither, at least One hundred great Guns, of Twelve Feet long, together with a suitable Proportion of Shot, and and all other Ordnance Stores needful for them. He further says, That there is a Want of Small Arms and Shot.

Upon which Occasion, we humbly take Leave to inform this Honourable House, That the Inhabitants of this Island have, at all times, built their own Forts, and kept them in Repair at their own Expence; and have furnished themselves, for the most part, with Small Arms; but, at present they complain of their being deprived of the Revenue of 4½ per Centum, raised within that Island for their Fortifications, and other publick Uses; and of their being weakened by the great Expence they were at in assisting the Leeward Islands, during the late War; for which they desire a Compensation: But, as to such a Number of great Guns, as may be proper, with a due Proportion of Shot and Ammunition, as by them desired, we humbly conceive, they must be sent from England.

The Company of Merchants trading to Hudson's Bay, having a Factory in those Parts, represent, That they can no way be safe, unless some Care be taken by his Majesty of their Security, which they have particularized to us.

Which Demands, made by the several Colonies and Plantations before-mentioned, we conceive to be chiefly in View of a present Defence: But, in case of a War, we are humbly of Opinion, That a greater Quantity of Stores, and Materials of War, will be wanting; and that, in the principal and most considerable of those Plantations, it will be necessary, that there be Magazines of Ordnance Stores, of all Kinds, as well for the Defence of each respective Place, and of the Colonies adjoining, as for annoying the Enemy; who will be very watchful and active, in this Conjunction, to take Advantage against any of his Majesty's Plantations, which are of so great Importance to the Trade and Welfare of England.

We are also humbly of Opinion, That there be a like Provision there of Naval Stores, and Credit for his Majesty's Ships of War; which have often lain very long useless in Harbour in those Parts, by reason of their Want of Necessaries for refitting; which has been of great Prejudice to his Majesty's Service; the Safety of his Majesty's Dominions in America depending chiefly on the naval Force to be sent thither at proper Seasons, which may secure that Trade, and encourage the Planters, who will otherwise be apt to desert their Settlements.

Propriety Governments.] And as it appears by what we have before represented: That the Propriety Colonies are in a State wholly defenceless; and that the Proprietors and Charter Governments have not complied with what has been demanded of them, in reference to Trade, or with what may be necessary for the common Safety: That they have not conformed themselves to the Acts of Parliament, for the regulating Trade and Navigation; several of the Governors, nominated to such Propriety Governments, not having applied themselves to his Majesty, for his Approbation, nor taken the Oaths required by the Acts of Trade: That they have made Laws contrary and repugnant to the Laws of England, and directly prejudicial to Trade: That by raising and lowering their Coin, to their particular Advantage, and to the Prejudice of other Colonies, by exempting their Inhabitants from Duties and Customs, to which the other Colonies are subject, by harbouring Servants and Fugitives, and thereby encouraging the Desertion of his Majesty's Standing Forces in those Parts, these Governments tend greatly to the undermining the Trade of the other Plantations: That these independent Colonies do turn the Course of Trade, to the promoting and propagating Woollen Manufactures, proper to England, instead of applying their Endeavours to the Production of such Commodities as are fit to be encouraged in those Parts:

To redress which, and divers other great Abuses in those Colonies, and to introduce such an Administration of Justice, as might be duly subservient and useful to England, we have formerly humbly offered our Opinion thereupon to this Honourable House, and, in Consideration that the

VOL. 13.

Cautions, given them herein, have not met with due Compliance, several Governors and Lieutenant Governors, not qualified according to the late Act of Parliament, having been appointed by those Proprietors, even since the last Session of Parliament, we cannot but continue in the same Opinion, that it may be very expedient, for the Ends above mentioned, and particularly for the mutual Defence of the Plantations, that the Charters of the several Proprietors and others, be, by the Legislative Power of this Kingdom, reassumed to the Crown; and that these Colonies be put into the same State of Dependency as other his Majesty's Plantations, without Prejudice to any Man's Property or Freehold; which, as it will greatly contribute to the Welfare of his Majesty's Subjects in those Parts, and to the Advantage of this Kingdom, is hereby humbly recommended to the Consideration of this Honourable House; together with the several other Particulars before enumerated; as most effectually tending to the Security of his Majesty's Plantations, and the Encouragement of Trade.

A Petition of the Provost and Corporation of Moneyers, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners are obliged to make good all Gold and Silver committed to their Charge; and, upon any Expedition of Coinage, are forced to take Fifty, an Hundred, or more, strange Men, as Servants and Labourers, to dispatch the Business of the Mint; who often have robbed the Petitioners of great Sums of Money; who have been convicted thereof; but then have the Benefit of the Clergy: And praying, That for preventing such Robberies, and deterring their Servants from the same, those Crimes may be made Felony without the Benefit of Clergy.

That the Commons cannot agree to the Amendments, made by your Lordships, to the Bill, intituled, An Act for the Attainder of the pretended Prince of Wales of High Treason; believing it may be of dangerous Consequence to attaint Persons by an Amendment only; in which Case, such due Consideration cannot be had, as the Nature of an Attainder does require.

Resolved, That a Conference be desired with the Lords upon the Subject-matter of the said Amendments.

Ordered, That Sir Rowland Gwyn do go to the Lords, and desire the said Conference.

Motion for considering the Rights

A Motion being made, That the House will appoint a Day to take into Consideration the Rights and Privileges of the House of Commons;

And a Debate arising in the House thereupon;

Ordered, That the Debate be adjourned until after the Report touching the Election for the Borough of Maidstone be taken.

Sir Rowland Gwyn, according to Order, reported, from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to the said Committee, touching the Election for the Borough of Maidstone, in the County of Kent; and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

Upon the Petition of Thomas Colepeper Esquire complaining of an undue Election of Tho. Blisse Esquire, to serve for the Borough of Maidstone.

That, upon the Poll, there were,

For Mr. Blisse - - - 339.

For Mr. Colepeper - - - 337.

That the Right of Election was agreed to be in the Freemen not receiving Alms or Charities.

But the Petitioner's Counsel insisted, That they should take off Eight from the Sitting Member's Poll, as Almsmen.

And it appeared, by the Evidence of Rob. Barwick, Thomas Sabb, and Rob. Jeffries, that Cornelius Pollard and John Woodgate received Relief of the Parish.

That it was testified by Sabb, That Peter Clupper had likewise received Half a Crown weekly ever since Easter; but is Beadle; and Sabb could not say whether he received it as Beadle, or as a lame Man: And that the other Two Beadles have Half a Crown a Week; and Clepper has no other Pay as Beadle:

That it was testified also by Barwick and Sabb, That William Downes had weekly Relief out of the Extraordinaries; which has been paid him since Christmas: And that Henry Robinson lives in a Town Alms-house, being allowed only House-rent: That John Woodfield, John Banks, and George Jeffreys, live in some Alms-houses given by Sir John Banks; and Jeffries received Relief last Year, before he went into that House, but does not receive any now: And that Woodfield is a Smith, and does exercise his Trade.

That the Petitioner's Counsel also insisted, That there had been several ill Practices used by the Sitting Member: And they called several Witnesses:

Ithnah Wright: Who said, That John Woodfield was brought to poll by Finch's Man: And Wright asking Woodfield why he would vote contrary to his Inclinations; Woodfield said, He had Orders to be for Mr. Blisse, or otherwise he would have been for Mr. Colepeper.

Rich. Ravenhill said, That, on the Fourteenth of November, he was at Marshall's, who keeps the Crown and Scepter in Maidstone: And Mr. Blisse came, and drank: And, going away, Mr. Blisse desired to pay his Reckoning, and pulled out a Guinea: Which the Landlord took up, and told the Scores: And then said, There was 16 s. to pay, and 5 s. 6 d. to come in; which they drank, and afterwards spent their Two-pence apiece: He said, He believed there were Half a Score present, whereof he named Four that voted for Mr. Blisse; but himself voted for Mr. Colepeper; and he could not say, that Mr. Blisse did ask any of them for their Votes: He said, at the same time, Mr. Blisse gave his Wife 10 s. for her Brother, to pay an old Debt.

Rob. Jeffries acknowledged, That he had received the said 10 s. of his Sister, which was for an old Debt, which Mr. Blisse had owed him Ten Years, and formerly had denied to pay: The said Jeffries also said, He was present at the Time spoken of by Ravenhill; and that there were several drinking, at Marshall's House, Drink, and Mr. Blisse's Health: And that Mr. Blisse, before he went away, put his Hand into his Pocket, and put something into Marshall's Hand, which, Marshall afterwards told him, was a Guinea.

Samuel Webb said, That he kept the Three Conyes: And that Captain Blisse came to his House on the Fifteenth of November, November, and brought one George Varnill with him; and called for a Mug of Ale, and drank, with some others: That Mr. Blisse asked the said Webb for his Vote: But Webb said, He would not promise; whereupon the Captain threw down 5s. and went away: Webb said, All the Company, but himself, voted for Mr. Blisse; but the said Webb voted for Mr. Colepeper.

Robert Collins, Chr. Dawson, said, They were at the Anchor and Hope, the Fourteenth of November, with Five others, the best Part of an Hour; and that Mr. Blisse, when he went away, put his Hand in his Pocket, and threw down Two Half-crowns, which the Landlord took up: And Mr. Blisse said, He did not ask them for their Votes, but hoped they would stand by him: That one of the Persons worked in Mr. Blisse's Hop Garden: That they did not pay for the Drink themselves, nor see any body else pay any thing; and that Five of the Company voted for Mr. Blisse.

Tho. Hodges said, That he was at the Monk's Head, on the Fifteenth of November, with some of his Neighbours; and Mr. Blisse came in, and said, He hoped there were none there but Friends: That Mr. Blisse threw down something: And the Master said, The Reckoning was paid; but, what it was, he could not tell, whether more than 6d.: And Hodges said, He voted for Mr. Colepeper.

John Poston said, He voted for Sir Robert Marsham, and Mr. Colepeper; and that he was with about Twenty others, the Saturday before the Election, at the Chequer, drinking Mr. Blisse's Health; and they had Twenty Pots of Flip, at the least: And he was also at the Three Tuns, after the Writs were out, and before the Election, where they drank as much Beer and Brandy as they pleased, and nobody asked for any Money; but Mr. Blisse furnishes both Houses: Poston said, Mr. Blisse was not present at any of those Two Meetings; neither was there any Talk of voting, nor did Mr. Bliss invite any body.

Joseph Hill said, That one Johnson endeavoured to get Votes for Mr. Blisse; and Johnson offered him a Bottle of Wine, and said, If that would not do, he would give him 10s.: And that, the Day before the Election, there was, at the Chequer, Beer, Brandy, Oysters, Bread and Cheese: That himself paid nothing; and Mr. Blisse threw down 1s. and serves that House with Drink.

John White said, He was, at the time mentioned by Poston, at the Three Tuns, where were about Twenty others, and he did see nobody pay; but Mr. Blisse was not present: That he voted for Mr. Colepeper; for which Robert Hooker, the Master, was angry with him, because he had drank at Mr. Blisse's Cost.

William Boreman said, That he was at the Green Dragon, where were Two Freemen; and Captain Blisse came in, and desired the Man of the House his Vote; which he denied: And Mr. Blisse called for a Pot, and threw down 1s. which they drank out.

George King said, That he was one of them that did eat at the Chequer, and nothing to pay; and that Mr. Blisse desired his Vote, and promised him his Work: And whispered him, and said, Moreover, he would give him a Piece of Money.

* Congrell said, He was at Pearce's House a Day or Two before the Election, and eat about Three Mouthfuls of Victuals: That he voted for Mr. Blisse; and after the Election, Pearce gave him Two Shillings.

Roger Easton said, He was no Freeman; but, Four or Five Days before the Election, he was at Rigden's House, in the Kitchen, and there were about Half a Dozen of them, and they drank to the Value of 1s.: That he saw Mr. Bliss give Rigden something, which, he believes, was the Reckoning; and that himself paid nothing: That there were also about Twenty Freemen eating and drinking at the Windmill, for which they did not pay; and Mr. Bliss was there, and asked the Gentlemen, how they did; and said, They were welcome.

Samuel Coachman said, That, a Day or Two before the Election, himself, with some others, to the Number of Ten or a Dozen, were at the Chequer, where they had Pork and Peas for Dinner, and what Beer they would drink; and that Mr. Vincent, the Landlord, who voted for Mr. Blisse, said, It was his Treat: He said, There was no Discourse about Votes; and that himself voted for Mr. Colepeper.

VOL. 13.

Susan Fletcher said, That Mr. Blisse came to her, and desired her Husband's Vote; telling her, That her Husband's was a leading Vote; and, if they did not choose him, they had as good take a Rope, and hang him; and, if she had Occasion for 5 or 10l. she should have it.

Tho. Mortimer said, That he was at the Black Boy the One-and-twentieth of November; and Mr. Blisse gave his Wife 6d. to treat a Couple of Collar-makers; and desired him to make some of them People for him, but he could not.

John Cavell said, That one sent for him to Marshal's, at the Chequer; where after a little while, one called him out, and desired him to be for Mr. Blisse; and told him, He should not come into Mr. Blisse's House: That, afterwards, Mr. Blisse desired his Vote; but... did vote for Mr. Colepeper.

Ithamah Wright said, That, the Beginning of November, upon the Talk of the Dissolution of the last Parliament, Mr. Blisse understanding the said Wright had declared his Interest, Mr. Blisse told him, He had no Children, and should remember his Friends; and, the said Wright not complying with Mr. Blisse, he told the said Wright, he might have Cause to repent it.

That, the Eighteenth or Nineteenth November, some Link-boys broke his Windows: And, on the Twenty November, between Eight and Nine a Clock, there was a great Tumult of about Twenty Persons got together, with a Trumpet and a Drum before them, who broke his Windows, and affrighted his Wife into Fits; and, amongst them, was one Moor, Mr. Blisse's Head Brewer, and one Mills, another of his Servants.

Mrs. Eliz. Wattle said, She could say nothing as to the Election; but said Mr. Blisse came to her, to desire her Interest: Upon which Mrs. Wattle told him, That the King did not like him, and had sent him Home; and she desired to please the King: And Mr. Blisse replied, A Usurper! and, Kings would be arbitrary; and, He could not go out of his House, without being ready to tumble on a Cess Book: That she made Affidavit of this Matter; and a tumultuous Rabble, the same Day, broke open her Door, and broke her Windows.

The Committee examined into the Circumstances of this Matter: And she gave an Account, how she made Two Affidavits relating to it; the latter being, to supply the Defect of Time, not mentioned in the First; but, it being not strictly to this Matter, I only mention it in general.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel insisted, That the Petitioner had more who received Alms, that voted for him, than there was of that Sort, who voted for the Sitting Member: That they would justify the Sitting Member in relation to the ill Practices charged upon him, and prove several ill Practices by the Petitioner: And called several Witnesses.

As to the Guinea given in Evidence to be spent at Marshal's House, the Chequer; the Sitting Member called,

John Marshal himself: Who said, That Mr. Blisse, upon Marshal's taking that House of Mr. Blisse about Three Quarters of a Year before, did promise to give him something for House-warming; which Promise he renewed several times: That, on the Thirteenth or Fourteenth of November, accordingly, he gave him a Guinea, which the said Marshal gave to his Wife: That, at the Time spoken of by the Petitioner's Witnesses, there were several others present, as well as Freemen; and some of them went away without paying; and one Hywood said, He would pay when he had Money: But the said Marshal denied that any Money was spent on the Account of the Election; and said, That Mr. Blisse told him, If he did draw any Drink on his Account, it would be as much as his Election was worth.

Maidstone
Election.

Alexander Wallis, Thomas Mills, said, That Mr. Blisse, about Midsummer last, did promise Marshall something towards Housekeeping.

Tho. Mills said, That, at the Beginning of the Election, he was sent by Mr. Blisse to several Publick-houses in Maidstone, particularly to the Chequer, Three Tuns, the Ship, the Monk's-Head, the Crown, the Lion, the Plume of Feathers and Shears, to forbid them to treat upon his Account.

Tho. Moor also said, That, about a Week before the Election, he was sent, by Mr. Blisse, to several Publick-houses, to forbid Treating.

The next Thing the Sitting Member's Counsel applied themselves to, was, to disqualify some of the Petitioner's Voters.

Zac. Collison said, That John Farrington received Alms of the Parish; and he had given William Corford Monies Four or Five times, but not weekly; and the last Time was Half a Year since:

That James Howard received Half a Year ago, being in Prison; and not since he had his Liberty; but his Wife had received weekly the Year before:

That Benjamin Gregson was dumb; but it was acknowledged he did buy and sell:

And that John Baptist is a Foreigner; but it was acknowledged he followed the Trade of a Barber in Maidstone.

That the next Thing the Sitting Member's Counsel proceeded on, was, a Charge of Bribery, by or on the behalf of the Petitioner: And called,

John Heley: Who said, That he came to London some time before the Election; and got the Names of about Ten Freemen, and returned to Maidstone, and acquainted Mr. Colepeper with it: That, before the Election, he had Occasion to go to London again; and Mr. Colepeper bid him get those Freemen down, and use his own Means: That Mr. Colepeper also drew a Bill upon my Lord Colepeper for 40 l. which he desired the said Heley to bring down with him; but he ignorantly gave to the said Ten Freemen in London from 10 to 25 Shillings a Man, to bring them down: He said, He did desire their Votes for Mr. Colepeper; but Two or Three of them turned Cat-in-pan, and voted for Mr. Blisse.

David Copstick, one of those Freemen who lived in Southwark, said, He received of Heley Twenty-four or Twenty-five Shillings.

Oliver Simons, another of those Freemen, acknowledged, He received 20 s. of the said Heley, and voted for Mr. Colepeper, otherwise he would have voted for Mr. Blisse.

Richard Leder: That, on the Thirteenth Day of November, Mr. Colepeper laid down a Guinea, at the Castle in Maidstone, to be drank; and that the said Leder, and other Freemen, drank of it: He said, Mr. Colepeper desired their Votes; but he voted for Mr. Blisse.

William Ward said, That Mr. Colepeper, Four or Five Days before the Election, gave to Daniel Comber, 10 s. to be spent amongst the Freemen; and he also gave 10 s. to Henry Ward, upon the same Account.

Tho. Symonds said, That Mr. Colepeper, about Ten Days before the Election, gave him 5 s. to spend among the People: And that one Catlin told him, That Mr. Colepeper gave him 20 s. for his Vote: Symonds voted for Mr. Blisse.

George Ward said, That Mr. Thomas Colepeper, at several times, put into his Hands the Value of Two Guineas, to drink at several times; and told the said Ward, If he would vote for him, the said Ward should get 20 l. a Year by his Trade; and, if he was turned out of the House he then lived in, he should live in a House of Mr. Colepeper's.

The next Head the Sitting Member's Counsel proceeded to, was, that of Libels and Reflections by the Petitioner.

William Wowsden produced a Letter, with a printed Paper in it, which, he said, was brought to his House by a Person unknown, and brought to him by his Man: And Mr. Taylor said, The Letter was Mr. Thomas

Colepeper's Hand: And the said printed Paper was read; and is called, A Letter to the Freeholders and Freemen of England.

William Thacker said, That he was sent by Mr. Thomas Colepeper to Dr. Smith, for some Papers; and he brought away with him about Five Quires, and delivered the same to his Master: And, the next Day, several Freemen, that came to his Master, when they came from him, brought down Papers with them.

And, one of those Papers being produced, it appeared to be the same Paper with that received by Mr. Wowsden, in Mr. Colepeper's Letter: And

William Thacker said further, That, upon Sunday the Sixteenth of November, Dr. Smith, Mr. Thomas Colepeper, Captain White, Captain Robinson, and Mr. Hamilton, dined at Sir Thomas Colepeper's; and, amongst other Discourse one said, That Mr. John How had delivered an Address to his Majesty, and that his Majesty had received him with a particular Favour: Whereupon Dr. Smith said, It was a devilish Lie, and the Party would say any thing; but they must outlye them.

He also gave an Account of some Discourse at Mr. Colepeper's House, at Dinner, in relation to what Mr. Blisse had said to Mrs. Wattle; and how at first it was reported, that Mrs. Wattle would not stand to it: Afterwards he heard she was willing to do any thing to serve Mr. Colepeper, but would not take away Mr. Blisse's Life: And that, they being talking about that Matter, one said, If Mr. Blisse would have quitted his Interest, Mrs. Wattle would not have sworn to it: And Mr. Colepeper said, She would not: And the said Thacker gave an Account of several other Circumstances; which, not being directly to the Election, and difficult to be collected, I refer to the Memory of Gentlemen of the Committee, which was very well attended.

Tho. Swinnock said, That Mr. Francis Brook desired of Dr. Smith, that he would be kind to his Neighbours: And Dr. Smith said, That the tumultuous Proceedings at the Election were a great Matter in Mr. Colepeper's Petition; and they must make a Riot of it, or it would go against Mr. Colepeper in the House.

John Wylett said, That Thacker, when he served Sir Robert Guildford, pretended to be a Roman Catholick, and went not to Church.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to these Resolutions;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Thomas Blisse Esquire is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Maidstone.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Thomas Colepeper Esquire hath been guilty of corrupt, scandalous, and indirect Practices, in endeavouring to procure himself to be elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Maidstone.

The First Resolution being read a Second time;

Resolved, That the House do agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That Thomas Blisse Esquire is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Maidstone.

The Second Resolution being read a Second time;

A printed Libel, mentioned in the said Report, to be sent, in a Letter, by the said Mr. Colepeper, intituled, "A Letter to the Freeholders and Freemen of England," was read:

And an Amendment being proposed to be made to the said Second Resolution, by adding, after "Esquire," these Words, "who was one of the Instruments in promoting "and presenting the scandalous, insolent, and seditious "Petition, commonly called the Kentish Petition, to the "last House of Commons:"

And the same was, upon the Question put thereupon, agreed to by the House.

Resolved, That the House doth agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, so amended, That Thomas Colepeper Esquire, who was one of the Instruments in promoting and presenting the scandalous, insolent, and seditious seditionous Petition, commonly called the Kentish Petition, to the last House of Commons, hath been guilty of corrupt, scandalous, and indirect Practices, in endeavouring to procure himself to be elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Maidstone.

Resolved, That the aspersing the last House of Commons, or any Member thereof, with receiving French Money, or being in the Interest of France, was a scandalous, villainous, and groundless Reflection, tending to Sedition, and to create a Misunderstanding between the King and his People.

Resolved, That Thomas Colepeper Esquire is guilty of promoting the said scandalous, villainous, and groundless Reflection upon the said House of Commons.

Ordered, That the said Thomas Colepeper Esquire be, for his said Offence, committed to his Majesty's Gaol of Newgate: And that Mr. Speaker do issue his Warrants accordingly.

Ordered, That his Majesty's Attorney General do prosecute the said Tho. Colepeper Esquire for the said Crimes.

Mr. Colepeper committed to Newgate.

Because the Lords are of Opinion, That due Consideration, such as the Nature of an Attainder does require, may be had when the Attainder comes in by way of Amendment: And the Lords find the Commons themselves did, by way of Amendment, add the Names of several Persons, to be attainted, in an Act, 31 H. Eight, sent down by the Lords for attainting the Marquis of Exeter, and others; and they have never heard of any ill Consequence by that Proceeding; to which the Lords, at that time, made no exception: And though the Lords find, That the Attainder of Persons, originally named in that Bill, have since been reversed; yet it does not appear, upon the Search they have made, but that the Attainders of the Persons, so added by the Commons, remain to this Day in Force.

The Address of the County of Dublin was read:

And are as follow; viz.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens of the City of Dublin, in Common Council assembled.

Great Sir,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful Subjects of this City, with all Humility, presume to lay before your Sacred Majesty the great Pressures we, with the rest of our Protestant Fellow Subjects, lie under, by the rigorous Execution of the late Act of Resumption, and the unsupportable Charge occasioned thereby to great Numbers of your loyal Subjects, who were wholly unconcerned in the late Forfeitures in this Kingdom.

Nothing less than the Ruin of many thousand Protestant improving Tenants, Purchasers, and others, which will immediately follow the further Execution of that Act, could force us to give your Majesty the least Interruption, by our Complaints, at a time when the most weighty Affairs of Europe are under the Consideration of your Majesty, and your great Council.

But we apprehend, Great Sir, that we should fail in that Regard we ought to have for the Protestant Interest of this Kingdom, should we omit representing to your Majesty the Danger, to which it is exposed, by Colour of that Act.

It is evident, that your Protestant Subjects here are daily harassed and disquieted on Account of groundless Discoveries; or, upon other Pretences, obliged to attend, from time to time, the Pleasure of the Trustees, at their own Expences; whilst most of the Irish Papists, especially those, who, by your Majesty's Grace, were restored to their Estates and Blood, are, in a great measure, exempted from the Charge, which the Execution of that Act has brought on your Majesty's Protestant Subjects of this City and Kingdom.

That the Trustees, by assuming a Power to review the Decrees of Judgments of the highest Court in this Kingdom; and declaring, That whatever they sell, as forfeited, must be, for ever after, conclusive; renders our Properties precarious, and greatly disheartens your loyal Subjects in this Kingdom.

We must add, that the Expence, to which we, and the rest of your Subjects in this Kingdom, have already been put, in maintaining and defending our just Rights and Properties; the Salaries of the Trustees, and of their numerous Officers, with other incident Charges, if cast up; will exceed the most that That Act, even as now executed, can produce.

We are persuaded, the Parliament of England in no sort designed to lay so heavy a Burden on us; the whole Act being grounded upon gross Misinformations given them them in that exorbitant Report made by the Persons intrusted with that Inquiry.

May it therefore please Your Majesty to take our distressed Condition into Your Princely Care; and to give us Relief herein, as to Your Majesty shall seem proper for the Removal of so great a Burden.

And give us Leave, on this Occasion, to assure Your Majesty, that we will, at all times, shew a ready Zeal to maintain and defend Your Majesty's Person and Government, the Rights and Liberties of the Imperial Crown of England, against all Opposers whatsoever. In Testimony whereof, we have caused our Common Seal to be hereunto affixed, this 16th Day of January, in the Year of our Lord 1701.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Nobility, Justices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Clergy, Gentlemen, and Freeholders, of the County of Dublin, at their General Quarter Sessions held at Killmainham, the 16th Day of January 1701.

YOUR Majesty's faithful and loyal Subjects, the Protestants of this Your Kingdom of Ireland, lying under such Pressures, by reason of the late Act of Resumption, and of the Execution thereof, that they apprehend the Ruin of the Protestants of this Kingdom, who have all of them, to the utmost of their Power, been most forward and zealous for Your Majesty's Interest, and instrumental in the reducing this Kingdom to its Dependence upon the Crown of England, must be the unavoidable Consequence of the Execution of that Act, do humbly fly to Your Majesty's Protection; and pray, That Your Majesty, the Restorer of their Religion, Rights, and Liberties, would once again be pleased to take their distressed Condition into Your Princely Consideration, and, by such Methods as to Your Majesty shall seem most expedient, and their present Circumstances, and the Justice of their Cause, do require, apply suitable Remedies to the severe Burden under which they lie.

The deplorable Condition of very many Families, who always have adhered firmly to the Interest of Your Majesty, and of the Crown of England, and the general Discouragement that Act has given to the Protestant Interest of this Kingdom, constrains us, with all Humility, to lay before Your Majesty, That, the Act being intirely framed and passed in England, the real Truth of our Circumstances could not be known: Hence we have Reason to complain,

That the Persons, who chiefly receive any Benefit or Favour by this Act, are the Papists of this Kingdom; and, amongst them, principally those, who, to the last, opposed Your Majesty's Arms and Interest: And, besides many other particular Favours to Irish Papists, all those, who, by Your Majesty's Grace, obtained the Reversal of their Outlawries, have the Benefit of those Reversals confirmed to them; and are, by this Act, restored as well to their Estates, as to their Blood, when most of the Grants made to Protestants are, by the said Act, re-assumed:

That the Improvers, and poor Husbandmen, who, by several Proclamations issued by Your Majesty's Order, were encouraged and required to betake themselves again to their Tillage, to repair the Desolation wrought by the War, and prevent a Famine, are, by it, deprived of all the Benefit of their Labour, and the Charges of their Improvements:

That, those who purchased under Patentees, are generally Protestants, who, in their Dealing for those Estates, acted agreeably to the then known and established Laws of these Kingdoms; now, by a Law made ex post facto, they find themselves in the Condition of forfeiting Persons:

That the ill Consequences of this Act, and the Execution of it, do not only affect the Purchasers, but Your Majesty's other Subjects here, who are wholly unconcerned in those Titles, and disquiet the whole Kingdom: For, some of the Trustees having declared in Court their Opinion, That, what Lands they shall think fit to sell, it shall never afterwards be controverted, whether that Land was the Estate of a forfeiting Person, and, in consequence of that, vested in them by the Act; but that their Sales, whatever they are, are confirmed by the Act, and past Controul; Your Majesty's Subjects of this Kingdom are sensible, that, if this Opinion prevail, the whole Property of Ireland depends upon the arbitrary Wills of a Majority of the Trustees:

That the Power given the Trustees is so arbitrary and unlimited, That all Persons, under colour of Discoveries, or upon other Pretences, are liable to be summoned to appear before them, and obliged to attend their Pleasure:

That this Act is a great Discouragement to Protestant Proprietors to lay out Money on Improvements, upon account of the Uncertainty of Titles to Estates here; it being construed not only to subject Titles established by Judgments and Decrees of the highest Courts of Law and Equity here, to the Re-examination of the Trustees; but it, in express Terms, defeats a Title confirmed by an Act of Parliament legally convened, and held under Your Majesty, within this Kingdom:

That the whole Scheme of the Act, and the Manner of the Execution of it, depresses and discountenances the Protestant Interest of this Kingdom, and encourages the Popish; of the Dangers of which, we, who have felt the Effects of it, must always be apprehensive; but more particularly now, when the Papists throughout the whole Nation, by the Insolence of their Behaviour, shew, that the Acknowledging of the pretended Prince of Wales by the French King, or some other Dependence, has raised their Expectations to a great Height.

We are persuaded, that the Parliament of England were in no sort apprized either of the Hardships, or dangerous Consequence, of this Act; and are sensible, that the whole Act is grounded upon gross Misinformations given to them concerning the Value of the Forfeitures; which were represented, by the Persons intrusted with that Inquiry, to be at least Four times the Value of what they will be found to amount to. We will not affirm, that this was done wilfully, or to serve private Ends; but we must say, and can make it plain, beyond Denial, that most Proofs offered to them in their Inquiries, though never so plain and evident, were by them disregarded and rejected, when they tended to lessen the Value of the Forfeitures, and deprive them of a Handle for making their exorbitant Report.

And we must add, that the Expences to which this Kingdom has already been put; in Attendance upon the Trustees, with Counsel, Witnesses, and in Fees to their Officers, &c.; the Salaries of the Trustees themselves, and of near Relations to some of them; and other Persons put into Employments, with great Allowances, under them; with other Charges which the Act has occasioned to this Kingdom; if cast up, will exceed the utmost that the Act, even as now executed, can produce: A considerable Sum might, without such Grievance or Complaint, have been laid equally upon the Forfeitures in Ireland; and thereby the Publick might have received some Benefit, and this Kingdom not have groaned under a Burden, which nothing but the last Necessity forces her to complain of in this manner: Something of this kind may yet be done, though not near to what might have been, before the Country was so impoverished by the Means of the Act.

May it please Your Majesty to suffer us, upon this Occasion, to assure Your Majesty, That your Protestant Subjects of this Kingdom are so sensible of the inexpressible Favours they have received from Your Majesty, and Your tender Care of them, that nothing can ever shake their Faith and Duty to Your Majesty; and that, whatever the Malice of their Enemies may, for private Ends, or ill Designs, suggest to the contrary, no Inducements whatsoever can prevail with them to endeavour to make, or so much as to wish, themselves independent of, or not subject unto, the Crown of England; and that none of Your Majesty's Subjects of any of Your Dominions will, upon all Occasions, shew a more forward and ready Zeal to maintain and defend, against all Opposers whatsoever, Your Sacred Person, and Government, the Protestant Religion,

dies.

A Petition of the Master, Wardens, and Assistants, of the Company of Distillers of London, on behalf of themselves, and others, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners distil Brandy from many Thousand Quarters of Corn which is unfit for brewing; but are greatly discouraged by several unskilful Persons setting up the Trade of making and selling English Brandy, who are under no Regulation or Inspection, and have brought a Disreputation upon all Brandies, and strong Waters; and many Persons also run French Brandy, and under-sell the Petitioners, who pay a Duty of Six Shillings per Gallon for the same; by which means, and by reason of a Clause in a late Act of Parliament, for laying a Duty on low Wines, and Spirits of the First Extraction, for obliging all Persons that sell Brandy, or strong Waters, by Retail, to take Licences, the Petitioners Trades are become very contemptible, and much decayed: And praying that the House will give them such Relief in the Premises, as shall be thought fit.

Hoys carrying Provisions.

Mr. Brewer, according to Order, reported from the Committee, to whom the Petition of the Hoymen, Freeholders, and Farmers, of the Counties of Kent and Essex, was referred, the Matter, as it appeared to them, together with the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House: which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

That the Petitioners, in order to prove the Allegations of their Petition, produced several Witnesses: Who gave their Testimony as follows:

Richard Gurney, John Burgesse, Joshua Fleet, said, That they know, that the Petitioners Trade and Employment is to carry Corn and Hops from Kent and Essex to serve the City of London; and that there is seldom any Voyages made by the Petitioners, but they are on board of more or less of their Hoys; and never saw any customable Goods aboard them.

Maurice Atkins: That, about Thirty Years ago, it was usual to bring Corn from Sandwich to London only by Transires, without giving any Bonds, or taking out Cocquets; those Matters having been imposed upon them since that time; and used them to pay for their Transires 1s. 2d. apiece: But that now they are forced to take Cocquets, and enter into Bonds; for which they pay 5s. 6d. at the Port where they lade; and 3s. for putting the same into the Custom-house; before they can have the Lord Mayor's Bill to deliver their Goods; and 6d. for their Return, to be annexed to the Bond, when they go back to the Port where their Bonds lie.

Richard Rogers said, That, when he brings a Hundred Quarters, or above, of Corn from Essex, he is forced to take a Cocquet, and give Bond to the Collector of the Customs below; for which he must pay there 7s. 2d. and 2s. 6d. for putting the same into the Custom-house; and 2s. 6d. more for taking out his Return from thence; and 4d. more below, to annex such Return to the Bond.

Roger Lamming, William Jones, and John Hales, said, That they have been frequently obliged to take Cocquets, and give their Bonds below, when they have not brought above 60 Quarters of Corn; nay, when they have brought but 20 or 15 Quarters, they have been obliged so to do;

And that, notwithstanding they have made good Returns from the Custom-house here to the Ports below, to be annexed to their Bonds, according to the Conditions thereof; yet, upon the Officers returning their Bonds up to the Exchequer, they have Process issued out against them; and have thereupon been forced to take out fresh Bonds, or be prosecuted; and, upon such Prosecutions, have been put to 4 or 5l. Charge; although their Returns were duly delivered to the Officers below, who make use of so slight a Way of annexing the Returns to the Bonds, only by a Bit of Thread through Two Pin-holes at the Edge of the Bond, whereby the Returns are often lost; and, when the Officer pleases, it is but paring off the Edges of the Bond, and then there remains no Sign that the Returns were affixed; whereby the Obligors, though they have duly performed the Bonds, become liable to the Exchequer Prosecutions: To prevent which, they must, at least, renew their Returns; which sometimes cost them 17 or 18s. notwithstanding their duly clearing their Goods before.

Tho. Soccing said, That they usually make their Voyages once a Week, or in a Fortnight at furthest; and are forced to take Cocquets every Voyage, which generally costs them 11s. besides the Danger of their Returns being not annexed to their Bonds; and so are liable to Prosecutions; which proves a great Grievance to them, and a Discouragement to their Employment.

Christopher Castell said, That, 25 Years ago, they used constantly to bring their Corn from Faversham, and those Parts, by Transires only, for which they then paid but One Shilling and Six-pence below, and Six-pence above, when they delivered their Corn; but they are now forced to pay Three Shillings and Six-pence, and sometimes 4s. for the same.

Richard Stevens said, That, when he has been permitted to bring his Corn by Transires below, the Officers above would make him pay for Cocquets and Bonds, though he had not any, before they would permit him to clear his Vessel; which the Petitioners presume to be a great Hardship upon them, considering the Encouragement of the late Act of Parliament for Transportation of Corn, ground or unground, Duty-free:

That they are willing to be obliged to take out Transires; and that their Lading may be inspected; and will give Bonds yearly, as Security, for the true Discharge of their Goods; which they hope, will answer equally their Security to the Government, and free them from the frequent and precarious Disturbances and Prosecutions that have befallen them from their being obliged to take Cocquets, and entering into Bonds, only for the private Advantage of some few Persons in the Custom-house, and the Exchequer.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to the Resolutions following; viz.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the Petitioners have fully proved the Allegations in their Petition.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the House be moved for Leave to bring in a Bill for the Petitioners Relief.

Ordered, That Leave be given to bring in a Bill for Relief of certain Masters of Hoys, and other Vessels, in the Counties of Kent and Essex, carrying Corn, and other inland Provisions, to the City of London: And that Mr. Brewer and Mr. Lowndes do prepare, and bring in, the said Bill.

Ordered, That Sir John Bolles, Sir Francis Blake, Mr. Bridges in Kinaston, Mr. Shepherd, Mr. Walpole, Mr. Drake, Mr. Highways, Richards, Mr. Smith, Mr. Brewer, Mr. Mitton, Mr. Vernon, Mr. Owen, Mr. Vaughan, Mr. Ash, be added to the

the Committee, to whom the Bill to explain or alter the Act, made in the Two-and-twentieth Year of King Henry the Eighth, concerning Repairing and Amending of Bridges in the Highways, is committed.

Hales, Mr. Dormer, Mr. Cesar, Mr. Gibson, Mr. Burnaby, Mr. Courtney, Mr. Dormer, be added to the Committee, to whom the Petition of William Freeman Esquire is referred.

Mr. Speaker,

The Lords have agreed to the Bill, intituled, An Act for punishing Officers and Soldiers that shall mutiny or desert in England or Ireland, without any Amendments. Also,

The Lords have agreed to the Bill, intituled, An Act for the further Security of his Majesty's Person, and the Succession of the Crown in the Protestant Line; and extinguishing the Hopes of the pretended Prince of Wales, and all other Pretenders, and their open and secret Abettors; with some Amendments: To which they desire the Concurrence of this House.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Sir Rowland Gwyn, according to Order, reported from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to them, touching the Election for the City of Coventry, and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered it at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

Upon the double Return of Sir Charles Hales, and Henry Neal Esquire, to serve for the City of Coventry; and also upon the several Petitions of Sir Christopher Hales, and Mr. Neale; and of Two other Petitions of Electors pro et contra:

That there were, upon the Poll,

For Sir Christopher Hales	-	-	777
For Mr. Hopkins	-	-	771
For Mr. Neale	-	-	754
For Mr. Gery	-	-	615

That the Counsel for Sir Christopher Hales insisted, That the Right of Election was in the Freemen of Coventry not receiving Alms, or Charity.

The Counsel for Mr. Neale insisted, That the Right was in all Freemen, whether they received Alms or no.

And the Committee, having heard what was alleged on both Sides, came to this Resolution;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the Freemen of Coventry receiving Alms, or Charity, have no Right to vote in the Election of Citizens to serve in Parliament for the City of Coventry.

That it was agreed by the Counsel on both Sides, That no Person could be a Freeman of Coventry, but by serving Seven Years Apprenticeship, within the City of Coventry, to one and the same Trade.

That the Counsel for Sir Chr. Hales alleged, That they should take off several that had polled for Mr. Neale; and should prove ill Practices by Mr. Neale, and his Agents.

That

Election.

That the First Head of Exceptions against Mr. Neal's Voters, was, to such as they alleged to be no Freemen: And they excepted to, and gave Evidence against, an Hundred and Ten Persons, who voted for Mr. Neale, as not being free; to Hugh Bucknall, as having polled twice; and to Jos. Smith, as under Age.

That the next Head of Exceptions Sir Chr. Hales' Counsel proceeded on, was, of Persons in Hospitals.

And they excepted to, and gave Evidence against, Twenty-two Persons, as being in Hospitals.

That they also excepted to, and gave Evidence against, Two Persons, as receiving the Countess of Devonshire's Gift, that is 10 s. apiece, disposed to them the Tenth March One thousand Seven hundred.

That they also excepted to, and gave Evidence against, Ten Persons, as receiving Sir Tho. White's Gift, which is 40 s. apiece, disposed to them the same Day.

That they also excepted to, and gave Evidence against, Nine Persons, as receiving Sir Tho. White's Loans; which is a Loan of Money, without Interest, from 10 to 40 l. apiece.

That they also excepted to, and gave Evidence against, Nine Persons, as receiving Mr. Wheatly's Gift, which is 30 s. apiece, disposed of to several Tradesmen on the Sixteenth of December last.

That they also excepted to, and gave Evidence against, Eighteen Persons, as receiving Mr. Jesson's, Mr. Clark's, or Mr. Bohun's Gift, being 20 s. or under, apiece, disposed the Two-and-twentieth December last; and to Three others, who received 40 s. apiece, that were Mr. Jesson's Relations.

That they also excepted to, and gave Evidence against, Six Persons, as receiving 3 l. apiece, to put out their Sons Apprentices; which was paid the Two-and-twentieth December last.

That they also excepted to, and gave Evidence against, Eight others, as having received, or being promised, other Loan Money, in the Disposition of the Council-house: But it did not appear when it was received; and Five of them had not received the Money.

That they also excepted to, and gave Evidence against, Thirty-six Persons, as having received Parish Relief.

That they also gave Evidence, as to Seven, That they were Freemen of Coventry, and would have polled for Sir Chr. Hales, and Mr. Gery, and were refused; which, the Counsel insisted, ought to be added to Sir Chr. Hales' Poll.

That the Counsel for Sir Chr. Hales also insisted, That there were several indirect Practices by Mr. Neale, and his Agents: And, to that, they called several Witnesses:

Mr. Edward Hales said, That he came to Town a Fortnight before the Election: That he went to several People in Coventry, and found several Reports against Sir Chr. Hales: Amongst the rest, there was one, promoted by Mr. Tongue, a Nonconformist Minister, That Sir Christopher had vindicated the French King's Honour in proclaiming the pretended Prince of Wales: And Mr. Hales said, He charged Mr. Tongue with it: And Mr. Tongue told him, He had it from Mr. Palmer of Leicestershire: But Mr. Hales said, He could not say, that Mr. Tongue endeavoured . . . . . Votes for Mr. Neale.

Mr. John Bennet said, That Alderman Snell asked him for his Vote for Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Neale: And that Alderman Snell said, He was glad the last Parliament was dissolved; for otherwise we should have been brought under the French Power, and of the Prince of Wales; and that in a little time the Black List would come out.

John Ward said, That the Night before the Election of Knights of the Shire for the County of Warwick, Adrian Owen came to Warwick, and sent for him to the Three Tuns, and asked him why he would be for Sir Chr. Hales; and if he had not seen the Black List; and bid one Fox to pull it out of his Pocket: Which Fox did, and read it to him: He said, He did not pay for what he had at that time: That they looked upon Sir Chr. as disaffected: Ward said, He polled for Sir Chr. Hales, and Mr. Hopkins.

Sam. Bryan said, That Josiah Allen told him, a little before the Election, That he had been writing Black Lists; and Alderman Owen promised to pay him: But the said Bryan acknowledged, He did not see any Lists.

Rich. Clexer said, That Mr. Oadham, Alderman Diston, Clements, and Stephen Smith, came to their House with Black Lists; and he heard Sir Chr. Hales named: But his Landlord said, He would not read it over, because it was Lyes.

John Gouge said, That he heard Alderman Snell say, That they would poll their Men twice or thrice, but they would have it: That Alderman Snell endeavoured to gain Votes for Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Neale.

Tho. Smith said, That Alderman Owen told him, If he would not give them both their Votes, there would be no Occasion for a Licence for his House.

Abraham Newcomb said, He was in Joseph Bishop's House; And Alderman Carter spoke to Bishop's Wife, for her Husband's Vote, her Husband not being at Home: And, the Woman answering, her Husband had promised One Vote, Alderman Carter said, What will you do, if I take away your Licence? Look to it.

Tho. Wright said, That one John Parker had promised his Vote for Sir Chr. Hales; and, before the Election, he went to him; But he said, He could not be as good as his Word; for he had given a Bond of 40 l. touching his selling of Drink; and Mr. Owen and Mr. Snell declared, If he did not vote for Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Neale, they would sue the Bond.

William Betson said, He polled for Sir Chr. Hales, and Mr. Hopkins: And, coming from the Poll, Alderman John Snell told him, He lived by the Church and Steeple; and was a busy Rascal; and he would turn him out.

Tho. Thompson said, That he was Tenant to the City: And the City Bailiff desired his Vote for Mr. Neal and Mr. Hopkins; and threatened, if he did not, he should be turned out.

John Wedgworth said, That he was Tenant, to the City, of a House: And Mr. Cooke the Bailiff told him, His Landlords desired his Vote for Mr. Neale: And the said Wedgworth telling the said Cooke, That he had disposed of his Vote; the Bailiff said to him, Do what you will, but you may chance to be turned out of your House: John Wedgworth said, He voted for Sir Chr. Hales, and Mr. Hopkins; and afterwards went to Alderman Diston, to sign his Bill for publick Work done by him; and he bid him go to Sir Chr. Hales.

Catesby Oadham said, There is a Gift of Thirty Shillings apiece to several poor Men, in the Disposition of the Aldermen; and the Disposition of this Charity was put off till after the Election.

Edw. Bosworth and Tho. Creaner said, That Alderman William Snell, and his Maid, went, with Two poor Men, about the Town; and gave Bread, in a partial manner, to those that polled for Mr. Neale and Mr. Hopkins.

John Judd and Anne Judd said, That Alderman Owen and Alderman Snell asked him for his Vote: And, he said, He had promised Sir Chr. Hales: And, thereupon, the said John Judd having been promised some Loan-money, but could not find Security, one Moor offered to take the Money and find Security, and allow Judd 4 l. if he would vote for Mr. Hopkins.

Samuel Worster said, That he had promised Sir Christopher Hales his Vote: And that Henry Waring gave him Five Shillings to vote for Mr. Neale and Mr. Hopkins: And he said, He and some others were treated by Mr. Edward Owen and Mr. Richard Barnes, on account of his voting for Mr. Neale and Mr. Hopkins; but he could not say it was by their Order: And that one Robert Slim acknowledged, He had received 20 s. of Alderman Owen, after the Election was over; and had a Promise of 20 l. more.

Rich. Hall said, That Joseph Dyke voted for Mr. Neal and Mr. Hopkins; and said, He durst not do otherwise, because he owed Mr. Diston Money: And Dyke said, Afterwards he received 5 s.

Henry Marler said, That Alderman Owen told him, If he would vote for Mr. Neal and Mr. Hopkins, he would give him some Money at Christmas: That he voted for Sir Chr. Hales and Mr. Gery, and had no Money; but Alderman Owen said, He would stick on his Skirts.

Jos. West said, He was treated, with others at the Gaol, at the time of the Election: That he voted for Mr. Neal, on account of 30 s. promised him; but he acknowledged it was not paid him, because, as he was told, he was not for Mr. Neal in his Heart.

Edward Lister said, His Brother was in some Trouble about some Money his Brother owed: And Mr. Snell said, If he would vote for Mr. Neal and Mr. Hopkins, his Brother should have his Liberty; and, if any Trouble came of it, he would pay the Debt: That his Brother was arrested, and made his Escape.

John Ward and Tho. Ward concurred with the Evidence of Edward Lister; and said, That Lister and his Son polled for Mr. Neal and Mr. Hopkins: And that Snell told Thomas Ward, His Business was done: And the Bailiff afterwards said, He had nothing against him.

John Barton said, That he was a Servant to Alderman Cater's Son, and looked to his Horse; and did design to vote for Sir Chr. Hales: But Alderman Cater, and his Wife, said, If he did not vote for Mr. Neale and Mr. Hopkins, he should turn out: And that they gave him 2 s. at Christmas.

Eleanor Ellen said, That her Husband received a Letter to this Effect; That he had a fair Opportunity to come down to the Poll, to get Money to pay his Debts: And that he came down; and, after the Election, received 20 s.

William Brooks said, He designed to be for Sir Chr. Hales and Mr. Gery: And had 5 s. given him, by Waring of Brommingham, not to come and poll; but, in fact, he polled for Sir Chr. Hales and Mr. Gery.

Ben. Welton said, That Thomas Peak voted for Sir Chr. Hales and Mr. Gery; and was put down for Sir Chr. Hales and Mr. Neale: And that, an Objection being made to one Packwood, Mr. Edw. Owen said, They would poll him, right or wrong: They had a Thousand Pounds of their Side:

And that, on Friday, the last Day of the Election, the Bar was full of Mr. Neal and Mr. Hopkins's Men; and they desired to examine them: But Sheriff Owen said, He knew them, and would poll them at his Peril: And Mr. Edward Owen told Mr. Gery, at the time of the Poll, He was a pitiful little Fellow.

Nathanael Knight gave the like Evidence as to Polling of Packwood.

Wm. Denham and Hen. Warner said, That Sheriff Owen fetched in one Thomas Keeling, a Stranger, by the Hand, to poll.

Richard Hull said, That Mr. Hopkins, and the Under Sheriff, came to them, and desired his Vote: That he, the said Hull, told him, he had no Vote: And this time Mr. Hopkins gave him Six-pence, and bid him be true to him; and said, He would be a further Friend to him: And that he went to the Bar, and came back without polling: And Mr. Hopkins came to him, and said, He had spoke to the Sheriff, not to deny his Poll; and then he went and polled for Sir Christopher Hales and Mr. Gery.

Sam. Walker said, Sheriff Owen gave him a Slap on the Face, because, as he said, he spoke to one that was giving his Poll.

Mr. Wright said, That he was Inspector of the Poll for Sir Chr. Hales and Mr. Gery: And Sheriff Collins bid a Man pull him back: And one Launder struck him over the Breast, as he was getting over the Bar into his Place.

James Lunn said, That the Under Sheriff Owen said,

VOL. 13.

If Sir Christopher Hales had it, it should be the dearest Thing he had in his Life: And said, he would not make an Interest for Sir Chr. Hales, or any Man that should vote with the Rogue Seymour.

Mr. Edward Hales was called, as to the casting up the Poll, and the demanding of a Scrutiny: Who gave an Account, That the Poll was closed on Friday: That, on Saturday Morning, the Books were cast up, and the Majority fell on Sir Chr. Hales: That, a Scrutiny being demanded on behalf of Mr. Neale, it began on Monday, and was carried on several Days. Mr. Hales said, That he had attended on behalf of his Brother, but not by any Order from him: That, afterwards, Sir Chr. Hales appeared, and would have begun their Scrutiny again; saying, He was not bound by what his Brother did; which was refused him: And then the Sheriff declared the Majority of qualified Voices to be for Mr. Neale: However, in regard of the Shortness of Time, he said, He would make a double Return.

That the Counsel for Mr. Neale insisted, That they would justify most of their Votes excepted to; and that the same Persons were excepted to on several Heads: That they would disqualify many that voted for Sir Chr. Hales; and prove ill Practices by him, or his Agents.

And accordingly they offered to justify, and gave Evidence to prove, the Freedom of about Sixty-three Persons of the One hundred and Ten endeavoured to be disqualified as no Freemen.

That the Counsel for Mr. Neal allowed all the Hospitalmen disqualified by Sir Chr. Hales's Counsel, because, they said, they should disqualify as many of their Votes:

That they also allowed all disqualified on the Account of Charity, except what was received after the Election was over; which was Wheatley's Charity, and Jesson's:

But they insisted, That several Persons, to the Number of about Twenty-one, were disqualified on several Heads; which made the Numbers seem more than really they were: And Mr. Carter gave in a List of their Names.

The next Thing Mr. Neal's Counsel proceeded to, was, to justify some Persons, which, by the Evidence, had been charged with ill Practices: And, as to what had been charged upon Alderman Carter, by Barton, they called,

Mr. Jos. Carter, Son to the Alderman: Who said, That Barton looked after his Horse; and he desired him to give his Vote for Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Neale; and he voluntarily did it; and, after he had so voted, the Parish Officers refused to pay his House-rent or Taxes: That the 2 s. his Father gave Barton, was Charity-money; and he gave him the same the Year before, when he voted otherwise.

And that Bishop kept a disorderly House, and himself had a Clerk debauched there.

Robert Slim said, That Samuel Worster told him, That Mr. Edward Hales laid him down 20 s. to say, That Barber the Apothecary gave him 5 s. to vote for Mr. Neal and Mr. Hopkins.

Alderman Owen was called to the Reputation of Slim: Who said, He never heard any thing to the contrary, but Slim was an honest Man.

Rich. Newcombe said, That Worster took his Horse out of the Field, and rode him Four or Five Days; and, being charged with it, he swore, He never touched him: And afterwards, it being proved upon him, he owned it; and said, He would make Satisfaction: And that he was going away from the Town, having carded away what he had.

James Bird also gave an Account of the said Worster, That he was a loose Liver; and another Man's Watch was found about him, and afterwards the Watch was restored: But this he rather spoke from the general Rumour of the Town, than his own Knowledge.

Mr. Withers said, That Worster was a broken Fellow of no Credit, and is going to Sea.

As to the Evidence given of refusing Jephcott's Two Sons;

Election.

Alderman Owen said, That, as to One, viz. John Jephcott, he served his Time in London, though Apprentice to his Father:

And, as to his Son Richard, he was Apprentice to an Ironmonger; but ran away, and never served his Time any-where.

Mr. Edw. Owen said, That Matthew Neale was sent, by his Father, to London, and was bound to an Apothecary there.

John Pickering said, That John Ithell never pretended to be free, or was ever bound; but was admitted a Love Brother: And Mr. Joseph Cater said, That the Indentures produced at the Poll proved to be false ones.

William Craner said, That John and Thomas Heathcoat neither of them served in Coventry.

That then the Counsel for Mr. Neal proceeded to except to, and give Evidence against, several Persons who voted for Sir Chr. Hales; viz. to Eighty-four Persons, as not being free.

That they also excepted to, and gave Evidence against, Eight Persons, as having received Loan-money within Twelve Months before the Election.

That they also excepted to, and gave Evidence against, Twelve, as receiving City Charities.

They also excepted to, and gave Evidence against, Thomas Grascomb; for that the Corporation had given his Son, in August last, an Exhibition of 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* as a poor Scholar.

That they also excepted to, and gave Evidence against, Two Persons, as having Loan-money at 4*d.* per Pound.

That Mr. Neal's Counsel also would have excepted to, and given Evidence against, some others who received Charity, and polled for Sir Christopher Hales, particularly on the Head of receiving Parish Alms: But there having been Two Orders, made by the Committee, one of the One-and-twentieth of January, upon the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council-men; the other of the Two-and-twentieth of January, upon Mr. Carter and Mr. Owen, Clerks of the Council-house; for delivering an Account of what Charity has been disposed by the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council House-Men; and they having not given to Sir Christopher Hales' Agent an Account of those Charities they offered to give Evidence of; the Committee did not think fit to hear, or admit, of any Exceptions to be made to Sir Christ. Hales' Voters, on Account of those Charities.

That they also gave Evidence of Two Persons that polled for Mr. Neale, and were put down for Sir Christ. Hales; and of one other that polled for Mr. Neal, and was not entered in the Poll.

That the next Thing the Counsel for Mr. Neal proceeded on, was, the Disorders at the Election, notwithstanding the Endeavours of the Magistrates to the contrary; and Treating, and ill Practices.

Mr. Jer. Withers said, That the Magistrates sent him with a Letter to the Candidates, to come and consult Matters with them; but they did not think fit to meet the Magistrates, only went to the Mayor and Sheriffs: That the Magistrates, in order to prevent Disorders, caused the Crier to make Proclamation, That none should come to the Election, who had not Business; the Two last Elections, when Sir Chr. stood, several having been bound over for beating the Sheriffs, and other Magistrates: That he himself had Notice from a great Friend of Sir Chr. Hales, Mr. Horatio Hopkins, That, if he appeared, he should be beaten; and he had not Courage to be present: He said, That there was Proclamation by the Magistrates, That Mr. Neal and Mr. Hopkins stood, it being reported they had desisted.

Mr. Neal's Counsel also called,

Rich. Benion, William Wareing, Barnabas Mussle, and John Jones: The Substance of whose Evidence was, That Sir Chr. Hales' Men met together about Two a Clock in the Morning; and Sir Chr. Hales and Mr. Gery met them about Six a Clock in the Morning: That Mr. Neal's and Mr. Hopkins' People met about Eight a Clock in the Morning: That Sir Chr. Hales' Men being about Six hundred, and Mr. Hopkins' and Mr. Neal's Men being about Two hundred, meeting in a Street, Sir Chr. Hales' Men were partly passed by on the other Side of the Way; and Sir Christopher Hales called them back again; and they fell on Mr. Neal's Men; and some of Mr. Neal's Men were wounded: And Mary Ellen said, She saw Sir Chr. call his Men back in Gosfort-Street; and said, Stand, to them; and they fell on Mr. Neal's Men: And she asked Sir Chr. If he would have Murder; and he said, No: She replied, Then he would not let the Men fight so.

They also called John Pickerell, Chr. Lander, John Roads, John Johnson, Alderman Owen:

The Substance of whose Evidence was, That Sir Chr. Hales' Men, in very great Numbers, did, at the Time of the Poll, take Possession of the Hall, and were very unruly; and that there being a Door into the Hall from the Gaol Yard, for the better avoiding the Crowd in the Hall, Sir Chr. Hales' Men every Day nailed it up: That Sir Chr. Hales' Men appeared with Staves, and threatened several that were for Mr. Neale; particularly Mr. Pickerell, that was an Inspector for Mr. Neale, and drove away the Constables out of the Hall; and one Burton took up his Stick, and threatened a Man, that named Mr. Neale, to knock out his Brains: That, by reason of Threatenings, and the Disorders that were at this Election, and what had passed at the former Election, several declared, They durst not go to be polled; and, particularly, Alderman Owen said, He himself durst not go into the Hall; having been abused the last Election, and threatened again at this.

Ri. Clements said, That Major Beak coming in at the Door in the Gaol Yard, and, being an ancient Man, going into the Gallery to poll, to avoid the Crowd, they threw Stones and Turneps at him.

Ben. Hobson said, That Mr. Edw. Hales desired his Men not to be cast down, upon the Account of Irregularities; for Mr. Gery would stand by them as far as 500*l.*; and that one Chr. Price had promised Mr. Neal and Mr. Gery his Vote; and afterwards told him, He must give Sir Chr. Hales a Vote, or else the Lord Leigh would turn him out of his Living; and that the Lord Leigh appeared, at the Time of the Election, at the Cross; and was also in the Hall on Thursday; but the Witness could not say, That his Lordship did say any thing to the Electors.

Henry Cockram said, That, the Third Day of the Poll, there was a great Tumult; and the Sheriffs commanded his Assistance; but the People shoved him down.

Luke Barnes said, That Oadham was an Inspector of the Poll for Sir Chr. and endeavoured to get Votes for him; and that, there being a Dispute about polling one Man, the said Oadham went out, and brought 300 Men with him; and said, He would have Justice.

That the next Head Mr. Neal's Counsel applied themselves to, was that of Treating, and ill Practices.

John Jones said, That, the last Day of the Poll, he met John Cliffe, a Tapster, who offered him a Crown, and threw down Two Half-crowns, either not to poll, or to poll for Sir Chr. Hales; and, after Dinner, on the same Terms offered him 10*s.* Jones said, He polled for Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Neal.

Robert Slim said, That he met James Ward at the Cross; and he offered to carry him to drink at Sir Chr. Hales' Cost; and accordingly he went with Two or Three; and the Reckoning came to 2*s.* or 3*s.*; and Ward told him, There was nothing to pay; it should go on Sir Chr. Hales' Account; and that Dr. Elliot and Alderman Palmer came to him Two Days before the Election; and the Doctor told him, If he would give Alderman Palmer, who polled for Sir Christ. Hales and Mr. Gery, a Vote, the Alderman should give him 40*s.*; and the Alderman said, So he would.

John Noble said, That Mr. Whadcock, an Attorney, offered him 6*s.* 8*d.* to vote for Sir Chr. Hales and Mr. Gery; and Mr. Wright, a Mercer, told him, If he did not vote for them, he should turn out of his House: Wright had the Letting of the House; and had given him Warning to go out.

Barbara

Barbara Chaplain said, That Mr. Horatio Hopkins asked John Fern, as he was going to poll for Mr. Neale and Hopkins, to poll for Sir Chr. Hales; and Fern said, He had promised his vote; and One standing by said, Fern owed his Master 8 s.; and Fern thereupon said, About 20 s. Well, said Mr. Horatio Hopkins, come along with me, and I will give you the Money, Chaplin said, Ferne afterwards shewed her Money; which, he said, was to satisfy his Master; but how much it was, she could not tell; and that Fern polled for Sir Chr. Hales.

Jacob Copson said, He, and some others, drank at Salter's and Merrick's, and Ithell's; and some paid a small Matter; others nothing: That he intended to have voted for Mr. Hopkins, because he owed Money to Alderman Owen upon Bond; but Salter told him, If the Bond was sued, they would collect Money to get him off. He said, He voted for Sir Chr.; and the Bond was not sued.

Tho. Smith said, He was told by several, If he did not vote for Sir Chr. Hales and Mr. Gery, he should lose their Work; and has since lost it: He is a Farrier.

Sir Chr. Hales's Counsel alledged, That they could justify most of their Voters; but, they thought, there was no Occasion to trouble the Committee with it.

That the Hearing of this Cause having taken up Seven Nights; and the Evidence, relating to the Disqualifying and Justifying of Freemen, being very particular; it is conceived more proper to refer to the Minutes taken at the Committee, than to transcribe the same, and fill up the Journals with a long Report; which, after the Determination of the Election, can be of no Use.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to this Resolution.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of the Committee, That Sir Christopher Hales Baronet, is duly elected a Citizen to serve in this present Parliament for the City of Coventry.

The first Resolution being read a Second time;

Resolved, That the House doth agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That the Freemen of Coventry receiving Alms, or Charity, have no Right to vote in the Election of Citizens to serve in Parliament for the City of Coventry.

The Second Resolution being read a Second time;

Resolved, That the House doth agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That Sir Christopher Hales Baronet is duly elected a Citizen to serve in this present Parliament for the City of Coventry.

Ordered, That the Clerk of the Crown do attend this House To-morrow Morning, to amend the Return for the City of Coventry, by taking off the Return, by which Henry Neal Esquire is returned a Citizen to serve for the said City.

And a Motion being made, and the Question being put, That the House do now adjourn;

The House divided.

The Noes go forth.

A Petition of William Yarnold Gentleman, on behalf of himself, and others, the Proprietors and Undertakers concerned in supplying the Town of Newcastle upon Tyne with fresh Water, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That, in pursuance of an Act of Parliament, made in the Tenth Year of his Majesty's Reign, for the better supplying the Town of Newcastle upon Tyne with fresh Water; and by a Lease made by the Mayor and Burgesses, as expressed in the said Act; the Petitioner has, at great Expence, brought sufficient fresh Water to serve the said Town, from a Place called The Zeme, in the County of Durham, about Four Miles from Newcastle; and the High Sheriff of Durham hath held Three several Inquisitions to inquire what Damages the Owners of the Lands, through which the said Water is conveyed, have sustained thereby, as the said Act directs; which Damages the Petitioner hath fully paid and satisfied: And praying, That Leave may be given to bring in a Bill to confirm the said several Inquisitions and Lease, for the better bringing and continuing of the Water to the said Town, and ascertaining a due Satisfaction to the Owners of the Lands, through which the Water runs, for what Damages they may sustain, for the future, by that or any other Watercourse brought by the Petitioner to the said Town; and for the better Continuance and constant supplying the same with fresh Water. Jamaica Government.

A Petition of Hugh Totterdell, of the Island of Jamaica, Gentleman, in behalf of himself, and others the Traders and Planters of the said Island, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Assembly of the said Island, which represents the Body of the Commons there, and consists of Thirty-five Persons, of which the Petitioner was One, being convened in June last, did enter into the Consideration of some Hardships put upon them in point of Trade, and Misapplication of the publick Money of the said Island, by the then Governor, Sir William Beeston, and Council of that Island, endeavouring to redress those Grievances; but, instead of Encouragement, they met with Threats and hard Words from the Governor: And the Assembly finding no Likelihood of Redress, they passed a Vote to apply themselves to this House for Relief; which the Governor so resented, that he immediately prorogued them; and, soon after, dissolved them by Proclamation; setting forth that Vote as One of the Reasons for the Dissolution: That, upon the said Prorogation, the Speaker, and Majority of the Assembly, drew up an Address to this House; setting forth Part of their Hardships, by Violation of the Laws, the Discouragement of their Trade, and Misapplication of the publick Money: Which Address they ordered the Petitioner to present to the House; a Copy whereof is annexed to the Petition; And praying the House to take the Grievances of the said Island into Consideration, and relieve them therein.

A Petition of Thomas Hodges Esquire, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioner, and many others, being very much oppressed by the Mal-administration of Justice in Barbadoes, under the Government of the Lord Grey, did, in December 1700, complain to his Majesty in Council thereof; who referred the Examination thereof to the Commissioners of Trade; with Direction, That they should report to his Majesty what they conceived fit to be done therein: That the Petitioner hath attended the said Commissioners for about a Twelvemonth; hath proved the Truth of his Complaint, and shewn the Mal-administration of Justice; and hoped they would have made such a Report to his Majesty, as the Petitioner might have had some effectual Relief thereby; but they have lately made such a Report, as covers the Truth from his Majesty, and has effectually hindered the Petitioner from any Relief: That the Petitioner is ready to prove the several Articles annexed to the Petition, which do contain several Heads of the said Complaint: And praying the Consideration of the House in the Premises.

And the said Mr. Hodges was called in, to the Bar, to own the said Petition: And he owned the same accordingly; and declared, he was ready to make good the same.

The House, according to Order, proceeded to examine into the Execution of the Act for vesting the forfeited Estates in Ireland in Trustees: Irish Forfeitures.

And the Trustees in Town, Mr. Annesley and Mr. Hooper, were called in; and examined: And they presented to the House a Memorial:

Which was read; and is as followeth; viz.

To the Honourable the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, in Parliament assembled;

The humble Memorial of Francis Annesley and James Hooper, Two of the Trustees for the forfeited Estates in Ireland.

THAT the Trustees have used their Endeavours to improve your Estates, vested in them, to the best Rent that could be got for the same: In order whereunto, they appointed appointed Receivers and Surveyors, who have, upon Oath, viewed the same; and made their Returns of the real Values of the said Estates, if to be lett for a Term of Years, amount-

ing to	137,496	5	0½

Whereas the present Rent of the Year 1701, is no more than 105,372 15 7½
 Their Computations proceeding from the Values of other Persons Lands; of equal Value, contiguous to those forfeited: But the Reasons they give the Trustees, why the forfeited Estates do not yield as much as the Estates of such private Persons, are, 1st, That several of the said Estates are in Lease for Terms of Years yet to come, which are allowed by the Trustees, and cannot yet be raised.

2dly, That several Gentlemen are now in Possession of a considerable Part of the said Estates, and will pay what they please; and nobody will take them over their Heads at a greater Rent, because they are sure to incur their Displeasure, for the Prospect of small Gain, which is to continue but for One Year; the Trustees not having thought fit, without your Honours Directions, to set them for a longer Time.

3dly, Because no Tenant is able to improve Lands, which he holds for One Year only, to that Advantage as he would do, if he might enjoy them for a certain Term of Years.

4. That the Number of Acres appear, upon the Survey, to be considerably more than the old Proprietors knew them to be, or are returned to be in the Civil Downe, or Stafford Survey.

5. That the most unprofitable Lands, returned by those Surveys, are since improved, and made most profitable.

For which Reasons, the Trustees are humbly of Opinion, That, if your Honours would approve of their setting such of the said Estates, as are now out of Lease, to the best Advantage, for a certain Term of Years, all those Inconveniences would be obviated; the Rents raised equal in Value to their adjacent Lands; whereby the annual Income of your Honours Estates would be greatly improved; and the Persons intending to be Purchasers, who are already alarmed with the false Suggestions of the Trustees taking Advantage of the Tenants in Possession, who could not easily remove their Stock, to rack them to an Overvalue, would more chearfully buy the same, and very considerably advance their Price for them, and induce Strangers, who can have no Knowledge of their Values but from their yearly Rent, to become Purchasers.

The Trustees thought it their Duty, and accordingly directed us, humbly to present this Matter to your Honours, for your immediate Directions therein; because, if not set before May next, the Year will be at an End; and it will take some time to give public Notice of such a Resolution.

Fra. Annesley, James Hooper.

And then they withdrew.

Ordered, That the Trustees for the forfeited Estates in Ireland do lay before this House an Account of the Claims made by the Irish Papists; and do distinguish how many have been allowed by them, of Estates whereof the Papists were not in Possession before the Act of Resumption, or decreed or adjudged to them by any Court of Law or Equity in Ireland.

Resolved, That, notwithstanding the Complaints and Clamours against the Trustees for the forfeited Estates in Ireland, with relation to the Execution of the said Trust, it does not appear to this House, but that those Complaints are groundless.

Resolved, That the said Memorial be taken into Consideration upon Saturday Morning next.

The House, according to Order, proceeded to take into Consideration the Petitions relating to the forfeited Estates in Ireland.

The said Trustees were called in again;

The Petition of Arthur French, and James Farrell his Son-in-law, was read; and also the Trustees Report thereupon:

And then they withdrew.

Ordered, That Leave be given to bring in a Bill for the Relief of the said Mr. French, in relation to the personal Estate of Irriell Farrell only.

Woollen Ma-
nufactures.

Sir Henry Dutton Colt reported from the Committee, who were appointed to inspect the Laws relating to the Woollen Manufacture; and to consider of the best Methods for regulating and improving the same: That they had considered the several Petitions to them referred; and had directed him to report the Matter, as it appeared to them, to the House; and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

That the Committee, upon Consideration of the several Petitions touching the Serge and Worsted Weavers, to them referred, do find, That the Matters therein alleged are true; but yet are of Opinion, That the said Trade ought to be free, and not restrained, according to the Prayer of the said Petitions.

Also, upon Consideration of the several Petitions of the Woolstaplers of London and Southwark, and the Manufacturers of Colchester, complaining of the Abuses committed by several Persons deputed by the Commissioners appointed, by Act of Parliament, to prevent the Exportation of Wool, the Committee do find, That several of the Officers employed by the said Commissioners have been guilty of many corrupt and indirect Practices, to the great Oppression and Discouragement of the Manufacturers of Wool.

VOL. 13.

Several Instances of which Abuses appeared to the Committee, upon the Examination of the Persons following; viz.

David Picket informed the Committee, That one John Hughes and William Haling did seize Seventeen Bags of Wool in November last, between Six and Seven a Clock at Night, at Bull Wharf, which came from Kingston, and was consigned to a Dealer in Barnaby-street in Southwark; and extorted from the Owner 22*l.* as appeared by a Receipt under the Hand of the said Wm. Haling.

Benj. Whiting said, He went with Picket to the said Haling, in order to get the Wool discharged: And Haling demanded Twenty-one Guineas for the same; which was paid him: But Hughes, hearing thereof, was very angry that the Wool should be discharged for that Sum; and refused at first to consent to it.

Tho. Child said, That he paid Forty Shillings for the Reckoning at the time when the Wool was discharged.

William Haling owned before the Committee, the Receipt of the One-and-twenty Guineas; but said, He acted by the Direction of Hughes, who received above Six Pounds of that Money: And that Mr. Jones received 10*s.* Mr. Haines 5*s.* and the rest was spent in Charges about the Seizure.

John Hughes was called in; and produced his Deputation from the Commissioners: And said, That he acted pursuant to the Act of Parliament for preventing the Exportation of Wool: That the said Wool was seized at Ten a Clock at Night, and therefore a lawful Seizure: Said, That he was not concerned in making the Agreement about the Discharge of the said Wool, neither did he receive the Twenty-one Guineas; but owned, that William Haling paid him 5*l.* Part thereof.

Mr. John Denton informed the Committee, That, in November last, he had a great Quantity of Wool seized at Arundell in Sussex, in the Carrier's Hands, which was entered in the King's Books at the Port of Arundell: And John Dean, the said Mr. Denton's Factor, entered into a Bond of 2,000*l.* to the King, that the said Wool should not be transported, but be brought to London; notwithstanding which, one Enoch Hurley, Cha. Jones and Tho. Brains, seized the same in the King's Officers Hands: And they offered to release it, if Mr. Denton would give them 30*l.*; but, he refusing the same, the Wool is still detained, to his great Damage: That he has often demanded his Wool; and offered to go to a Tryal for the same in the Court of Exchequer; which they promised to do, but never gave him any Notice of a Tryal; and have often offered to deliver up the said Wool, if he would give them Money.

Mr. Thomas Brayne, one of the Officers, insisted upon the Legality of the Seizure; and said, The Officers are ready and willing to try the same with Mr. Denton in the Exchequer.

Sam. Lewin Esquire said, That he had Seven Packs of Wool seized in the Middle of Cheapside, in November last, about Six a Clock in the Evening, going to the King's Arms at Holbourn-Bridge, to Froom Carrier in Somersetshire: The said Wool was seized by Spencer and Bland, whose Deputations have been taken from them for several corrupt Practices and Abuses by them committed in several Parts of England.

Mrs. Rainer said, That she had Three Packs of Wool seized in Holborne going to Leadenhall Market, by Spicer and Webster, who extorted from her 30*s.* for the Discharge of her Wool.

Richard Peale said, That he had Four Packs of Wool seized in Holborne, going to Leadenhall Market, by the said Spicer and Webster, who extorted from him 40*s.*

Richard Middleton said, That he had Four Packs of Wool seized by the said Spicer and Webster, at Charing-cross, at Twelve a Clock at Noon, which was going to Leadenhall, Market and they extorted from him 30*s.* for the Discharge thereof.

Abraham

nufactures.

Abraham Vole, the Colchester Carrier, said, That, in December last was Twelvemonth, one Jones and White seized One-and-twenty Bags of Wool at his own Door at Colchester; and that he paid Mr. Braine and Jones 30*l.* to discharge the same: That it was near Ten a Clock at Night before he came in with his Waggon, by reason of an Accident which happened upon the Road with his Horses.

Mr. Brayne said, As to the said Twenty-one Bags of Wool, the same was seized at Ten a Clock at Night, and that it was a lawful Seizure; and a Writ of Appraisement was issued out according to Law: That several Gentlemen attended the Lord Chief Baron, to complain of this Seizure; and his Lordship ordered a new Writ of Appraisement: And accordingly the Wool was appraised at 30*l.* as a Dividend to the Officers that seized the same; which Appraisement was returned, and the Money paid to the Officer, according to Law.

Abra. Vole, the Colchester Carrier, said, That he hath several times given to one Francis Sutton 5*s.* at a time, to suffer his Waggon to go unmolested; and, if the Carriers refuse to give them Money, then their Waggon is stopped, till such time as the Carriers will comply with their unreasonable Demands.

Rich. Arnold, a Carrier, said, That very often the Carriers, by reason of Accidents upon the Road, either by breaking of their Waggon, or their Horses dying, or otherwise disabled, upon the Road, are forced to be out with their Waggon beyond the Hours limited by Act of Parliament for their carrying of Wool; and, when any Accident of that Nature happens, several Persons, pretending to be Officers, do seize their Wool, and extort Money from them.

Nathanael Lawrence Esquire, of Colchester, said, That several Persons, pretending to be Officers, do extort great Sums of Money from the Traders, who cannot carry their Wool to the Spinners, to be worked up, but immediately it is seized, under Pretence of exporting the same: That he had a Parcel of Wool seized coming from Stourbridge Fair, and he was forced to pay 4*l.* to get the same discharged:

That he has committed some of these pretended Officers to Goal, for taking Money from Persons, in order to release Wool.

John Hughes, one of the Officers, said, That there are great Quantities of Wool bought up at Stourbridge Fair, and, under pretence of being carried to Ipswich, and other trading Places, is conveyed away to France; and that several Persons are now under Prosecution for the same.

That there were several Proposals offered to the Committee, to prevent the Exportation of Wool; and, amongst others, one from Mr. John Purchase, a Wool-merchant, who proposed a general Registry of all Wool throughout the Kingdom.

And the Committee, having considered of the same, came to this Resolution;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the most effectual Way to prevent the Exportation of Wool, is, to establish a general Register of all Wool that shall be grown in this Kingdom.

That the Committee also, upon Consideration of the Proposal of the Woolstaplers of London and Southwark, came to this Resolution;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That one Way to prevent the Exportation of Wool, is, to prohibit all Wool from being water-borne on any Rivers leading to the Sea.

Resolved, That, &c. That the House be moved for Leave to bring in a Bill pursuant to these Resolutions.

The First Resolution being read a Second time;

And the Question being put, That the House do agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That the most effectual Way to prevent the Exportation of Wool, is, to establish a general Registry of all Wool that shall be grown in this Kingdom;

It passed in the Negative.

The Second Resolution being read a Second time;

And the Question being put, That the House do agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That one Way to prevent the Exportation of Wool, is, to prohibit all Wool from being water-borne on any Rivers leading to the Sea;

It passed in the Negative.

Colonel Granville reported from the Committee appointed to draw up an Address, to be presented to her Majesty, That they had drawn up an Address accordingly; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE, Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons in Parliament assembled, having a deep and true Sense of the great Loss the Nation has sustained by the Death of our late Sovereign Lord King William the Third, of glorious Memory, who, under God, was our Deliverer from Popery and Slavery, humbly crave Leave to condole with Your Majesty, and express our Sorrow on this sad Occasion.

Your Majesty's Accession to the Throne, which we most heartily congratulate, and your known Zeal for our Religion, and the Government, as by Law established, gives us a certain Prospect of future Happiness; moderates our Grief; and engages us unanimously to assure Your Majesty, That we will, to the utmost, assist and support Your Majesty on that Throne where God has placed You, against the pretended Prince of Wales, and all Your Enemies: And, since nothing can conduce more to the Honour and Safety of Your Majesty, and Your Kingdoms, than maintaining inviolable such Alliances as have been made with the Emperor, the States General of the United Provinces, and other Potentates, for preserving the Liberties of Europe, and reducing the exorbitant Power of France, we do assure Your Majesty, That we are firmly resolved, to the utmost of our Power, to enable Your Majesty to prosecute that glorious Design: And, that all Your Subjects may rest in a full Assurance of Happiness under Your Majesty's Reign, we will maintain the Succession of the Crown, according to the Limitation in the several Acts of Settlement; and effectually provide for, and make good the public Credit of the Nation.

The said Address being read a Second time;

The several Amendments following were proposed to be made therein; viz.

After "made," to insert "or that her Majesty shall think fit to make;"

And, after "Crown," to insert "in the Protestant Line:"

And the same were, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

Resolved, That the House doth agree with the Committee in the said Address, so amended; which is as followeth; viz.

And, being returned;

The Queen's Speech reported.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I cannot too much lament my own Unhappiness, in succeeding to the Crown so immediately after the Loss of a King, who was the great Support not only of these Kingdoms, but of all Europe; and I am extremely sensible of the Weight and Difficulty it brings upon Me.

But the true Concern I have for our Religion; for the Laws and Liberties of England; for the maintaining the Succession to the Crown in the Protestant Line; and the Government in Church and State, as by Law established; encourages Me in this great Undertaking; which, I promise myself, will be successful, by the Blessing of God, and the Continuance of that Fidelity and Affection, of which you have given Me so full Assurance.

The present Conjunction of Affairs requires the greatest Application and Dispatch; and I am very glad to find, in your several Addresses, so unanimous a Concurrence in the same Opinion with Me, That too much cannot be done for the Encouragement of our Allies, to reduce the exorbitant Power of France.

I think it very necessary, at this Time, to desire you to consider of proper Methods for attaining an Union between England and Scotland; which has been so lately recommended to you as a Matter that very nearly concerns the Peace and Safety of both Kingdoms.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I need not put you in mind, That the Revenue, for defraying the Expences of the Civil Government, is expired: I rely entirely upon your Affections for the supplying it in such manner as shall be most suitable for the Honour and Dignity of the Crown.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

It shall be my constant Endeavour to make you the best Return for that Duty and Affection which you have expressed to Me, by a careful and diligent Administration for the Good of all my Subjects: And, as I know my own Heart to be entirely English, I can very sincerely assure you, there is not any thing you can expect, or desire from Me, which I shall not be ready to do for the Happiness and Prosperity of England; and you shall always find me a strict and religious Observer of My Word.

Resolved, Nemine contradicente, That the humble Thanks of this House be returned to her Majesty, for her Majesty's most gracious Speech from the Throne. Thanks for Queen's Speech.

Ordered, That the said humble Thanks of this House be returned to her Majesty by such Members of this House as are of her Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council.

Norwich
Election.

Sir Rowland Gwyn, according to Order, reported, from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to them, touching the Election for the City of Norwich; and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

Upon the Petition of Thomas Havers Esquire, One of the Sheriffs of Norwich; and also upon the Petition of Peter Thacker Esquire, complaining of an undue Election and Return of Robert Davy Esquire, to serve for the said City of Norwich:

That the First thing the Committee proceeded on, was, the Right of Election: And the Right not being controverted either by the Petitioner or the Sitting Member; but allowed to be as in the following Resolution; the Committee for the better Settling of the Right came to this Resolution:

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the Right of electing Citizens to serve in Parliament for the City of Norwich is in the Freeholders, and such Freemen only of the said City as are entered in the Books, and do not receive Alms or Charity.

That, as to the Matter of the Return, upon Inspection of the Record, it appeared to be thus:

That there are Two Sheriffs of Norwich: The present Sheriffs are, Mr. Nall, and Mr. Havers the Petitioner: The Writ was delivered to Mr. Havers, who afterwards delivered it over to Mr. Nall.

That it was admitted, That Mr. Nall, being an Attorney, had all along done the Business of the Under Sheriff as well for himself as Mr. Havers the other Sheriff: That, in this Case, Mr. Nall signed the Indenture, by which the Return was made; and Mr. Havers refused to sign it; and that Mr. Nall, as is usual for Under Sheriffs, subscribed Mr. Havers' Name, as well as his own, to the Indorsement of the Writ; importing, That the Execution of the Writ appeared by the said Indenture annexed; and then carried the same, and filed it with the Clerk of the Crown: That Mr. Havers, being not satisfied with the Return of Mr. Davy, brought up with him an Indenture, signed by several Inhabitants, and himself; importing the Return of Mr. Clark, and Mr. Thacker; and, after the Writ so returned by Mr. Nall had been filed, offered the same to the Clerk of the Crown, to be affixed to the Writ, to make a double Return; but the Clerk of the Crown, having had a perfect Return before, did not think fit to annex the same to the Writ:

But that the Matter chiefly in Difference between the Parties, in relation to the Petition of Mr. Havers, was about the Declaring of the Election, and refusing a Scrutiny:

And, to that, Mr. Havers' Counsel called several Witnesses:

Mr. Matthew Coates said, He saw the Books sealed up by both the Sheriffs, as he believes, in order to a Scrutiny.

Mr. Edw. Lock said, That, the Day after the Election, he was desired to go along with Mr. Sheriff Havers, to open the Books; and when they came to Mr. Sheriff Nall's House, they found the Books open.

Mr. John Wiggot, Mr. Bernard Tooley, Mr. Thomas Lombe: The Substance of whose Evidence was; That the Election was on Wednesday the 26th of November last: That the Poll being cast up the next Day, there was a Scrutiny demanded, and consented to, by all Persons: That, on Friday, when they met in the Chamber, to proceed in the Scrutiny, a Dispute arose about the adding one Cartwright to Mr. Davy's Poll; and thereupon Sheriff Nall said, He would declare Mr. Davy to be duly elected; which Mr. Havers protested against: That, afterwards, Mr. Sheriff Nall, and Mr. Havers, went into the Court, and Mr. Sheriff Nall declared Mr. Clark and Mr. Davy duly elected: That Mr. Sheriff Havers, though in Court, did not give his Assent to such Declaration; but disagreed to it; yet, notwithstanding, Mr. Sheriff Nall proceeded to prepare, and, with several others, to sign an Indenture for the Return of Mr. Clark and Mr. Davy; and offered the same to Mr. Sheriff Havers to sign; which Mr. Havers refused to sign.

And, upon this Fact, Mr. Thacker's Counsel argued, That the Election was not well declared, nor the Return well made.

That the Question, as to Cartwright, was, Whether he came soon enough to be polled: And, as to that, Mr. Havers' Counsel called,

Mr. Sam. Crombe: Who gave an Account, That there was appointed a distinct Place, and a Book, for the taking each Candidate's Poll: That it was agreed, for the more certain concluding the Poll at the several Books, at the same time a certain Signal should be given for the shutting up the Books: That, an Hour and more before the Books were shut up, a Proclamation was made for all Persons to come and poll within an Hour: That they set their Watches; and that the Books were not shut up till 2 or 3 Minutes after the Hour expired; and, after the Books were shut up, Mr. Cartwright came to Mr. Davy's Poll, and desired to be polled for him:

That then Mr. Thacker's Counsel, who were the same Persons retained by Mr. Havers, proceeded to the Merits of the Election: And Mr. Thacker's Counsel insisted, That their Client had the Majority of qualified Votes.

Upon the Poll there were,

For Mr. Davy	-	-	-	1,042.
For Mr. Thacker	-	-	-	1,041.

That

That the First Sort of Persons Mr. Thacker's Counsel excepted to, and gave Evidence against, was to Four Persons who were Minors:

The next Head of Exception was to such as had polled as Freemen, and could not be found in the Freemen's Books:

And they gave Evidence against 88 Persons, on that Account; and to Two, as having polled twice:

That they also excepted to, and gave Evidence against, 18 others, as living in Hospitals, or receiving Parish Relief, which they call Collection.

That Mr. Davy the Sitting Member's Counsel first applied themselves to answer what was objected to as to the Matter of the Return; and then to make out their Majority on the Poll:

And, in Point of Law, Mr. Kendall, of Counsel with the Sitting Member, insisted, That, where there are Two Sheriffs, the Act of one would bind the other; and that the Writ being indorsed in the Name of both Sheriffs, and that by one who was not only One of the High Sheriffs, but had all along acted for both in the Execution of the Office of Sheriff, this was a good Return in Law.

But as to the Fact of the Declaration of the Election, and what related to Mr. Cartwright, and the Scrutiny, Mr. Davy's Counsel called several Witnesses:

Mr. Robert Snell, Mr. Nic. Hewys, Mr. Tho. Palgrave: The Substance of whose Evidence was, That they were in the Hall at the time Mr. Sheriff Nall declared the Election, and were so near, that, if Mr. Sheriff Havers had made any publick Protestation against it, they must have heard it; and they did not hear Mr. Havers make any Protestation against the Declaration of the Election by Sheriff Nall: It was acknowledged, That a Scrutiny was demanded, and granted; but it went off, upon a Dispute of putting down Mr. Cartwright's Name upon the Poll; it having been agreed the Day before, that Mr. Cartwright's Name should be put down on Mr. Davy's Poll, subject to Scrutiny in point of Right; but not in point of Time: And, the next Day, when the Scrutiny was to have begun, Mr. Thacker's Friends went off from what they had agreed to the Day before: And thereupon Mr. Sheriff Nall said, If they could not agree at the Beginning, it was to no Purpose to go on with the Scrutiny; but he would declare the Election according to the Majority; which accordingly he did, as is said before, Mr. Havers standing by him; and did not, to their Hearing, contradict it: That, after the Declaration, an Indenture of Return was prepared, and signed by Mr. Nall, in Court, and offered to Mr. Sheriff Havers to sign; which he did not absolutely refuse to do; but took Time to consider of it: And Mr. Hewys said, That, after Mr. Nall had declared the Election, Mr. Havers said, He could not be against that Declaration.

That Mr. Davy's Counsel admitted the Four Minors, excepted to by the Petitioner.

That the next Thing Mr. Davy's Counsel proceeded on was, to justify such Votes as had been excepted to by the Petitioner.

And the first Head they called to, was that of Freemen:

And they gave Evidence to the Justification of 55, as entered in the Freemen's Books, or Freeholders; and Four others, they said, had been disqualified upon another Head:

That, as to the Evidence given to disqualify several of Mr. Davy's Voters, as receiving Charity; Mr. Davy's Counsel insisted, That it was not any concluding Evidence, because they did not produce the Books.

That then Mr. Davy's Counsel proceeded to make several Exceptions to Mr. Thacker's Voters:

And the First Head of Exception was, to such as were made free after the Teste of the Writ:

And, by the Freemen's Books, it appeared, That Six-and-thirty, named in Mr. Thacker's Poll, had been made free after the Teste of the Writ:

That they also gave Evidence, That Three Persons, who polled for Mr. Thacker, were Minors.

VOL. 13.

That a Question being started, Whether those Men, who were made free after the Teste of the Writ, and excepted to by Mr. Davy, had a Right to vote; the Committee came to this Resolution:

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That such Persons, as had a Right to their Freedom in the City of Norwich before the Teste of the Writ, and took out their Freedom after the said Teste, not having demanded the same before the said Teste, had not a Right to vote in the last Election of Citizens to serve in this present Parliament for the said City.

That the next Head of Exception to Mr. Thacker's Voters were, such as voted as Freemen, and could not be found in the Freemen's Books: And

Mr. Hewys said, He had searched the Books, and could not find 83 Persons, that voted for Mr. Thacker, in the Freemen's Books.

That the next Head of Exception was to Hospital-men:

And they gave Evidence to Eleven Persons, who voted for Mr. Thacker, that were Hospital-men:

That they also shewed, that 33 Persons were named twice, or oftener, in the Poll.

But, as to that, it was answered, and admitted, That there were all of those Names, except Five, several Freemen in Norwich.

That they also excepted to, and proved by the Book, That 21 Persons, named in Mr. Thacker's Poll, received Collection.

That then Mr. Thacker's Counsel were heard by way of Reply:

And that they allowed the Three Minors excepted to by Mr. Davy's Counsel:

That, as to the 83 Persons, excepted to by Mr. Davy's Counsel, as not being found in the Freemen's Books, they justified 51 of them: And, as to Three others, it was said, They polled for Mr. Davy, as well as Mr. Thacker.

That the Counsel for Mr. Thacker were then admitted to give Evidence of such as polled for Mr. Davy, and were made free after the Teste of the Writ: And 14 were allowed to be made free after the Teste of the Writ: They also shewed several others, named in Mr. Davy's Poll, who, or some of the same Name, were made free after the Teste of the Writ.

But, to answer that, on the other Side, they shewed several of the same Name, made free long before the Teste of the Writ.

That it is to be taken Notice of, that there seem to be, in the Poll, several Misnomers; which made the Evidence of qualifying and disqualifying Votes the more uncertain.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to this Resolution:

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Robert Davy Esquire is duly elected a Citizen to serve in this present Parliament for the City of Norwich.

The said Resolutions, being severally read a Second time, were, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

Sir Rowland Gwyn also, according to Order, reported from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to them, touching the Election for the Borough of Calne, in the County of Wilts; and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

That the Committee have examined the Matter of the double Return for Calne; and also the Merits of the Election upon the several Petitions of Sir Charles Hedges Knight, and Edw. Baynton Esquire:

That the Right of Election is in the ancient Burgesses: The Right of Return is in the Two Stewards: The senior Steward has the Custody of the Seal; and the junior the Custody of the Book:

That

Calne
Election.

That the senior Steward voted for Mr. Bainton; and put the Common Seal to his Return:

That the junior Steward voted for Sir Cha. Hedges; whose Return is under the Hands and Seal of the said Steward and Burgesses:

That the Numbers upon the Poll were equal; viz. Eight for Sir Charles Hedges, and Eight for Mr. Bainton.

Mr. Richard Seagre delivered in to the Committee the Poll at the last Election; and said, That he, and the senior Bailiff, had equal Power; and that the Precept for this Election was delivered to him, and he gave a Receipt for it; and that he himself proclaimed the Day of this last Election; and his Partner joined with him.

That it was insisted by Sir Cha. Hedges' Counsel, That some indirect Practices had been used to gain Votes for Mr. Bainton: And they examined some Witnesses:

Tho. Fowler gave an Account, That Stephen Blake, One of the Voters for Mr. Bainton, was at London at the time of the Dissolution, and came home to Calne on Wednesday before the Election: That he did not stay at home; but went to Mr. Haskins's, who was the Steward that returned Mr. Bainton, and kept a Publick-house; and there was kept by Force: He acknowledged he had a Warrant to arrest the said Blake; but, he said, Weeks the Attorney had promised him he should not be arrested till the Election was over: Fowler said also, That Haskins solicited Votes for Mr. Bainton:

He also said, that, upon Discourse with Walter Doleman, and another Man, who was a Carpenter, before the Election preceding this last, they declared, They would not be for Mr. Bainton, but on account that he would get their Debts paid, which were owing from a Kinsman of Mr. Bainton's: And Doleman, before the Dissolution of last Parliament, said, He had received 50 l. the Remainder of his Debt.

Tim. Seager said, That, after the Dissolution of the last Parliament, Blake said, He would be for Sir Charles Hedges, and make what Interest he could for him.

Rich. Seager said, That, since the Dissolution of the last Parliament, he went to Walter Doleman, and desired his Vote for Mr. Chivers; and Doleman answered, That Mr. Bainton had paid him all his Money, and he would be for him: That he was invited by Mr. Haskins, on the Election-day, to Dinner; and told, It should cost him nothing: And that Mr. Bainton was there upon several Days.

John Landrick said, That, the Election before this Mr. Haskins bid him look into a Paper in the Window, and there was Ten Guineas; and, if he would vote for Mr. Bainton, he should have them: He said, He did see Guineas there; but could not tell how many.

That it appeared also, That Blake was, after he came down, at Norman's, One of Mr. Bainton's Voters, at the drinking a Bowl of Punch.

That the Counsel for Mr. Bainton insisted, That the Returns had been all along made under the Common Seal: And they called some Witnesses:

Mr. Haskins said, That he had known Calne 40 Years, and Four or Five Elections; and that the Returns were always made by the senior Steward: That Blake, when he came from London, went first to his own House on the Wednesday; but, hearing there were Writs out against him, sent to him the next Day, to advise with him; and, on the next Day, being Friday, came to his House, to be safe: That there was 100 l. Action against him: That Mr. Bainton's Friends, who came to see him, paid their Club; and Blake himself paid for what he had at his House:

He said, That the Town have 150 l. at Interest, which Interest is given among poor Tradesmen; and that one Landrick, who voted for Sir Cha. Hedges, received some of that Money; but he could not say it was the last Year.

Blake himself, being examined, said, He was, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday Nights at Haskins's, and paid for what he had: He said, There was no Force upon him; but he understood there was a Writ against him at Sir

Hungerford's Suit; and was at Mr. Haskins's, because he was afraid of an Arrest: And denied he promised to be for Sir Charles Hedges before he went down: He said, The Head Stewards commonly made the Return, and, in the Town-business, had a casting Voice.

That they produced the Precept the last Election, which was to the Steward in the single Number: And the Under Sheriff said, The Reason was, he did not know, There were two Stewards.

To answer which, on behalf of Sir Cha. Hedges, were produced Three Returns;

14 Feb. 31 Car. 2di.

3 Feb. 33 Car. 2di.

21 Feb. 33 Car. 2di.

The Indentures of which said several Returns were between the Sheriff and both Stewards.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to these Resolutions:

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Sir Charles Hedges is not duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Calne, in the County of Wilts.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Edw. Bainton Esquire is not duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the said Borough of Calne.

The said Resolutions, being severally read a Second time, were, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

Resolved, That the said Election for the Borough of Calne is a void Election.

Ordered, That Mr. Speaker do issue his Warrant to the Clerk of the Crown, to make out a new Writ, for the electing a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Calne, in the County of Wilts, in the place of Sir Charles Hedges Knight, and Edward Bainton Esquire; whose Election, upon their double Return, is declared to be void.

Ordered, That the Report from the Committee of the whole House, to whom the Bill for taking the publick Accounts of the Kingdom was committed, be made To-morrow Morning. Publick Accounts.

Ordered, That Mr. Renda, Mr. Jennings, Mr. Rowney, Mr. Vincent, Mr. Blake, Mr. Bridges, be added to the Committee, to whom the Bill for making the River Cham, alias Grant, more navigable, from Clayhith, in the County of Cambridge, unto King's Mills, in the University and Town of Cambridge, is committed. Cham Navigation.

And then the House adjourned till To-morrow Morning, Nine a Clock.

Sir Robert Clayton, according to Order, reported, from the Committee, to whom the Petition of the Ministers, Churchwardens, Overseers of the Poor, and principal Inhabitants, of the respective Parishes of St. Andrew Undershaft, St. Buttolph's Bishopsgate, St. Buttolph's Aldgate, St. Catharine Creed Church, St. Catharine Coleman, and St. James Duke's Place, in the City of London; praying, That a Bill may be brought in to oblige Jacob Mendez de Breta, in particular, and the Jews in general, to maintain, and provide for, their Protestant Children, was referred; the Matter, as it appeared to them; and the

Jews
Protestant Children.

Resolutions

Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

That it appeared to the Committee, upon the Examination of several Witnesses, That Mary Mendez de Breta is the Daughter of Jacob Mendez de Breta, a Jew Merchant, living in the Parish of St. Andrew Undershaft; and that, upon her being baptized and converted to the Christian Faith, the said Jacob her Father disowns her for his Child, and refuses to allow her any Maintenance; so that the Parish of St. Andrew Undershaft, in Compassion to her deplorable Condition, have, since her embracing the Christian Faith, allowed her a Maintenance, suitable to her Quality and Degree.

To prove which, several Persons of very good Repute, Inhabitants of the said Parish of St. Andrew Undershaft, and the other Parishes in the Petition mentioned, were examined; viz.

Mary Mendez de Breta said, That she is about Eighteen Years of Age, and was born at Sevill in Spain; and that Jacob Mendez de Breta, her Father, lived with her Mother Eleven Years as her Husband, and had several other Children by her said Mother: That, soon after her Father came into England, he sent for her from Spain, and always owned her for his Child; and that he kept her in very decent Habit, provided plentifully for her, sent her to the Dancing School, and allowed her an Education suitable to his Degree and Quality: That she, being convinced of her Error by living in the Jewish Religion, hath lately embraced the Christian Faith; and was, about the Month of May last, baptized by Mr. Thorold, a Minister of the Church of England; since which, her Father, Mr. Jacob Mendez de Breta, disowns her for his Child; and now, and for some time past, refuses to allow her any Maintenance; and that she never was disowned till after her Conversion:

That, being afraid of her Father's Anger, she applied herself to Sir Tho. Abney, then Lord Mayor of London, for Protection; who ordered the Churchwardens of St. Andrew Undershaft to provide for her; and that she has been ever since very decently maintained at the Charge of the said Parish:

That her said Father, refusing to allow her a Maintenance, was bound over to the Sessions at Guildhall; and there the Justices made an Order for him to allow her 20 s. a Week for her Maintenance; but the said Order was set aside by the Court of King's Bench, as she is informed.

Mr. Shelton, of St. James Duke's Place, said, That he is a near Neighbour to the said Mr. Jacob Mendez de Breta; and has known the said Mary his Daughter from a Child: That she was always clothed very well, like a Merchant's Daughter; and ever taken, esteemed, and called, as his Daughter.

Mr. Thorold, a Minister of the Church of England, said, That, after he had examined the said Mary Mendez de Breta, and being fully convinced of the Sincerity of her Conversion, did, by Direction of the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, baptize her; and that, as he was performing his Function, a Person, unknown to him, but supposed to be a Jew by his Complexion, came into the Church, and, observing what was done, and being enraged thereat, swore and cursed, and wished the Church might fall, and they . . . buried in the Ruins thereof: Whereupon Endeavours were made to apprehend him; but he made his Escape.

Mr. Mason, of St. Andrew Undershaft, at whose House the said Mary Mendez de Breta hath lodged ever since she hath been baptized, said, That the said Mary is a Person of a modest Behaviour, and, as he verily believes, a devout Christian; and that she hath constantly attended upon Divine Service.

Mr. Franshaw, a very noted Jew, being examined concerning the Temper and Disposition of the said Jacob Mendez de Breta, said, That he is a very choleric and troublesome Person.

VOL. 13.

Mr. Adams said, That Mary Mendez de Breta was arrested some time since for some Stuff Cloaths that she had before she came from her Father, in order to oppress her, as he believes, by the Contrivance of her said Father, by reason of her Conversion.

Mr. Wiggins said, That there was great Precaution used to prevent Mr. Jacob Mendez de Breta's seizing the said Mary his Daughter; which, they feared, was intended, in order to send her beyond Sea, or otherwise misuse her.

Mrs. Duncombe said, That she hath been very conversant in Mr. Jacob de Mendez' Family for Eleven Years past; and that the said Mary was owned, esteemed, and ever taken, as his Daughter.

Mrs. Micclethwaite declared to the same Effect; and that she hath seen the said Mary clothed as a Merchant's Daughter.

It appeared also to the Committee, by the Parish Books, That the said Mary was, from time to time, inserted therein; and that her said Father paid to the Poll Tax for her, as his Daughter.

Mr. Bates said, That Mr. Jacob Mendez de Breta, the very last Year, was a Collector of the Tax for Births and Burials; and that, in the same Book that the said Jacob was so nominated a Collector, he was therein charged for his said Daughter.

John Rogers Gentleman produced the Book of the Capitation Tax; wherein the said Jacob Mendez de Breta was assessed for 2,000 l.; and that, in the said Parish of St. Andrew Undershaft, the said Jacob Mendez is esteemed a Person worth 5 or 6,000 l. at least.

Mr. Jacob Mendez de Breta, being present, was admitted to answer to the Charge against him; and being asked by the Committee, Whether the said Mary was his Daughter, said, He could not tell: That he never cohabited with the said Mary's Mother; nor ever had any other Wife than she he now has.

The said Jacob Mendez, being also asked, Whether the said Mary Mendez had any Brothers or Sisters, said, He knew not; but said, That the said Mary, with Two or Three more Children, were laid at his Door; and that he took them in, and maintained them, purely out of Charity.

The said Mr. Mendez de Breta, being further asked, How he came to own her for his Daughter, and suffer her to be entered in the Parish Books as such, said, That he never owned her for his Daughter; but used her as his Servant: That she never sat at Table with him; nor ever allowed her any other Cloaths but such as he allowed his other Servants: That if she was entered in the Poll or Capitation Tax, as his Daughter, it was without his Knowledge or Consent.

To prove which, he called several Witnesses; viz.

Judith Pacheca, a Jew, and Slave to Mr. Mendez de Breta, said, She had lived with him 14 Years as his Slave: That the said Mrs. Mary Mendez came to her Master's in Portugal a Year after he was married; and she always looked upon the said Mary Mendez as a Servant; and the said Mary lay with her, and wore such Cloaths as she did; and used to call Mr. Jacob Mendez Master; and there was no Difference made between the said Mary and the rest of the Servants.

Mary Warwick said, That she had known Mr. Jacob Mendez de Breta several Years; and used to call Mr. Jacob Mendez Master: That she was always looked upon as a Servant; and never sat at Table with Mr. Mendez, but with the other Servants.

Eliz. Chichester said to the same Effect.

But it appeared to the Committee, by the Testimony of Mr. Joseph Bagshaw, and several of the chief Inhabitants of the Parish of St. Andrew Undershaft, That the said Mary Warwick was a Person of very ill Repute, and of scandalous Life and Conversation.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to these Resolutions; viz.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That

Jews
Protestant

That the Petitioners have fully proved the Allegations contained in their said Petition.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the House be moved for Leave to bring in a Bill, according to the Prayer of the said Petition.

The said Resolutions, being severally read a Second time, were, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

A Petition of the Agents, Planters, and Merchants, concerned in, and trading to, the Island of Barbadoes, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That there is a Duty of Four and an Half per Centum on the Commodities of the said Island, exported thence; which was granted by an Act of the said Island in September 1663, for the Reparation and Building of Fortifications, and defraying all other public Charges incident to the Government there; which has been collected by Officers appointed by the Commissioners of the Customs in England, and applied to other Uses; whereby the Fortifications are run very much out of Repair, and other publick necessary Works are unbuilt, and their Magazine unprovided; so that, in case of a War, the said Island, and all other the Sugar Plantations to Windward of Jamaica, would be in Danger of being lost, if an Enemy should attack it; which would be a vast Loss to England: And praying, That the said Duty of Four and an Half per Centum may be applied to the Uses for which it was given, in order to the Defence and Security of the said Island.

That the Right of Election was agreed to be in the Freemen or Burgesses:

But the Question between the Petitioners and Sitting Members was, Whether the younger Sons of Freemen had a Right to demand their Freedom?

That the Petitioners Counsel insisted, That the younger Sons had a Right: And the Sitting Members Counsel insisted on the contrary:

And thereupon the Petitioners Counsel examined several Witnesses:

Tho. Moody: Who had known East Retford 50 Years.

Wm. Moody, aged 69, born at East Retford:

Wm. Bunby, above 40 Years of Age:

Who testified, That the younger Sons of Freemen had a Right to their Freedom: And Tho. Moody, and Wm.
 Bunby, said, They were both of them younger Sons, and admitted to their Freedom, paying only the Court-fees:
 Tho. Moody said, Robert Moody, his younger Brother, was also made free: And Wm. Moody, the eldest Son, testified to the like Effect; viz. That he had Two younger Brothers made free; and that Three of the Smiths were made free by their Father's Copy above 40 Years since;

VOL. 13.

and Three of the Caltons were made free almost 50 Years since.

William Bunby said, That, at the same time he was made free, one Rob. Mason, a younger Son, was made free.

And Robert Mason, being examined, confirmed the same.

And Bunby and Mason said, That they were summoned to take up their Freedoms; or, otherwise, threatened to have their Shops shut up.

That they also, to make out the said Right, insisted on some Entries of the Admittances of Freemen in the Books; viz. Two of 13 Car. I. in these Words:

Ad hanc curiam venit Henricus Johnson; et petit, Quod ipse, et Willielmus et Johannes Johnson, filiorum ipsius Henrici, et hæredes masculi de corpore suo, de cætero sint burgenses villæ et burgi prædicti; et super hoc prædicti Henricus juratus est secundum consuetudinem villæ et burgi prædicti; et est inde burgensis et juramentum prædictorum Willielmi et Johannis, respect' quosque ad ætatem attingunt.

Ad hunc curiam venit Thomas Fraunce; et petit, Quod ipse, et Henricus Fraunce, Richardus Fraunce, et Thomas Fraunce, filiorum prædicti Thomæ, hæredes masculi de corpore suo, de cætero sint burgenses villæ et burgi prædicti; et super hoc prædicti Thomas Fraunce juratus est; and the swearing the other respited till they came of Age, as before.

That they also produced an Entry of the Admittance, in another Book, of Gilbert Welsh, a younger Son, to his Freedom, of the 28 of September 1635, which is in these Words:

Whereas Gilbert Welsh, Second Son of Richard Welsh, did this Day take up his Freedom, and was sworn a Burgess of the same Town; it is, nevertheless, agreed upon, ordered, and decreed, by and with the Consent of the said Gilbert Welsh, That he the said Gilbert Welsh shall not, in respect of his said Freedom, have, claim, or challenge, any Stall or Standing within the Moot-hall of the said Town, unless he do compound and pay for the same, as Foreigners do; neither shall have, claim, or challenge, any Stall or Standing in the Market-place, any ways to lett or dispose of the same to any others; but only to stand there himself, if he see good.

That the Counsel for the Petitioners also offered, in Evidence, the Report of the Election for East Retford the last Parliament: But, there being no Resolution upon the Point in Question, the Committee did not think fit to read the same.

To answer which Evidence, the Counsel for the Sitting Members called several Witnesses; viz.

Wm. Jessop; who had known East Retford 47 Years, and had served all Offices in the Borough:

John Reynolds, born at East Retford, and lived there ever since, aged Fifty-four Years:

James Mason, aged Fifty-four Years, and had known
 East Retford 35 Years:

Wm. Booth, who had known East Retford 40 Years:

Who testified, That no Person had a Right to demand their Freedom, but such who were the eldest Sons of Freemen, or had served an Apprenticeship to some Freeman:
 And Jessop said, No others were admitted in his Time;
 but he had been out of Town 16 Years: And John Reynolds, said, That one Thomas Sorely, a younger Son of John Sorely, never demanded his Freedom; and that Richard Calton, a Fourth Son, paid 20 s. Fine for his Freedom: And James Mason said, That Wm. Bunby paid 20 s. for his Freedom.

That they also produced an Entry, 20 Eliz. in these Words: Ad hunc curiam tent' 3<sup>a</sup> die Novembris, coram Edwardo Spuy, Edwardo Mason, et Johanne Fletcher, ballivis ibidem, anno regni reginæ Eliz. 8<sup>cæ</sup>. 22<sup>a</sup>; et petit, Quod ipse, et hæredes masculi, de cætero sint burgenses et liberi in villa prædicta; et admissus est; et prædicti Thomas juratus; et postea, in eadem curia, composuit pro liberatione filii sui prius nati; viz. Roberti Tupman; qui etiam est liber et burgens'.

That

East Retford
Election.

That the Petitioners Counsel called, by way of confronting; Wm. Bunby and Robert Mason, who had been examined before; and they persisted in it, That they were younger Sons, and made free, paying the Court-fees: And Mason named the Sum; viz. 5s. 6d. or 5s. 8d.

And that the Committee, upon the Proof, came to this Resolution:

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That younger Sons of Freemen of the Borough of East Retford have not a Right to demand their Freedom of the said Borough.

That the Counsel for the Petitioners then proceeded to give an Account of such others as had a Right to their Freedom, and were refused their Vote.

John Leary said, That John Leary junior was his eldest Son, and had served him Seven Years as an Apprentice.

Wm. Bunby said, That John Leary had served Seven Years to his Father, and was made free by Popplewell.

Wm. Smith said, That Martin Calton was his Father's eldest Son, and lived with his Father all his Time; and his Father was a Freeman.

Wm. Bunby, John Leary, said, John Hodgkin is the eldest Son of a Freeman: And Leary said, His Father was made free before the said Leary was born.

Wm. Smith said, That Thomas Bonefont served his Father Seven Years, and was made free by Popplewell.

Wm. Bunby said, John Colton junior served his Father Seven Years, and was made free by Popplewell.

John Leary said, That John Stevenson and Thomas Ryley each served Seven Years to the same Master, within Two Doors of him:

That George Popplewell gave Seven Pounds for his Freedom:

That John Colton, William Thompson, and John Goodall, are the eldest Sons of Freemen; but he could not say they were born after their Fathers were made free:

That Thomas Colton and Steph. Hodgkin served Seven Years to their respective Fathers:

That William Woodhead served Seven Years to one Moody, a Butcher.

Wm. Smith said, That John Colton, Wm. Thompson, John Goodall, Tho. Soresby, were the eldest Sons of Freemen; but could not say whether their Fathers were free before their Sons were born.

That Thomas Calton, Rich. Bonefont, Step. Hodgkin, William Goodall, William Woodhead, served in the Town as Apprentices; but they could not say whether they were bound by Indentures.

That they also proved by a Witness, That Martin Calton demanded his Freedom several Years:

That John Hodgkin, John Goodall, Tho. Bonefont, Tho. Soresby, John Calton, Tho. Calton, Savil Atkinson, Rich. Bonefont, John Stevenson, Steph. Hodgkin, Tho. Ryley, Wm. Goodall, Tho. Clark, Wm. Woodhead, William Thompson, had demanded their Freedoms.

That, as to their offering to poll, the Petitioners Counsel called

William Nicholls: Who said, That John Leary, Geo. Popplewell, Martin Calton, John Calton, John Hodgkin, Wm. Thompson, Tho. Bonefont, John Goodall, John Colton, Tho. Calton, Sam. Atkinson, Rich. Bonefont, John Stevenson, Steph. Hodgkin, Tho. Ryley, Wm. Goodall, Tho. Clark, William Woodhead, offered to poll for Sir Willoughby Hickman and Mr. Levinz, and were refused:

And Thomas Soresby, who would have polled for Sir Willoughby Hickman and Mr. Thornhagh, was also refused.

That the Petitioners Counsel also insisted, That the Sitting Members voted for themselves.

To which it was answered, That Sir Willoughby Hickman voted for himself.

That the Sitting Members Counsel also insisted, That they should take off some of the Petitioners Votes, on account of Charity:

That Mr. Popplewell had no Right to make any free, being himself disfranchised: -

And that the Persons, said to have a Right, had not demanded their Freedoms at a proper Time:

And called several Witnesses:

James Mason said, That William Buttry had received 2s. for several Years, and particularly the last Year, of Wharton's Charity:

That Martin Calton received of Clark's Charity: He said, He did not see it paid; but he finds his Name entered in the Book of the Account of Wharton's Charity.

William Booth said, That William Buttry had 2s. a Year paid him several Years: That he had seen it given to his Wife the last Year but one.

John Hodson said, That, about a Week before the Election, Mr. Nicholls came to him, and desired his Vote for Sir Willoughby Hickman; and Mr. Levinz should help him to a Place of 20 or 30l. a Year; and Mr. Levinz should give him some Money: And Mr. Nicholls, at his going away, gave him a Crown.

Wm. Jessop said, John Johnson's Father is not free; and he was bound to one that was not free.

Wm. Skelton said, That John Leary's Father was asked to swear that his Son was made free; and he refused to do it.

John Walker said, He heard Martin Calton say, He could have his Freedom if he would; but he would vote for Parliament-men without it; and he would save his Money to buy Cloaths.

Skelton said, That John Calton did not serve a Freeman; but was put to one of the Waits of the Town, who died after Carleton had been with him Two Years.

Savill Atkinson's Indenture of Apprenticeship to Tho. Shelton was produced, dated 15 October 1668; and, by Certificate, it appeared, that the said Shelton was buried 27 January 1672: But it was testified, on behalf of the Petitioners, That there was no other of that Trade in Town:

That, as to John Stevenson, it was testified, That, though he was Apprentice to one Calton, a Shoemaker, yet he served the Huntington Carrier; but it was by Calton's Consent.

Edw. Jackson said, He was Bailiff last Year; and that Tho. Riley never demanded his Freedom of him.

Wm. Booth said, That Thomas Riley produced a Pair of Indentures, dated in 1660; but the Date was rased, and made 1670:

That Mr. Popplewell was disfranchised; and his Disfranchisement, 11th April 1699, was read; which was by the Bailiffs and Aldermen subscribing that Disfranchisement.

John Reynolds said, That the Freemen, whereof Evidence was given that they demanded their Freedom, came to an improper Court; the Court they applied to being a Court Baron.

Mr. Serjeant Selby insisted, That Popplewell was not well disfranchised; for such an Act ought to be by the Corporation.

Mary Cozens said, That Mrs. Moody sent for her on Wednesday before the Election, and desired her Husband's Vote for Sir Willoughby Hickman, and Mr. Levinz; and said, She would lay down 7l. and she the said Cozens should take it up: That Cozens told her Husband; who said, He would be a Freeman: And afterwards she told Mrs. Moody of it; who said, If she could prevail with her Husband, she should have 10l. before they went into the Hall to give their Votes.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to these Resolutions;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That John Thornhagh Esquire is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of East Retford.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Tho. White Esquire is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of East Retford.

Abuses in
Department.

Mr. Harley, according to Order, reported, from the Committee appointed to examine into the Matter of the Complaint of a great Abuse committed in her Majesty's Brewhouse St. Catharine's, the Matter, as it appeared to them; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

That the Committee had examined into the Matter; and find it to be as followeth; viz.

Charles Hore informed the Committee, That he had been a labouring Servant in the said Brewhouse about Five Years, from which he was discharged in January last was Twelvemonth: And that, in June last, he acquainted an Officer of the Excise, that there was great Abuse committed at the said Brewhouse, by taking Ten, Twelve, or more Barrels, of the First Worts, out of every Brewing of Sea Beer; which, in Winter, was generally Four times a Week, and, in Summer once a Fortnight, or Month, as Occasion required: That those Worts were taken publicly by the Servants of the Brewhouse, who are Sixteen or Seventeen in Number; their Allowance, as they say, being a Gallon or Two a-piece per Day, which they have conveyed into their particular Cellars; and thinks it is impossible they should drink so much Beer, though he cannot say they sold it: And said, it was always the Custom for the Servants to drink the Worts, but the Bakers drank only the common Sea Beer:

That he has cleansed Ten or Twelve Barrels of the First Worts of a Brewing several times, of Sea Beer, by the Order of William Marshall, the Head Brewer there, as the Servants Beer, which was carried into their several secret Places; which the Excise Officers never found out, till Hore told them: But when they brewed Petty Warrant Beer, there was not taken above a Firkin or Two out of a Brewing:

That he has heard Pursers say, They would sell the King's Beer; which though he cannot say they did, yet John Tomkins, a Lighterman, and Tho. Bray, Waterman, who used to carry the Beer on board the King's Ships, have returned the empty Casks the same Tide: And said, That he never informed the Commissioners of the Victualling of the Matters aforesaid; but told one Mr. Denniston, an Excise Officer, of it; who laid it before the Commissioners of Excise; where Hore had sworn it.

Mr. Edw. Denniston, a Surveyor General of the Excise, said, That, long before he knew Hore, the Informant was a Surveyor of the Division within which the said Brewhouse stands; and, making his Surveys, he found a great Disproportion of the Worts between the Backs and the Tons; and ordered the Excise Officers to be watchful of the Frauds he suspected; acquainting the Commissioners of the Excise, from time to time, of such Disproportion; of which he had made an Entry, the Seventh of February One thousand Seven hundred, in his Leidger: That it must proceed from some unfair Practice of the Servants, there being missed One hundred Twenty-nine Barrels and Two Firkins in the Five Brewings following; viz.

committed at the said Brewhouse; whereof he told the Commissioners of Excise, who ordered him to use his Endeavours to detect that Fraud: And, on the Eighteenth of July, he took some Officers to his Assistance, to search the said Brewhouse; and inquired for Mr. Moor the Clerk: Who not being there, he asked Mr. Marshall, the Workman Brewer, what Strong Beer he had that was cleansed of that Guile: And Marshall said, They had none; Upon which Denniston demanded the Keys of the several Storehouses; which Marshall denied, giving abusive Language: But, Denniston threatening to break open the Doors, the Keys were produced; and then was found,

In Mr. Wright's Storehouse - - -	4	0
In Mr. King's Storehouse - - -	6	0
In Mr. Harris's Cellar - - -	2	1

In Yardman's Storehouse - - -	2	0
In Stoker's Storehouse - - -	1	2

In the Brewer's Hop-loft - - -	2	0
In the Miller's - - -	1	0

In all, Barrels - - -	32	0

All Strong Beer, and in Quality, worth 18 s. or 20 s. per Barrel; Twenty-six of them being new, and One Guile, in the Opinion of all the other Officers to his Assistance, who tasted and tried the same:

But that there was in Mr. King's Cellar, about Four Barrels of common Brewers Beer, of 40 s. per Barrel; a Copy of which Report he delivered to the Commissioners for Victualling:

That there is a continual Miss of the Worts, as appears by their Leidger-books: And that they keep as exact Accounts of the King's Brewhouses, as of the common Brewers; and can charge them, if . . . could prove Sale of the Drink; which the Commissioners of Excise could not do: But the Servants of the said Brewhouse still continue the same Practice; notwithstanding that he went, by Order of the Board of Excise, and acquainted the Commissioners of the Victualling therewith:

That he was ordered, on the Fifth of August last, to go to the Commissioners of the Victualling, for a List of the Servants Names belonging to the said Brewhouse; which he had: And they attended the Commissioners of Excise; and were examined accordingly:

That this Want of Worts is, when they brew Sea Beer; for, when they brew Petty Warrant Beer, it then answers to a Firkin; it being so small, that it is not worth the Servants while to run it; the Six last Brewings in Petty Warrant being such; and then all answered very well:

That Captain Francis Davison told him, He could buy Beer cheaper at the King's Brewhouse, by 18 s. or 19 s. per Tun, than either at Newcastle or London: And that he, at that time, had a Tun and a Half on board, which cost him but 45 s.

Benj. Wilks, Brewer, said, That he deals with the Danes and Swedes for Beer: And the Masters of Ships have bought Three and Four Tuns at a time of the King's Beer; some of the Butts were emptied into the Master's own Casks, and others were sold, with the King's Casks, for Half the Value: And asking the Master how he got the Beer, whether from the King's Brewhouse, or of a Purser, he refused to tell him: And that the Informant said, He had lost near 300 l. a Year in his Trade by this Practice.

To answer this Complaint;

Mr. Moor, the Clerk, William Marshall, the Brewer, and other Servants of the Brewhouse, attended the Committee; and were examined: And claiming a Right to take of the First Worts for their own drinking; denying any Sale, or other Embezzlement of the Beer; or that Mr. Denniston was ever denied Leave to search, or had any ill Language from them, but the Keys as soon as he called for them: And that the most they took at a time, out of any Cuile of Beer, was Three Barrels and a Half, and sometimes but a Barrel; and that the Beer is so bitter, that they must keep it a Month or Six Weeks before they can drink it: And that the Servants Allowance continues all the Year round; though, in the Summer they brew but once a Fortnight, or once a Month, as there is Need.

And Marshall said, That if there were Thirty-two Barrels of Beer found by Mr. Denniston, in the Places aforesaid, yet some of them were not full; and that they were of several Guiles; particularly Six Barrels behind the Third Square, which was for the Baker's drinking, and was but common Sea Beer; and Two other Barrels, to make up the Mens Complement, were of several Brewings:

That he, hearing that Complaint was made to the Commissioners of Excise, touching Embezzlements of the Beer at the said Brewhouse, went to them, desiring that they would send their Officers to see the Beer drawn off the Backs into the Tuns, as often as they pleased, and observe how they answered one another; but no Officer came for that Purpose, as he knows of.

John Dolby said, That he had been a Servant in the said Brewhouse near Eleven Years: And that when Mr. Denniston searched the House, there were Six or Eight of the Barrels discovered by him, then working, which were of the Second or Third Wort, for the Bakers Use: And that, when they brew but seldom, they take more than when they brew Three or Four times a Week; and never took above Three Barrels and an Half at a time, and sometimes but a Barrel in a Week.

The Commissioners of Excise acquainted the Committee, That they, having received an Account of great Abuses committed in the King's Brewhouse, ordered Edw. Denniston to endeavour to discover the same: That, upon the Report made to them by Denniston, they sent him to acquaint the Commissioners of the Victualling with it; and desired them to send their Servants to the Excise Office, to be examined: But there being no proof of any Sale, they examined no further, but ordered Denniston to acquaint the Commissioners of Victualling therewith.

That the Commissioners of the Victualling Office acquainted the Committee, That, upon the Information given them by Denniston, they inquired into the Matter: And said, They did what they could to detect the said Fraud; and, in order thereto, examined the Servants of the Brewhouse touching the same: Who denied the taking away any Worts but what was for the Use of the Servants, as had been usually practised: That they sent their Officers to examine the Beer found by Mr. Denniston; who were of Opinion, That the said Beer was not worth above 10 or 12 s. per Barrel: That he never gave them any further Account of the same: That the Commissioners desired Denniston to be present when they examined the Servants of the Brewhouse; but that he was not there, though they gave him all possible Encouragement to find out any Abuse; and desired him to inform them if he found any, which he promised to do: And further said, That it is the Duty of the Clerk of the Brewhouse, to see that the Drink be of its full Strength.

Mr. Mitchell, Secretary to the Victualling Office, said, That Mr. Denniston was at the Victualling Office that Day the Commissioners examined the Servants of the Brewhouse; but Denniston went away, saying, He did not think it proper for him to stay, the Commissioners of Excise intending to examine the Matter: And that he desired Denniston to give the Victuallers an Account of the same; but knows not that he came again, but for a List of the Servants, or that he was ever summoned after:

That Mitchell, and others, tasted the Beer the same Day that Denniston complained; and it seemed to them to be 10 or 12 s. Beer; and it was all the same as he tasted, as the Servants informed.

Resolved, That it appears to this House, That there hath been a great Abuse committed in her Majesty's Brewhouse at St. Catharine's, by drawing off the First Worts; to the Defrauding of her Majesty, and Prejudice of the Seamen.

Resolved, That the Pretence of taking Perquisites in her Majesty's Office of Victualling tends much to the Prejudice of her Majesty's Service.

MR. Clayton, according to Order, reported, from the Committee, to whom the Petition of the Merchants trading to the English Plantations in America was referred, the Matter, as it appeared, together with the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table; Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

That they had examined the Matter thereof; and find the same, upon Information of several Witnesses, to be as followeth:

Mr. Perry, Merchant, said, That there are many ill Persons about Town, who make it their Business to be troublesome to Merchants, and Masters of Vessels, trading to the Plantations, upon Pretence of procuring them Servants and Workmen to be transported thither: And although such Servants and Workmen have sworn before a Justice of Peace, that they are not married, nor any other Person's Servant; and have bound themselves at a certain Office, for that Purpose, called the Plantation Office; yet, afterwards, the Merchants, and Masters of Vessels, have been often prosecuted as Persons that have trepanned, or enticed away, such Servants from their former Masters, or from their Wives and Families: So that though it is absolutely necessary, that the Plantations should be supplied with Servants and Workmen; yet there are so many Tricks, and troublesome Suits, that Merchants cannot safely agree for them, nor the Masters of Vessels carry them to the Plantations:

That there are Persons who pretend to come out of the Country for Employment, and bind themselves at the said Office as Servants; and, when cloathed, and gotten on board, some of their own Gang go and search for them, and afterwards sue the Merchant, or Master of the Vessel, for Kidnappers, when they themselves, are the Persons, merely to extort Money from them, by way of Composition:

That, last Year, a Woman came to Mr. Perry, and complained, That her Husband was kidnapped away in a Ship of his; and therefore he must keep her, and her Four Children; and she brought several of her Parishioners, and made a very great Clamour; threatening to sue Mr. Perry; upon which he wrote away immediately to the Master of the Ship, which, by Accident, was Wind-bound at Cowes, to put the Woman's Husband on Shore; and, as good Luck was, the Master received the Letter, and discharged the Man; but Mr. Perry lost all his Passage-money, and what was laid out in Cloaths; notwithstanding such married Man had sworn before a Justice of Peace, that he was a single Man, and had fairly bound himself as a Servant at the said Office:

That, about Two Years since, one Daniel Watts was bound in a Voyage to Virginia, to carry Servants thither: That the Servants were all examined, and produced their Indentures at Gravesend, according to Custom; after which, a Man came on board to search for his Servant, whom he found, whose Name was Moor; but had bound himself by the false Name of Merchant; That, after Watts returned from his Voyage, Moor's Master arrested Watts, on a Capias in Withernam, and committed Prisoner to Newgate; and the said Master demanded a Hundred Guineas for the Loss of his Servant: That Watts offered him Sixty Guineas; which not being accepted, the said Master prosecuted Watts in the King's Bench; where

Seven or Eight Motions were had; but the Plaintiff delayed his Declaration, thinking to bring Watts to his Terms rather than lose a Voyage he was then bound in; but Watts petitioned the then Lord Keeper, from whom the said Capias issued, who granted a Supersedeas thereon; yet he lost his intended Voyage, was imprisoned, and spent a great deal of Money; though he was only employed, as Master of the Vessel, to carry the Servants as Passengers; and knew not the said Servant, nor that he had a Master; and was to have but Six Pounds for his Passage:

That, about Three Terms since, a Trial was had at Guildhall against a Merchant, who had contracted with a Wheelwright, that seemed to be Four or Five-and-twenty Years of Age: who bound himself at the said Office, and swore himself to be free from Servitude: The Action was brought by a Wheelwright of St. Albans, who declared, That the young Fellow was his Servant; and Judgment was given against the Defendant for 40*l.*; and believes it cost him near 40*l.* more.

That, about a Fortnight since, a young Fellow bound himself at the said Office, by a false Name; and the Person, to whom he was bound, is now committed a Prisoner in Newgate; and the Merchant, for whose Service he was bound, is threatened to be sued; and great Composition is demanded.

Mr. Braddle, Merchant, said, That Watts is not the only Person that has suffered by Imprisonment; but one Willmore, a Merchant of considerable Substance, was utterly ruined by Imprisonment, and Prosecution on a Capias in Withernam.

That they had many other Instances of the Hardships they labour under, which they had many Merchants ready to prove; but the Committee did not think it necessary to examine any further.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to the Resolutions following; viz.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of the Committee, That the Petitioners have fully proved the Allegations of their Petition.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the House be moved for Leave to bring in a Bill, according to the Prayer of the said Petition.

The said Resolutions, being severally read a Second time, were, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

Ordered, That Leave be given to bring in a Bill to prevent vexatious Suits for taking on board, and transporting Servants to the English Plantations in America: And that Mr. Clayton do prepare, and bring in, the said Bill.

An ingrossed Bill, from the Lords, intituled, An Act to enable the Bishop of Gloucester, and his Successors, to make distinct and separate Leases of the Manors, Lands, and Premises, therein mentioned, was read the First time.

Bishop of

Resolved, That the Bill be read a Second time.

An ingrossed Bill, for the Relief of Dorothy Baroness Dowager of Upper Ossory, and Captain James Roche, with relation to the Irish Forfeitures, was read the Third time.

Baroness of Upper Ossory's Relief.

An ingrossed Clause was offered, as a Rider, That, in case the Premises, confirmed by the Act to the Countess of Upper Ossory, shall exceed Eighty Pounds per Annum; yet that the House, Garden, and Appurtenances, wherein she now dwells, shall be enjoyed by her as Part of Eighty Pounds per Annum:

And the same was twice read; and amended; and then the Third time; and, upon the Question put thereupon, agreed unto by the House to be made Part of the Bill.

Resolved, That the Bill do pass: And that the Title be, An Act for the Relief of Dorothy Baroness Dowager of Upper Ossory, and Captain James Roche, with relation to the Irish Forfeitures.

Ordered, That Sir Thomas Littleton do carry the Bill to the Lords, and desire their Concurrence thereunto.

Uses.

A Petition of Sir Charles Brown Baronet, Henry Farmer, Ralph Sheldon, Thomas Stoner, John Weldon, Esquires, Robert Kilby, Gentleman, and Winifred Brook, Widow, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That on the Sixteenth Day of October One thousand Seven hundred, an Inquisition was taken at Wheatly, in the County of Oxon, before John La Pradell, and other Strangers and Foreigners, on the Oaths of one Lunt and Nevill, and other obscure mean Persons; where, without producing any Deed, or Copy of any Deed, the Petitioners Estates, which, for valuable Considerations of Marriage, were, long before the Time mentioned in the Inquisition, settled on the Petitioners, and their Families, are found to be given to Popish superstitious Uses: That the said Inquisition was never returned into the Petty Bag, or Exchequer, as by Law they ought; but they are kept secretly by Lunt, Neville, and their Accomplices, in order to molest the Petitioners, as they shall see Occasion: And praying, That a Clause may be added to the Bill for the better Discovery of all Lands, and other Revenues, given to Popish superstitious Uses; and for applying the same for the Support of the Royal Hospital of Greenwich; that the said Inquisition may not prejudice the Petitioners; and that the said Bill may not tend to charge such Estates as have been settled in Marriage, or purchased for a valuable Consideration.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee, to whom the said Bill is committed: And that Sir Robert Jenkinson and Mr. Bromley be added to the said Committee.

The OATH.

I A. B. do truly and sincerely acknowledge, profess, testify, and declare, in my Conscience, before God and the World, That our Sovereign Lord King William is lawful and rightful King of this Realm, and of all other his Majesty's Dominions and Countries thereunto belonging: And I do solemnly and sincerely declare, That I do believe, in my Conscience, That the Person pretended to be Prince of Wales during the Life of the late King James, and, since his Decease, pretending to be, and taking upon himself the Stile and Title of, King of England, by the Name of James the Third, hath not any Right or Title whatsoever to the Crown of this Realm, or any other the Dominions thereto belonging: And I do renounce, refuse, and abjure, any Allegiance or Obedience to him: And I do swear, That I will bear Faith and true Allegiance to his Majesty King William, and him will defend, to the utmost of my Power, against all traitorous Conspiracies and Attempts whatsoever, which shall be made against his Person, Crown, or Dignity: And I will do my best Endeavour to disclose, and make known to his Majesty, and his Successors, all Treasons, and traitorous Conspiracies, which I shall know to be against him, or any of them: And I do faithfully promise, to the utmost of my Power, to support, maintain, and defend, the Limitation and Succession of the Crown, against him the said James, and all other Persons whatsoever, as the same is, and stands limited, by an Act, intituled, An Act declaring the Rights and Liberties of the Subject, and settling the Succession of the Crown to his Majesty, during his Majesty's Life; and, after his Majesty's Decease, to the Princess Anne of Denmark, and the Heirs of her Body, being Protestants; and, for Default of such Issue, to the Heirs of the Body of his Majesty, being Protestants: And as the same, by one other Act, intituled, An Act for the further Limitation of the Crown, and better securing the Rights and Liberties of the Subject, is, and stands limited, after the Decease

Decease of his Majesty and the Princess Anne of Denmark, and for default of Issue of the said Princess, and of his Majesty, respectively, to the Princess Sophia Electress and Duchess Dowager of Hanover, and the Heirs of her Body, being Protestants: And all these things I do plainly and sincerely acknowledge, and swear, according to these express Words by me spoken, according to the plain and common Sense and Understanding of the same Words, without any Equivocation, mental Evasion, or secret Reservation whatsoever: And I do make this Recognition, Acknowledgement, Abjuration, Renunciation, and Promise, heartily, willingly, and truly, upon the true Faith of a Christian. So help me GOD.

The Lords have agreed to the Amendments, made by this House, to a Bill, intituled, An Act for enabling Sir William Meredith Baronet to sell Part of a capital Messuage, Lands, and Hereditaments, herein after-mentioned, in Ashley, in the County of Chester; he having settled other Lands and Tenements, in lieu thereof. Also,

The Lords have agreed to the Amendments, made by this House, to the Bill, intituled, An Act for vesting several Messuages, Lands, and Tenements, in the Parish of Whitchurch, in the County of Chester, in Trustees, to be sold, for paying off the Incumbrances charged thereon; and for other Uses therein mentioned.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Mr. Dormer, according to Order, reported, from the Committee, to whom the Petition of Samuel Lethelie, John Denew, William Richardson, and Simon Lebland, on the behalf of themselves, and very many other Merchants in England, and in foreign Parts, Freighters and Insurers in the Cloudesly Gally; complaining of the Escape of John Holder, of London, Merchant, out of the Prison of the Fleet; where he was charged, by the Lord Chief Justice Holt, for a Contrivance in taking out the Goods, and afterwards burning the said Ship, upon which he had made great Insurances; was referred; the Matter, as it appeared to them; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

Holder's Escape from Fleet Prison.

That the Committee had examined the Matter thereof, and find the same to be as followeth; viz.

That to the First Part of the Petition, relating to John Holder, Owner of the late Cloudesly Gally;

William Suckley, Mariner, informed the Committee, That, in March 1699, John Snapes, Commander of the Holder Frigate, came to him, and told him, That Mr. John Holder, of London, Merchant, desired to speak with him, intending to make him Commander of the Cloudesly Gally, for a Voyage to Cadiz, Genoa, and Leghorne, and so Home again: But Suckley replying, That he was in Expectation of another Ship; Snapes said, That this Voyage would be most for his Advantage; and that he should go in the Holder Frigate, in Company thither, also: Thereupon the Informant went to Holder, and agreed to accept the Command of the said Gally; and accordingly Bills of usual Notice were put up at the Exchange, in Suckley's Name; and then Holder told the Informant, That they had or would make great Assurances upon the said Ship, and her Loading, and take up great Sums of Money on Bottomry, and Merchants Goods on Freight; and had contrived and designed to burn the said Ship at Sea, and make Advantage thereof for themselves:

That he entered into the said Confederacy with Holder and Snapes; for which he was to have 1,500*l.*; and Holder gave him Three Notes under his Hand, amounting to that Sum, payable within Twelve Months after; which Notes he produced to the Committee: And the same Day Holder gave him secret Orders for carrying on the said Contrivance, consisting of 26 Articles; and afterwards sent him inclosed, by Letter to Cadiz, under his Hand, additional Instructions:

That they prevailed with Suckley to sign false Bills of Loading for Goods and Jewels that were never put on board; particularly 135 Pigs of Lead, 48 Hogsheads of Sugar, a Box of Jewels of 1,400*l.* Value, several Bales of Goods of many other Merchandizes: And also that after Goods have been shipped, he has altered the Marks by Holder's Order; particularly 19 Casks of Wax, for which Holder had given a Bill of Lading to Mr. Gardner:

That Holder, Snapes, and Suckley, borrowed 900*l.* upon their Bottomry Bond: And Holder said, That he had secured to the Value of 16,000*l.*

That he sailed from London, freighted with divers Merchants Goods of a considerable Value, and arrived at Cadiz, and there also gave false Bills of Lading; and took in to the Amount of 18,000 Pieces of Eight, besides much Plate, of divers Merchants, on Freight, for Genoa and Leghorne; and then sailed from Cadiz, in Company of the Holder Frigate, on their said pretended Voyage; but, by the Way, at Sea, before they arrived at the Port, to which they were consigned, great Quantities of the most valuable Goods put on board the Cloudesly Gally at London, and all the Pieces of Eight, and Plate, were, by Holder and Snapes, taken out of the Gally, and put on board the Ship Holder Frigate; and afterwards the said Gally was set on Fire by one Robert Acres, who was Mate of her; her; being prevailed upon so to do by Snapes, who promised him 100 l. for his so doing; and the said Cloudestly Gally was, by the said Fire, totally destroyed; the Men escaping on board the Frigate; and Holder and Snapes divided the Plate, Money and Goods, between themselves. And, after the Informant came to London, he also signed false Bills of Lading; and Holder altered the Marks on several of the Goods, and owned the aforesaid Orders and Instructions; but declined to pay the Informant any Part of the 1,500 l. which he was to have for his Consent to the burning of the said Gally, by putting him off from time to time.

Nic. Walker said, That he was Quarter-master of the Cloudestly Gally at the time she was burnt, which was on the 30th of October 1699: That Robert Acres the Mate, came running upon the Deck, and said, The Ship was on fire, and gave the Signal; upon which the Informant proposed to the Men, to carry Water, and endeavour to put it out, there appearing only some Smoke at a great Distance from the Powder-room, and he offering to go and throw the Powder overboard; but Acres was against it, and ordered the Long-boat to be put out, and put therein the best of his Cloaths; and the Men also went into the Boat; but he would not suffer them to put any thing in her; and then they followed the Holder Frigate, which had left the Gally Three Hours before; and the Fire burned 10 or 12 Hours before it reached the Powder-room; so that, if the Holder Frigate had staid, probably, great Part of the Goods might have been saved: And said, He saw Snapes alter the Marks on several Goods taken out of the said Gally, after they were put on board the Holder Frigate.

Sir William Hodges said, That there was Insurance made at Cadiz, for 12,000 Dollars, upon the Cloudestly Gally; for 2,900 whereof he subscribed for himself and Partners; and that, after the burning of the Gally, he was required to give Insurance for the Masters of Ships; which, before, was unusual, and never demanded of the Merchants, and brought a great Discredit upon the English there.

Mr. Radburne said, That he insured for 500 Dollars on the same Policy with Sir William Hodges; and was at Cadiz when the said Gally was burned; which brought such a Disgrace upon our Merchants there, that, when they applied to the Italian Brokers to get them Freight for Italy, as usually, they replied, That they had such an Instance in the Cloudestly Gally, as never to trust an Englishman more.

Mr. Gideon said, That he has been employed to search the Insurance Offices at London and Bristol, in this Matter; and finds, by the Policies in both Places, that there were 16,000 l. insured upon the Cloudestly Gally.

Mr. Hales, an Attorney, said, That some of the Insurance-money has been recovered by Holder; but hopes, he shall put a stop to further Matters of that Nature.

That, to prove the Second Part of the Petition, relating to the Warden of the Fleet Prison;

Mr. Hales said, That, on the 5th of this Instant March he served Mr. Dixon, the Clerk of the Papers of the said Prison, with the Lord Chief Justice Holt's Warrant, directed to the Warden of the Fleet, or his Deputy; that the Warden was not within, as informed; requiring them to detain and keep John Holder, then in his Custody, in sure and safe Custody, for his Offence, in assisting, contriving and directing, the wilful burning of the Cloudestly Gally, by Robert Acres Mate thereof, and whereof the said John Holder was Owner, until he should be discharged by due Course of Law: And Dixon then owned, That Holder was a Prisoner, and in Custody; and that he would take care, and secure him: And that Dixon always acted for the Warden as his Agent:

That he had another Warrant from my Lord Chief Justice Holt before this; which he did not think effectual; and therefore procured the above-said Warrant.

Mr. Jacob Kyzer said, That, on the Sixth of March instant, in the Morning, he and Mr. Grill met Mr. Dixon, with the above Warrant in his Hand; and then

VOL. 13.

Dixon owned, That the said Holder was a prisoner; and the Turnkey also said so: Upon . . . . . Kyzer asked to see Holder; but Dixon denied to shew him; saying, The Warden was out of Town; but if he would come in the Afternoon, he might have an answer; and Kyzer threatening to complain to the House of Commons, Dixon said, Pugh! He did not care for the House of Commons. That, accordingly he went in the Afternoon; and then they said, He was not a Prisoner; and the Turnkey said, He lodged somewhere in the Old Baily.

David Grill: That he went with Mr. Kyzer to the Fleet, and met with the Warden, and asked for Holder; upon which the Warden bid them go to Dixon; he did all his Business; and he himself knew nothing of the Matter: Whereupon Grill told him, That Holder was his Prisoner; and that, if he did not produce him, he should hear of it in the House of Commons.

That, to answer this, Mr. Ford, the Warden, said, He did not know of Holder's Offences; if he had, he should have had more Care of him; but that he only stood committed to him the 4th of February last, in Discharge of his Bail, in Three or Four Actions, which amount to about 120 l.

That he takes his Office to be in the Nature of a Sheriff's Office, where Bail is allowed; and that he has taken the same Person's Security for Holder's Imprisonment, as the Sheriff had taken to the Actions, sufficient to answer the same, as he believes; and hopes, he shall not be answerable for more than his Commitments:

That he thinks my Lord Chief Justice's Warrant to be unusual: To charge him with the Custody of Holder, there ought to have been a Habeas Corpus to have brought him before his Lordship; and then he would have removed him to a criminal Prison, more proper than the Fleet:

That he was out of Town, when the Matters were transacted; and when he came, referred them to Dixon:

That the Petitioners Agent searched for Holder upon the First Warrant, and took up one Mr. Bird for him; and thereupon Holder has taken the Alarm, and is gone away; but hopes to take him again: And alleged, That, by the Act 8th Wilhelmi 3rd, for regulating Prisons, the Person asking for a Prisoner in order to charge him, ought to demand a Note, under the Hand of the proper Officer, That he was a Prisoner; which, in this Case, was not done.

And the Committee taking Notice, that the Security Bond being of 600 l. Penalty; and executed by William Bird, and Thomas Bush a Tipstaff to the Fleet;

The Warden owned, That Bush was his Tipstaff; but said, Mr. Bird was no Prisoner; but believes him to be a responsible Man: and was the Person taken upon the said Warrant.

And Mr. Dixon denied he spoke the Words mentioned by Kyzer touching the House of Commons.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to the Resolutions following; viz.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the Petitioners have fully proved the Allegations of their Petition.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That John Holder, by procuring false Bills of Loading, and making fraudulent Insurances in England, and foreign Parts, on the Cloudestly Gally, and by contriving and directing the wilful burning of the said Ship, after the Goods of Value were taken out of the same, is guilty of a villainous Practice, highly dishonourable to the Nation, and prejudicial to the Trade thereof.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That William Weedon Ford Esquire, Warden of the Fleet, by suffering the said John Holder to escape, after he was legally charged in his Custody for the said Offence, is guilty of a notorious Breach of his Duty.

The said Resolutions being severally read a Second time, were, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I am very well pleased to have given My Assent to the Act for the taking the publick Accounts: Nothing is more reasonable than to give the Kingdom the Satisfaction of having those great Sums accounted for, which were raised to carry on the late War; especially when it is necessary for our own Safety, and the Support of our Allies, to continue great Taxes.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I return you My kind and hearty Thanks for continuing to Me, for My Life, the same Revenue you had granted to the King: I will take great Care it shall be managed to the best Advantage; and, while my Subjects remain under the Burden of such great Taxes, I will streighten Myself in my own Expences, rather than not contribute all I can to their Ease and Relief, with a just Regard to the Support of the Honour and Dignity of the Crown. It is probable the Revenue may fall very short of what it has formerly produced: However, I will give Directions, That One hundred thousand Pounds be applied to the publick Service, in this Year, out of the Revenue you have so unanimously given Me.

thinks it probable that the Revenue may fall very short of what it has formerly produced; and when Your Majesty's Expences must, of Necessity, be greater than ordinary.

Nothing can more encourage your People to contribute, with Alacrity, to the publick Occasions, than to have before them so great and glorious an Example, from Your Majesty, of Zeal and Affection for the Common Good; and that Your Majesty is so well pleased to have given the Kingdom the Satisfaction of having those great Sums accounted for, which were raised to carry on the late War.

We cannot omit, upon this Occasion, to repeat our firm Resolutions to maintain and defend Your Majesty, and Your Government, against the pretended Prince of Wales, and all other Your Majesty's Enemies whatsoever.

May God prolong your Majesty's auspicious Reign over us, and bless these Kingdoms with Royal Issue of Your Majesty, to inherit the Crowns of Your Ancestors.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, Your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Commons of England, in Parliament assembled, beg Leave unanimously to return our most humble and hearty Thanks for Your Majesty's most gracious Speech from the Throne; and particularly for Your Majesty's unparalleled Grace and Goodness, in declaring, That Your Majesty, out of your own Revenue, will contribute so largely to the Ease and Relief of Your Subjects, at a time when Your Majesty thinks it probable that the Revenue may fall very short of what it has formerly produced; and when Your Majesty's Expences must, of Necessity, be greater than ordinary.

May God prolong Your Majesty's auspicious Reign over us, and bless these Kingdoms with Royal Issue of Your Majesty, to inherit the Crowns of Your Ancestors.

Ordered, That such Members of this House as are of her Majesty's most honourable Privy Council, do humbly know her Majesty's Pleasure, when she will be attended by this House.

Sir Rowland Gwyn, according to Order, reported from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter touching the Election for the Borough of Bishop's Castle, in the County of Salop, as it appeared to the said Committee; and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

Upon the Petition of George Walcot Esquire, complaining of an undue Election and Return of Charles Mason Esquire to serve for the Borough of Bishop's Castle;

That, upon the Hearing of the Merits of this Election, there were Two Polls produced; One in behalf of the Petitioner, taken by Mr. Brent, a sworn Clerk:

That,

Bishop's Castle Election.

Bishop's Castle
Election.

That, upon which Poll, there was,

For Mr. Walcot - - - 41.

For Mr. Mason - - - 40.

That another, produced on behalf of the Sitting Member, taken by Robert Mason, another sworn Clerk:

Upon which Poll, there was,

For Mr. Walcot - - - 39.

For Mr. Mason - - - 42.

That which made the Difference of the Poll, was; In the Poll produced by the Petitioner, there were put down William Stockin and Richard James for the Petitioner; who were not put down to him on the Poll produced by the Sitting Member: And there was omitted, in the same Poll, to Mr. Mason, the said William Stockin, and the Bailiff's Vote; which were put down to him on the Poll produced by the Sitting Member.

The Matters endeavoured to be made out, as well by the Petitioner, as by the Sitting Member, were, Bribery, and the making good a Majority upon the Poll.

The Evidence was as follows:

The Petitioner's Counsel called several Witnesses;

Robert Wollaston, said, That Mr. Hanmer, Mr. Mason's Brother-in-law, told him, That the late Earl of Macclesfield, had, by his Will, left in his Hands 100 l. and, if he would vote for Mr. Mason, he should have as great a Share as any one; and that Mr. Hanmer made an Interest for Mr. Mason: Wollaston said, He was examined as a Witness, at the Hearing of the Merits of the last Election.

Geo. Winton said, That Mr. Mason met David Adams in the Street the Day before the Election, and told him, If he would vote for him, he should have the House, and Three Closes he then possessed, Rent-free: And, the same Day at Night, he told the said Adams, That, if he would come up to London, he would get him a beneficial Place: And that David Adams told him, He was in Arrear of Rent, and Mr. Mason had promised him to set it off: George Winton, being afterwards examined the next Night the Committee sat, said, That Mr. Mason offered him Five Guineas, if he would give him his Vote.

Edward Minton said, That old Mr. Mason sent for him Two Days before the Election, and told him, That, if he would vote for his Son, he should have his House Rent-free, and Part of 100 l. left by the late Earl of Macclesfield: He acknowledged, He never had Possession of the House; and that, since Mr. Mason had lett it to another.

Edward Minton said, That, on the Christmas Eve last he heard John Waters say, That he would never have voted for Mr. Mason, but that he had 5 l. for his Vote: He said, He was a Witness at the Hearing of the Merits of the last Election.

Walter Coneing said, That Isaiah Hoggin, on the Saturday before the Election, came to a House where the said Coneing was; and he said, That Isaiah Hoggin told him, He had no Money, but was to have Three Closes for his Life, after old Mr. Mason's Death, paying 12 d. a Year; but he was to vote for the Sitting Member in the mean time: He said, He was a Witness against Sir Gilbert Gerard at the last Hearing of the Merits of the Election for the said Borough, but not against Mr. Mason.

Jos. Comyns said, That, at Night, after the Election was over Wm. Adams told him, He had seven Pounds, to vote for Mr. Mason; and desired him not to divulge it: He acknowledged Adams was in Drink: And that the said Adams came the Night after the Election, and denied it; and said, He had only a Promise of 40 s. of the late Earl of Macclesfield's Money.

That Wm. Stockin, who was the contested Vote between Mr. Mason and Mr. Walcot, said, as he was going up the Hall, That, which Way he gave his Vote, he was to have 5 l.

That the Petitioner's Counsel, in the next Place, proceeded to except to some Persons on Mr. Mason's Poll, as receiving Charity: And called,

Richard Wollaston: Who said, That John Richards had received, for Four or Five Years last past, of Alderman Tanner's Charity; viz. 12 d. or 18 d. once a Year:

That Thomas Bright senior, Scrivener, his Wife had received of the same Charity:

That Samuel Richards, or his Wife, had received of the same Charity.

As to William Stockin; it was testified by the said Richard Wollaston, That the said Stockin was put down upon Three Polls: That Stockin, being called, and asked who he was for, answered twice, For Mr. Walcot and Mr. Bret: But the Bailiff, pretending he did not hear, asked him again; and then he gave his Vote for Mr. Bret and Mr. Mason, without going out of Court.

That the next Thing the Petitioner's Counsel proceeded on, was, to add to their Poll: And they called,

Richard Wollaston, Robert Wollaston, Walter Coneing: Who said, That Samuel James had voted formerly for Sir William Brownlowe: But it was acknowledged, that he lodged in the Town as a hired Servant, and was a Sort of a travelling Person.

Walter Coneing said, That Thomas Waters was his Bed-fellow; and he himself was a Housekeeper in Bishop's Castle.

That it was admitted by the Sitting Member's Counsel, That the said James and Waters did offer to poll for the Petitioner; but they denied that they had any Votes.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel first applied themselves to answer the Petitioner's Evidence: And they called,

Robert Mason, John Jones, and William Stockin: Who gave an Account, That Stockin did once, and but once, name Mr. Walcot's Name, by Mistake; and presently retracted, and gave his Vote for Mr. Bret and Mr. Mason: And, Robert Mason said, That Samuel James was no Inhabitant; John Jones said, That the Bailiff did give his Vote for Mr. Bret and Mr. Mason.

Charles Bright said, That, after the Election was over, he discoursed with Robert Wollaston: Who said, He had no Business at London; and swore he had nothing to say against Mr. Mason, or any concerned for him.

Charles Jones and Robert Owen said, That, on the Thursday before the Election, they heard Edward Minton, one of the Petitioner's Witnesses, say, That if Mr. Mason was elected, Three or Four of them would come up and turn him out, right or wrong: And Robert Owen testified, That Wm. Minton, another of the Petitioner's Witnesses, said, That Mr. Mason should never sit in the House.

Charles Jones, Fran. Colbach, said, That they were at Morris Pugh's when Geo. Winton and Adams were there: And Colbach said, He was nearer to Mr. Mason than Minton: And they did not hear Mr. Mason make any Promise to Adams, in Case he would vote for him: And Colbach and John Holmes said, That Adams had promised his Vote for Mr. Mason, before Mr. Mason came to Town: Jones said, That Adams told Mr. Mason, He had voted for him before, and would vote for him again.

John Holmes said, That David Adams has held his House Three Years at Lady-day of old Mr. Mason, paying 9 l. a Year; and Adams paid 3 l. in Part of Rent, at Christmas last:

That Mr. Mason did not come down till the Day before the Election; and declared, He would not speak to any of the Mintons.

Josiah Hoggin said, That he held Lands of old Mr. Mason; but that the Sitting Member had nothing to do with the Estate, unless his Father did please to give it him: And that all that voted for Mr. Mason, except Two Nortons, had promised to be for Mr. Mason, before he came to Town.

Thomas Bright, Hugh Mason, and Fran. Colebach, said, That Samuel James and Thomas Waters were not intitled to any Vote; for that he lived at Colebach, and not in Bishop's Castle.

John Jones and John James said, That Mr. Mason senior was very bad-sighted, and seldom went any where without Company: And that they were with the said Mr. Mason at Daniel Jones's, and Edward Minton came in; whereupon Mr. Mason bid them observe what he said, for they they would put Bribery on him: That Mr. Mason asked Edward Minton to give his Son a Vote: And he said, He would consider of it: Whereupon Mr. Mason said, If he would not give his Son a Vote, he could say nothing to it: And that Minton asked Mr. Mason to let him a House: But Mr. Mason said he had none to let him for the present.

Then the next Thing Mr. Mason's Counsel proceeded to, was, to disqualify some of the Petitioner's Voters. The Counsel objected to Mr. Mason's own Vote.

Fran. Colebach said, That Stephen Minton lived in a House built for the Poor; and had received of Tanner's Charity, particularly 4*d.* last June:

That Nath. Nicholas and Thomas Bright's Wives had received each of them 4*d.* or 3*d.* of the same Charity last June, and had Bread at a Funeral.

That the next Head was Bribery.

Samuel Lloyd said, That Mrs. Pugh, whose Husband voted for Mr. Walcot and Mr. Mason, gave him Twenty Shillings, to vote for Mr. Walcot; and he had also Eight Strikes of Malt on the Election-day in the Morning: But the said Samuel Lloyd was excepted to, as receiving Charity; and, having voted on both Sides, not insisted on.

Charles Bright said, That the Night before the Election, the Petitioner told the said Bright, who voted for Mr. Mason and Mr. Bret, If he would vote for him, he would give him 5*l.*: And he gave his Man Half a Crown to give him; and said, He would make it up 5*l.* next Morning: That the said Bright did acknowledge, He did not make Mr. Walcot any Promise to vote for him, and did not vote for Mr. Walcot: But the next Morning the said Bright offered the Petitioner the Half Crown; but the Petitioner bid him keep it, saying, He would make it up.

Hugh Mason said, There was 40*s.* due to him from Mr. Walcot, for Drink brewed at a former Election; which he could not get, till Mr. Graves came to him, to desire his Vote at this Election; and then he insisted on the said 40*s.* so owing to him: Mr. Graves afterwards brought, and desired him to accept of 30*s.* in Part; and promised him the other 10*s.* and thanked him for his Acceptance thereof.

Hugh Mason voted for Mr. Mason and Mr. Brett.

That by way of Reply, the Petitioner's Counsel called, Mr. Brent: Who said, He was a sworn Clerk, to take the Poll; and did not hear the Bailiff give his Vote.

Richard Wollaston said, That, Two Days after the Election, he met Charles Bright junior; and he asked him, If Mr. Walcot or his Agents, had given him any Money for his Vote: And he denied it with Protestations.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to these Resolutions:

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Charles Mason Esquire is not duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Bishop's Castle.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That George Walcot Esquire is not duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Bishop's Castle.

Damasking Stuffs.

1. Upon the Petition of Sir Thomas Cudden Knight, and many others concerned in beautifying Stuffs with hot Rolls:

Mr. Nic. Clark allegeth, That the Petitioners have used the Trade of Printing, Damasking, Striking, Flowering, of Stuffs and Cloths, for above Forty Years: and that there was a Patent granted the 36 Car. 2 di, for doing the same; and that the Petitioners have worked 3,000 Cloths a Year, after the same manner, but not in Colours.

Mr. Pocklington alleged the same as Mr. Clerk; and did insist, the Word Embossing was not in the Patent mentioned in the Bill.

It

It was allowed by the Parties prosecuting the Bill, That the Word Embossing was not in their Patent; and that their Patent was of a contrary Nature to that of the Petitioners, dated 36<sup>o</sup> Car. 2<sup>di</sup>, by reason the Words of their Patent was for damasking, striking, and fixing, Colours into Leather, all Sorts of Stuffs, Cloths, Velvets, and Hair, on both Sides.

Mr. Hen. Burnaby allegeth, That the Printing and Damasking of Stuffs is no new Invention; and that he hath known it practised for about Twenty-six Years; and that he hath done it himself, but not in Colours.

Mr. Tendall likewise said, That he has known Printing and Damasking to have been an Art used Time out of mind; but did never see any so embossed, and mixed in Colours; and did own to one Mr. Hancock, That the said Invention was new, and ought to be encouraged; but did further object, That the said Art was in too few Hands.

2. And that, upon the Petition of the Woollen-drapers of London and Westminster;

That there did only appear, on the behalf of the Woollen-drapers, one Mr. Molineux: Who allowed the Intention of the Bill to be good; but objected against the Patentees buying and selling Cloths: And praying, they might have a Clause to prevent the same; as likewise a Clause, That no unreasonable Prices might be imposed upon doing the same; and that the same might be done cheap:

That the Parties concerned in the Bill did agree, That whatever Cloths Mr. Molineux, or other Drapers, or any other Persons, should bring unto them, they would do them as cheap, and reasonable, as can be desired; and are willing to admit of any Clause for that Purpose.

3. And that, upon the Petition of Thomas Plomer, and others, Traders in Wool about the City of London, and Westminster;

That there did only appear, on the Petitioner's behalf, one Mr. Smith: Who said, He did not come to oppose the Bill in general; but did allow the Invention to be a good Invention; but said, If the said Invention was to be managed by so small a Number of Persons, it might be very prejudicial to them: That he likewise produced a Piece of flowered Shag, which was done by the Press; which, he alleged, had been used and practised by the Weavers for many Years; which employed many Thousands of People; as likewise many other things of the same Nature: And prayed, That they might have a Saving as to what related to their Trade: And also produced a prior Patent for preparing Crape, and all Sorts of Stuffs and Silks in Flowers, Ramages, and Figures, before they be dyed, which appears after the Dyeing of them by the Dyers.

The Persons concerned in the Bill did agree, that the Weavers might have a Clause for the saving such Right as they have in the Premises.

4. And that, upon the Petition of Robert Parker, and others;

Robert Parker junior said, He was the first Inventor of Embossing; and that his Father and he taught Mr. Watts, One of the Patentees; and produced a wooden Print, or Pattern: And further said, That he and his Father were the Persons that brought the raised Work to Perfection; but said, This was not above Four Years since.

Mr. Walton said, That he made the said Wooden Prints, or Patterns, about Four Years ago, for the said Mr. Parker, senior and junior.

Mr. Mathews, being examined by the Petitioner's Counsel, did declare, He was not interested in the said Patent; but was the first Inventor of the Embossing Trade; and that the said Parker, the Petitioner, was his Servant; but was not capable of doing his Business; for which Reason he turned him out of his Service. He also produced a Waistcoat of flowered Cloth, in Colours; which was the first Works, and was the Occasion of procuring his Patent; which he has long since parted with, and his Interest in; and the said Patent bears Date in or about the 14th of December, in the Seventh Year of his late Majesty's . . . . . which was long before the said Damasking Parker could pretend to any thing. Stuffs.

Mr. Watts said, That the said Parker senior used to keep Company with a Brother of his, who worked for the Patentees; and that the said Parker was to give his said Brother 3*l*. to learn him his Art; Thirty Shillings whereof was in Hand paid, and the other Thirty Shillings is still due; and that he himself did use the Art a Twelve-month before ever Parker pretended to it: And further said, That Parker's Wife promised him, That, if he would not contradict her Husband, before the Committee, in what he should say, it should be the better for him.

Mr. Hancock, Clerk of the Cloth to the New East India Company, said, about Three Years ago, a Piece of embossed Cloth, done by the Patentees, was sent to India; which was very well approved of there; and that there has been, since, several Patterns sent for from thence: And further said, That he hath likewise sent Cloth to the said Parker, the Petitioner, to be wrought, who hath spoiled him several Pieces thereof; but whatever Pieces he hath sent to the Patentees hath always been well done, and well approved of; and at about 6*d*. per Yard more than the common Dye.

Mr. Blanch was produced as Evidence for the said Mr. Parker: Who alleged, That he has done something of the same Nature, above 30 Years ago, both at Gloucester, and other Places; but allowed, he could not strike it as the Patentees do; and has left off his Trade for above Seven Years.

5. And that, upon the Petition of the Governor and Company of Merchants trading to the Levant Seas;

The Governor of the Company, being examined to their Petition, said, That the Invention is new, and ought to be encouraged; but all that he does object against, and insist upon, is, That it may not be engrossed in a few Peoples Hands; which will be a Hindrance to the Improvement of the same.

6. And that, upon the Petition of the Leather Guilders;

The Patentees have agreed, That the Word Leather should be struck out of their Bill; and that they should have any Clause whatever, to save their Right.

Ordered, That the said Committee have Leave to proceed upon the said Bill.

A Petition of Charles Paris Gentleman, late of Norfolk, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the finding, in the Votes, an ingrossed Bill from the Lords, intituled, An Act to enable Rebecca Windham to sell and dispose of an Estate late Sarah Verdon's, in the County of Norfolk; the Passing of which Bill will inevitably ruin the Petitioner and Family, who have a just Claim to the said Estate: That he, several Terms since, exhibited his Bill of Complaint against the said Sarah Verdon, in the High Court of Chancery, for the same; but she never appeared, hath stood in Contempt of the Court, and is returned, Non est inventa: And praying the Consideration of the House in the Premises.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee, to whom the said Bill is committed.

A Petition of divers Merchants in and about the City of London, trading to the Kingdom of Naples, and Island of Sicily, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That, by an Act, made in the Reign of their late Majesty's King William and Queen Mary, all Thrown Silk, of the Growth of the said Kingdom and Island, is prohibited to be brought into this Kingdom, but in English Ships, directly from the Kingdom of Naples and Island of Sicily: That they, through the Apprehensions of a War, and Security of their Estates abroad, have made Returns thereof in the said Silk, of the Growth of Naples and Sicily, to the Port of Leghorne in Italy; from whence the same cannot be imported into this Kingdom, by reason of the said Act: And praying the House to give Leave for a Clause to be added to some Bill depending, for permitting Translation of the Treaty between his Majesty and the States General, and the King of Prussia.

ALTHOUGH there are already particular Alliances between his Majesty the King of Great Britain, his Majesty the King of Prussia, and their High and Mighty Lordships the States General of the United Provinces; yet the present and dangerous Conjunction, particularly as to the grand Affair of the Succession to the Monarchy of Spain, and the Consequences thereof; and likewise the due Consideration of the Security and mutual Conveniences of their Kingdoms and States, which may depend thereon; together with the publick Good of Europe in general, which is so much concerned therein; have given them Occasion to enter into stricter Engagements: For which Purpose, there have been commissioned and authorized, on one Part, by his Majesty the King of Great Britain, John Earl of Marlborough, Baron Churchill of Sandridge, General of his Foot, and Commander in Chief of his said Majesty's Forces in the Low Countries, and his Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary; and by their High and Mighty Lordships the States General, the Sieurs John Van Essen, Burgomaster of the Town of Zutphen, Curator of the University of Harderwyk; Frederick Baron de Rheede, Lord of Lier, St. Antony, and Ter-Lee, of the Order of the Nobility of the Province of Holland and Westfriseland; Antony Heinsius, Counsellor, Pensionary, Keeper of the

Prussia.

Great

Prussia.

Great Sea, and Superintendant of the Fiefs of the same Province; William de Nassau, Lord of Odyk, Cortgiene, &c. First Noble, and Representative of the Nobility in the States, and in the Council of Zeeland; Everhard de Weede, Lord of Weede, Dylvelt, Rateles, &c. Lord Proprietor of the Manor of the Town of Oudewater, Dean and Rector of the Imperial Chapter of St. Mary at Utrecht, Dykgrave of the River Rhine, in the Province of Utrecht, and President of the States of the same Province; David Constantin du Tour, Lord of Arcines, la Pamerede, Maleret; Arnold Lamker, Burgomaster of the Town of Deventer; and Ludolf Gockinga; respectively Deputies in the Assembly of the Lords the States General from the Provinces of Guelderland, Holland, and Westfriseland, Zeeland, Utrecht, Frisland, Overysse, and Groningen, and Ommeland; and, on the other Part, by his Majesty the King of Prussia, the Sieurs Ezechie Baron of Spanheim, Privy Counsellor, and Counsellor of State, and Envoy Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary from his said Majesty; and Wolfgang Baron of Schmettau, Lord of Koningswalde and Echberg, likewise Privy Counsellor, and Counsellor of State, and Plenipotentiary from his Majesty the King of Prussia: And in Pursuance of the full Powers produced to this Effect on one Side, and on the other, it hath been agreed as follows:

1.

That there shall be an entire and perfect Intelligence between these Three Powers, for the Security, Advantage, and mutual Defence, of their Kingdoms, States, and Subjects, against all Sorts of Aggressors; and, above all, on account of this present Convention.

2.

That for this Purpose, they shall, on each Side, employ their utmost Endeavours for the Establishment and Continuance of a good and secure general Peace, and the settling thereupon the particular Security of their Kingdoms, States, and Commerce.

3.

That, to this End, there shall be a strict and sincere Communication, between these Three Powers, of all that may be negotiated in relation thereunto; that so nothing may be treated of, and concluded, but by common Consent, and with the Satisfaction, Security, and Guaranty, of their said Kingdoms and States.

4.

And whereas the above-mentioned Affair of the Succession to the Spanish Monarchy, in the Condition to which it is at present reduced, to the great and notable Prejudice of the Rights and Pretensions of his Imperial Majesty to the said Succession, and of the Security and Liberty of Europe in general, and, in particular, of the neighbouring Powers, who are the most interested therein, hath given Occasion to a Treaty of Alliance, made and concluded at the Hague, the 7th of September last, between his Imperial Majesty, his Britannick Majesty, and their High and Mighty Lordships; it is therefore, and in pursuance of the Communication and Requisition, which hath been made on the Part of his said Majesty the King of Great Britain, and of their High and Mighty Lordships, to his Majesty the King of Prussia, that his said Majesty hath been induced to enter into the above-mentioned Alliance; and his Britannick Majesty, and their High and Mighty Lordships, do, on their Part, likewise declare, That they admit his Prussian Majesty into the said Alliance: Wherefore, separate Acts shall be made by the above-mentioned Powers, with the Insertion of the said Alliance, which shall be exchanged at the same time with the Ratification of the present Treaty.

And seeing that as well his Britannick Majesty, and their High and Mighty Lordships, as his Majesty the King of Prussia, have great and clear Pretensions to considerable Sums of Money, which are due to them respectively from the Crown of Spain, they have agreed mutually to aid and assist one another for obtaining Satisfaction for the said Pretensions, and likewise hereafter to concert the proper and convenient Means for this Purpose: And, moreover, the particular Guaranty given by his Britannick Majesty, and their High and Mighty Lordships, to keep the Fort of St. Mary as a Security for one Part of the above-mentioned Pretensions of his Majesty the King of Prussia, shall continue to have its full and entire Effect.

That, furthermore, it is promised, on the Part of his said Britannick Majesty, and their High and Mighty Lordships, to come to no Conclusion of Peace with France and Spain, without his abovesaid Majesty's concurring therein as King of Prussia, and being owned and treated as King by those Two Crowns.

7.

That, in case these Three Powers jointly, or any One of them, should be attacked by France or Spain, on account of this present Treaty, or of the above-mentioned Alliance with his Imperial Majesty, they promise and oblige themselves, mutually to assist each other, pursuant to what is agreed by the 11th Article of the above-mentioned Treaty of Alliance with his Imperial Majesty, and also by the former Treaties and Alliances of his Britannick Majesty, and their High and Mighty Lordships, with his Majesty the King of Prussia; which are renewed and confirmed by the 11th Article of this present Treaty.

That, furthermore, in case, as abovesaid, of a Rupture and War, if Contributions should be raised in the Enemy's Country by the Troops of his Majesty the King of Prussia, or of his Territories and Dominions, or by their Assistance; especially if the Territories and Subjects of the said King were obliged to pay Contributions to the Enemy; there shall then be made an equitable Agreement concerning the Reparation of the said Contribution.

That in case, with the Consent of his Imperial Majesty, the Eight thousand Men, which his Majesty the King of Prussia has agreed to furnish him, the Conditions mentioned in the *Article of his Treaty with his said Imperial Majesty, made in the Year 1700, should remain all, or in Part, for the Defence of the Countries of the Lower Rhine, or of those between the Meuse and the Moselle; or for acting offensively against the Enemy; it shall be concerted on each Side where they are to be employed: And, in case his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and their High and Mighty Lordships, should draw the said Troops out of the Countries and Dominions where the Money of the Empire is current, they shall account with his Majesty the King of Prussia for the Exchange, or Difference, in respect to the Money: And, in the same case, they shall allow Forage to the said Troops out of the Magazines of the King of Great Britain, and the States, when the Country cannot furnish them with any; and, in like manner, Bread, according to what was observed in the last War, Half on this Side the Meuse, and the whole on the other Side.

10.

That, upon the Offer made by his Majesty the King of Prussia, to furnish his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and their High and Mighty Lordships, immediately, without demanding any Levy-money, a Body of Five thousand Men, of good old Troops, well clothed, and well armed, and the Cavalry provided with good Horses, to be taken into their Service; and the same having been well received, and agreed unto, on their Part; a particular Convention hath been made and concluded for the same between their respective Ministers, having full Power for that Purpose: And, in case a Peace should be settled in the Countries neighbouring to Prussia, and that his said Majesty the King of Prussia should have nothing to fear on that Side, his said Majesty declares he is ready, and disposed, to furnish a considerable Number of Troops, at least Seven thousand Men, for the Good of... common Cause, and to be employed on such a Foot, as shall be agreed on with his Britannick Majesty and their High and Mighty Lordships.

Lastly, the former Treaties shall continue in their full and entire Force; that is to say, that of a perpetual and defensive defensive Alliance between his Majesty the King of Great Britain and his Majesty the King of Prussia, made at Westminster, the 26th of May 1690; as also those of an Alliance and mutual Assistance between his said Majesty the King of Prussia and their High and Mighty Lordships, lately renewed by the Treaty made at Berlin, the 31st of August 1700.

The present Treaty shall be ratified, and the Ratifications shall be exchanged on each Side, within the Space of Six Weeks, to be reckoned from the Day of its being signed.

In this manner it was made, and signed by us the Plenipotentiaries above-named; that is to say, by me the Earl of Marlborough, at London, the 9th of January 1701 O. S. 1702 N. These Troops shall be well clothed, and well armed; and the Cavalry shall be furnished with good Horses; and they shall be, in all respects, treated and paid on the same Foot as the States treat their own Troops.

The said Troops shall be paid, one Half by his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the other Half by their High and Mighty Lordships. This Payment shall be as speedy, and on the same Foot, with the Troops of His Majesty the King of Prussia, which were in the Service of their High and Mighty Lordships during the last War.

5.

His Majesty the King of Prussia shall cause the said Body of Troops to leave their Quarters, and begin their March, Fifteen Days after the signing of this Treaty; and sooner, if it be possible.

7.

As for the Recruits of the said Troops, they shall be upon the same Foot as their High and Mighty Lordships treat their own Troops; and the said Troops shall likewise be left to their Liberty to raise their Recruits where it shall be most convenient for them, as well in the Dominions of His Majesty the King of Prussia, as in those of their High and Mighty Lordships.

8.

In time of War, there shall be paid to these Troops, in Money, for Waggon, and other Equipage, what is paid by their High and Mighty Lordships to their own Troops; and the said Troops shall be treated equally, in all respects, according to what is practised towards the Troops of their High and Mighty Lordships.

9.

In case that, after an Accommodation or Peace be made with the Crowns of France and Spain, his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and their High and Mighty Lordships, should have a mind to send back the said Body of Troops, his Majesty the King of Prussia shall have Notice thereof Two Months before they begin their March, in order to their Return.

10.

If his Majesty the King of Prussia should happen to be attacked in his own Dominions, far distant from the Rhine; and should be obliged, thereupon, to demand back his said Troops; they shall be sent him immediately, and without any Contradiction.

11.

When his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and their High and Mighty Lordships, shall send back the said Body of Troops; in this Case they shall have One Month's Pay for their Return and Carriage-money: But, in case his Majesty the King of Prussia recalls them, they shall be paid no more than the Remainder of the Month's Pay wherein they are recalled.

12.

In case of these Troops being sent back, or recalled, his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and their High and Mightinesses, shall neither pay for, nor fill up, the private Soldiers that may then be wanting; and it shall lie upon the Officers of the said Body to answer for the same to his Majesty the King of Prussia.

13.

In case, as abovesaid, of the sending back, or recalling, of the said Troops, they shall be paid what shall appear to be then due to them, speedily; and, if possible, before they begin their March, in order to their Return.

14.

The present Convention shall be ratified, and the Ratifications shall be exchanged, on each Side, within the Space of Six Weeks, to be reckoned from the Day of its being signed.

Hesse Cassel, for 9,000 Men, to be put into the Service of his Majesty and the States.

CONVENTION made between his Majesty the King of Great Britain and their High and Mighty Lordships the States General, on one Part; and his most Serene Highness the Landgrave of Hesse Cassel, on the other Part; touching a Body of 9,000 Men, which his said Highness has promised to give for the good of the Common Cause.

1.

First, His Highness shall furnish the said King of Great Britain, and the said Lords the States General, with Six thousand Men; which shall consist, according to the List which shall be made thereof, in One Regiment of Horse,

2.

These Six thousand Men shall be good Troops, well exercised, cloathed, and armed; and they shall have good Horses; and shall be provided with all that shall be necessary for them.

3.

The said Six thousand Men shall be paid regularly, according to the abovesaid List; one Half by his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the other Half by their High and Mighty Lordships; on the same Foot the said States General pay their own Troops, and as soon as the other foreign Troops of other Princes; and they shall not, at any time, be more than Three Months in Arrear.

The Pay of these Troops shall commence Two full Months before the Day they shall enter upon the Borders of the State of their High and Mighty Lordships, or on the Place whither they shall be required to come, whether it be for Action, or otherwise; where they shall be immediately received by the Commissaries of his Britannick Majesty, and of their High and Mighty Lordships: And they shall take an Oath of Fidelity to the said King, and to the said States General.

5.

For what relates to the Recruits of the said Six thousand Men, they shall be upon the same Foot as their High and Mighty Lordships treat their own Troops: And, moreover, it shall be left, on their Part, to the Liberty of the said Six thousand Men to raise their Recruits where it shall be most convenient for them, as well in the Territories of his Highness, as in those of their High and Mighty Lordships.

In time of War, these 6,000 Men shall be paid in Money, for Waggon, and other Equipage, what their High and Mighty Lordships pay their own Troops: And, in short, they shall enjoy all the same Advantages in general, that the said Troops of their High and Mighty Lordships do enjoy.

In case, as abovesaid, that these Troops be sent back, or recalled, his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and their High and Mighty Lordships, shall pay to the said Troops what shall be due to them, as well on account of their Pay, as for Waggon.

9.

It shall be left to the Disposal of his Highness, in case of any great and evident Danger; or, if he shall happen to be attacked in his own Dominions; thereupon to recall the said Troops; and they shall be sent him back immediately, and without any Contradiction.

10.

When his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and their High and Mighty Lordships, after the War is ended, shall send back the said Six thousand Men; in that Case, they shall have One full Month's Pay for their Return and Carriage-money: But, in case his Highness recalls them before the Ratification of the Treaty of Peace, then they shall be paid no more than the Remainder of the Month's Pay wherein they are recalled.

11.

In case of the sending back, or Recall, of the said Six thousand Men, neither the said King, nor the said Lords the States General, shall pay for, or fill up, the private 12.

His Highness shall further add Three thousand Men to the said Six thousand Men, to serve together in One Body, which he shall maintain wholly at his own Charge; and they shall perform the same Service, during the Campaign, as the First Six thousand Men; it being nevertheless to be understood, that Ammunition Bread, and Forage, shall be furnished the said Three thousand Men, during the Campaign, on the same Terms with the other Troops of the States.

13.

His said Highness shall be allowed, after the Campaign is over, to quarter these Three thousand Men in his own Country during the Winter, provided they do rejoin the other Six thousand Men in the Spring.

14.

In case his said Highness be attacked in his own Country, as abovesaid, and that he thinks fit to recall the said Six thousand Men, he may likewise recall the said Three thousand.

15.

The said King, and the said Lords the States General, shall pay, for what is above-mentioned to his Highness, One hundred thousand Crowns, or Two hundred and fifty thousand Livres, Money of Holland, yearly, during the Four First Years of the War, to commence with this present Year; and, after that time, as long as the War shall last, or that the said Troops shall continue in their Service, Half of the said Sum; that is to say, One hundred and twenty-five thousand Livres, yearly, payable every Year by way of Anticipation.

16.

And, towards the Support of the Charges which his Highness will be obliged to be at, at present, there shall be advanced to his said Highness, as soon as the Ratification shall be exchanged, Four hundred thousand Livres, to be discounted on the Two First Years.

17.

The said King, and the said Lords, the States General, shall procure the Requisitorial Letters which shall be necessary for the March of the said Troops.

Coronation of Queen Anne.

Sir Rowland Gwyn reported, from the Committee appointed to view the Galleries and Seats in Westminster Hall and Westminster Abbey, and the Passages thither, in order to attend the Solemnity of her Majesty's Coronation, and the best Way to come to the House, on Thursday next, the Matter, as it appeared to them ; which he read in his Place ; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table : Where the same was read ; and is as followeth ; viz.

That, the Committee having been to view the Scaffolds in Westminster Hall, and the Abbey, as also the Tables for the Members in the Exchequer Court, and the Passages through which the Members are to come to Westminster Hall, and from thence to the Abbey ;

They find the Scaffolds in the Abbey made very convenient to receive the Members ; and that there is Room enough for the whole House, and the Tables in the Court of Exchequer large enough to entertain near Four hundred Members :

But the Seats appointed for the House in Westminster

Hall are made very narrow and inconvenient, and will not receive above Two hundred and Fifty Persons ; because, at each End of the Hall, a Part of the Seats are separated for other Company ; whereby the Members must be obliged to go through a long, narrow, dark Passage, to their Seats.

The Committee are of Opinion, That the best Way to come to the House upon Thursday next, will be, for the Members to come by Water to Sir John Cotton's Stairs ; and so, through his House, up to the House of Commons ; whence they may go through the Hall to their Seats ; and thence through the Exchequer Court, by a Back Passage, through St. Margaret's Lane, into St. Margaret's Church ; and thence, through the North Isle of the Abbey, to their Seats there ; and they are to return the same Way to Westminster Hall : All which Passages will be railed in.

The Committee have also viewed the Scaffolds, and believe they are well built ; and the Surveyor General does assure them, that the same are strong and safe.

The Committee do humbly conceive, That all those Seats on the Right-hand, coming into Westminster Hall, ought to be set apart for the Use of the House only.

And also he acquainted the House, That there are Scaffolds built upon the Roof of the Exchequer, where the Members are to dine, to the endangering the Roof thereof.

Ordered, That the Surveyor of her Majesty's Works do take care, that the Seats for the Members in Westminster Hall be enlarged, and made more easy for the Accommodation of the Members : And that the Partitions in the Gallery be removed.

Ordered, That the Surveyor of her Majesty's Works do likewise take care, that there be no Scaffolds over the Exchequer Chamber, and Place where the Members are to dine.

Chichester-house, March 24th 1701.

Gentlemen,

WE think ourselves obliged, in Justice, to recommend to you the unfortunate Case of Mr. Abel Butler Alderman of the City of Kilkenny; and do most heartily and unanimously make it our Request to you, if you think it proper, to lay it before the Parliament: It is the only Case of this or any other kind that we have thought fit to represent to you, though frequently importuned to that Purpose: And, indeed, we think it the most worthy of Compassion of any that has come to our Knowledge. It is as follows: He has laid out his whole Substance, since the

VOL. 13.

Year 1695, in lending Money, in paying a Fine for a Lease, in purchasing in Incumbrances, and in making Improvements on Part of the Estate of John Grace of Courts-towne, in the County of Kilkenny: This he was induced to, by reason the said Grace was adjudged within Articles, was in the quiet Possession of his Estate, and recovered it from the King, by Petition of Right. Since the War, the said Grace claimed his whole Estate, before us, by virtue of a Settlement. We shall not trouble you with the several Points of Law, nor the other suspected Circumstances, upon hearing his Claim; but only acquaint you with One bare Matter of Fact: Three Witnesses, which the Claimant produced to prove his Deed of Settlement, all swore positively, That Donogh Earl of Clancarthy, who was Trustee named in the said . . . . . was present at the Execution of it in Dublin, at the Time it bears Date, and gave several Directions about it. They being often severally asked, Whether they were certain as to this Part of the Evidence, they all persevered in it: Counter to which, it was proved to us by the Lady Clanrickard, the said Earl's Sister, who appeared an unwilling Evidence; by his Nephew, one Mr. Donogh Carthy; and by an old Man, who was his Coachman at, and long before, his Death; That the said Earl was in London at the Time the said Deed bears Date, and near Twelve Months before. This was so evident, that even his own Counsel had nothing to object against it; and therefore the Trustees dismissed his Claim: Consequently, Mr. Butler is deprived of the Benefit of his Mortgage, his Purchase, his Lease, and his Improvements, they being all since the Forfeiture; by which Means he will be a Sufferer very near to the Value of 3,000 l. if not relieved by the Parliament. And now you know his Case, we hope you need no other Inducement to do him all the Service you can; which is the only Hopes he hath in repairing the Loss, which he could not avoid bringing upon him; and of maintaining himself, his Wife, and several small Children. We are,

Gentlemen,

Your humble Servants,

A Petition of divers Clothiers in the County of Gloucester was presented to the House and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners perceiving, by the Votes, that there is a Bill brought into the House to confirm and prolong the Time of a Patent, granted to a few Persons, for Flowering and Embossing of Cloth: That the Art of Flowering Cloth was not first found out by any Person concerned in the said Patent, but by some of the Petitioners in the County of Gloucester: That the Embossing of Cloth, and Raising of Flowers, is, in some respects, rather a Prejudice, than an Improvement, of the said Art; viz. In hanging of Rooms, the Raising of Flowers will soon collect Dust, and thereby eclipse the Beauty of the Flower: And praying, no such Bill may pass into a Law, to the Prejudice of the First Inventors of the said Art, or any other, who may, in any respect, improve the Woollen Manufactures.

Ordered, That the said Petition do lie upon the Table, until the Report from the Committee, to whom the said Bill was committed.

That the Committee, looking into the Contracts made between the Committee for the Fabrick of the said Hospital, and their Master Workmen, do find, That, in the Years 1696, and 1697, they contracted with Mr. Tho. Hughes, for new Brick-work, well and workman-like performed, with good Bond, handsome Joints, and carefully wrought, being reduced to Brick and Half, 1 l. 7 s. per Rod; and to be allowed 15 l. and 30 l. for Scaffolding:

That, by another Contract made with the said Mr. Hughes, 14th March 1698, he was then allowed 30 s. and 32 s. per Rod, and 30 l. for Scaffolding, for the same sort of Work:

But that, upon one Mr. Richard Billinghamst's being brought into Part of the Bricklayers Work, as some of the Commissioners said, to beat down Hughes' high Prices, they, the 12th of March 1700, contracted with the said Billinghamst to do the same Work for 25, 26, and 28 s. per Rod, and he to find Scaffolding; as Mr. Hughes was to have 30 s. and 32 s. per Rod, with an Allowance of 15 and 30 l. for Scaffolding:

Upon which, it appeared, that Mr. Hughes, rather than leave the Work, by another Contract, made the 2d of Sir Richard Onslow reported, from the Committee, Greenwich Hospital. Matter relating to Greenwich Hospital, the Matter which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

That the Committee did receive divers Proposals for Raising of Revenues for the Building, and Supporting, of the Royal Hospital of Greenwich: But, this Season drawing near to a Conclusion, there is little Probability that any of the said Proposals should take effect this Session: The Committee, therefore, did not think fit to order the same to be laid before the House; but that they should be left in the Hands of the Clerk of this House.

That the Committee, according to the First Instruction given them by this House, have inquired into what Provision was in the last War, and is now, made for the sick and wounded Seamen at the respective Ports, when they were, or shall be, brought sick or wounded on shore, as will appear by the Accounts thereof laid before the Committee by the late and present Commissioners of the Sick and Wounded, marked A, and B, and C.

That the Committee, according to the Second Instruction given them by this House, have proceeded to examine what Revenues and Money have been given to the Use of Greenwich Hospital; and how the same have been applied:

And do find, That the Receipts of Monies by Mr. Evelyn, Treasurer of the said Hospital, from Christmas One thousand Six hundred Ninety-five, to the Sixth of March One thousand Seven hundred and One, to be as follows; viz.

April 1701, which was the Day when Mr. Billinghamst's Contract was signed, did undertake to do the same Work, that he had before received 30 and 32 s. per Rod for, at Mr. Billinghamst's Prices; viz. 25, 26, and 28 s. per Rod, without any Allowance for Scaffolding:

Whereas the Committee was informed, That, in private Contracts, it was customary to allow 20 s. and 22 s. per Rod for Brick-work; and, the thicker the Work, the cheaper it may be performed.

That the Reason of the Differences in the said Contracts being inquired into by the Committee, it was answered by some of the Contractors, That, at the First Beginning of the Work, there was publick Notice given, in 1696, for Undertakers to come in, and once in 1698; which Publication was put into the Gazette, for Masons; and that they beat them down as low in their Prices as they could: The reason of Mr. Hughes's high Prices in 1698 was upon building the Hall, which was a very high Building, without any Flooring, as is in the other Building every 12 Foot:

That, by an Observation made by Mr. James, Deputy Surveyor of the Works (whose Business it is to make all Admeasurements Admeasurements there) upon Mr. Hughes' Profits in his Work, and which was said before the Committee; it appeared, that Mr. Hughes, in Foundation-work, receives for 1 Rod 36 Foot - - - - - 1 13 10

His Charge for Workmanship in Labourers 0 13 4

So that his clear Gain is - - - - - 1 0 6
Out of - - - - - 1 13 10

The which, Mr. Hughes said, was an uncertain Estimation; and that, if his Profit was considerable in the Foundation, it lessened proportionably in the Raising of the Building; and that he was obliged, by his Contract, to fill the Joints with Putty, and beat all the Mortar.

It appeared that the said Mr. Hughes, for his Part of the Bricklayers Work, has received - 3,542 2 8
There has likewise been paid to the

Mason, from 1695 to 1701 - - - 30,740 12 9½
To the Carpenter in the same time 8,524 2 9½
To the Plumber in the same time - 2,552 0 3½
To the Joiner - - - - - 2,603 19 5½
To the Pitcher, for Tiles - - - 100 0 0

Mr. James, Deputy Surveyor, being examined, said, That he has had the Surveying of the Brick-work for Three Years, and never observed any Putty to be put into the Foundation-work, and not much into other Works: That the Mortar was sometimes beaten; but not according to the Contracts, which he never saw till lately.

Mr. Hughes the Bricklayer, being examined as to the Value of Putty, and beating Mortar, said, That to fill up the Works with Putty, according to the Contract, is worth 5 s. per Rod; and 3 s. 4 d. for beating the Mortar.

The Master and Wardens of the Plumbers Company, attending, laid before the Committee their Proposal, made in 1696, to the Commissioners for the said Hospital, for giving all the Workmanship, and Solder for the Lead-work, for the Hospital; as also their Report upon a View of Mr. Hales's sheathed Lead, made use of there, as appears by the Papers marked D, E.

Mr. Roberts said, That, in 1696, he was employed as Plumber in the Hospital, and was to have made a Contract; but the milled Lead-man was brought in by some other Interest, and he was turned off, and his Pipes turned upon his Hands:

That the Work might have been done 1 s. in the Hundred Weight cheaper than it is; and is not performed according to the Contract; but is ill done; for in the Gutter, instead of turning the Water out, they were so laid, that the Water was turned inwards; and the Seams lie so open, that the Rain will ruin the Roofs; and must be taken up in Seven Years time:

That the Building was but about Five or Six Foot high when Mr. Hales' Contract for the milled Lead was made; and the Lead was not made use of till the Year following.

That the Committee, according to the Order of this House, did go down, and inspect the Works of the Royal Hospital of Greenwich:

And do find the whole Pile of Building to be well performed, as to the Masons, Bricklayers, Carpenters, and Joiners, Work; but there appeared some Defects in the Lead over the Pavilion: But all the other Roofs are very well covered with milled Lead; the Flats containing Ten Pound to a Foot; the Slopes, Eight Pound to a Foot; and the Gutter, Ten Pound to a Foot.

Ordered, That the said Report do lie upon the Table, to be perused by the Members of the House.

Ordered, That Sir Jeffery Jefferyes, and Mr. Jefferyes, be added to the Committee, to whom the Bill for obliging the Jews to maintain and provide for their Protestant Children is committed.

Mr. Manley reported from the Committee, to whom the Bill for enabling Trustees to sell certain Messuages, Houses, Rents, and Grounds, in the Parish of St. Mary tin's in the Fields, in the County of Middlesex, for Payment of the Debts of John Hynde, late Goldsmith, of London, was committed, That they had considered the several Petitions to them referred, and heard the Petitioners: And that the Committee had made several Amendments to the Bill; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Report be adjourned until Tuesday Morning next.

Ordered, That the ingrossed Bill, for making good the Deficiencies; and preserving the publick Credit; be read the Third time upon Monday Morning next. Supply Bill; Deficiencies and publick Credit.

Masters of Hoys carrying Provisions.

Ordered, That the Report from the Committee, to whom the Bill for better Discovery of the Lands, and other Revenues, given to Popish superstitious Uses; and for applying the same for the Support of the Royal Hospital of Greenwich; was committed; be made upon Tuesday Morning next. Estates given to superstitious Uses.

The House, according to Order, resolved itself into a Committee of the whole House, upon the Bill for regulating the Frauds and Abuses in the Salt Duties. Salt Duties.

Mr. Speaker left the Chair.

Mr. Conyers took the Chair of the Committee.

Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair.

Mr. Conyers reported from the said Committee, That they had made some Progress in the said Bill; and that they had directed him to move, That they may have Leave to sit again.

Resolved, That this House will, upon Monday Morning next, resolve itself into a Committee of the whole House, to consider further of the said Bill.

Resolved, That this House will, upon Friday Morning next, resolve itself into a Committee of the whole House, upon the said Bill.

The House, according to Order, proceeded to take into Consideration the Report from the Committee, to whom the Petition of Thomas Hodges Esquire was referred.

And the said Report was read; and is as followeth; viz.

That the Petitioner, in order to prove his Allegations in his Petition, and the Articles thereunto annexed, containing divers Accusations against the Lord Grey, late Governor of Barbadoes, and the Lords Commissioners for Trade and Plantations, delivered in to the Committee a List, a great Number of Memorials, Answers, Replies, and other Papers, the which he desired might be laid before the Committee, by the said Commissioners of Trade, for him to have recourse to the same, in making good his Charge: Which was ordered by the Committee; and the said Papers were laid before them accordingly; and Mr. Hodges was, at his Request, permitted to have Copies of such of those Papers he thought fit to ask for, and Perusal of the rest.

In the Preface of the said Articles, the Petitioner alleges, That, in the Island of Barbadoes, the Custom and Usage is, that the Court of Chancery should be held monthly, and continue to sit as many successive Days as the Business before them requires: And the said Court should be called or summoned by the Governor's Order; and that, without his Presence and Assistance therein, no Court should be held: And the Court of Errors in that Island is, in like manner, to be called and held by the said Governor and Council:

That the late Governor, the Lord Grey, landed in that Island on or about the 26th Day of July; and, during the time of his Government, there were several Hundred Causes depending in the said Court of Chancery, as appears to the Petitioner by the Information in Writing of Mr. John Knapton, delivered, by him, to the Lords Commissioners of Trade, on the 3d of January 1700; and by a Letter from Edward Chilton Esquire, Attorney General of the said Island:

To prove which, the Petitioner referred to his late Majesty's Instructions to the Lord Gray, as Governor; whereby it appeared to be Part of the Instructions, for the Governor not to displace any of the Judges, Justices, or other Officers, without Cause to be signified to his Majesty, and to the Commissioners for Trade and Plantations:

That the Petitioner also referred to his late Majesty's Commission to the Lord Gray, as Governor; whereby it appeared, the Governor had full Power given him to suspend any of the Members of the said Council from sitting, voting, or assisting therein, if he should find just Cause; and also to suspend any of the said Deputy Governors of the said Island from the Execution of their Commands, and to appoint others in their stead, till his Majesty's Pleasure should be known:

As also, the said Governor had Power, with the Advice and Consent of the Council, to erect, constitute, and establish, such and so many Courts of Judicature, and publick Justice, within the respective Islands, as he should think fit, for the Hearing and Determining of all Causes, as well criminal as civil, according to Law and Equity; and for Awarding of Execution thereupon:

That the Petitioner referred likewise to the Answer of the Commissioners of Trade, concerning Courts of Justice, pursuant to an Order of the House of Commons, of the 2d of April 1701; whereby it appeared, That, to the end a strict and continual Care might be taken in all Matters relating to the Administration of Justice in that Island, the Governor was required to send to the said Commissioners a Copy of the Register and Minutes of the Court of Chancery, and of the Minutes and Business done as a Court of Errors, since his Arrival in that Island; as also, a particular Account of all Causes, Injunctions, and Decrees, made in the Chancery; and a particular Account of all the Days of that Court, and all other Courts sitting in that Island; and that all Courts should be held, for the Dispatch of Business, as Occasion should require; and that such Account should be returned by the Register, or other proper Officer, upon Oath, as by the Paper marked (A) will more fully appear; which Paper is as follows; viz.

(A:) And, to the end that a strict and continual Care might be taken in all Matters relating to the Administration of Justice in that Island, we sent to Mr. Gray the following Directions; viz.

That he should send to us a Copy of the Register and Minutes of the Chancery, and of the Minutes and Business done as a Court of Errors, since his Arrival in that Island:

That he should send a particular Account, and List, of all Causes that now stand entered in the Chancery, or are depending there; and how long each of them has been so depending:

An Account, likewise, specifying each Day of the Month that a Court of Chancery, and a Court of Errors, hath been held, and how many successive Days that Court has at any time continued to sit, since his Arrival at that Government: In which Account the Proceedings of each Day are also to be set down severally, and the Names of such Members of Council, as attended each Day, inserted:

An Account how many final Decrees have been made there, since his Arrival; how many Injunctions granted; how many dissolved; and how many remain still in Force:

And

And whereas, by an Act of that Island, made in the Year 1661, the Five several Courts of Common Law have certain Days appointed for their Sitting: That we expected from him a particular Account how many of the said Days each of the said Courts hath sat since his entering upon that Government; together with an Account of the Business they have done each Day, copied from their Minutes:

These Accounts to be fully and plainly given by the Registers, or other proper Officers, of the respective Courts, and sufficiently attested:

And that we further expected, that, for the future, he should hold the Court of Chancery as often, and for so long time, as should be requisite for Dispatch of the several Causes depending before the Court; and that an exact Account should be always kept of the Names of such of the Council as do give their Attendance during the Sitting of the said Court; so that the Register, or other proper Officer, may be able to give a particular Account thereof, on Oath, from time to time, if the same shall be required:

That the Petitioner, in further Proof, likewise referred himself to the Reply of the Council of Barbadoes to his Complaint; whereby he charges, That the Court of Chancery had been adjourned for many Months together, and little Business done for Three Years last past.

In answer to which, by the same Reply, it is said, That the Lord Gray arrived at Barbadoes 26th July 1698, being then a very sickly Time: However, he held a Court of Chancery on the 10th of August following; it being customary to hold that Court once a Month; but, after that, by reason of the Sickness of the Country, with which the Governor was infected, there was no Court held till January following; when Two Courts were held, and considerable Business done; and, after which time, the said Court was held monthly:

That, in April, May, June, and July, 1700, the Sickness so raged in the said Town, where that Court usually sits, that the Houses were near all shut up, and few or none of the Inhabitants escaped it, many dying; so that neither Clients nor Lawyers were willing to attend their Business for fear of it: For which Cause, and that the Business might not be impeded, there was a House appointed in the Country; and several Courts, within that Time, ordered to be held; but the Lawyers being most of them sick, they could not attend till August; upon the 7th of which Month the said Court was held, and continued to be so monthly, and sometimes Three times in One Month, until all the Business thereof was fully heard, which was on the 20th of March 1700, when there remained not one Cause, Plea, or Demurrer, Petition or Motion, undetermined, then ripe, and set down for Hearing; as will more fully appear by the Paper marked (B); which follows; viz.

Copy of the First and Fifteenth Article of the Council of Barbadoes' Reply to Mr. Hodges' Complaint.

First, That the said Court of Chancery has been adjourned for many Months together, and little Business done for Three Years last past.

In answer to which, it must be premised, That the said Court of Chancery is established by an ancient Statute of the Island, and consists of the Governor and Council for the Time being; whereof the Governor, or Four or more Members of the said Council make a Quorum, or Court; and though the Governor is stiled Chancellor, yet, in all judicial Hearings, he hath but a single Vote; but, without the Governor, there can be no Court held; and though the Law limits no certain Time for the Sitting of the Court, yet the usual Practice for Holding of it is once in Four Weeks, to hear and determine Causes, Pleas, Demurrers, Petitions, Exceptions to Masters Reports, and Motions, &c.

His Excellency the Honourable Mr. Grey arrived in this Island on the 26th Day of July 1698, being then a very sickly Time: However, he held a Court of Chancery on the 10th of August following; wherein Thirty-three Motions were heard, in order to forward Business; but it being then, and afterwards, very sickly for some Months, his Excellency being himself much afflicted with Sickness soon after his Arrival, it happened by that means, that no other Court of Chancery was held afterwards until the 25th Day of January following; it being, withal, the Vacation-time; and had Causes, brought by Injunction, been heard, the Parties would not have been much the better for it; because the Courts of Law are silent here from September to the latter End of January: But the Governor having pretty well recovered his Health, in the Month of January 1698, there were held Two Courts; whereat several Causes, Demurrers, and other considerable Business, was heard and determined: After which time, the Court held monthly, at the least, to the 20th of March 1698, and dispatched a great deal of Business, as may be seen by the List of Causes, Demurrers, and other Matters, heard and determined, and hereunto annexed, and sworn to by the Register of the said Court, excepting the stated Day for the Court's Holding in June 1699; at which time, the Court of Grand Sessions, held by Appointment of Law, and the said stated Day in December, which fell on the 27th, being Holy-day; and also that for the 21st of February, when the Governor happened to be sick.

In the Months of April, May, June, and July 1700, the Sickness so raged in the Town, where the Court of Chancery usually sits, and the Houses near all shut up, and few or none of the Inhabitants thereof escaped it, many dying; so that neither Clients or Lawyers were willing to attend their Business, for fear of it: For which Cause, and that the Business of the Court might not be impeded, there was a House appointed in the Country, and several Courts within that time, ordered to be held; but the Lawyers being most of them sick during that time, they could not attend their Clients Business; and therefore there was nothing done: But its Rage something abating towards August, on the 7th of that Month, the said Court held, and continued to hold, constantly every Month, and sometimes Three times in a Month, until all the Business thereof was fully heard and determined; which was on the 20th of March 1700; when there remained not one Cause, Plea, Demurrer, Petition, or Motion, undetermined in that Court, then ripe, and set down on the List, for Hearing; except Two Causes only, that lay upon an Advisare of the Court; which appears by the said Register's said annexed Certificate: By all which it is plainly manifest, that the Petitioner's First Allegation is most untrue, and groundless, in saying little Business has been done in that Court for Three Years last past; and that it meets and adjourns without doing any thing: Nor does the Petitioner, though he pretends to be a Lawyer, consider, that some Causes, or Demurrers, will take up many Hours in the hearing the Arguments of Counsel on both Sides.

Fifteenthly, That but Two Causes were heard in Eight Months, and no Courts of Errors in all that time.

This is as untrue as the rest concerning the Chancery; for the Register's List, annexed, makes it appear, there never was so little as Two Causes heard in Eight Months: And, as to the Court of Errors, the Journals of the Council Books will shew what Proceedings have been made in that Matter; and that the Petitioner was never concerned in any one Cause of Error; and therefore has no Cause to complain thereof.

The Petitioner, in his First Article, alleges, That the said Governor held his First Court of Chancery on the 10th of August 1698, and held it not again till the 25th of January 1698, which is Five Months and Fifteen Days; for which neglect he had no just Excuse.

To prove which, he referred to the Minutes of the Orders taken in Chancery since the Governor's Arrival to the 11th of April 1701; whereby it appeared, that the Court of Chancery did not sit from the 10th of August till the 25th of January following; though, in other Years, it appeared that Court did sit in the Months of September, October, and November:

And that, in that Year, it appeared the Lord Grey held several Councils in those Months that the Court of Chancery did not sit.

To which First Article it was answered for the Lord Grey, That the Reason why the Court of Chancery did not sit from the said 10th of August 1698, till the 25th January following, was from the Sickness of the Governor, Sickness of the Place, Unwillingness of the Lawyers and the People to attend: That it was Vacation-time for other Courts; and that no Person complained of any Injury done thereby.

To prove which;

Major Garth was examined: Who said, That he was in Barbadoes when the Lord Grey arrived there; and that, soon after his Lordship's Arrival, he was seized with the Sickness of the Country; insomuch that they had great Apprehensions of his Life; and, upon his Recovery from the Sickness, he broke out with Boils, which seemed to be little less contagious than the Plague: That he did not see the Lord Grey at any publick Entertainment, but the Cockneys Feast, which was about the 20th of August, from the 10th of August 1698, to the 25 January following; and that he did not hear of any Complaints, that the Chancery did not sit during that time: And that though the Lord Grey was sick, yet the Island was, as to Health, much as it used to be at other times.

Mr. Gibbs said, That he was in Barbadoes when the Lord Grey arrived there; and that his Lordship, soon after his Arrival, was taken with the Sickness, and broke out in Boils; whereby his Life was in Danger: That he saw him Three or Four times between August and January 1698; once at the President's House, once at Colonel's Scott's, and twice at his Lordship's own House; and that he did not hear of any Complaint, that the Chancery did not sit at that time.

Mr. Eyles said, That he is one of the Agents for Barbadoes; and was ordered by the Assembly there, they hearing that Complaints were made to his Majesty against the Lord Grey, and, as he believes, by Mr. Hodges, to justify their Proceedings, and his Lordship's Government; and that they were entirely satisfied with his Lordship's Conduct therein:

That being acquainted with several Persons who came from Barbadoes, he inquired of them concerning his Lordship's Behaviour in his Government; and they all gave him a very good Character; and said, there was not then any Complaint in the Island for want of Administration of Justice; and produced an Address to his Majesty from the Council, and General Assembly; which was read; and is as followeth; viz.

WE, Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Members of Your Majesty's Council and General Assembly of Your Island of Barbadoes, humbly implore Your Royal Leave, by this Opportunity of our Governor, the Right Honourable Ralph Lord Grey Baron of Warke, to prostrate ourselves at Your Feet with our dutiful Acknowledgements, and Thankfulness for the great Care and Tenderness which Your Majesty hath, at all times, extended to these Your remote Dominions; not only rendering us safe against our Enemies hitherto, but happy in all other Circumstances; especially in that of sending that noble Lord to govern us, whose Wisdom, Moderation, and due Administration of our Laws, have made all Your Subjects here happy, during his Government over us.

And though his Lordship, on his private and weighty Affairs, hath obtained Your Majesty's Leave to come for England, we hope, and most humbly pray Your Majesty, that, if it may consist with Your Majesty's Royal Wisdom and Pleasure, it may not be the Occasion of our losing his mild and good Government over us for the future.

And that Your Majesty will be graciously pleased to receive from his Lordship in Favour of this Your poor Colony, a Memorial of such Matters which we have thought our Duty to lay before Your Majesty, for the Welfare and Safety of it.

That Your Majesty's sacred Life, and Reign, which is the greatest Security of Your Subjects, the strongest Bulwark of the Protestant Religion, and the surest Safeguard of the Liberties of all Europe, may be long and happy; and that You may, at all times, triumph over all Your Enemies, in all Places, and be safe in Your Royal Person, against the private Machinations of all wicked designing Men; are the most fervent and zealous Prayers to Almighty God of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most loyal and most dutiful Subjects and Servants.

Mr. Turner, Solicitor General in the Barbadoes, said, That he went thither some time before the Lord Grey, and staid there till September last; and that, during his Stay there, according to his Observation, his Lordship did administer Justice according to the known Laws of the Island; and that his Lordship was sick for some time; and there were some Persons, who said, it was hard that the Courts were not held; but no Complaint was lodged.

Mr. Brookes said, That in February was Twelve-months, he went to Barbadoes, and carried with him an Account of the Complaint, made by Mr. Hodges to the House of Commons, against the Lord Grey: That he is acquainted with the most considerable Men in the Island; and they did blame Mr. Hodges; and said, he had no Reason to make any Complaint: That they did generally declare they were satisfied with the Lord Grey's Government; and that he did not hear of any Complaint there against his Lordship for his Administration of Justice: But, as an Instance of the Dispatch of Business there, said, That he having a Bill in Chancery brought against him, to procure an Injunction to stay Proceedings at Law; which was granted; as also a Ne exeat Insulam, till he should answer; and, upon his the said Brookes' putting in his Answer, he obtained a Dismission of the Plaintiff's Bill in Two Days time from the granting the Injunction.

Dr. Parsons said, That the Lord Grey, soon after he came to the Island, broke out with Sores; which, he thought, were pestilential: That he had, at one time, about Thirty upon him, and that, as one Set dried up, another did rise, till towards January; and that his Lordship was reduced to great Weakness, and not fit for Business: That he often persuaded the Lord Grey not to go to the Town, for fear the Heat there should increase his Distemper; but his Lordship did sometimes reply, with some Passion, That he came there to do his Duty, and no Danger should fright him from it: That he never heard the Complaint against his Lordship, for not holding the Court of Chancery; and believes, there was not any one Person dissatisfied in the Island with his Government; and that, when his Lordship was so weak as not to be able to go to the Town, the Council sometimes met at his House, for Dispatch of Business: That his Lordship fell ill about Five Weeks after he came to the Island; and that between the Time of his Arrival and January following, he used to go Three or Four Times a Week to the President's House, which was about a Mile from his own, to take the Air, when he was able to do it; and that, when he came first to the Island, he lodged at the President's House.

Mr. David Davis said, That, about Five Weeks after the Lord Grey came to the Island, he broke out with Boils, which continued upon him, from time to time, till towards the Middle of January, and was not fit for Business during that time; for that he could not bear any Croud or Noise; and was often confined to his House a Week or more at a time, by reason of his Indisposition.

The Petitioner, in his Second Article, alleges, That from the 26 January 1698, to the 5th of July 1699, which is Five Months and Nine Days, the Chancery sat but Two Days; so that in the First Year of his Government, there were Eleven Months, wanting Six Days in which the Court of Chancery sat but Four Days.

To prove which; the Petitioner referred to the Minutes of the Orders taken in the Chancery; whereby it appeared, that the Court of Chancery sat but Two Days, from the 26 January to the 5 July following.

To which Second Article it was answered for the Lord Grey, That though the Petitioner had picked out the Two Days between which there was the longest Recess of that Court's Sitting; yet by the same Minutes of Chancery, to which it was referred, it appeared that Court was held Six times in the Five Months the Petitioner mentions but twice, by his making the Days exclusive; for that the said Court was held 25, 26 January, 22d March, 19th of April, 17 May, and the said 5th July 1699.

The Petitioner, in his Third Article, alleges, That, in the Second Year of his Government, the Court of Chancery sat to hear Causes, and make final Decrees, but One Day in Eleven Months; and that it is, from the 7th September 1699, to the 7th of August 1700; and there is no just Excuse for more than Two Months of his Time.

To prove which he referred to the List of the Business heard and determined in Chancery, attested by the Register of that Court, upon Oath, and so certified to the Commissioners of Trade; whereby it appeared that Court sat but One Day, from the 7th of September 1699, to the 7th of August following.

And the Petitioner alleged the Sickness was over the 9th July; for that, upon that Day, it appeared, by the Minutes of Council, that a Thanksgiving was ordered to be upon the 25th of that Month, for their Deliverance from the Sickness:

And the Court of Common Pleas sat to do Business the 24th, 25th, and 26th of April 1700; as appeared, by the Proceedings of that Court, to which the Petitioner referred.

To which Third Article it was answered, for the Lord Grey, That it would, and did, appear by the Register's Certificate, that tho' the Chancery sat but One Day upon Causes after September till the Sickness in April, yet the Court sat, in most of those Months, upon Pleas, Demurrers, Petitions, Exceptions, Special Reports, and Motions.

And it appeared, that, in the Months of December and February, the stated Day in December happened to be a Holy-day; and, upon the stated Day in February, the Governor was sick.

And, to prove the Sickness began in April, and continued till August, Witnesses were examined; viz.

Mr. Beddingfeild: Who said, That, for the Months of April, May, June, and July, he several times passed through the Town, and met but very few People in the Streets, by reason of the Sickness; and most of the Shops were shut up those Months.

Mr. Chamberlaine said, That he did not live in the Town; but had Business to come thither very often during the said Months of April, May, June, and July, and saw scarce any Country Gentlemen in the Town, and met few in the Streets, but Corps carrying to be buried, and Doctors and Apothecaries; and most of the Shops were shut up, by reason of the Contagion.

The Petitioner, in the Fourth Article, alleges, That, from the time of the said Lord Grey's entering upon the Government of that Island, in July 1698, to the time when the Petitioner complained to his Majesty, which was in December 1700, the said Court of Chancery sat very seldom, and did very little Business on many of the Days on which they sat: On the 11th of September 1699, it sat, and heard but Two Common Motions, though so much Business was depending in that Court: The next Day it sat, was on the 4th of October 1699; and there were but Two Motions, or Demurrers, heard that Day; and then the Court adjourned for a Month; and, on several other Days, there were but a small Number of Motions, and many of them have been put off to other Courts; and sometimes more have been put off than have been heard, though the Court did commonly adjourn for a Month, and often for a longer Time; and many other great and unreasonable Delays were put upon Suitors by that Court.

To prove which he referred to the Minutes in Chancery; whereby it appeared,

That on the 11th of September 99, the Court heard One Petition, and One Motion.

VOL. 13.

The 4th of October, Two Demurrers:

The 25th of January 1698, Five Motions:

The 4th of September 1700, Seven Motions; and Two put off:

The 6th November 1700, Seven Motions; whereof Five were to refer Exceptions:

The 5th July 1699, out of Thirty-two Demurrers, Decrees, Petitions, and Motions, that came on that Day, Fourteen were put off:

And that out of Twenty-one Causes and Motions, which came on 12 July 1699, Ten were put off:

And that a Motion was made for Costs upon the 10th August 98; and the same hung in the Court till the 22d March following, before the same was determined.

Colonel Cleland was examined on Behalf of the Petitioner: Who said, That there hath not been a free current Court of Justice in the Island of Barbadoes since Colonel Kendall's Government:

That he hath heard great Complaints there, of the Delay of Justice; and also from several in England; but knows not the Cause:

That the Courts were held constantly in Colonel Kendall's Time; and a Judge was turned out, upon Complaint to the Governor for neglecting his Duty in Holding of Courts: That he does not know of any Complaint made to the Lord Grey, of Delay of Justice in any of the Courts: That the Delay of Holding of Courts was not greater in the Lord Grey's Time than in the preceding Governments:

That in the Case of Bayly against Bayly, there was a Writ of Error depending in the said Island about a Year before the Lord Grey came to the Government there; and many of the Negroes were possessed by the Creditors, by several Decrees obtained before his coming thither; so that, had the Writ of Error been tried, the said Negroes could not have been restored, unless it had been before those Decrees were obtained:

That the said Writ of Error was not determined while he staid there; which was till April 1700; though such Writs were usually determined in Three Months time:

That he never did hear of any Complaints against the Lord Grey, in relation to Injunctions either unduly granted, or unjustly kept on foot.

To which Fourth Article it was answered, for the Lord Grey, That the Petitioner hath cunningly picked out of the Register's Book only those Days on which the least Business came on; and it appears there were but Two Days, wherein the Court did not clear all the Business that came before them.

The Petitioner, in the Fifth Article, alleged, That a great Number of Injunctions have been granted in that Island, during his Government, to stop the Proceedings in the Common Law Courts; and many, if not most of them, have been granted by the said Governor, the same Days Bills were filed, and out of Court, at Times when the Court did not sit; and many of those Injunctions have been continued for several Years; by which the Subjects were debarred of the Benefit of the Common Law, and forced to attend a Court of Chancery, which sat very seldom, and did very little Business when they sat.

To prove which, he referred to the Account of Injunctions granted and dissolved in the Courts of Chancery; whereby it appeared, that, in March, April, May, and July, Five Injunctions were granted out of Court:

And that in 1697, and 1699, there were several Injunctions granted the same Day the Bill was filed:

That an Injunction, in the Case of Cosyns and Battyn, was granted the 27 March 1699, and was not dissolved till the 2d of October 1700:

That in the Case of Sadlier and Allyn, an Injunction was granted 6th of August 1698, and not yet dissolved; and that Mr. Holdyp had Four Injunctions at a time granted against him.

To which Fifth Article it was answered, for the Lord Grey, by Mr. Beddingfeild, who was his Secretary in the Court of Chancery, That it is, and was, the usual Custom of the Court to have Orders made for Injunctions, upon Petitions, Petitions, as well out of Court as in Court; the Orders, made out of Court for granting such Injunctions, being always with a Proviso, That such Injunction be obtained according to the Rules and Practice of the Court.

The Petitioner, in the Sixth Article, alleges, That the Court of Errors in Barbadoes, of which the said Governor and Council were the Judges, did not sit once, from the Governor's Arrival in that Island, in July 1698, till the 24th January 1700; which is Two Years and an Half; whereby all Judgments at Law, whereon Writs of Error were brought, were stayed from Execution; and the said Court having been so long discontinued, was, at length, revived by a publick Proclamation in all the Market Towns of that Island.

To which Sixth Article it was answered, for the Lord Grey, That the said Court of Errors was held by the Governor and Council, and Judges; and that there was a Court held within the Time complained of by the Petitioner; and proved the same by the Book of Assembly and Council; whereby it appeared that such Court was held upon the 10th of August 1698.

The Petitioner, in the Seventh Article, alleges, That by the Neglect and Connivance of the said Governor, most of the Five Courts of Common Pleas did not duly sit at the Times appointed by the Laws of that Island; but were, without any just Cause, frequently adjourned for a long time; and the Court of St. Andrew's sat but One Day in Fourteen Months, though many Causes were there depending.

To which Seventh Article, it was answered, for the Lord Grey, That the said Courts might not sit at the very Times appointed by the Laws of the Island; and might be frequently adjourned; but that the same was done without any Connivance or Knowledge of the Governor, but by the customary Power of the said Courts.

The Petitioner, in the Eighth Article, alleges, That, on the Death of Mr. Gardiner, One of the Judge Assistants in the Court of St. Michael's, the said Governor neglected to fill his Place for above Six Months after; by which all the Business of that Court was stayed; in which about Three or Four Hundred Causes were then depending.

To prove which he called Mr. Beddingfield: Who said, That, upon Judge Gardiner's Death, and upon Application made to the Lord Grey, for supplying that Vacancy, he did appoint Mr. Blackman to succeed him, who did accept of the Office; but, when he came to the Town, and was to sit, he excused himself from so doing, by reason of his Indisposition; and thereupon the Lord Grey did, as he takes it, appoint Mr. Worsham to succeed him against the Sitting of the next Court: That the said Judges and Assistants have no Salaries; and the Governor cannot compel any Person to serve in those Employments.

Mr. Coxse said, That Judge Gardiner died in April or May 1700, and that he came away in December following; and believes the Judge's Place was not then filled up; and that he does not know there was any Application made to the Governor for supplying the same.

Mr. Turner* said, That he never heard of any Application made to the Lord Grey, for the supplying Judge Gardiner's Place; and believes his Lordship did supply the same, as soon as he had Notice of his Death: That there hath been Differences in Opinion, whether a Court could be held upon the Death of a Judge or Assistant, and has not known any Court held in such Case; but believes there may have been such held: And believes there might be about a Hundred Causes then depending in the said Court, and believes there neither are, nor have been, at any time, less Causes depending.

That the Petitioner, to prove Two Courts were adjourned for want of One Assistant, referred to the Proceedings of the Court of Common Pleas; whereby it appeared, that the St. Andrew's Court was adjourned the 30th June and 28th July 1699, One of the Assistants being dead; though, by the Commission to the Chief Justice of that Court, the said Judge, with any Two of the Assistants, or, in the Judge's necessary Absence, any Three of the said Assistants, might hold the same.

To which Eighth Article it was answered, for the Lord Grey, That he submits himself, upon what Evidence has been given by Mr. Hodges' Witnesses to this Article; and, to prove the supplying Judge Gardiner's Place, referred to the Proceedings of the Court of Common Pleas; whereby it appeared, that James Colleton Esquire sat as Chief Judge of St. Michael's Court the 26, 27, and 28th February 1700.

The Petitioner, in the Ninth Article, alleging, That he then having several Suits of a considerable Value depending in the said Chancery, and other Courts of that Island, was, by the said Obstructions of Justice, very much delayed and oppressed, and lost One Debt of above Eighteen hundred Pounds, together with all his Charge and Trouble: And he has likewise suffered very much by Injunctions there granted, to stop Proceedings at Common Law; and remains still without any Benefit of his Suits in that Island.

To prove which, he produced the Copy of a Will, filed the 25 November 1697, and the Answer did not come in till the 15 March following; and his Cause depended Two Years; and could get no further than Exceptions to the Answer:

And, in another Cause between the said Hodges and Sir Sam. Husbands, he referred to the Register's Certificate of Business done in that Court; whereby it appeared, that the Petitioner's Bill was filed the 22d May 1699, and the 12th of June, an Attachment issued out, for want of an Answer, against the Defendant; and, that Day, he got Fourteen Days time to answer; and, upon the Twentieth, he had Fourteen Days more; and, upon the Thirtieth, he had Fourteen Days more; and, they being expired, the Attachment issued out; and, the 3d August, he petitioned to clear his Contempt, and filed his Answer upon the 25th of August: Upon which, Hodges, by Petition, had a Month's time to accept or reply; and, after that, a Month more; and, upon the 16 September, filed his Exceptions, which were referred to a Master the 24th of January; and, upon the 20th of March, the Master's Report was published, and, after Confirmation, suspended for further Answer, and Costs issued; but, before any further Answer, the said Sir Samuel Husbands died:

By whose Death, the Petitioner said, he lost all the Event of his Suit; the said Sir Samuel having but little Estate, other than an Annuity of Five hundred Pounds per Annum; which, had his Cause been dispatched in the said Court, he might have obliged him to have sold, for answering what might have been decreed against him:

And that, in another Cause against one Horne, the Petitioner's Agent in Barbadoes consented to an Agreement, to be decreed, much to his Prejudice; which he cannot, as yet, get to be set aside.

To which Ninth Article it was answered, for the Lord Grey, That, as to the Cause between the Petitioner and Husbands, it appears, by the Register's Certificate, that he took more time to reply and except to the Answer than the Defendant had for answering; whereby the Delay, in a great measure, lay upon himself.

And that, as to . . . . . Case between the Petitioner . . . his Lordship was no-way concerned in what Agreements were made by the Agents in the Causes; and that, if he suffered any Abuse by his own Agent, who he had empowered to make Agreements, to be decreed by Consent, he must lay the Blame upon his said Correspondent, and not the Decree of the Court; his Lordship being indifferent and unconcerned in the Matter; and the Consent of the Parties appearing to be the Foundation for the Decree.

The Petitioner, in the Tenth Article, alleges, That the Lords Commissioners of Trade, in their Proceedings thereon, have acted contrary to the Trust reposed in them by his Majesty, to the Dishonour of his Government, and great Oppression to the Petitioner, and many others.

The which the Petitioner alleged to be true; for that he said Commissioners had not fairly and impartially reported reported to his late Majesty the Facts by him alleged to them in the Nine preceding Articles.

For Answer whereunto, the Commissioners of Trade alleged, That they never refused, or delayed, upon the frequent Application of Mr. Hodges, to represent to his late Majesty the Complaints of the said Mr. Hodges, together with the proper Remedies, in case the Allegations of the Complaints had been true; and did not only write thereupon to the Lord Grey, but likewise procured his late Majesty's Letters to him, to the same Effect; viz.

That especial Care might be taken, that Justice should be every where duly and speedily administered; and that all Complaints should have such Redress as was agreeable to Law; and that the Governor should constantly hold Courts of Chancery, till all the Causes depending were determined: Which may more fully appear, with divers other Particulars to the same Tenour, by the Papers C, D, E, F, G; which follow; viz.

SIR, Whitehall, January 27th, 1702.

HAVING, in pursuance of his Majesty's Order in Council, upon the Petition of John Loder Esquire, Mary Crofts, and Martha Frederick Widow, whereof we send you here inclosed a Copy, considered the Matter therein complained of; and finding, that, by the great Neglect there has been in holding Courts of Chancery in Barbadoes, and by the Want of Dispatch of Business, there are more than Three hundred Causes depending in that Court, many of which are of several Years Standing, to the very great Prejudice of the Petitioners, and other Suitors; we are, in his Majesty's Name, to require you, for the future, to be more careful in the Expediting of Justice, and to hold Courts of Chancery, until all the Causes depending there be determined; to the End that no more Occasion be given for Complaints in Matters of this Nature, which are so grievous to the Subject: And we do further direct, That Entry be made of this Letter in the Council Books, for the Satisfaction of all Persons therein concerned; and that you return us an Account of your Proceedings herein, and in Answer to our Letter of the 16th October last. So we bid you heartily farewell.

Your very loving Friends,

Stamford, Wm. Blathwait,
Abr. Hill, Mat. Prior,
Ph. Meadows, John Pollerfen,
Geo. Stepney,

To the Honourable Mr. Grey.

(D). To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

May it please Your Majesty,

WE humbly beg Leave to represent to your Majesty, with relation to the Administration of Justice in Your Majesty's Island of Barbadoes, That, in Obedience to Your Majesty's Order in Council, of the Fifth of December last, upon the Petition of John Loder Esquire, and others, complaining of Delays, and especially of the Court of Chancery of that Island, we have writ to the Governor, as Your Majesty did then require us.

And Your Majesty having been further pleased, by Order in Council, of the 12th of December last, upon the Petition of Isaac Hawkins Esquire, and by another Order, of the 19th of December last, upon the Petition of Thomas Hodges Esquire, to direct us to examine the Matter of those Petitions; and to report what we conceived fit for Your Majesty to do therein:

We humbly report, That the said Petitions do all of them contain Complaints of Delay, and undue Proceedings, in the Courts of Justice in Barbadoes; which the Petitioners, among other Causes, impute to the Partiality of some Persons appointed to sit in the Judicatories of that Island, who are themselves much indebted; and, having many Suits depending against them, are thereby frequently interested, either directly, or by Consequence, in the Issue of the Suits that are brought before them. Barbadoes Government.

And finding, that, besides the Delays and Irregularities in other Courts, the Neglect in holding Courts of Chancery, and the Want of Dispatch of Business there, have been such, that there are more than Three hundred Causes depending in that Court; many of which are of several Years Standing; to the very great Prejudice of the Petitioners, and other Suitors; we are humbly of Opinion, that, for Redress of those Miscarriages, and the better to prevent all future Grounds for Complaints in Matters of this Nature, which are so grievous to the Subject, Your Majesty may be pleased to direct, That the Copies of the aforesaid Petitions; and of the Memorials offered thereupon, be sent to the Governor of that Island, for his Answers thereunto; and that Letters be also dispatched, requiring him to take especial Care, that no Person, interested in the Suits depending in any of the Courts of that Island, be appointed, or permitted, to sit as Judges in the Causes wherein they are concerned; that Justice be every where duly and speedily administered; and that he do also himself constantly hold Courts of Chancery, until all the Causes shall be determined.

As to the particular Case of the aforementioned Hodges, upon which he has desired, that Your Majesty would be pleased to direct the Court of Chancery there to set aside certain Agreements, that he conceives to have been made in his Wrong, we humbly represent, That it has not been usual for Your Majesty, or Your Predecessors, to interpose the Royal Authority in judicial Proceedings in the Plantations, otherwise than by receiving Appeals to Your Majesty in Council, for Your Royal Determination, as to Right shall appertain.

All which, nevertheless, is most humbly submitted.

TRUSTY and Well-beloved, We greet you well. Whereas John Loder, Isaac Hawkins, and Thomas Hodges, Esquires, in behalf of themselves, and others, have, by their humble Petitions severally laid before Us divers Complaints of great Delays, and undue Proceedings, in Our Courts of Justice in Our Island of Barbadoes; in the Setting forth whereof, they offered to prove, that there were lately above Eight hundred Causes, depending at one time, in Two of the Courts of Common Pleas in that Island, besides what more might be depending in the Three other Courts of the same Kind, whereof they had not yet been informed; and have imputed this Disorder, amongst other Causes, to the Partiality of some Persons appointed to sit in the Judicatories of the said Island, who are themselves much indebted; have many Suits depending against them; and are thereby frequently interested, either directly, or by Consequence, in the Issue of the Suits that are brought before them: And whereas it has been further represented by the said Petitioners, That the Method practised in the Courts of Chancery, in determining Controversies, and pronouncing Decrees, is very irregular; and that the Neglect in holding those Courts, and the Want of Dispatch of Business there, have been such, that there has been sometimes but One Court held in the Space of Eight or Nine Months, and very little done in it since your entering upon that Government; so that there are more than Three hundred Causes depending in the said Court, many of which are of several Years standing; and also, that, since your being there, not any Court of Errors did sit in Two Years time; by which means, all Judgments at Common Law, whereon Writs of Error have been brought, were staid from Execution: All which Delays, and undue Proceedings, do tend to the very great Prejudice of the Petitioners, and other Suitors: And it being highly necessary, that all Irregularities of this Nature, which are so grievous to Our Subjects, be reformed, and that the Grounds of all such Complaints being thoroughly inquired into, effectual Care be taken, that they be, for the future, intirely removed: We have, in order thereunto, directed Our Commissioners for Trade and Plantations to transmit unto you the Copies of the aforesaid Petitions, and of the Memorials offered thereupon, for your Answers not only to the particular Cases of the Petitioners, but also to the more general Complaints afore-mentioned.

And we do hereby will and require you to take especial Care, that no Person, interested in the Suits depending in any of the Courts of Our said Island, be appointed or permitted to sit as Judge in the Causes wherein they are concerned; that Justice be every where duly and speedily administered; that the Complainants have such Redress as is agreeable to Law; and that you do yourself constantly hold Courts of Chancery, until all the Causes there be determined: We do likewise declare Our Royal Will and Pleasure, That no Members of our Council in that Island be exempted from any Prosecution, in Law or Equity, for the Payment of their just Debts, except only during the Time that the General Assembly of Our said Island shall be sitting; which you are accordingly to declare unto them. And, for the better Observance of Our Directions in all this Matter, as well as for the Satisfaction of all Persons concerned, you are to cause Entry to be made of this Letter in Our Council Books. So We bid you farewell.

Given at Our Court at Kensington, the 16th Day of March 1702, in the 13th Year of Our Reign.

By His Majesty's Command,
James Vernon.

SIR, (F). Whitehall, March 25th, 1701.

We writ to you the 27th January last, upon Occasion of a Petition presented to his Majesty in the Name of John Loder Esquire, and others, concerning the great Neglect there has been in holding Courts of Chancery in Barbadoes, and the Want of Dispatch of Business there: But, since that time, other Complaints of the like Nature having been laid before his Majesty; setting forth not only the Neglects of that Court, but of the other Courts of Justice in that Island, together with divers other Irregularities practised in the Administration of Justice; his Majesty has thereupon been pleased to write to you the inclosed Letter, and to command us to send you the inclosed Copies of the Petitions and Memorials therein referred to: Whereupon we are further to require of you to return unto us full Answers, not only to the general Matters of the Complaints, but also to the Case of each particular Petitioner, that such further Report may be laid before his Majesty thereupon, as shall be necessary.

We are, Sir,

Your humble Servants,

Stamford, Ph. Meadows,
Wm. Blaythwait, Abr. Hill,
Levington, Mat. Prior.
John Pollexfen,

Ralph Grey Esquire, Governor of Barbadoes.

(G). To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

May it please Your Majesty,

SEVERAL Petitions having been laid before Your Majesty the last Winter, complaining of Delays, and other Irregularities, in the Administration of Justice in Barbadoes, which Your Majesty was then pleased to refer to our Consideration, and to require us to report what we conceived fit to be done therein; and, in pursuance thereof, several Memorials, and other Papers, having been delivered unto us by Mr. Thomas Hodges, One of the Petitioners; all of which Petitions, Memorials, and other Papers, we accordingly considered, and did thereupon humbly report to Your Majesty, the Sixth of February last, to the following Effect; viz. That Copies of all the said Petitions, and other Papers, might be transmitted to the Governor of that Island; and a Letter writ, to require him to take especial Care, that no Persons, interested in the Suits depending in any of the Courts of that Island, be appointed or permitted to sit as Judges in the Causes wherein they are concerned; that Justice be every where duly and speedily administered; and that he do also himself constantly hold Courts of Chancery, until all the Causes there be determined: And, in relation to the particular Case of Mr. Hodges, upon which he desired, that the Court of Chancery of the said Island might be directed to set aside certain Agreements, which he conceives to have been made in his Wrong; we further added, that it has not been usual for Your Majesty, or Your Predecessors to interpose the Royal Authority in judicial Proceedings in the Plantations, otherwise than by receiving Appeals to Your Majesty in Council for Your Royal Determination, as to Right shall appertain:

All which Your Majesty was pleased to approve; and a Letter thereupon, prepared by us, having accordingly been dispatched, under Your Royal Signature, the 16th of March last, and sent thither, together with Copies of all the forementioned Papers; we now humbly crave Leave to lay before Your Majesty an Account of the further Progress of that Matter:

The Governor and Council of Barbadoes have transmitted to us a large and particular Answer to the several Heads of Complaint exhibited by Mr. Hodges against the Proceedings of the Court of Chancery, and other Courts of Justice, in that Island; wherein they set forth, That the said Courts did sit more frequently than had been suggested by Mr. Hodges; appealing, for Proof of what they say, to the Copies of their Journals, and Certificate of the publick Register; by which they also shew, that all the Causes, ripened for hearing in the Court of Chancery since the present Governor's Arrival, being in the Whole but Seventy-eight, and Fifteen thereof having been upon the List before his Arrival, were finished in March last: And when the Interval between their Sittings happened to be longer than usual; they offer divers Reasons for it; as the Governor's Sickness; the Sickness of the Island; the necessary Forms and Methods of their Proceedings, &c.: They likewise vindicate themselves from some other Imputations, by denying directly what Mr. Hodges asserts; particularly in relation to the Circumstances of the Judges of that Island, as if they were Persons much in Debt; also in relation to the Authority of some great Men amongst them, as if it were made use of to deter Witnesses concerning declaring their Knowledge of the Maladministration of Justice: And they, in like manner, contradict him in several other Points; challenging him withal to prove, by particular Instances, wherein Justice has been perverted, either through Bribery, or any other unwarrantable Consideration: And, in further Testimony of the Governor's good Conduct, they appeal to the Addresses that have been made by the Inhabitants to Your Majesty, and to him the Governor, acknowledging his impartial Administration of Justice amongst them: In reference whereunto, they likewise observe, That, amongst the Seventy-eight Causes, which have been determined by him, there have been but Two Appeals made to Your Majesty in Council here. These are the principal Heads whereof their Answer consists.

Upon the Receipt hereof, Mr. Hodges, who is the only Person who appears to us to concern himself in the Prosecution of these Matters, desiring that the same might be communicated to him, together with all the Papers therein referred to, we complied with him therein; and he has thereupon delivered to us a long Reply, in which he endeavours to disprove what the Governor and Council have alleged, and to invalidate the Reasons, which they have offered from the Consideration of Sickness, and otherwise, for the extraordinary Intervals that have sometimes happened: And this he does by Observations upon their Journals; by offering some Grounds of doubting, whether the Certificate of their Register was made upon Oath, as is pretended; together with other particular Objections.

He complains of the Governor's Neglect to inspect the Management of the Courts of Common Pleas; particularly that of St. Andrew's, whose Negligence was such, that, as he says, they sat but One Day in Fourteen Months: He instances an Obstruction in the Course of Justice, by the Governor's not filling up a Judge Assistant's Place in the Court of St. Michael for about Six Months after the Death of Mr. Gardiner, who had been in that Place; by means whereof all Proceedings in that Court were so long stopped: He likewise complains of the great Hindrance, which his, and other Mens, Common Law Proceedings had received from the Court of Chancery, by Injunctions irregularly granted, and long continued; and instances particularly in Two Cases of his own; the one carried on in the Names of Coates and Spry, his Trustees, against Sadler; the other in the Name of Heldip, his Trustee, against Downes; each of which, he says, had been suspended, by Injunction out of Chancery, for above Two Years.

He further asserts, That no Court of Errors was held by the Governor, or, at least, that no Writ of Error was heard, and determined, by that Court, from his Arrival there in July 1698, until the 24th January 1700, which is about Two Years and a Half; and he names Mr. Sharp and Mr. Sadler as Persons much in Debt; and therefore unfit to sit in any of the Judicatories of that Island: Whereas the Governor and Council have certified, That all Cases, ripe for a Hearing in Chancery were finished in March last.

He does not deny but that extraordinary Diligence was used a little before that Time; but this he attributes to the particular Directions given to the Governor by our Letter of the 16th October 1700, for sending home attested Copies of the Proceedings of all their Courts. He does not instance in any Delay or Denial of Justice, either since the Receipt of Your Majesty's Letter of the 16th March last, or of Your Letter of the 16th of October before; nor has he produced to us any Affidavits upon the Points, with the Governor and Council have challenged him to make good; though we have frequently directed him to bring Affidavits upon whatsoever he thought necessary to be proved; so that, whatever have been the Neglects, or other Irregularities, in their Courts of Justice formerly, we have Reason to believe, that the Directions, already sent, have been of good Use, towards their Reformation.

However, Mr. Hodges, not explaining himself by any one particular Prayer, or Desire, in relation to any Case wherein he is concerned, though often required by us to do it, persists still in his general Complaint of former Irregularities; as if no Justice were ever to be expected in that Island, without altering the whole Form of Government.

He insinuates, That the Chancellor, and other Judges, should be Persons learned, and well-skilled, in the Laws of England: Upon which we observe, that, upon the general Administration of Justice in all Your Majesty's Plantations, Inhabitants of the best Ability and Reputation have been looked upon as the Persons most proper to determine Controversies there, and of least Charge to the People.

He proposes, That the Custom of making Presents to Governors by General Assemblies should be abolished; against which there would be no Objection, if a competent Maintenance could otherwise be made to such Governors as have no sufficient Allowances, without bringing a new Expence upon Your Majesty, as we have formerly represented.

He desires that no longer Time than Fourteen Days may be allowed for appealing to Your Majesty from the Decrees of their Chancery Courts; which being contrary to the general Constitution of the Plantations, who have all acted by the same Rule, without complaining, we are apprehensive lest the altering of it, as Mr. Hodges desires, should be attended with yet greater Inconveniencies than what he seeks to remedy. These are the principal Heads of his Reply.

Upon all which, we humble observe, That it does not appear to us, that there have been any extraordinary Delays in the Sitting of the Courts of Justice in Barbadoes since the fore-mentioned Directions sent thither; nor much less that they have refused to hear any Motion, or give Judgment in any Cause that has come before them; and we do not, therefore, conceive any thing more proper to be done in this Matter at present, than that the Governor, or Commander in Chief, be strictly admonished to a constant Care and Watchfulness, that Justice be duly administered on all Occasions, according to Your Majesty's Orders already signified to them, as aforesaid.

And whereas, by reason of these Complaints, and the Time that was necessary for the Examination of them, we have not hitherto laid before Your Majesty Two Acts of the General Assembly of Barbadoes; the one dated the 3d of October 1699, for the Payment of Two thousand Pounds, current Money of that Island, to his Excellency Ralph Grey Esquire; the other dated the 5th of November 1700, for the Payment to him of Two thousand Pounds Sterling; which Sums, by the Constitution of that Government, and Purport of the Acts themselves, he is not to receive, without Your Majesty's Approbation first had:

We now humbly offer, That, considering the Expence which the Lord Grey has been obliged to make in supporting the Dignity of that Government, has exceeded his Salary; and there not appearing to us any sufficient Cause to hinder him of the Benefit intended him in this manner by the Inhabitants of that Island: Your Majesty would be graciously pleased to permit him the said Lord Grey to receive the said Sums of Two thousand Pounds current Money of Barbadoes, and Two thousand Pounds Sterling, according to the Contents of the aforesaid Acts.

And, for any private Injury the said Hodges may think he has sustained from the said Lord Grey during his Government, he has his Remedy at Law, by virtue of an Act of Parliament lately passed, to punish Governors of Plantations, Plantations, in this Kingdom, for Crimes committed by them in the Plantations.

All which is most humbly submitted.

Whitehall, December the 12th,
1701.

Ph. Meadows,
Wm. Blathwayt,
John Pollerfen,

And the said Commissioners did further allege, That the Occasion of Mr. Hodges's Displeasure and Complaint against them was, that, upon his Request to that Board, that he might have an Order from his late Majesty to the Chancery of Barbadoes, directing them to set aside an Agreement made by Mr. Pilgrim, Mr. Hodges's Attorney, with Mr. Herne, although the same should have been passed into a Decree; and that the Suit against Mr. Hodges should be put into the same Condition, in all respects, as it was before the making the same Agreement; which Request of Mr. Hodges appears under his own Hand; the said Commissioners did thereupon report to his late Majesty, That it had not been usual for his Majesty, or his Predecessors, to interpose the Royal Authority in judicial Proceedings in the Plantations, otherwise than by receiving Appeals to his Majesty in Council for his Royal Determination, as to Right should appertain; which, the said Commissioners humbly conceive, they were in Duty obliged to represent to his late Majesty, although to the Dissatisfaction of Mr. Hodges; and that, if they had done otherwise, they would have deserved as severe a Censure, as Mr. Hodges has, by his Petition and Articles, most unjustly laid upon them.

Resolved, That Thomas Hodges Esquire hath not made good his Petition, or any of the Particulars of Maladministration complained of by the said Mr. Hodges against Ralph Lord Grey, late Governor of Barbadoes, or the Commissioners of Trade and Plantations.

Resolved, That the said Petition, and Complaint, is vexatious and scandalous.

Resolved, That this House will, upon Friday Morning next, resolve itself into a Committee of the whole House, upon the Bill for laying a Duty upon buying, selling, or bargaining for, Shares in any Joint Stocks of Corporations, after the Committee of the whole House upon the Bill for regulating the Frauds and Abuses in the Salt Duties.

Ordered, That the Report from the Committee, to whom the Bill to prevent the Making of unwholesome and unmerchable Brandies from Corn; and for preventing the clandestine Importation of French Brandies; was committed; be made upon Friday Morning next.

And then the House adjourned till To-morrow Morning, Nine a Clock.

PRAYERS.

ORDERED, That the Report from the Committee, to whom the Bill for obliging the Jews to maintain, and provide for, their Protestant Children, was committed, be made To-morrow Morning, the First Business.

Sir Roger Mostyn reported from the Committee, to whom the Bill to recompense Philip Savage Esquire for the Charge of Outlawries, and attending the Trustees for the Irish Forfeitures, was committed, That they had directed him to report the same to the House, without any Amendments: And he delivered the same in at the Clerk's Table.

Ordered, That the Bill be ingrossed.

The House resumed the further Consideration of the Report from the Committee, to whom the Bill for the Relief of Charlotte Talbot was committed:

And a Clause being offered to be added to the Bill, That no Papist, or Person educated in the Romish Religion, being under the Age of Eighteen Years, or having attained that Age, and shall not, within Six Months thereafter, take the Oaths, and subscribe the Declaration, and continue a Protestant, shall be capable to inherit; but that the next of Kin shall have and enjoy the Premises without Account; and that such Papists, or any in Trust for them, are, and shall be, incapable of purchasing the same;

Which was twice read; and, upon the Question put thereupon, agreed unto by the House to be made Part of the Bill.
